Subchapter F—Banks for Cooperatives

[FCA Order 562]

PART 70—LOAN INTEREST RATES AND SECURITY

INCREASE IN INTEREST RATE; CENTRAL BANK FOR COOPERATIVES

Effective March 1, 1953, the rates of interest which may be charged by the Central Bank for Cooperatives on loans in the continental United States, as specified in Part 70, Chapter I, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations[1] are hereby changed as follows:

1. In § 70.4 change to 3¼ per centum per annum.

2. In § 70.5 change to 3 per centum per annum.

3. In § 70.7 change to 4¼ per centum per annum.

Since the needs of farmers' cooperative associations in Puerto Rico are being met by the Baltimore Bank for Cooperatives, with the Central Bank for Cooperatives participating therein when necessary and the rate of interest on the Central Bank's portion of such loans being the same as that charged by the Baltimore Bank for Cooperatives, the rates heretofore established in said sections for loans by the Central Bank for Cooperatives on loans in Puerto Rico are unnecessary. Accordingly, said sections are hereby further changed, effective March 1, 1953, by deleting from each section under the words "Central Bank" the words "Puerto Rico" and the per centum rate specified in the column to the right thereof.

(c) Pineapples in corrugated paper collars, packed in unlined, well-aerated crates may be fumigated in an approved atmospheric fumigation vault for a period of three hours at a minimum temperature of 70° F. with a dosage of three-quarters pound of ethylene dibromide per 1,000 square feet of space, including the load.

(d) Fumigation vaults and equipment used in the treatments specified in this section must be approved for that purpose by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. Such a vault must be equipped with a gas-tight glass window to permit a view inside the chamber while fumigation is in progress. The ethylene dibromide must be applied in the liquid state and heated over an electric hot-plate or other suitable means until vaporization is completed. The exposure time of two hours shall be calculated from the time vaporization is completed. A circulating fan shall be kept running in the vault throughout the fumigation period.

(e) The treatments approved in this section and the subsequent handling of the fruits and vegetables so treated must be under the supervision of a plant quarantine inspector of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine. Such treated fruits and vegetables must be safeguarded against reinfestation during the period prior to movement from the Territory of Hawaii in a manner satisfactory to the said inspector. Certification of these commodities for such movement will be made only upon compliance with the prescribed treatment and post-treatment safeguards.

(f) All costs of the treatments and prescribed post-treatment safeguards provided for in this section, other than the services of the supervising inspector, shall be borne by the shipper, owner, or person in charge of the fruits and vegetables.

(g) While the treatments approved in this section are judged from experimental tests to be safe for use with the designated fruits and vegetables, the Department of Agriculture or its inspector assumes no responsibility for any loss or damage resulting from any treatment prescribed or supervised.

(h) Tests show that there is no detectable difference between untreated papaya, pineapple, cucumber, Zucchini squash, and bitter melon, and these commodities fumigated as approved in this section, after a minimum storage of 5 to 6 days at 55° F. Fumigated avocados, string beans, bell peppers, and Cavendish bananas show slight though questionable effects, but are considered commercially acceptable.

This section shall be effective on and after February 18, 1953.

(Secs. 1, 3, 33 Stat. 1269, 1270, sec. 9, 37 Stat. 318; 7 U. S. C. 141, 143, 162. Interprets or applies sec. 8, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 161)

The primary purpose of these administrative instructions is to approve ethylene dibromide fumigation as a treatment of certain fruits and vegetables after which fruits and vegetables so treated and handled in accordance with these instructions may be certified for movement from the Territory of Hawaii into or through any other Territory, State, or District of the United States. The Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine has determined that the treatments and post-treatment safeguards provided for in these instructions are adequate to prevent the spreading of the plant pests designated in the Hawaiian Fruit and Vegetable Quarantine. These instructions remove restrictions presently imposed, and must be made effective promptly to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to such restrictions. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing administrative instructions are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and such instructions may be made effective less than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 30th day of January 1953.

[SEAL] AVERY S. HOYT,
Chief, Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[957.309 Amdt. 2]

PART 957—IRISH POTATOES GROWN IN CERTAIN DESIGNATED COUNTIES IN IDAHO AND MALHEUR COUNTY, OREGON

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

Section 2 of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 602) authorizes no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish. Section 2 of the act further authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to establish and maintain such minimum standards of quality and maturity and such grading and inspection requirements for potatoes in interstate commerce as will effectuate orderly marketing of such potatoes as will be in the public interest.

Findings. 1. Pursuant to Marketing Agreement No. 98 and Order No. 57, as amended (7 CFR Part 957), regulating the handling of Irish potatoes grown in certain designated counties in Idaho and Malheur County, Oregon, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of other available information, it is hereby found that (i) the average price for such potatoes to producers thereof during the period July 1, 1952 to June 30, 1953, both dates inclusive, will be in excess of the parity price to producers of such potatoes, and therefore, § 957.309 (17 F. R. 5639, 5809) no longer will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act during the aforementioned period, and (ii) the amended limitation of shipments, as hereinafter provided, will establish and maintain minimum standards of quality and maturity for such potatoes as will effectuate such orderly marketing of such potatoes as will be in the public interest.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that (i) section 2 of the act authorizes no action which has for its purpose the maintenance of prices to farmers above the level which it is declared to be the policy of Congress to establish, (ii) the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective as required by section 2 of the act is insufficient and (iii) this section relieves restrictions on the handling of Irish potatoes grown in the aforesaid production area.

Order, as amended. The provisions of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (b) of § 957.309 (17 F. R. 5639, 5809) are hereby amended to read as follows:

(b) Order. (1) Beginning on the date of issuance of this order and ending on 12:01 a. m., m. s. t., July 1, 1953, no handler shall ship (i) potatoes of the Russet-Burbank or long white varieties unless such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 or better grade, 1⅞ inches minimum or larger diameter or 3 ounces minimum weight, or (ii) potatoes of any other variety unless such potatoes meet the requirements of the U. S. No. 2 or better grade, 1½ inches minimum or larger diameter, as such terms, grades, and sizes are defined in the U. S. Standards for Potatoes (§ 51.366 of this title), including the tolerances set forth therein.

5. Section 52.21–3 (d) is amended by revising the second sentence to read: "Where air conditioning is not installed in the shop allocated to final assembly, such space must be reasonably dust free."

6. Section 52.22–1 (d) is amended by substituting the word "acceptable" for the word "appropriate" in the second sentence, and revising the last sentence to read: "However, the inspecting agent may, at his discretion, determine such competency and ability by requesting the submission of employment and experience records of the individual or by personal examination or test."

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter VI—Department of the Navy

Subchapter C—Personnel

PART 711—NAVAL RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 711.306 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Annual medical examination. The Professor of Naval Science shall require each student enrolled in the NROTC to be physically examined during the period January–April of each year, and Standard Form 88, in duplicate, and one copy of Standard Form 89, shall be forwarded as in paragraph (a) of this section. Each copy of the Standard Form 88 and 89 shall contain the student's file number. This examination may be given at the same time as the pre-graduation medical examination required by paragraph (e) of this section, and shall include a roentgenographic examination of the chest. The Standard Form 88 of each student with an upper level designator will be clearly marked "Supply Science or Marine Corps Science" student as appropriate.

2. Section 711.509 (f) is amended to read as follows:

(f) For the purposes of preparing the graduation reports required by § 711.314 (b), the class standing of each student commissioned shall be determined by a final multiple in which the total Aptitude for the Service marks will be given a weight of 1, the average of all marks in Naval Science courses a weight of 4, and the average of all marks in academic courses other than Naval Science taken while enrolled in the NROTC program, a weight of 4. The total Aptitude for the Service shall be calculated, as indicated below, by weighting the aptitude marks (a, b, c and d) earned during each of the four years of NROTC training, the cruise mark where applicable being given equal weight with the final aptitude mark covering the entire academic year immediately preceding. The final class standing of a student in the program four or more years shall be determined, therefore, according to the following formula:

$$S=(0.1a+0.2b+0.3c+0.4d)+4N+4G,$$

S = the number used in determining final class standing on commissioning;
a = the average of the aptitude mark for the first (normally freshman) academic year of NROTC training and the aptitude mark for the cruise following that year (if made);
b = the average of the aptitude mark for the second (normally sophomore) academic year of NROTC training and the aptitude mark for the cruise following that year (if made);
c = the average of the aptitude mark for the third (normally junior) academic year of NROTC training and the aptitude mark for the cruise following that year (if made);
d = the aptitude mark for the fourth academic year of NROTC training. However, if a cruise is made in the summer following graduation, the aptitude mark shall be the average of the aptitude mark for the last academic year of NROTC training and the aptitude mark for the cruise following that year;
N = the average per credit hour of all Naval Science courses marks, and G = the average per credit hour of all academic course marks other than Naval Science while enrolled in the NROTC program. Both passing and failing marks shall be included.

3. Section 711.509 (g) is amended to read as follows:

(g) If, for any reason, a student does not participate in a particular cruise, the aptitude mark for that year (a, b, or c, above) shall be the aptitude mark earned during the academic year. Use of the formula indicated will result in 30 percent of the final over-all aptitude mark being derived from the three cruises for most Regular students; whereas in the case of most Contract students, 15 percent from the one cruise.

4. A new paragraph designated (h) is added to § 711.509 to read as follows:

(h) In calculating the final class standing of a student who has been under NROTC training for fewer than four years, the Professor of Naval Science shall determine the final aptitude average according to the following formulas:

(1) If a Regular student is in the program for three years only and makes a cruise after each academic year:

$$S=(0.2a+0.3b+0.5c)+4N+4G$$

(2) If a Contract student is in the program for three years only and makes a cruise after his second year in the program:

$$S=(0.2a+0.4b+0.4c)+4N+4G$$

(3) If a Contract student is in the program for three years only and makes a cruise after his third year in the program:

$$S=(0.2a+0.3b+0.5c)+4N+4G$$

5. A new paragraph designated (i) is added to § 711.509 to read as follows:

(i) The Professors of Naval Science may desire to calculate class standings at the end of each year in order that such standings may be used in selecting student officers. Cumulative class standings may be calculated at the end of any year by modifying the formula given in paragraph (f) of this section, as follows:

S_1 = cumulative class standing at beginning of second year of NROTC training;
S_2 = cumulative class standing at beginning of third year of NROTC training;
S_3 = cumulative class standing at beginning of fourth year of NROTC training.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 34, Supplementary Regulation 43]

SR 43—WINDOW WASHING AND BUILDING JANITORIAL SERVICES IN THE NEW YORK AREA

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161 and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 this Supplementary Regulation 43 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This Supplementary Regulation 43 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 conditionally authorizes sellers of window washing and building janitorial services in the Counties of New York, Kings, Queens, Bronx, Richmond, Westchester, Nassau and Suffolk, in the State of New York, hereinafter called the "New York Area", to charge their customers for such services rendered after certain dates, tentative increased ceiling prices based upon increased direct labor costs and fringe benefits actually incurred since March 12, 1952, and those which they probably will incur retroactively as a result of wage negotiations pending on December 1, 1952. Such increased tentative ceiling prices may be charged only on condition that the seller agree with the customers to whom he charges such increased tentative prices that he will repay to them the amount, if any, by which the tentative prices charged exceed the sellers lawful ceiling prices as finally computed by the seller, pursuant to this Supplementary Regulation, after the conclusion of the said negotiations, for the period during which the services were rendered, on the basis of the direct labor wage increases and direct labor fringe benefits he has granted retroactively.

The Director takes notice of and recognizes the practice in this industry of charging customers, after wage negotiations have been entered into, tentative prices which include a factor for probable retroactive wage increases, leaving the final prices to be determined on the basis of the wage increases which are actually granted retroactive to the time the services were performed. It appears that the direct labor costs of rendering these services range from 60 to 80 percent of sales price; that these suppliers normally operate on a very small earnings margin; that in general they do not have the financial capacity to absorb wage increases; and that increased labor costs necessitate concurrent increases in their sales prices if undue interference with the effective operation of these service businesses is to be avoided.

In the formulation of this supplementary regulation there was consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable, and consideration was given to their recommendations. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this Supplementary Regulation to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this supplementary regulation does. This supplementary regulation conditionally authorizes increased tentative prices for window washing and building janitorial services, rendered in the New York Area by suppliers located there, pending the termination of certain wage negotiations, and provides a means of calculating the final ceiling prices for such services upon termination of those negotiations.

This supplementary regulation supersedes all letter authorizations heretofore issued under section 21 of Ceiling Price Regulation 34 to individual sellers of window washing and building janitorial services in the New York area.

SEC. 3. Tentative prices. If you are located in the New York area and supply window washing or building janitorial services, or both, in that area, you may increase your prices, tentatively, for such services rendered under each of your contracts on and after the dates specified below and until 21 days after the termination of all wage negotiations specified below, as follows:

F. of L., effective on or about October 18, 1952, increases your costs, reasonably allocable to that contract, of performing such services rendered on and after December 1, 1952;

(b) By the amount by which the direct labor wage increases, and direct labor fringe benefits, which could reasonably be expected to result from the wage negotiations pending December 1, 1952, on behalf of some of your employees with Local 32J, Building Service Employees International Union, A. F. of L., would, if granted retroactively, increase your costs, reasonably allocable to that contract, of performing such services rendered on and after December 1, 1952;

(c) By the amount by which the direct labor wage increases, and direct labor fringe benefits, which could reasonably be expected to result from the wage negotiations pending December 1, 1952, with Local 32B, Building Service Employees International Union, A. F. of L., on behalf of some of your employees, would, if granted retroactively, increase your costs, reasonably allocable to that contract, of performing such services rendered on and after January 1, 1953:

Provided, however, That you agree with the customers for whom you perform services at these increased prices that you will refund to them the amount, if any, by which these increased prices exceed your lawful ceiling prices for the period during which the services were rendered, as computed by you pursuant to section 4 of this supplementary regulation.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices. If you are located in the New York area, and supply window washing or building janitorial services, or both in that area, upon termination of the wage negotiations referred to in section 3, you are authorized to increase your ceiling prices in effect immediately before the effective date of this supplementary regulation, for such services, rendered under each of your contracts on and after the dates specified below, as follows:

(a) By the amount by which the direct labor wage increase of $5.00 per week, and direct labor fringe benefits you granted to window cleaners who are members of Local 2 of the Building Service Employees International Union, A. (b) By the amount by which the direct labor wage increases and direct labor fringe benefits which you granted to those of your employees who are members of Local 32J, Building Service Employees International Union, A. F. of L., as a result of wage negotiations pending December 1, 1952, have increased your costs, reasonably allocable to that contract, of performing such services rendered on and after December 1, 1952.

(c) By the amount by which the direct labor wage increases and direct labor fringe benefits which you granted to those of your employees who are members of Local 32B, Building Service Employees International Union, A. F. of L., as a result of wage negotiations pending December 1, 1952, have increased your costs, reasonably allocable to that contract, of performing such services on and after January 1, 1953.

TEMPORARY ASSIGNMENT OF FREQUENCIES

In the matter of amendment of Parts 8 and 14 of the Commission's rules to permit temporary assignment of frequencies other than those specifically designated in the rules.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 4th day of February 1953;

The Commission having under consideration the above captioned matter; and

It appearing, that Part 7 of the Commission's rules relating to coast stations has heretofore been amended so as to permit the temporary assignment of frequencies other than those specifically designated in the Commission's rules for the purpose of facilitating the implementation of the Agreement concluded at the Extraordinary Administrative Radio Conference, Geneva, 1951; and

It further appearing, that a similar flexibility in the assignment of frequencies to ship stations and Alaskan stations would be desirable for the same purpose; and

It further appearing, that provision in Parts 8 and 14 of the rules for such purpose is urgent in order expeditiously to continue the implementation of the Geneva Agreement in which the United States is now engaged and that therefore compliance with the public notice and procedure set forth in section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and for the same reasons the public interest requires that the amendments herein ordered may be made effective immediately.

It is ordered, effective immediately, that Parts 8 and 14 of the Commission's rules are amended as set forth below.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR Part 932]

[Dockets Nos. AO-33-A-19 and A-20]

HANDLING OF MILK IN FORT WAYNE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Fort Wayne, Indiana, on May 5, 1952, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on April 29, 1952 (17 F. R. 3859). On August 13, 1952, a hearing was held to receive additional evidence on all of the proposed amendments considered at the May 5 hearing and to receive evidence on certain other proposed amendments not considered at the May 5 hearing. Notice of the hearing held on August 13 was issued on August 6, 1952 (17 F. R. 7304).

Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at the hearings and the record thereof the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, on December 31, 1952, filed with Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, his recommended decision and opportunity to file written exceptions thereto, which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 6, 1953 (18 F. R. 117).

The material issues presented on the record of the two hearings relate to:

1. The distribution among producers of the amounts which handlers are required to pay for milk;
2. The pricing of Class I milk; and
3. Payments on other source milk.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions are based upon the evidence submitted at the hearings and the records thereof.

Distribution of proceeds. No change should be made in the method of distributing among producers the amounts which handlers are required to pay for milk. All such amounts should continue to be uniformly distributed among all producers supplying the market. This is commonly known as market-wide pooling.

At the May hearing proposals were considered which would require that the amounts to be paid by each handler for milk be uniformly distributed among all of the producers supplying such handler. This is commonly known as individual handler pooling. The proponents and supporters of individual handler pooling in the May hearing testified in the August hearing that market conditions had changed from May to August to the extent that individual handler pooling was neither necessary nor desirable. There is no evidence in the record to show that a change in the method of distributing proceeds from the sale of milk among producers would result in any more orderly marketing of milk or any more stable market conditions; therefore, it is concluded that no change should be made.

Class I pricing. The amounts to be added to the basic formula price (prior to application of the supply-demand adjustment) in determining the Class I price per hundredweight of milk should be as follows:

January, February, March, July, August, and September	$1.20
April, May, and June	.80
October, November, and December	1.65

These amounts represent increases over the amounts presently prescribed in the order of 20 cents in each of the months of January through September and 50 cents in each of the months of October, November, and December—an annual average increase of 27 cents.

No change should be made in the method of calculating the supply-demand adjustment.

The milk supply situation for the Fort Wayne market may be critically affected by prices paid for milk by markets which obtain their supplies in areas near to the areas from which Fort Wayne obtains its supplies. If prices in these competing markets are high relative to prices in Fort Wayne, this will have a tendency to move supplies away from Fort Wayne and to the markets paying the higher prices. Conversely, lower prices in competing markets relative to prices paid in Fort Wayne would tend to increase supplies in the latter market.

During the last twelve months for which prices are shown in the record the Fort Wayne uniform prices computed pursuant to the order averaged $4.74. (This does not include premiums paid above order prices.) During the same period dairy farmers supplying the Indianapolis market who are located where the Fort Wayne and Indianapolis supply areas overlap received prices averaging about $5.34 per hundredweight for milk containing 4 percent of butterfat while Cleveland uniform prices averaged about $5.18 per hundredweight (4 percent basis). In the last year the average uniform prices of 4 percent milk for the Dayton-Springfield, Toledo, and South Bend-La Porte markets have averaged $5.40, $5.37, and $5.02, respectively. Moreover, average prices actually received by farmers have been somewhat higher in Cleveland, Toledo, and South Bend-La Porte because premiums over minimum prices were paid. Beginning November 1, amendments to the South Bend-La Porte and to the Cleveland orders increased Class I prices in those markets by about 25 cents and 30 cents, respectively, on an annual average basis.

If producers who delivered milk to the Fort Wayne market had actually received only the minimum prices required to be paid by the order, supplies of milk in Fort Wayne would almost certainly have been affected by the higher prices paid in markets which compete with Fort Wayne for a common milk supply. The fact is, however, that producers received considerably more than the prices specified in the order. The Class I pricing provisions were last revised in an amendment to the order which became effective on November 1, 1951. Since that date the prices which have been paid to producers supplying the Fort Wayne market have been higher in every month than the uniform prices computed pursuant to the order. These additional premiums have ranged on a monthly basis from 5 to 65 cents per hundredweight and have averaged 36 cents per hundredweight during the period November 1951 through June 1952.

The prices, including premiums, paid in the Fort Wayne market have apparently brought forth a plentiful supply of milk because supplies in this market have been somewhat in excess of the essential needs of the market. Consequently, the minimum prices specified in the order need not be set at levels equal to those which have prevailed in the market over the past year. It is necessary, however, that the minimum prices be increased considerably in order that they will be at a level more nearly appropriate in relationship to the supply and demand situation which has prevailed in this market. Continuation of substantial premium payments for long periods in regulated markets is undesirable because such premiums may not apply, and ordinarily do not apply, equitably as among different groups of producers. Moreover, premiums which are paid as additions to uniform prices do not bear equally upon all handlers in terms of the cost of Class I milk for the handler with a relatively high percentage of Class II milk has a higher cost of Class I milk than does the handler with relatively less Class II milk. Because premiums are ordinarily inequitable as among producers and result in inequality of costs as among handlers, they are unstabilizing in a market. To the extent, therefore, that premiums are paid to achieve price levels which are necessary to maintain a desirable balance between milk supplies and sales, they should be incorporated in the level of the minimum Class I price. Moreover, because premiums may be eliminated at any time, farmers cannot base longer range plans for milk production on them. Consequently premiums are less efficient in influencing supplies of milk than are price levels which are definitely incorporated into the order. For these reasons it is desirable to incorporate into the minimum Class I price some of the premiums which have been paid. However, it is neither necessary nor desirable to raise Class I prices by the full amount of the premiums which have been paid because it appears that somewhat more than the essential needs of the market for Class I milk have actually been supplied by producers over the past year. An increase in Class I prices of about 27 cents per hundredweight on an annual basis appears necessary to obtain and maintain an appropriate balance between supplies of milk and sales in this marketing area.

The Class I price increases herein concluded to be appropriate will result in a more desirable seasonal pattern of Class I prices. Wider seasonal variation in Class I prices and the resulting wider seasonal variation in uniform prices should encourage producers to increase their deliveries of milk in October, November, and December in relation to other months. In the last year or two deliveries of producer milk in the month of highest production (May or June) have been almost double such deliveries in the month of lowest production (usually November). Seasonal variation to this extent is accompanied by serious problems in disposing of the seasonal reserve supplies. Thus any reduction in the seasonality of deliveries of producer milk is desirable because it reduces the problems of disposing of the seasonal reserve milk supplies.

The proposal to limit to 26 cents the amount by which the supply-demand adjustment would be permitted to reduce the Class I price in any of the months of April through July should not be adopted. Proponent sought justification for this proposal by asserting that if the supply-demand adjustment were permitted to reduce the Class I price by more than 26 cents, the resulting uniform price would not be sufficiently above manufacturing milk prices to provide an incentive for producers to continue to meet the requirements of the health authorities and supply milk to the Fort Wayne market.

Analysis of the seasonality represented in the standard utilization percentages indicates that the standard utilization percentages reflect a desirable relationship between market supplies and requirements. Any departure from these percentages represents a lack of balance between market supplies and requirements and warrants a price adjustment from the levels otherwise resulting. If that departure is such as to require a price reduction in April, May, June, or July of more than 26 cents then market supplies are clearly excessive and a substantial price reduction is desirable to realign supplies with requirements.

Payments on other source milk. Handlers who receive other source milk at pool plants should be required to make payments on such other source milk only if it is disposed of on routes operated wholly or partially in the marketing area or to other pool plants or to producer-handlers and classified as Class I. Other source milk should be considered as having been so disposed of only to any extent to which the receipts of milk from producers plus the receipts of Class I producer milk from other plants is less than such dispositions of milk—in other words, Class I milk so disposed of should be considered as having been producer milk to the extent that producer milk was available for such dispositions.

At least one pool plant in the Fort Wayne market regularly receives large quantities of both producer milk and other source milk. The other source milk is used primarily in the manufacture of milk products. However, in times of extreme milk shortages some of this other source milk is sold outside of the Fort Wayne market in bulk to milk distributors serving other markets. At the present time the order requires a payment into the producer-settlement fund on this milk. Proponent claims that because of this requirement other manufacturing plants not subject to the order have a competitive advantage over him in supplying these outlets.

In most markets the health regulations prohibit a plant which is approved under the regulations from regularly receiving milk which is not produced in compliance with the health regulations; however, the regulations of the Fort Wayne health authorities are such that milk not produced in compliance with the regulations may be regularly received at an approved plant, but may not be intermingled with milk produced in compliance with such regulations and distributed in the city in fluid form. Thus the health regulations will permit a handler operating an approved plant to receive and process approved milk for distribution in Fort Wayne and other milk for distribution outside of Fort Wayne.

The terms of the order are presently such that, even though the health regulations permit the handling of locally approved (producer) milk and other source milk in the same plant, the only way a handler can completely free other source milk for distribution as fluid milk outside the marketing area from regulation under the order is to establish a separate plant for the handling of such milk. The conclusion to eliminate payments on such other source milk (under the conditions herein described) was reached in recognition of the particular application of health regulations in Fort Wayne and will make the regulations imposed by the order compatible with the health regulations to the extent that capital outlay to physically segregate the handling of producer milk and other source milk will not be necessary.

Although proponent asked that this proposed removal of payments on other source milk apply only to other source milk sold in bulk form, no basis can be found for treating bulk milk and packaged milk differently in this respect.

The possibility was suggested that if payments on other source milk disposed of entirely outside of the marketing area are eliminated, all handlers might reduce their supplies of producer milk to a level where they were sufficient only to meet disposition of milk in the marketing area and acquire supplies of other source milk to supply their out-of-area disposition. This is possible; and if it results in the loss or threatened loss of sales of producer milk in areas which have historically been predominantly supplied by Fort Wayne producers then a reconsideration of the definition of the marketing area may be desirable.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk, in the marketing area and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings. The rulings contained in the aforesaid recommended decision are ratified and affirmed.

No exceptions were filed to the aforesaid recommended decision.

Determination of representative period. December 1952 is determined to be a representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of the order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area, which is a part of this decision, is approved by producers who during such period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in the order, as amended regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area (7 CFR Part 932).

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area," and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision except the attached marketing agreement be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and that (1) the findings and conclusions and the general findings to be so published as a part of this decision shall include the full text of such findings and conclusions and general findings; and (2) the aforesaid order amending the order to be so published as a part of this decision shall include the full text of such order amending the order.

The regulatory provisions of the aforesaid marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the aforesaid order amending the order which will be published with this decision.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 13th day of February 1953.

[SEAL] EZRA TAFT BENSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, Marketing Area

§ 932.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), public hearings were held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearings and the records thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Fort Wayne, Indiana, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. Amend § 932.51 (a) to read as follows:

(a) Add (1) $0.80 during each of the delivery periods of April, May, and June; (2) $1.65 during each of the delivery periods of October, November, and December; and (3) $1.20 during each of the other delivery periods.

2. Amend § 932.62 to read as follows:

§ 932.62 Milk caused to be delivered by cooperative associations. A coopera-

3. Amend § 932.71 (a) to read as follows:

(a) Combine into one total (1) the values computed pursuant to § 932.70 for all handlers who made reports prescribed by § 932.30 except those in default of payments prescribed in § 932.84 for the preceding delivery period, and (2) the amounts computed pursuant to § 932.84 (b) and (c);

4. Amend § 932.84 to read as follows:

§ 932.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, handlers shall make payment to the market administrator as follows:

(a) Handlers who operated pool plants shall pay any amount by which the utilization value of producer milk received by such handler during such delivery period is greater than the value of such milk computed at the uniform price pursuant to § 932.71 adjusted by the butterfat differential provided by § 932.82: Provided, That with respect to milk for which payment is made by a handler to a cooperative association pursuant to § 932.80 (b), the association, in turn, shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 16th day after the end of the delivery period, the amount by which the utilization value of such milk is greater than its value computed at the uniform price pursuant to § 932.71 adjusted by the butterfat differential provided by § 932.82.

(b) Handlers who operated pool plants and who received during such delivery period other source milk which was allocated to Class I milk pursuant to § 932.46 (a) (2) and (b) shall pay any amounts resulting from the following computations for such delivery period:

(3) Determine the total volume of skim milk and the total volume of butterfat in other source milk which was allocated to Class I milk pursuant to § 932.46 (a) (2) and (b).

(4) If the total volume of skim milk or the total volume of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph exceeds the total volume of skim milk or the total volume of butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, payment in an amount equal to the difference between the value of such excess skim milk or butterfat computed at the Class I price and butterfat differential for such delivery period and the value of such excess skim milk or butterfat computed at the Class II price and butterfat differential for such delivery period shall be made.

(5) If the total volume of skim milk or the total volume of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (2) of this paragraph exceeds the total volume of skim milk or the total volume of butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, payment shall be made with respect to the volume of any such excess skim milk or any volume of skim milk computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, whichever volume is smaller, and with respect to the volume of any such excess butterfat or any volume of butterfat computed pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph, whichever volume is smaller, in an amount equal to the difference between the value of such smaller volume of skim milk or butterfat at the Class I price and butterfat differential for such delivery period and the value of such smaller volume of skim milk or butterfat at the Class II price and butterfat differential for such delivery period.

(c) Handlers who operate nonpool plants from which milk received during such delivery period was disposed of as Class I milk on a route (or routes) operated wholly or partially within the marketing area from such plant shall pay an amount equal to the difference between the value of such milk computed at the Class I price and butterfat differential and the value of such milk computed at the Class II price and butterfat differential.

table of assignments

In the matter of amendment of § 3.606 (b) Table of assignments, rules governing Television Broadcast Stations.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter.

2. The Commission has from time to time effected changes in the table of assignments in order to correct substandard assignments. A study of the UHF assignments in the table of assignments has been conducted with a view toward determining which of these do not meet the required minimum assignment separations as provided for in § 3.610 (c) of the Commission's rules governing Television Broadcast Stations. The purpose of this study was to correct all the remaining substandard assignment spacings as quickly and simply as possible in order to eliminate delays in application processing and to remove the necessity of piecemeal rule-making in the event these deficiencies were to be ascertained one at a time. The distances which do not meet the required separations are between the following assignments:

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

ROBERT E. HORTON ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING BROKER-DEALER REGISTRATIONS

In the matter of Robert E. Horton, 530 W. 6th Street, Los Angeles, California; Providence Investment Company, 139 North Virginia Street, Reno, Nevada; and John C. Roche, d/b/a John C. Roche & Co., 315 Montgomery Street, and 34 Hill Street, San Francisco, California.

These are proceedings pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("the act") to determine whether the registrants named above, who are registered as broker and dealer or as broker only, willfully violated section 17 (a) of the act and Rule X-17A-5, thereunder and, if so, whether it is in the public interest to revoke their registrations.[1]

The proceedings were instituted by the issuance of separate notices and orders for hearing, copies of which were sent by registered mail to the addresses last furnished us by the registrants in their registration applications or amendments thereto. The notice of the proceeding was received by John C. Roche, but the registered notices sent to Robert E. Horton and Providence Investment Company were returned to use by the Post Office Department with notations indicating that they could not be found at the addresses given.[2] None of the registrants appeared in person or was represented by counsel on the date set for hearing.

On November 28, 1942, we promulgated Rule X-17A-5 under section 17 (a) of the act, which provides, among other things, that every registered broker or dealer must file with this Commission a report of financial condition during each calendar year commencing with the year 1943. Promulgation of the rule was announced by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, by release to the press, and by distribution to persons on our mailing list.

The registrations of the registrants have not been withdrawn, cancelled, revoked or suspended, and as of the institution of the proceedings were in full force and effect. Our records show that the registrants failed to file the required reports for 1951 and for preceding years.

Upon review of the records in these proceedings, we have concluded that each of the registrants violated section 17 (a) of the act and Rule X-17A-5 thereunder as a result of failure to file such reports. We conclude also that such violations were willful within the meaning of section 15 (b).[3]

On the basis of the foregoing, we are of the opinion that it is necessary in the public interest to revoke the registration of each of the registrants.

Accordingly, it is ordered, That the registrations of Robert E. Horton, Providence Investment Company, and John C. Roche, doing business as John C. Roche & Co. be, and they hereby are, revoked.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said examiner on the complaint, the answer thereto, testimony and other evidence, proposed findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon submitted by counsel for the complaint, none having been filed by counsel for respondent, and oral argument not having been requested, and said examiner, having duly considered the record in the matter, and having found it to be in the interest of the public, made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts,[1] conclusion drawn therefrom,[1] and order to cease and desist.

No appeal having been filed from said initial decision of said hearing examiner as provided for in Rule XXII, nor any other action taken as thereby provided to prevent said initial decision becoming the decision of the Commission thirty days from service thereof upon the parties, said initial decision, including said order to cease and desist, accordingly, under the provisions of said Rule XXII became the decision of the Commission on November 20, 1952.

The said order to cease and desist is as follows:

It is ordered, That C. G. Whitlock Chemical Company, a corporation, its successors or assigns, officers, agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of an antifreeze solution designated "FRIGID-O-BG" do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing that its product "FRIGID-O-BG," or any other product of substantially similar composition, is an anti-freeze preparation for use in cooling systems of internal combustion engines, without affirmatively stating in a clear and conspicuous manner in immediate conjunction with such representation, that said preparation will rust and corrode the cooling system of such an engine and clog the passages in such cooling system and otherwise damage such engine.

2. Representing that its product "FRIGID-O-BG" contains an effective rust inhibitor and will prevent rust or corrosion of all parts of the engine which it may contact, and particularly the cooling system.

3. Representing that its product "FRIGID-O-BG" will not expand, overflow or be lost in normal operation.

4. Representing that its product "FRIGID-O-BG" will maintain a water level in the radiator to the extent that the engine will not overheat, or that it is a permanent type anti-freeze.

By "Decision of the Commission and order to file report of compliance," Docket 5823, November 20, 1952, which announced and decreed fruition of said initial decision, report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: November 20, 1952.

By the Commission.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interprets or applies sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Paul T. Lynch trading as Lynch's Diathermy Company, Philadelphia, Pa., Docket 5999, November 18, 1952]

This proceeding was heard by J. Earl Cox, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission, respondent's answer, and a stipulation, entered into by and between counsel in support of the complaint and the respondent, that a statement of facts dictated into and made a part of the record in the proceeding might be taken as the facts in said proceeding and in lieu of evidence in support of and in opposition to the charges in the complaint, and might serve as the basis for findings as to the facts and conclusion based thereon, and order disposing of the proceeding, without presentation of proposed findings and conclusions or oral argument.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said examiner, theretofore duly designated by the Commission, upon the complaint, answer and stipulation which had been approved by said examiner and which expressly provided that upon appeal to or review by the Commission, it might be set aside by the Commission and the matter remanded for further proceedings under the complaint, and said examiner, having duly considered the record in the matter and having found that the proceeding was in the interest of the public, made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to facts,[1] conclusion drawn therefrom,[1] and order to cease and desist.

No appeal having been filed from said initial decision of said hearing examiner as provided for in Rule XXII, nor any other action taken as thereby provided to prevent said initial decision becoming the decision of the Commission thirty days from service thereof upon the parties, said initial decision, including said order to cease and desist, accordingly, under the provisions of said Rule XXII became the decision of the Commission on November 18, 1952.

The said order to cease and desist is as follows:

Lynch, an individual trading as Lynch's Diathermy Company, or under any other name, his agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the sale, offering for sale or distribution of a device designated as "Lynch's Short Wave Diathermy" or any other device of substantially similar character, whether sold under the same name or any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from, directly or indirectly:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated, by means of the United States mails, or by any means in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, any advertisement for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly the purchase of respondent's device, which advertisement fails to clearly and conspicuously reveal that said device is not safe for use in the home for any self-diagnosed condition unless and until a competent medical authority has determined, as a result of diagnosis, that the use of diathermy is indicated and has prescribed the frequency and rate of application of the treatments and the user has been adequately instructed by a trained technician in the use of such device;

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing, or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of respondent's device, which advertisement fails to comply with the requirements set forth in Paragraph 1 hereof.

By "Decision of the Commission and order to file report of compliance," Docket 5999, November 18, 1952, which announced and decreed fruition of said initial decision, report of compliance was required as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent herein shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon him of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

Issued: November 18, 1952.

4. Part 373—BLT (Blanket) License is amended in the following particulars:

a. Section 375.1 BLT (Blanket) license is amended to read as follows:

§ 375.1 BLT (Blanket) license. Under the provisions of this part there is established an alternative procedure for the exportation of commodities requiring a validated license. Pursuant to this procedure, application may be made for a BLT (Blanket) license (with exception of applications to export rice, Schedule B Nos. 105500, 105710, and 105750), which, if issued, authorizes exportation of the same commodity to two or more consignees in the same country of destination.

(d) Processing of applications. (1) The Office of International Trade will leave intact, as nearly as possible, the list of proposed consignees submitted with each BLT application. This will enable the applicant to select the specific consignee to whom he prefers to ship in the event the entire quantity approved is less than that applied for, although no one consignee may receive more out of the total quantity approved than the amount specified for him on the list attached to the BLT application.

(2) If the Office of International Trade finds that it will require an extended period of time to process a BLT application because of the necessity for prolonged consideration of one or more proposed ultimate consignees, a blanket license will be issued excluding such consignee or consignees. By this method, undue delay will be avoided in processing the application. The Office of International Trade in such instances will notify the applicant that an individual license application may be submitted to cover each excluded consignee.

e. Section 375.4 Export clearance and § 375.5 Validity period are renumbered respectively § 375.3 and § 375.4.

f. Section 375.6 Other applicable provisions is renumbered § 375.5 and amended to read as follows:

§ 381.5 Return or unloading of cargo at direction of Department of Commerce or Collector of Customs—(a) Exporting carriers. (1) As used in this section, the term "exporting carrier" includes connecting or on-forwarding carriers, as well as the owner, charterer, agent, master, and any other person in charge of the vessel, aircraft, or other kind of carrier, whether such persons are located in the United States or in a foreign country.

(2) The Office of International Trade or any United States collector of customs, where there is reasonable grounds for believing that a violation of export control regulations (Parts 370 through 399 of this subchapter) has occurred or will occur with respect to a particular exportation from the United States, may order any exporting carrier carrying such shipment, or which is otherwise in possession or control thereof, to return or unload the shipment. Such exporting carrier shall as ordered either (i) return such shipment to the United States or cause it to be so returned, or (ii) unload such shipment at a port of call and take steps to assure that such shipment is placed in custody under bond or other guaranty not to enter the commerce of any foreign country without prior approval of the Office of International Trade. For the purpose of this provision, the furnishing of a copy of the order to any person included within the definition of exporting carrier shall be sufficient notice of the order to the exporting carrier.

(3) The provisions of § 381.4 (f) relating to reporting, notification to the Office of International Trade, and the prohibition against unauthorized delivery or entry of the commodity into a foreign country shall apply also to commodities directed to be unloaded at a port of call, as provided in this section.

(b) Notification. Upon discovery by an owner, agent, or other person included within the term "exporting carrier", as defined in paragraph (a) of this section, that a violation of export control regulations has occurred or will occur with respect to a shipment on board, or otherwise in the possession or control of the carrier, such person shall immediately notify the Office of International Trade, Washington 25, D. TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter II—Economic Stabilization Agency

[Interpretation 1]

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON THE SUSPENSION OF WAGE AND SALARY CONTROLS BY EXECUTIVE ORDER 10434, ISSUED FEBRUARY 6, 1953 [1]

1. Q. Do wage, salary or other compensation adjustments made on or after February 6, 1953, require approval under the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended?

A. No.

2. Q. May new wage, salary, or other compensation adjustments be made retroactive to a date when controls were in effect?

A. Any adjustments determined or agreed upon on or after February 6, 1953, may be made without violating the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. This does not determine, however, that such retroactive payments are or are not permissible tax deductions for the year in which the services paid for were performed; or that such retroactive payments will necessarily be recognized as permissible reimbursable expense by Government procurement agencies, under the statutes applicable to their operations.

3. Q. What is the effect of the suspension of wage and salary controls on wage and salary agreements or determinations by private parties which were made before February 6, 1953, where petitions were pending before the stabilization agencies?

A. The wage and salary adjustments contained in "petitions pending" before the wage and salary control agencies may be put into effect at this time as of the proposed effective date. Agreements expressly conditioned on the approval of stabilization agencies are deemed approved according to the Executive Order.

4. Q. What is a "petition pending" before the stabilization agencies within the meaning of Executive Order 10434?

A. A petition pending before the stabilization agencies is any petition, including petitions for review, reconsideration or appeal, properly filed in accordance with the applicable procedural regulation on or before February 6, 1953, and not disposed of on or before February 6, 1953.

5. Q. A party, who has exhausted all remedies available under the applicable procedural regulation, has filed a request for further reconsideration of the previous action by the appropriate agency. Is a "petition pending" within the meaning of Executive Order 10434?

A. No. A petition is not pending where a party invokes a procedure not provided for in the applicable procedural regulation.

6. Q. Is a petition for review, reconsideration, or appeal "pending" if it has not in fact been filed but the time within which it could have been filed has not expired?

A. No. Only those petitions which were actually filed with the appropriate agency on or before February 6, 1953, are "pending" within the meaning of the Executive Order.

7. Q. A petition for approval of a wage, salary, or other compensation adjustment was denied or modified by a stabilization agency. May such adjustment now be made in full, retroactive to the proposed effective date?

A. A decision or agreement may now be made to effectuate such adjustment without violating the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. This does not determine, however, that such retroactive payments are or are not permissible tax deductions for the year in which the services paid for were performed; or that such retroactive payments will necessarily be recognized as permissible reimbursable expense by Government procurement agencies, under the statutes applicable to their operations.

8. Q. A wage, salary, or other compensation agreement was executed before February 6, 1953, and provided for adjustments subject to stabilization agency approval, but a petition was not filed with the appropriate agency on or before February 6, 1953. What adjustments may now be made?

A. A decision or agreement may now be made to effectuate such adjustment without violating the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. This does not determine, however, that such retroactive payments are or are not permissible tax deductions for the year in which the services paid for were performed; or that such retroactive payments will necessarily be recognized as permissible reimbursable expense by Government procurement agencies, under the statutes applicable to their operations.

9. Q. What effect does Executive Order 10434 have upon enforcement proceedings?

A. The Executive Order does not excuse violations committed prior to February 6, 1953. The stabilization agencies are continuing to process enforcement actions.

Issued: Washington, D. C., February 17, 1953.

Acting Economic Stabilization Administrator.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8 issued under sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, Pub. Law 429, 82d Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154. Interpret or apply sec. 102, 64 Stat. 799, Pub. Law 429, 82d Cong.; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2072; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61; 3 CFR, 1951 Supp.; secs. 402, 405, E. O. 10281, Aug. 28, 1951, 16 F. R. 8789; 3 CFR, 1951 Supp.

SECTION 1. Purpose of this designation. Section 102 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, provides in part that, in order to prevent hoarding, no person shall accumulate (a) in excess of the reasonable demands of business, personal, or home consumption, or (b) for the purpose of resale at prices in excess of prevailing market prices, materials which have been designated as scarce materials or materials the supply of which would be threatened by such accumulation. This designation lists certain materials as scarce materials. It also prescribes in sections 4, 5, and 6, certain conditions under which a person may accumulate such materials in excess of the reasonable demands of business, personal, or home consumption. In addition it lists other materials which are withdrawn from their previous designation as scarce.

SEC. 2. Definition of person. As used in this designation, the word "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

SEC. 3. Designation of scarce materials. Each material included in List A of this designation, in the shapes and forms therein described, or in all shapes and forms if no particular shape or form is therein described, is hereby designated, pursuant to section 102 of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, a scarce material. Whenever "material" or "materials" is hereinafter used, it means any such designated material or materials.

SEC. 4. Receipts of imported materials. (a) Notwithstanding any provision of this designation, a person may import by land, sea, or air any material acquired by him prior to landing without regard to the reasonable demands of his business, personal, or home consumption. However, if his total quantity of a material accumulated thereby becomes in excess of the reasonable demands of his business, personal, or home consumption, he may not receive any additional amount of such material from any domestic source until his total quantity thereof has been reduced below an amount which is not in excess of the reasonable demands of his business, personal, or home consumption.

(b) Within the meaning of paragraph (a) of this section, importation by a person is not limited to the person who takes title to the material prior to landing or who pays the customs entry thereon, but includes a person who, prior to landing, purchases or contracts to purchase the material from or through an importing broker, wholesaler, or other importer, even though such broker, wholesaler, or other importer makes the customs entry in his own name, places the material on board the inland carrier for shipment to his customer, and retains title until such shipment is made. Within the meaning of paragraph (a) of this section, a material is not imported by a person who acquires such material from an importing broker, wholesaler, or other importer who took such material into his own stock or inventory.

SEC. 5. Receipts of minimum production or sales quantities. Notwithstanding any provision of this designation, in the case of materials that are mass-produced or are normally marketed only in minimum sales quantities, a person may order and receive from a producer a minimum production run of such material, or from any other supplier, a minimum sales quantity, provided it is not practicable for him to procure his needs from other suppliers in smaller quantities, even though his accumulation of such material thereby becomes in excess of the reasonable demands of his business, personal, or home consumption. After such receipt, however, he may not receive any additional amount of such material until his accumulation thereof has been reduced below an amount which is not in excess of the reasonable demands of his business, personal, or home consumption.

SEC. 6. Receipts of materials after adjustment of orders. Notwithstanding any provision of this designation, a person who has promptly instructed the supplier to reduce or defer delivery of a material under an order for such material previously placed by him with the supplier, to the extent necessary so that his accumulation of such material will not be in excess of the reasonable demands of his business, personal, or home consumption, may accept delivery of the material involved in any of the following cases only:

(a) If the supplier has shipped the material or loaded it for shipment before receipt of the instruction to adjust the order.

(b) If the material is a special item which, before receipt of the instruction to adjust the order, the supplier has in stock or in production, or for the production of which he has acquired special components or special materials. For the purpose of this section a "special item" is one which the supplier does not usually make, stock, or sell, and cannot readily dispose of to others.

(c) If the material has already been produced or was in production before receipt of the instruction to adjust the order and cannot be used to fill other orders on the books of the producer.

SEC. 7. Applicability of other provisions of law, regulations, and orders. Nothing in sections 4, 5, and 6 of this designation shall be deemed to modify in any respect, or relieve any person from complying with, any applicable regulation, order, or other provision of law.

SEC. 8. Withdrawal of designation of scarce materials. The materials included in List B of this designation, as amended, all of which were designated as scarce materials in List A of NPA Designation of Scarce Materials 1 as amended December 24, 1952, are hereby withdrawn from such designation.

Designation of Scarce Materials 1, as amended, shall take effect February 18, 1953.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR Part 961]

[Docket No. AO–160–A–14–RO 1]

HANDLING OF MILK IN THE PHILADELPHIA, PA., MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND PROPOSED ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on January 28, 1953, pursuant to notices thereof issued December 18, 1952 (17 F. R. 11723) and January 21, 1953 (18 F. R. 553). This hearing was called to reopen consideration of the issues of record at the hearing of August 12 and 13, 1952, of which notice was issued on July 18, 1952 (17 F. R. 6749), as well as other proposals which had been submitted.

The material issues considered on the record of the reopened hearing on January 28, 1953, were as follows:

1. The price to be paid for Class II milk.

2. Whether the market situation requires emergency action on changes in the Class II price.

Upon completion of the evidence on these issues, the record with respect to these issues was closed at the request of interested parties, and the hearing recessed to a later date for receiving evidence on other issues.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the material issues are based upon evidence contained in the record of the hearing.

1. Price for Class II milk. The price for Class II milk should be adjusted by advancing to the earliest date possible the 10-cent seasonal reduction which otherwise would take effect April 1st, and for the period March through June 1953, the price for milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk, milk chocolate, cheese other than cottage cheese, and nonfat dry milk should not exceed the New York order class III price.

Handlers and producers requested that the price for Class II milk be reduced at the earliest possible date. Receipts of milk from producers are at an unprecedented high level for the season of the year, and one handler has given notice that he will not accept all of the increased volume after February 1 at the Class II price provided by the order. It was testified that a lower Class II price would encourage handlers to process more producer milk into manufactured products in their own plants, and would make it easier to divert some of the excess to non-handler manufacturing plants.

Deliveries of milk by producers for this market were in December 1952, 5 percent higher than a year earlier and 7 percent higher than in 1950 and 1949. Reports by the Market News Service indicate receipts during January are continuing at a level above a year earlier. Normally milk production in this area increases from the January level during the first part of the year and continues to increase through May and June. Accordingly, it appears on the basis of record data that the receipts of producer milk during the spring months may be expected to be somewhat higher than in recent years.

The volume of milk disposed of as Class I, however, has not kept pace with the increased milk receipts. Using as a basis for comparison the latest three months for which data is available (October, November and December) Class I sales increased about 1½ percent over the same period in 1951, but the increase in milk receipts was about 3½ times the increase in Class I disposition.

The market situation with respect to disposition of Class II milk is also affected by the relatively large stocks of some manufactured dairy products currently reported as in storage. The size of the carry over of such stocks is an important factor affecting the willingness of plant operators to accept milk for manufacturing uses.

The price formula for Class II milk in the order is designed to adjust the price automatically for changes in general supply conditions, since it is based on market prices for cream and nonfat dry milk. The formula also contains a seasonal factor in the form of a 10-cent reduction in April, May and June, which is the time of year when milk supplies normally are greatest, a greater proportion of the supply tends to move into the lower valued uses, and more handling and transportation costs may be involved in disposition of some of the milk than at other times. During the spring months of 1952, because of an unusually high level of milk production for this market, it appeared that some additional price adjustment was needed, and the formula price for Class II milk was amended so that it provided a lower price for milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk, milk chocolate, cheese other than cottage cheese, and nonfat dry milk. Milk in these uses was priced not higher than the New York order Class III price. About 40 percent of total Class II utilization was in these uses during the effective period of the price adjustment.

On the basis of the record data, it is concluded that the method used for pricing milk in Class II disposition during the flush months last year should also apply this year, but should be made effective earlier, because of the more aggravated conditions affecting the disposal of excess milk. The effective time of the 10-cent per hundredweight seasonal reduction in the Class II formula price should be advanced to the earliest date possible. Inasmuch as plants supplying this market are interspersed with plants supplying the New York market, the New York order Class III price is an important competitive factor affecting the disposal of excess milk by Philadelphia handlers. Although it cannot be predicted whether that price or the Class II price under this order will be higher during the spring months, the application of the lower of the two prices beginning with March, which is the month when the New York Class III price shifts to a butter price basis instead of Boston cream prices, will give handlers in this market assurance of a price not higher than the New York order Class III price, in disposition in the specified uses. This alternative pricing system should extend through June 1953. The order provisions, in this connection, should be similar to the provisions effective during April, May and June 1952.

Although producers and handlers proposed more drastic price changes, the order changes recommended herein appear likely to provide for adequate adjustments to changing supply conditions and other market conditions as they develop throughout the period of high production.

2. Need for emergency action. The due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the Act imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission of a recommended decision by the Assistant Administrator of Production and Marketing Administration and the opportunity for exceptions thereto on the actions contained in the amendments herein provided.

Conditions complained of are such that it is urgent that remedial action be taken as soon as possible. In view of the large stocks of dairy products currently reported in storage, handlers are reluctant to accept increased volumes of milk at current order prices and one handler has already set quotas of how much milk each producer may deliver after February 1. The level of milk production by producers for this market exceeds that in previous years and it may be expected that the surplus condition which usually exists during the spring months will occur earlier this year. Accordingly, the time necessarily involved in the preparation, filing and publication of the recommended decision and the consideration of exceptions thereto would make such relief ineffective.

The propriety of omitting a recommended decision and opportunity of filing exceptions thereto with respect to the issues here decided was indicated in the hearing record.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. Following the hearing a period was allowed for the filing of briefs containing suggested findings of fact, conclusions, and arguments with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. None were received.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and in the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in the said marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of December, 1952 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of an order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area in the manner set forth in the attached amending order is approved or favored by producers who during such period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such order, as amended.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled respectively "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Marketing Area" and "Order amending the order as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and order have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order, as hereby proposed to be amended, by the attached order which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 16th day of February 1953.

[SEAL] EZRA TAFT BENSON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, Marketing Area

§ 961.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the said marketing area and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended, as follows:

1. In § 961.40 (b) delete subparagraph (3) and insert subparagraphs (3) and (4) as follows:

(3) During the months of February and March 1953 deduct 10 cents from the price calculated pursuant to subparagraphs (1) (excluding the proviso) and (2) of this paragraph.

(4) The price for any of the months of March through June 1953 for milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk, milk chocolate, cheese other than cottage cheese, and nonfat dry milk shall not exceed the sum of the following: (i) A butterfat value computed as follows: To the average butter price per pound computed pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph add 2 cents, multiply by 1.22 and by 4, and deduct 19 cents, and (ii) a skim milk value computed by multiplying by 7.8 the weighted average (using the weight of 70 for roller process prices and a weight of 30 for spray process prices) of the prices per pound of roller process and spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, in carlots, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month, and subtract 54 cents.

2. In § 961.41 reword paragraph (b) as follows:

(b) The Class II price shall be subject to a butterfat differential for each one-tenth of 1 percent variation above or below 4.0 percent, calculated as follows: Divide the average of the cream quotations used in calculating the Class II price by 334.8 and subtract 0.67 cent; or in the case of butterfat in Class II to which the "butter-value" is applicable, divide the butter value by 40; and in the case of milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk, milk chocolate, cheese other than cottage cheese, and nonfat dry milk, during March, April, May and June 1953, divide the butterfat value computed pursuant to § 961.40 (b) (4) by 40.

[Docket No. AO-166-A16]

HANDLING OF MILK IN THE CINCINNATI, OHIO, MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO A PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO THE TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT, AND TO THE ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of the recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to a proposed amendment to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Cincinnati, Ohio, marketing area. Interested parties may file written exceptions to this decision with the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business the 5th day after publication of this decision in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Exceptions should be filed in quadruplicate.

Preliminary statement. A hearing was conducted at Cincinnati, Ohio, on December 16, 1952, pursuant to notice thereof which was issued on December 9, 1952 (17 F. R. 11242).

The material issues presented on the record relate to:

1. The pricing of Class I milk in March.
2. Marketing service deductions.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions are based upon the evidence submitted at the hearing and the record thereof.

Pricing of Class I milk in March. No change should be made in the pricing of Class I milk for March.

Pursuant to the present pricing provisions of the order, the amount added to the basic formula price (hereinafter referred to as the Class I differential) to determine the Class I price cannot be lower in December, January, or February than it was in the immediately preceding November. It was proposed that March also be included as a month during which the Class I differential could not be lower than in the preceding November.

Production of producer milk for the market usually reaches its seasonal low in November or December and increases seasonally from then to May or June. Analysis of the increases in average daily production of producer milk from December to January, January to February, and February to March during the last four years indicates that, except in the winter of 1949–1950, the increase from February to March was greatest. In the 1949–1950 period the increase from January to February slightly exceeded the increase from February to March. Of the last four fall and winter periods, March average daily production of producer milk exceeded average daily production during each of the preceding months of September through February in two years, during each of the preceding months of October through February in one year, and during each of the preceding months of November through February in the other year. In March average daily production of producer milk is usually over one-fourth greater than it was during the month of lowest production.

This analysis would indicate no need for maintaining the March Class I differential at the same rate prevailing during the month of November.

The record shows no unusual conditions currently existing or in prospect which would justify a higher Class I differential in March 1953 than should normally be provided for the month of March.

Marketing service deductions. The marketing service deduction for producers for whom the market administrator performs marketing services should be increased to 6 cents per hundredweight of milk. The present rate of deduction is 4 cents per hundredweight of milk.

The market administrator is not currently receiving sufficient funds from the marketing service deductions to adequately perform the marketing services which the order requires. His experiences in Cincinnati and in other markets in which he is also market administrator indicate that in order to assure sufficient funds in Cincinnati to adequately perform the marketing services required by the order, a maximum permissible rate of marketing service deduction of 6 cents per hundredweight of milk should be provided. This rate of marketing service deduction and the income resulting therefrom would be similar to the rates and income pursuant to other Ohio orders.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings. All of the statements, proposed findings and conclusions, and arguments contained in the briefs filed by interested parties were carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions herein set forth.

One of the briefs contained a statement implying that additional funds resulting from adoption of the proposed increase in marketing service deductions would be used for purposes other than performing marketing services for the producers from whom the deductions were made. The order specifically requires the use of such funds to furnish marketing services for such producers and describes the type of marketing services to be performed.

It was asserted in one of the briefs that if 1 cent of the 4 cents presently deducted for marketing services is necessary to cover the costs of the bulletin which the market administrator publishes to furnish market information to producers from which such deductions are made, the annual cost of such bulletin to the average producer exceeds $10. In the last 12 months the average production of milk per producer has averaged about 7000 pounds. If the average production of the producers for whom the market administrator performs marketing services is about the same as the average production per producer for all producers supplying the market, then the total marketing service deductions per producer have averaged about $28 per year. If about one-fourth of this $28 per year was used to cover costs of providing market information through the bulletin, then the bulletin has cost each producer an average of about $7 per year. Under the increased rate of marketing service deductions, herein proposed, total deductions per producer would average about $42 per year.

To the extent that the findings and conclusions contained herein are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions proposed in the briefs, the requests to make the findings or to reach the conclusions proposed in the briefs are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated herein.

At the hearing a representative of the Consumer Conference of Greater Cincinnati read a resolution of that organization proposing that the milk marketing order for Cincinnati be terminated. Such an order can be terminated only upon a finding by the Secretary of Agriculture that (1) such termination is favored by a majority of producers by number and volume of production, or (2) that the order obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act. A finding that termination is favored by a majority of producers cannot be made at this time, and a finding is made in this decision that the order, as amended, and as herein proposed to be further amended, does tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. Accordingly the proposal to terminate the order must be denied.

Recommended marketing agreement and amendment to the order. The following amendment to the order is recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which the foregoing conclusions may be carried out. The recommended marketing agreement is not included in this decision because the regulatory provisions thereof would be identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended.

Amend § 965.75 (a) to read as follows:

(a) The market administrator shall deduct an amount not exceeding 6 cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator) from the payments made pursuant to § 965.73 (b), with respect to the milk of those producers for whom the marketing services set forth in paragraph (b) of this section are not being performed by a cooperative association which the Secretary determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," for the purpose of performing the services set forth in paragraph (b) of this section.

Dated: February 16, 1953, at Washington, D. C.

LAKE SHORE PIPE LINE CO.

ORDER SUSPENDING PROPOSED RATE SCHEDULES

On January 16, 1953, Lake Shore Pipe Line Company (Lake Shore) filed its First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, containing increased rates and charges which are proposed to be made effective as of February 15, 1953. The proposed increase in rates and charges would result in an estimated increase of about $220,000 or 28 percent per year, based upon estimated sales for the years 1953–55 inclusive.

Lake Shore bases its proposed increase in rates and charges, among other things, upon increased costs of purchased gas from its supplier, Tennessee Gas Transmission Company, whose increased rates have been suspended in Docket No. G–2052. In part also, Lake Shore relies upon claimed increases in operating expenses and plant investment costs in excess of those presented in its certificate proceedings in Docket No. G–1236.

The increased rates and charges proposed in said First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 to Lake Shore's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, as filed on January 16, 1953, have not been shown to be justified and may be unjust or unreasonable, or otherwise unlawful.

On February 10, 1953, Lake Shore filed a motion requesting that the rate schedules be permitted to become effective on February 15, 1953, without suspension, or that they not be suspended beyond March 15, 1953. If permitted to become effective without suspension or not later than March 15, 1953, Lake Shore voluntarily offers to file with the Commission a bond in the form usually prescribed by the Commission to be effective on whatever date the Commission permits the proposed increased rates to go into effect.

Lake Shore states that 48 percent of the proposed increase represents an increase in cost of gas purchased from Tennessee Gas Transmission Company which may become effective under bond in Docket No. G–2052 on February 15, 1953.

The Commission finds:

(1) Proper administration of the Natural Gas Act requires that the motion made on February 10, 1953, by Lake Shore be denied.

(2) It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing, pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 of such act, concerning the lawfulness of Lake Shore's First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, and that said First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 be suspended as hereinafter provided and the use thereof be deferred pending hearing and decision thereon.

The Commission orders:

(A) Lake Shore's motion filed February 10, 1953, be and the same is hereby denied.

(B) Pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 of the Natural Gas Act, a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by further order of the Commission concerning the lawfulness of the rates, charges, and classifications contained in the aforesaid Lake Shore Pipe Line Company's First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1.

(C) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, Lake Shore's First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, be and the same are hereby suspended and the use thereof deferred until July 16, 1953, and until such further time thereafter as said proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, and 7 may be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: February 12, 1953.

NEW YORK STATE NATURAL GAS CORP.

ORDER SUSPENDING PROPOSED RATE SCHEDULES

FEBRUARY 12, 1953.

On January 15, 1953, New York State Natural Gas Corporation (Applicant) filed First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7A, 10, and 17A, Second Revised Sheet Nos. 12, 14, 17, and 18, and Third Revised Sheet Nos. 8 and 16 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1; and First Revised Sheets Nos. 14 and 18 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 2, which, unless suspended, will become effective February 15, 1953, and will result in an increase of approximately $3,741,000 annually, or approximately 10.7 percent, to its resale customers, based on estimated sales for the year ending February 14, 1954. The distribution of such increase among Applicant's customers is shown in Appendix A to this order.

The proposed increase in rates and charges is based, among other things, upon claimed increases in the cost of gas purchased which may not be fully realized, claimed increased purchases of natural gas to offset asserted declining production from Applicant's own wells; and claimed increases in wages and rental expense. In connection with the large storage project dedicated for service to its affiliates, The East Ohio Gas Company and The Peoples Natural Gas Company, Applicant proposes an increased rate for all gas deliveries deemed to be from its pipeline system, and a reduction in the income tax apportioned under the cost-of-service formula for all costs associated with the storage facilities.

It does not appear that the proposed increase in rates and charges has been supported as required by section 4 (e) of the Natural Gas Act, and the proposed rates may be unjust, unreasonable, unduly discriminatory or preferential or otherwise unlawful, and may place an undue burden upon ultimate consumers of natural gas.

All of Applicant's resale customers, as well as interested regulatory agencies, were invited to submit comments with respect to the application for the proposed increase. The New York Public Service Commission advised that the proposed rates should be thoroughly investigated. Thirteen customers submitted comments. In general these object to the proposed increase. The Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission and the two affiliated companies advised they had no comments at this time.

The Commission finds: It is necessary and proper in the public interest and to aid in the enforcement of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the Commission enter upon a hearing, pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 thereof, concerning the lawfulness of New York State Natural Gas Corporation's FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1, as amended by proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7A, 10, and 17A, Second Revised Sheet Nos. 12, 14, 17, and 18, and Third Revised Sheet Nos. 8 and 16; and FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 2, as amended by proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 14 and 18, and that said proposed revised sheets be suspended as hereinafter provided and the use thereof be deferred pending hearing and decision thereon as provided by the Natural Gas Act.

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in section 4 of the Natural Gas Act, a public hearing be held upon a date to be fixed by further order of the Commission concerning the lawfulness of the rates, charges, and classifications, subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, contained in New York State Natural Gas Corporation's FPC Gas Tariff Original Volume No. 1 as amended by proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7A, 10, and 17A, Second Revised Sheet Nos. 12, 14, 17, and 18, and Third Revised Sheet Nos. 8 and 16, and FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 2 as amended by proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 14 and 18.

(B) Pending such hearing and decision thereon, New York State Natural Gas Corporation's proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 4, 5, 6, 7A, 10, and 17A, Second Revised Sheet Nos. 12, 14, 17, and 18, and Third Revised Sheet Nos. 8 and 16 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 1; and proposed First Revised Sheet Nos. 14 and 18 to its FPC Gas Tariff, Original Volume No. 2 be and the same are hereby suspended and their use deferred until July 15, 1953, and until such further time as said proposed revised sheets may be made effective in the manner prescribed by the Natural Gas Act.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: February 12, 1953.

MISSISSIPPI POWER CO.

ORDER GRANTING AUTHORITY TO ISSUE AND SELL SHORT TERM UNSECURED NOTES

FEBRUARY 13, 1953.

Mississippi Power Company ("Mississippi"), a public utility subsidiary of the Southern Company, a registered holding company, having filed a declaration pursuant to sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rules U-20, U-23 and U-24, promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

Mississippi proposes to issue and sell, from time to time prior to July 1, 1953, $2,100,000 principal amount of short term bank loan notes to sixteen banks, whose participations are designated in the filing. The notes will mature not later than nine months from the dates of issue and will bear interest at the current rate for nine month bank loans at the time of their issuance, which is 3 percent at the present time. In the event that the interest rate is in excess of 3¼ percent per annum at the time any of said notes is to be issued, Mississippi will file an amendment hereto stating the rate of interest and other details of such note or notes at least 5 days prior to the execution and delivery thereof.

Declarant states that the proceeds to be derived from the sale of these notes will be used to finance improvements, extensions and additions to its utility plant or to reimburse its treasury in part for expenditures incurred for such purposes. Mississippi proposes to retire the notes out of the proceeds from the sale of additional securities of a type and in an amount not yet determined.

It is represented that no State Commission or any other Federal Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Declarant estimates that the expenses in connection with the proposed transactions will not exceed $500 including $250 for legal fees.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the declaration, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said declaration be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said declaration be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

NEW ENGLAND POWER CO.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF NEW PREFERRED STOCK

FEBRUARY 13, 1953.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by New England Power Company ("NEPCO"), a public-utility subsidiary of New England Electric System, a registered holding company. The filing has designated sections 6 (a), 6 (b), 7 and 12 (c) of the act and Rules U-42 and U-50 as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

NEPCO proposes to create a new class of preferred stock with a par value of $100 per share, to be designated Dividend Series Preferred stock, and to issue 80,140 shares of an initial series of such stock to be designated Cumulative Preferred Stock, __ Percent Series. The 80,140 shares of new preferred stock are to be offered, during a period of not less than 15 days, to the holders of NEPCO's outstanding 6 percent Cumulative Preferred Stock (noncallable) for subscription in the ratio of one share of new preferred stock for each share of 6 percent Cumulative Preferred Stock held, pursuant to the preemptive rights accorded such stock in the company's charter. This offering is to be underwritten and the holders of old preferred stock may subscribe for the new preferred stock at a price to be fixed by the successful bidder as the price to be paid to NEPCO for the unsubscribed shares determined pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50. The rights to subscribe will be evidenced by transferable subscription warrants.

The dividend rate on the new preferred stock and the price to the company (to be not less than $100 nor more than $102.75 per share) are to be determined by the competitive bidding. The bidders will be required to specify the aggregate amount of compensation to be paid by NEPCO as compensation for their commitments and obligations in connection with the purchase of the unsubscribed shares.

The total expense in connection with the proposed issuance and sale of the new preferred stock is estimated not to exceed $60,000 and such total estimated expense includes $18,000 for services performed at cost by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company.

The proceeds of the sale of the new preferred stock will be applied to the payment of notes and the balance, if any, will be used for construction purposes. The filing states that NEPCO has outstanding $9,400,000 principal amount of short-term notes, due April 1, 1953, under a loan agreement with five banks and that the company anticipates that upon completion of the new preferred stock financing it will have outstanding approximately $1,400,000 principal amount of notes payable to banks.

The filing indicates that the issuance and sale of the new preferred stock are subject to authorization by the Massachusetts Department of Public Utilities, the Vermont Public Service Commission, and the New Hampshire Public Utilities Commission.

It is requested that the Commission's order become effective upon issuance and that the ten day period for inviting bids with respect to the new preferred stock, as provided in Rule U-50, be shortened to a period of not less than six days.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than February 24, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., request in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after February 24, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., said application-declaration as filed or as amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 5828]

CONTINENTAL AIR LINES, INC., AND UNITED AIR LINES, INC.; INTERCHANGE OF EQUIPMENT

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the application of Continental Air Lines, Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc., for approval by the Civil Aeronautics Board under section 412 and, if such approval is deemed necessary, under section 408 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of an agreement relating to the interchange of equipment.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 408, 412, and 1001 of the said act, the above-entitled proceeding is assigned for hearing on March 4, 1953 at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., in Room 2045, Temporary Building No. 4, Seventeenth Street, south of Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Barron Fredricks.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the application, particular attention will be directed to the following questions:

1. Does the interchange agreement constitute a lease to an air carrier of a substantial part of the properties of another air carrier, or an agreement to operate a substantial part of such properties, within the meaning of section 408 (a) (2) of the act?

2. Is the agreement consistent with the public interest, having regard to any improvement to air transportation service to be provided by the interchange operation, to any adverse effect upon another air carrier, and to the justness and reasonableness of the terms of the agreement?

3. Will the agreement result in creating a monopoly and thereby restrain competition?

4. What, if any, terms and conditions to protect the public interest ought the Board to impose in the event it approves the agreement?

For further details of the issues involved in the proceeding interested persons are referred to the joint application and the prehearing conference report which are on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Notice is further given that any person, other than a party of record, desiring to be heard in this proceeding must file with the Board on or before March 4, 1953, a statement setting forth such propositions of fact or law as he desires to advance, and such person may then appear and participate in the hearing in accordance with Rule 14 of the Board's rules of practice.

Dated at Washington, D. C., February 16, 1953.

After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the amendments to Regulations 111, set forth below are hereby adopted.

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.102–1 the following:

SEC. 315. SURTAX ON CORPORATIONS IMPROPERLY ACCUMULATING SURPLUS (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

CERTAIN DISTRIBUTIONS OF STOCK ON REORGANIZATION

On November 22, 1952, notice of proposed rule making with respect to regulations under sections 112 (b) (11) and 113 (a) (23) of the Internal Revenue Code, as added by section 317 of the Revenue Act of 1951, approved October 20, 1951, relating to certain distributions of stock on reorganization, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 10647). After consideration of all relevant matter presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed, the amendments to Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29), set forth below are hereby adopted.

PARAGRAPH 1. Section 29.112 (a)–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5402, approved September 5, 1944, is further amended by adding at the end of paragraph (f) thereof the following sentence: "See section 112 (b) (11), with respect to nonrecognition of gain upon the distribution of stock (other than preferred) in a corporation a party to a reorganization under certain circumstances without the surrender of stock."

PAR. 2. There is inserted immediately following § 29.112 (b) (10)–2 the following:

SEC. 317. CERTAIN DISTRIBUTIONS OF STOCK ON REORGANIZATION (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(a) Distributions not in liquidation. Section 112 (b) (relating to nonrecognition of gain or loss in the case of certain exchanges) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(11) Distribution of stock not in liquidation. If there is distributed, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, to a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to the reorganization, stock (other than preferred stock) in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization, without the surrender by such shareholder of stock, no gain to the distributee from the receipt of such stock shall be recognized unless it appears that (A) any corporation which is a party to such reorganization was not intended to continue the active conduct of a trade or business after such reorganization, or (B) the corporation whose stock is distributed was used principally as a device for the distribution of earnings and profits to the shareholders of any corporation a party to the reorganization.

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after the date of the enactment of this Act, but shall apply only with respect to distributions of stock made after such date.

§ 29.112 (b) (11)–1 Certain distributions of stock on reorganization. (a) If there is distributed after October 20, 1951, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, to a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to the reorganization stock (other than preferred stock) in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization, without the surrender by such shareholder of stock, no gain to such shareholder from the receipt of such stock shall be recognized, unless it appears that:

(1) Any corporation which is a party to such reorganization was not intended to continue the active conduct of a trade or business after such reorganization, or

(2) The corporation whose stock is distributed was used principally as a device for the distribution of earnings and profits to the shareholders of any corporation a party to the reorganization.

(b) For section 112 (b) (11) to be applicable, there must be a reorganization as defined in section 112 (g) (1) and a distribution to shareholders in pursuance of the plan of reorganization. Accordingly, for the purpose of section 112 (b) (11), there must be compliance with the rules prescribed in §§ 29.112 (a)–1, 29.112 (g)–1, and 29.112 (g)–2, relating to reorganizations and to exchanges and distributions. The distributions under section 112 (b) (11) must be of stock in a corporation which is a party to the reorganization, which stock was received in the reorganization.

(c) Section 112 (b) (11) involves cases in which one corporation, in a reorganization as defined in section 112 (g) (1) (D), transfers a part of its assets to another corporation in exchange for stock, and, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, distributes or causes to be distributed on its behalf to its shareholders, without the surrender by them of stock in the transferor corporation, stock (other than preferred stock) received in the reorganization. For limitations specially applicable under section 112 (b) (11), see § 29.112 (b) (11)–2. The distribution of preferred stock or other property received in the reorganization, or of other property of the transferor corporation, is not within the provisions of section 112 (b) (11).

§ 29.112 (b) (11)–2 Limitations upon the application of section 112 (b) (11). (a) The benefits of section 112 (b) (11) are limited to a reorganization in which all of the corporations, parties to the reorganization, are intended to continue the active conduct of a trade or business after the reorganization, and in which the corporation whose stock is distributed is not used principally as a device for the distribution of earnings and profits to shareholders of any corporation a party to the reorganization. The underlying assumption of section 112 (b) (11) and of the rules applicable to reorganizations is that the reorganization and distribution of stock must result in a continuation of the old business activities and in a continuation of the interests of the shareholders therein.

(b) A corporation shall be considered for the purpose of section 112 (b) (11) to be engaged in the active conduct of a trade or business after the reorganization only if it directly conducts such business or indirectly conducts the business through ownership of stock in another corporation actively conducting the business, which other corporation is a subsidiary (whether or not majority-owned) of the corporation, a party to the reorganization. For the purpose of the preceding sentence, a corporation is considered a subsidiary of another corporation if a majority of its voting stock is owned by the other corporation or if a part of its stock (whether or not a majority of its voting stock) is owned by the other corporation under such circumstances that the policies of the first corporation are directed by the second corporation. The assets, if any, of a corporation used directly in the conduct of a business and stock, if any, held by a corporation in a subsidiary actively conducting a business must constitute a substantial part of all of the assets of the corporation.

(c) Ordinarily, the business reasons (as distinguished from any desire to make a distribution of earnings and profits to the shareholders) which support the reorganization and the distribution of the stock will require the distribution of all of the stock received by the transferor corporation in the reorganization.

Example 1. Corporation A owns and operates several mines and in addition owns 45 percent of the stock of Corporation X, 40 percent of the stock of Corporation Y, and 35 percent of the stock of Corporation Z. Corporation A is the largest single shareholder in each of these corporations, and directs their policies in such manner that these corporations are operated as subsidiaries of Corporation A. Corporations X, Y, and Z are each directly engaged in the active conduct of a trade or business. Corporation A transfers all its stock in Corporations X, Y, and Z to newly organized Corporation B in exchange for all of Corporation B's stock, which stock is distributed pro rata among the shareholders of Corporation A. Corporation B then directs the policies of these corporations in such manner that they are operated as subsidiaries of Corporation B. There are no other relevant facts. The distribution of the stock (other than preferred stock) in Corporation B to the shareholders of Corporation A is within the terms of section 112 (b) (11).

Example 2. Corporation C owns and operates a department store. It decides to provide parking facilities for the customers of the store. In order to provide such facilities, Corporation C enters into a contract to purchase land adjacent to its premises. The purchase price of the land is $100,000 and it is estimated that the cost of developing the parking lot will be $50,000. In order to separate the operations of the parking lot from those of the department store, Corporation C transfers to a newly formed Corporation D $90,000 in cash and $90,000 in bonds, together with the contract for the purchase of the land, in exchange for all the stock of Corporation D, which stock is distributed pro rata among the shareholders of Corporation C. The purchase of the land is completed on the date fixed in the contract, and the parking facilities are developed and operated by Corporation D. There are no other relevant facts. The transfer of the cash, bonds, and contract to Corporation D in exchange for its stock is a reorganization under section 112 (g) (1) and the distribution of stock (other than preferred stock) in Corporation D to the shareholders of Corporation C is within the terms of section 112 (b) (11).

Example 3. Corporation E is engaged in a manufacturing business. The assets of Corporation E include $300,000 in cash and $600,000 in bonds in addition to $450,000 in other assets used in the manufacturing business. Corporation E forms a new corporation, F, to which Corporation E transfers $200,000 in cash and the $600,000 in bonds in exchange for all the stock of Corporation F, which stock is distributed among the shareholders of Corporation E pro rata. At the time of the transaction there is no clear and definite plan for the acquisition by Corporation F of specific business assets. There are no other relevant facts. The transfer of cash and bonds to Corporation F is not a reorganization under section 112 (g) (1) of the Code; therefore, the distribution of the stock of Corporation F is taxable as a dividend to the extent provided in section 115 (a).

PAR. 3. Section 29.112 (g)–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5402, is further amended by inserting immediately preceding the last sentence of paragraph (b) thereof the following: "The nonrecognition of gain or loss is also prescribed with respect to the distribution occurring after October 20, 1951, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, to a shareholder of a corporation which is a party to the reorganization, of stock (other than preferred stock) in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization, where such shareholder does not surrender any stock. (See section 112 (b) (11) and the regulations thereunder.)"

PAR. 4. Section 29.112 (g)–2 is amended by striking from paragraph (g) (which paragraph begins with the words "The term 'plan of reorganization'") the word "exchanges" wherever it appears and inserting in each instance in lieu thereof the words "exchanges or distributions".

PAR 5. Section 29.112 (g)–5 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following sentence: "See § 29.112 (b) (11)–1 with respect to the distribution occurring after October 20, 1951, to a shareholder, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization of stock (other than preferred stock) in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization, without the surrender by such shareholder of stock."

PAR. 6. Section 29.113 (a)–2, as amended by Treasury Decision 5402, is further amended by striking from the second sentence thereof the expression "113 (a) (22)" and by inserting in lieu thereof the expression "113 (a) (23)".

PAR. 7. There is inserted immediately after § 29.113 (a) (22)–1 the following:

SEC. 317. CERTAIN DISTRIBUTIONS OF STOCK ON REORGANIZATION (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(b) Basis of stock. Section 113 (a) (relating to unadjusted basis for determining gain or loss) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(23) Tax-free distributions. If the property consists of stock distributed after the date of the enactment of the Revenue Act of 1951 to a taxpayer in connection with a transaction described in section 112 (b) (11) (hereinafter in this paragraph called "new stock"), or consists of stock in respect of which such distribution was made (hereinafter in this paragraph called "old stock"), then the basis of the new stock and of the old stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands, be determined by allocating between the old stock and the new stock the adjusted basis of the old stock; such allocation to be made under regulations prescribed by the Secretary.

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years ending after the date of the enactment of this Act, but shall apply only with respect to distributions of stock made after such date.

§ 29.113 (a) (23)–1 Basis of stock on certain distributions on reorganization. The distribution, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, to a shareholder of a corporation (a party to the reorganization) of stock in another corporation (also a party to the reorganization) may be within the provisions of section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1932, or the corresponding provisions of prior revenue laws, if made before January 1, 1934, or may be within the provisions of section 112 (b) (11) if made after October 20, 1951, and if the distribution consists of stock other than preferred stock. Section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1932 and section 112 (b) (11) provide that no gain shall be recognized to the shareholder in the case of such distribution. The basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made and of the stock distributed to the shareholder is ascertained in accordance with the principles set forth in § 29.113 (a) (12)–1 in the case of such a distribution made before January 1, 1934. The same principles of § 29.113 (a) (12)–1 shall apply to the determination of the basis of such stock in the case of a distribution after October 20, 1951, to which section 112 (b) (11) is applicable.

PAR. 8. Section 29.115–11 as amended by Treasury Decision 5402, is further amended by striking subparagraph (1) of paragraph (c) thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

(1) The distribution, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, by or on behalf of a corporation a party to the reorganization, to its shareholders:

(i) Of stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization in any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1934, without the surrender by the distributees of stock or securities in such corporation (see section 112 (g) of the Revenue Act of 1932); or

(ii) Of stock (other than preferred stock) in another corporation which is a party to the reorganization without the surrender by the distributees of stock in the distributing corporation if the distribution occurs after October 20, 1951 (see section 112 (b) (11)); or

(iii) Of stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization in any taxable year (beginning before January 1, 1939, or on or after such date) in exchange for its stock or securities (see section 112 (b) (3))

if no gain to the distributees from the receipt of such stock or securities was recognized by law.

PART 601—PROCEDURE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On October 1, 1952, notice of proposed rule making to conform Regulations 111 to Part II of Title III of the Revenue Act of 1950, approved September 23, 1950, and to Public Law 35, 82d Congress, approved May 17, 1951, to provide for a technical amendment made to 26 CFR 601.17 (a), respecting forms required of trusts claiming deductions under section 162 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 8704). No objection to the rules proposed having been received, the amendments of Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29) and the technical amendment made to 26 CFR 601.17 (a) set forth below are hereby adopted.

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.153-1, as added by Treasury Decision 5838, approved April 17, 1951, the following:

PUBLIC LAW 35, 82D CONGRESS, APPROVED MAY 17, 1951

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That, effective with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1949, section 153 (b) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to special returns required from trusts claiming charitable, etc., deductions under section 162 (a) of such code) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

This subsection shall not apply in the case of a taxable year if all the net income for such year, determined under the applicable principles of the law of trusts, is required to be distributed currently to the beneficiaries.

PAR. 2. Section 29.153-2, as added by Treasury Decision 5838, is hereby amended as follows:

(A) By changing the headnote and the first sentence thereof to read as follows:

§ 29.153-2 Information required of certain trusts claiming charitable or other deductions under section 162 (a)—(a) In general. For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1949, every trust (other than a trust described in paragraph (b) of this section) claiming a charitable or other deduction under section 162 (a) shall file, with respect to the taxable year for which such deduction is claimed, a return of information on Form 1041-A. * * *

(B) By adding at the end thereof the following:

(b) Exception. The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section with respect to the filing of information returns shall not be applicable to the taxable year of a trust if the trustee is bound by the instrument creating the trust to distribute each year to the beneficiaries all the net income of the trust (such net income being determined under the applicable principles of the law of trusts).

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.162-1 the following:

SEC. 321. CHARITABLE, ETC., DEDUCTIONS OF TRUSTS (REVENUE ACT OF 1950, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 23, 1950).

(a) Amendment of section 162. Section 162 is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

(g) Rules for application of subsection (a) in the case of trusts—(1) Trade or business income. In computing the deduction allowable under subsection (a) to a trust for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, no amount otherwise allowable under subsection (a) as a deduction shall be allowed as a deduction with respect to income of the taxable year which is allocable to its Supplement U business income for such year. As used in this paragraph the term "Supplement U business income" means an amount equal to the amount which, if such trusts were exempt under section 101 (6) from taxation, would be computed as its unrelated business net income under section 422 (relating to income derived from certain business activities and from certain leases).

(2) Operations of trusts—(A) Limitation on charitable, etc., deduction. The amount otherwise allowable under subsection (a) as a deduction shall not exceed 15 per centum of the net income of the trust (computed without the benefit of subsection (a)) if the trust has engaged in a prohibited transaction, as defined in subparagraph (B) of this paragraph.

(B) Prohibited transactions. For the purposes of this paragraph the term "prohibited transaction" means any transaction after July 1, 1950, in which any trust while holding income or corpus which has been permanently set aside or is to be used exclusively for charitable or other purposes described in subsection (a)—

(i) Lends any part of such income or corpus, without receipt of adequate security and a reasonable rate of interest, to;

(ii) Pays any compensation from such income or corpus, in excess of a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered, to;

(iii) Makes any part of its services available on a preferential basis to;

(iv) Uses such income or corpus to make any substantial purchase of securities or any other property, for more than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, from;

(v) Sells any substantial part of the securities or other property comprising such income or corpus, for less than an adequate consideration in money or money's worth, to; or

(vi) Engages in any other transaction which results in a substantial diversion of such income or corpus to;

the creator of such trust; any person who has made a substantial contribution to such trust; a member of the family (as defined in section 24 (b) (2) (D)) of an individual who is the creator of the trust or who has made a substantial contribution to the trust; or a corporation controlled by any such creator or person through the ownership, directly or indirectly, of 50 per centum or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote or 50 per centum or more of the total value of shares of all classes of stock of the corporation.

(C) Taxable years affected. The amount otherwise allowable under subsection (a) as a deduction shall be limited as provided in subparagraph (A) only for taxable years subsequent to the taxable year during which the trust is notified by the Secretary that it has engaged in such transaction, unless such trust entered into such prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such corpus or income from the purposes described in subsection (a), and such transaction involved a substantial part of such corpus or income.

(D) Future charitable, etc., deductions of trusts denied deduction under subparagraph (C). If the deduction of any trust under subsection (a) has been limited as provided in this paragraph, such trust, with respect to any taxable year following the taxable year in which notice is received of limitation of deduction under subsection (a), may, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, file claim for the allowance of the unlimited deduction under subsection (a), and if the Secretary, pursuant to such regulations, is satisfied that such trust will not knowingly again engage in a prohibited transaction, the limitation provided in subparagraph (A) shall not be applicable with respect to taxable years subsequent to the year in which such claim is filed.

(E) Disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions. No gift or bequest for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes (including the encouragement of art and the prevention of cruelty to children or animals), otherwise allowable as a deduction under section 23 (o) (2), 23 (q) (2), 162 (a), 505 (a) (2), * * * shall be allowed as a deduction if made in trust and, in the taxable year of the trust in which the gift or bequest is made, the deduction allowed the trust under subsection (a) is limited by subparagraph (A). With respect to any taxable year of a trust in which such deduction has been so limited by reason of entering into a prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such corpus or income from the purposes described in subsection (a), and such transaction involved a substantial part of such income or corpus, and which taxable year is the same, or prior to the, taxable year of the trust in which such prohibited transaction occurred, such deduction shall be disallowed the donor only if such donor or (if such donor is an individual) any member of his family (as defined in section 24 (b) (2) (D)) was a party to such prohibited transaction.

(F) Definition. For the purposes of this paragraph the term "gift or bequest" means any gift, contribution, bequest, devise, legacy, or transfer.

(3) Cross reference. For disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions otherwise allowable under subsection (a), see section 3813.

(4) Accumulated income. If the amounts permanently set aside, or to be used exclusively, for the charitable and other purposes described in subsection (a) during the taxable year or any prior taxable year and not actually paid out by the end of the taxable year—

(A) are unreasonable in amount or duration in order to carry out such purposes of the trust; or

(B) are used to a substantial degree for purposes other than those described in subsection (a); or

(C) are invested in such a manner as to jeopardize the interests of the religious, charitable, scientific, etc., beneficiaries, the amount otherwise allowable under subsection (a) as a deduction shall be limited to the amount actually paid out during the taxable year and shall not exceed 15 per centum of the net income of the trust (computed without the benefit of subsection (a)).

(b) Technical amendment. Section 162 (a) is hereby amended by striking out "There shall be allowed as a deduction" and inserting in lieu thereof "Subject to the provisions of subsection (g), there shall be allowed as a deduction."

SEC. 322. EFFECTIVE DATE OF PART II (REVENUE ACT OF 1950, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 23, 1950).

The amendments made by this part [sections 321 and 322 of the Revenue Act of 1950] shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950, except that subsection (g) (2) (E) of section 162 of the Internal Revenue Code, added by section 321 (a) of this act, shall apply only with respect to gifts or bequests (as defined in section 162 (g) (2) (F) of the Internal Revenue Code) made on or after January 1, 1951.

PAR. 4. Section 29.162–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5962, approved December 16, 1952, is further amended as follows:

(A) By adding immediately after the fifth sentence in paragraph (a) thereof the following: "For limitations on the deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a), see section 3813. See also this paragraph and §§ 29.162–3 and 29.162–4."

(B) By striking therefrom the last sentence of paragraph (a) (which sentence begins "See § 29.153–2") and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "In the case of a trust, the deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, is subject to the limitations of section 162 (g). See §§ 29.162–3 and 29.162–4. See § 29.153–2 relating to the annual information return that must be filed for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1949, by certain trusts claiming charitable, etc., deductions under section 162 (a) for the taxable year."

PAR. 5. There is added immediately after § 29.162–2 the following:

§ 29.162–3 Rules for the application of section 162 (a) in the case of trusts—(a) Limitation on charitable, etc., deduction of trusts with trade or business income. (1) In computing the deduction allowable under section 162 (a) to a trust for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, no amount otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) as a deduction shall be allowed as a deduction with respect to income of the taxable year which is allocable to the trust's Supplement U business income for such year. For the purpose of this section, the term "Supplement U business income" means an amount equal to the amount which, if such trust were exempt from taxation under section 101 (6), would be computed as its unrelated business net income under section 422 and the regulations thereunder. For the purpose of such computation under section 422, the term "unrelated trade or business" includes any trade or business regularly carried on by such a trust, or by a partnership of which it is a member.

(2) Unless the facts clearly indicate the contrary, the deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) is allocable to the Supplement U business income on the basis of the ratio which the Supplement U business income bears to the net income of the trust computed without any deduction under section 162.

Example (1). The X trust has net income of $50,000 computed without any deduction under section 162. There is included in this amount a net profit of $30,000 from the operation of a trade or business. The trustee is required to pay one-half of the net income to A, an individual, and the balance of the net income to the Y charity, an organization described in section 23 (o) (2). The trustee pays each beneficiary $25,000. Under these facts, the Supplement U business income of the trust (computed after the deduction allowable under section 422 (a) (9) for charitable contributions) is $25,500. The deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) is $25,000, the amount paid to the Y charity. The portion thereof allocable to the Supplement U business income and therefore disallowed as a deduction is $12,750, that is, an amount which bears the same ratio to $25,000 as $25,500 bears to $50,000.

Example (2). Assume the same facts as in example (1), above, except that the trustee has discretion as to the portion of the net income to be paid to each beneficiary, and the trustee pays $40,000 to A and $10,000 to the Y charity. The deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) is $10,000. The portion thereof allocable to the Supplement U business income and therefore disallowed as a deduction is $5,100, that is, an amount which bears the same ratio to $10,000 as $25,500 bears to $50,000.

Example (3). Assume the same facts as in example (1), above, except that the terms of the trust instrument require the trustee to pay to the Y charity the net income, if any, derived from the trade or business, and to pay to A all the net income derived from other sources. The trustee pays $30,000 to the Y charity and $20,000 to A. The deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) is $30,000. Under the facts in this case, $25,500 of the amount paid to the Y charity is allocable to the Supplement U business income and is therefore disallowed as a deduction.

(b) Limitation on charitable, etc., deduction of trusts engaged in prohibited transactions. (1) In the case of a trust which has engaged in any prohibited transaction (as described in section 162 (g) (2) (B)) after July 1, 1950, the amount otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) as a deduction shall not exceed 15 percent of the net income of such trust (computed without the benefit of section 162 (a)) for any taxable year subsequent to the taxable year in which there is mailed to it a notice in writing by the Commissioner that it has engaged in such prohibited transaction. Such notification by the Commissioner shall be by registered mail to the last known address of the fiduciary. However, notwithstanding the requirement of notification by the Commissioner, such limitation (on the amount otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) as a deduction) shall apply with respect to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, if such trust during or prior to such taxable year commenced the prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting such income or corpus from the purposes described in section 162 (a) and such transaction involved a substantial part of such income or corpus. See examples under §§ 29.162–4 and 29.3813–1.

(2) A trust whose deduction under section 162 (a) has been limited by reason of the provisions of section 162 (g) (2) (A) may file, in any taxable year following the taxable year in which notice of limitation of deduction was issued, a claim for allowance of unlimited deduction under section 162 (a). This claim shall be filed with the director for the district in which the fiduciary resides or has his principal place of business. The claim must contain or have attached to it an affidavit by the fiduciary that the trust will not knowingly again engage in a prohibited transaction.

(3) If the Commissioner is satisfied that the trust will not knowingly again engage in a prohibited transaction, he shall so notify the trust in writing. In such case the trust will be allowed unlimited deduction under section 162 (a) (subject to the provisions of section 162 (g)) with respect to taxable years subsequent to the taxable year in which such claim is filed. Section 162 (g) (2) (C) contemplates that a trust whose charitable, etc., deduction has been limited as prescribed therein shall be subject to such limitation for at least one full taxable year.

(c) Limitation on charitable, etc., deduction of trusts accumulating income. (1) For any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1950, the amount otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) as a deduction shall be limited to the amount actually paid out during the taxable year and shall not exceed 15 percent of the net income of the trust (computed without the benefit of section 162 (a)), if the amounts permanently set aside, or to be used exclusively, for the charitable and other purposes described in section 162 (a) during the taxable year or any prior taxable year (including taxable years beginning prior to January 1, 1951) and not actually paid out by the end of the taxable year are unreasonable. Amounts accumulated out of income for purposes described in section 162 (a) become unreasonable when more income is accumulated than is needed, or when the duration of the accumulation is longer than is needed, in order to carry out the charitable or other purpose described in section 162 (a) for which such amounts were set aside. Furthermore, such limitation on the deduction otherwise allowable under section 162 (a) shall apply if amounts accumulated out of income for purposes described in section 162 (a) are used to a substantial degree for purposes other than those described in section 162 (a), or if such amounts are invested in such a manner as to jeopardize the interests of the religious, charitable, scientific, etc., beneficiaries.

(2) For the purpose of section 162 (g) (4), the term "income" means gains, profits, and income determined under the principles applicable in determining the earnings or profits of a corporation. The amount accumulated out of income during the taxable year or any prior taxable year shall be determined under the principles applicable in determining the accumulated earnings or profits of a corporation. In determining the reasonableness of an accumulation out of income, there will be disregarded the following: (i) The accumulation of gain upon the sale or exchange of a donated asset to the extent that such gain represents the excess of the fair market value of such asset when acquired by the trust over its substituted basis in the hands of the organization; (ii) the accumulation of gain upon the sale or exchange of property held for the production of investment income, such as dividends, interest, and rents, where the proceeds of such sale or exchange are within a reasonable time reinvested in property acquired and held in good faith for the production of investment income.

(3) Whether the conditions specified in subparagraphs (A), (B) and (C) of section 162 (g) (4) are present in any case must be determined from all the facts. The conditions specified in section 162 (g) (4) (A), (B) and (C) may result from the use of only one trust or of a chain of two or more organizations.

(4) A trust whose deduction under section 162 (a) has been limited by reason of the provisions of section 162 (g) (4) may file a claim for allowance of unlimited deduction under section 162 (a). This claim shall be filed with the director for the district in which the fiduciary resides or has his principal place of business. The claim must contain or be accompanied by information or evidence showing that the circumstances that caused the limitation on deduction prescribed under section 162 (g) (4) no longer exist, and an affidavit by the fiduciary that the trust will not knowingly again violate the terms of such section. Section 162 (g) (4) contemplates that a trust whose charitable, etc., deduction has been limited as prescribed therein shall be subject to such limitation for at least one full taxable year.

(5) In the case of a trust the deduction under section 162 (a) of which has been limited solely by reason of the provisions of section 162 (g) (4), deductions otherwise allowable under section 23 (o) (2), 23 (q) (2), 162 (a), or 505 (a) (2), for gifts or contributions made to such a trust in trust for charitable, etc., purposes, shall not be disallowed.

§ 29.162–4 Disallowance to donors of certain charitable, etc., deductions for gifts made in trust. (a) No gift or contribution made on or after January 1, 1951, which would otherwise be allowable as a charitable or other deduction under section 23 (o) (2), 23 (q) (2), 162 (a), or 505 (a) (2), shall be allowed as a deduction if made in trust and, in the taxable year of the trust in which the gift or contribution is made, the deduction allowed the trust under section 162 (a) is limited by reason of the provisions of section 162 (g) (2) (A).

(b) The prohibited transactions enumerated in section 162 (g) (2) (B) are in addition to and not in limitation of the restrictions contained in section 23 (o) (2), 23 (q) (2), 162 (a), or 505 (a) (2). A deduction may not be allowed in view of the general provisions of those sections, even though the trust has not engaged in any of the prohibited transactions referred to in section 162 (g) (2) (B). Thus, if the donor or the fiduciary of the trust enters into a transaction with the trust, such transaction will be closely scrutinized to ascertain whether the contribution is in fact made for the stated exempt purposes.

(c) If a trust, which receives a gift or contribution for charitable, etc., purposes after December 31, 1950, is not entitled to the unlimited deduction under section 162 (a) because it engaged in a prohibited transaction with the purpose of diverting its income or corpus from the purposes described in section 162 (a), and such transaction involved a substantial part of such income or corpus, and if the taxable year of the trust during which such gift or contribution is made begins after December 31, 1950, and is the same as, or is prior to, the taxable year of the trust in which such transaction occurred, then a deduction by the donor with respect to the gift or contribution shall not be disallowed under the first paragraph of this section unless the donor (or any member of his family if the donor is an individual) is a party to such prohibited transaction. For the purpose of the preceding sentence, the members of an individual donor's family include only his brothers and sisters, whether by whole or half blood, spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants. See § 29.3813–3 for disallowance of certain charitable, etc., deductions otherwise allowable under section 162 (a).

Example. Under the terms of an irrevocable trust established by A in 1949, the trustees were to pay one-half of the income of the trust to A's wife for life, and the trustees were given discretion either to accumulate or distribute the remaining one-half of the income to a specified charitable beneficiary. Upon the death of the wife, the entire corpus was to be paid to the named charity. The trust makes its income tax returns on the basis of the calendar year. For 1949, A takes a charitable deduction for the amount of the gift in trust to the charity. In 1952, 1953, 1954, and 1955, A makes further contributions to the trust and takes charitable deductions for such years under section 23 (o) (2). In 1953, 1954, and 1955, B (not a member of A's family) makes contributions to the trust for its designated charitable purpose and takes charitable deductions for such years. In 1953, the trust commences purposely to divert income and corpus which had been set aside for its charitable purpose and to turn such income and corpus over to A, the creator of the trust, and a substantial amount of such income and corpus is so diverted by the close of the taxable year 1954. For 1953 and subsequent taxable years, the deduction allowed the trust under section 162 (a) is limited by reason of the provisions of section 162 (g) (2) (A). Both A and B are disallowed any charitable deduction for their charitable contributions made during 1955 to the trust. Moreover, the charitable deduction taken by A for contributions to the trust in the years 1953 and 1954 would also be disallowed since A was a party to the prohibited transaction. If the facts and surrounding circumstances indicate that the contribution in 1952 by A was for the purpose of the prohibited transaction, then the charitable deduction for the year 1952 shall also be disallowed with respect to A, since the prohibited transaction would then have commenced with the making of such contribution and the deduction allowed the trust under section 162 (a) would then be limited for 1952 by reason of the provisions of section 162 (g) (2) (A).

TITLE 30—MINERAL RESOURCES

Chapter I—Bureau of Mines, Department of the Interior

Subchapter C—Explosives and Related Articles; Tests for Permissibility and Suitability

PART 15—EXPLOSIVES (INCLUDING SHEATHED EXPLOSIVES)

PART 17—BLASTING DEVICES (SCHEDULE 26)

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The Bureau of Mines is prepared to inspect and test blasting devices at its Explosives Testing Station, Bruceton, Pennsylvania, for the purpose of determining whether such devices may be approved for use in coal mines. This regulation relates to the requirements of performance of blasting devices which may be approved for use in coal mines, and the conditions under which tests will be made and approvals will be granted. Manufacturers of blasting devices have been consulted in the preparation of these rules and regulations and the existing need for adequate means for testing blasting devices for use in coal-mining operations is considered good cause for making them effective immediately. For these reasons, the notices and procedures prescribed by section 4 of the Administrative Procedures Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1003) are impractical, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest; and the rules and regulations shall become effective as of the date of their approval.

§ 17.1 Purpose. The regulations in this part specify the safety standards and the requirements for approval by the Bureau of Mines of blasting devices (as defined in § 17.2) as permissible for use in coal mines. The operation of blasting devices when used to bring down coal in underground workings involves at least two possible hazards, namely:

(a) Ignition of methane-air and/or coal dust-air mixtures when the blasting device is operated.

(b) Emission of toxic gases such as carbon monoxide, oxides of nitrogen, and hydrogen sulfide when the blasting device is operated.

§ 17.2 Definitions. As used in this part, the following terms are defined:

(a) "Blasting device" is a unit used for breaking down coal involving a high-pressure discharge from a metal shell and does not include devices whose operations are wholly mechanical.

(b) "Approval" is a written official notification by the Bureau of Mines that upon investigation the blasting device has met satisfactorily the requirements of this part for use in coal mines.

(c) "Permissible" means conforming, when completely assembled, in every respect with the device approved by the Bureau of Mines for use in coal mines.

(d) "Approved marking" is an identifying mark indicating that the blasting device has been approved by the Bureau of Mines as a permissible blasting device.

§ 17.3 Application for tests. Before the Bureau of Mines will make any tests for the approval of a blasting device or for change in its design, the applicant must file a written request (no application form is provided by the Bureau) with the Regional Director, U. S. Bureau of Mines, Central Experiment Station, 4800 Forbes Street, Pittsburgh 13, Pennsylvania, accompanied by a check, draft, or money order payable to the Treasurer of the United States to cover the fees prescribed in § 17.4.

§ 17.4 Fees. (a) The fee for complete tests leading to approval of a blasting device will be $1200. A deduction of $200 will be made from the total charge when no special electrical tests are required. If the applicant withdraws the device, or if the device fails to pass any of the tests prescribed in this part, the Bureau will charge the estimated cost, but not less than $500 for the tests actually performed, and will return to the applicant the balance of the fee submitted. The fee for tests made in connection with changes in design of a previously approved blasting device will be the estimated costs for the tests as determined by the Bureau, but not less than $500. In case changes submitted for approval do not require test work, the minimum charge shall be $100.

(b) The fees covering individual tests will be as follows:

(1) Chemical analysis	$100
(2) Physical examination	60
(3) Gallery tests, per shot	12
(4) Pendulum friction test, per sample	30
(5) Gaseous products	100
(6) Shell temperature test	80
(7) Electrical tests	200

§ 17.5 Drawings and specifications. A set of drawings, bill of materials, and specifications sufficient in number and detail to identify fully the parts of the blasting device must accompany the application. Drawings shall be numbered and dated to facilitate identification and reference in the records. The drawings and specifications for blasting devices shall include an assembly drawing, or drawings, clearly showing the over-all dimensions of the device, tolerances, and the character, size, and relative arrangement of all parts. The nature of the materials used in the assembly shall be specified on the drawings.

§ 17.6 Shipment of blasting device sample. Samples of the blasting device to be tested and all equipment necessary for charging and firing the device, shall be shipped prepaid to the Bureau only after the Bureau has furnished shipping instructions specifying the quantities and mode of shipment of the materials.

§ 17.7 Conduct of tests. Tests on blasting devices will be made at the Bureau's Explosives Testing Station at Bruceton, Pennsylvania, in the order of receipt of materials provided an application is on file. The following may witness the tests as observers only: A representative of the applicant, a representative of the mine workers, a representative of the mine operators, and such other persons as may be mutually agreed upon by the applicant and the Bureau. The conduct of the tests shall be entirely under the control of the Bureau.

§ 17.8 Chemical and physical tests—(a) Chemical tests. Chemical tests will be made on any components of the device which may be necessary to establish basic data.

(b) Physical examination. A physical examination will be made on the components of the device and all dimensions will be checked against the submitted drawings and specifications.

(c) Gallery tests—(1) Test 1. Each assembly is discharged into a mixture of natural gas and air containing 8.0±0.3 percent of methane and ethane at a temperature of 25°±5° C.

(2) Test 4. Each assembly is discharged into a mixture of natural gas and air containing 4.0±0.2 percent of methane and ethane and 8 pounds of standard bituminous coal dust placed on shelves inside the gallery.

(d) Pendulum friction test. This test will be made on components which present explosive hazards.

(e) Gaseous products. The nature and quantity of gaseous products emitted by the assembled device will be determined.

(f) Shell temperature test. The surface temperature of the device will be determined after operating the shell under conditions which will produce a "hot shell," i. e., a shell in which the hot gases are trapped and not released.

(g) Additional tests. Additional tests will be made if it is determined by the Bureau of Mines that they are necessary to establish the safety of the device.

§ 17.9 Requirements for approval. (a) Each assembly of a blasting device must pass without a single ignition, test 1 (35 trials) and test 4 (15 trials) in the gallery.

(b) Pendulum friction test. Components tested must not show in any trial with the hard fiber-faced shoe on the pendulum friction device a result more unfavorable than an almost indistinguishable local crackling.

(c) Gaseous products of explosion. The volume of poisonous gases produced by a blasting device must not exceed 140 liters per shell, as determined in the Crawshaw-Jones apparatus.

(d) Shell temperature test. The surface temperature of the device immediately after operating the device shall not exceed 350° C.

(e) Tests on electrical parts. If the blasting device is so designed that it cannot be discharged except with a specially designed electric power supply unit made expressly for that purpose, that power supply unit shall meet the applicable requirements of the Bureau of Mines in accordance with the provisions of Parts 18, 24, and 25 of Subchapter D of this chapter.

(f) Misfires. Approval will not be granted if the device fails to function or misfires in a manner which is deemed to be unsafe by the Bureau of Mines.

§ 17.10 Granting of approval—(a) Notification of approval or disapproval. After the Bureau of Mines has completed the investigation of a blasting device, a written notification of the approval or disapproval of the device will be sent to the applicant. Any specific conditions required for handling the device will be stated in the report.

(b) Approved markings. When deemed necessary by the Bureau of Mines, the manufacturer must place an approval plate, stamp, or marking on those parts designated in the approval report.

§ 17.11 Conditions under which blasting devices are to be used. The blasting device is permissible only when used under the following conditions:

(a) The device must conform to the specifications for the model as originally approved.

(b) The device must not be discharged in the presence of firedamp that can be detected with a permissible flame safety lamp.

(c) The unit used to fire the blasting device must be suitable for the purpose and meet the Bureau of Mines' requirements applicable to that particular type of unit. The unit also must be used in a manner prescribed by the Bureau.

(d) The device must not be fired until everyone is 100 feet or more from the shot and protected by adequate cover, having one and if possible two right angles between them and the blast.

(e) The coal to be blasted must be undercut or equivalently relieved; the length of the shot hole must be at least 6 inches less than the depth of the undercut or equivalent relief; and the shot hole shall be at least 6 inches away from the side of the undercut or equivalent relief.

(f) No blasting device shall be assembled or disassembled in a mine unless such permission is specifically stated in the original approval.

(g) A misfired device must not be opened in the mine and must be taken out of the mine for this purpose. The conditions which constitute a misfire will be specified in the original approval.

(h) Other conditions which will be set down by the Bureau as appropriate to the particular device tested.

§ 17.12 Change in design. Special authorization from the Bureau of Mines must be obtained before the manufacturer makes a change in the design or the components of an approved blasting device.

§ 17.13 List of permissible blasting devices. The Bureau will maintain a list of permissible blasting devices which will be published from time to time.

§ 17.14 Field testing. The Bureau will periodically collect and re-examine permissible blasting devices in order to determine whether they conform to the specifications for the device as originally approved. If the blasting device fails to pass any retests, the manufacturer will be notified and it will be his duty to withdraw the device and make all future devices in conformity with the basic specifications.

§ 17.15 Tolerances as applied to field samples. Tolerances which provide for reasonable limits of variation in the results of chemical analysis and physical tests of field samples are included in this section.

(a) Chemical analysis of field samples—(1) Moisture. The tolerances for moisture shall be in accordance with those shown in table 1 of this section:

§ 17.16 Rescission of approval. The Bureau reserves the right to rescind for cause, at any time, any approval granted under this part. Upon such rescission, the device will be declared nonpermissible and will be removed from the list of permissible blasting devices.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Overriding Regulation 3, Revision 1, Amdt. 3]

GOR 3—Exemptions and Suspensions of Certain Rubber, Chemical and Drug Commodity Transactions

ADDITIONAL EXEMPTIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161 and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 3 to General Overriding Regulation 3, Revision 1, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The President of the United States has announced that he does not intend to ask for a renewal of price control authority on April 30, 1953, when the present legislation expires. He has stated that in the meantime steps will be taken to eliminate controls in an orderly manner. The Office of Price Stabilization has been instructed to proceed accordingly.

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 3, Revision 1, is one of the actions by which OPS is carrying out that instruction.

GOR 3, originally issued to provide for exemption of certain limited rubber, chemical and drug commodity transactions, was revised on January 28, 1953, to provide a single listing of rubber, chemical and drug commodity transactions as to which changing conditions justified suspension or removal of price ceilings. A similar general regulation has been issued for each of the major commodity areas. Since these regulations are generally familiar to the sellers affected, the actions removing controls will utilize the convenient pattern already thus provided, and will be in the form of amendments adding additional groups of items which are to be exempted from price control.

This amendment exempts from price control at all levels of distribution all sales of cosmetics, proprietary drug products, drugs and medicines, when sold in the 48 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and all territories and possessions of the United States except the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

Amendment 2, previously issued on February 12, 1953, continues the requirements heretofore in effect under the applicable regulations respecting preservation of records as to past transactions.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecessary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 22 of General Overriding Regulation 3, Revision 1, is hereby amended by adding the following paragraph:

(d) Drugs and cosmetics. All sales of drugs and cosmetics as defined in section 24 (b) and (c), when sold within the 48 states of the United States, the District of Columbia, and all territories and possessions of the United States except the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended, 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment is effective February 18, 1953.

JOSEPH H. FREEHILL,
Director of Price Stabilization.

GOR 4—Exemptions and Suspensions of Certain Consumer Soft Goods

EXEMPTIONS OF ANIMAL HAIRS, CERTAIN FIBERS AND OTHER COMMODITIES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161 and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this amendment to General Overriding Regulation 4, Revision 1, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

As pointed out in the Statement of Considerations accompanying Amendment 17 to General Overriding Regulation 4, Revision 1, issued on February 6, 1953, the President of the United States has announced that he does not intend to ask for a renewal of price controls on April 30, 1953, when they expire. He has stated that in the meantime steps will be taken to eliminate controls in an orderly manner. The Office of Price Stabilization has been instructed to proceed accordingly.

This amendment to GOR 4, Revision 1, is another in a series of actions by which OPS is carrying out that instruction.

This amendment exempts from price control all animal hairs and fibers, and all vegetable, plant and protein fibers. Many of these fibers, such as raw cotton, have been previously exempted from controls; this amendment is intended to exempt the remainder of them.

In addition, this amendment exempts all sales of printed plastic yard goods and commodities made from plastic sheeting or printed plastic yard goods, except sales at wholesale and retail in the territories and possessions of the United States. Many of these commodities have previously been exempted from control at the wholesale and retail levels (except in the territories and possessions); this amendment extends the exemption to all sales by manufacturers.

All records which were required to be prepared and preserved under the applicable ceiling price regulations in effect prior to this amendment must continue to be preserved.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecessary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 2 of General Overriding Regulation 4, Revision 1, as amended, is further amended by adding the following paragraphs:

(s) All animal hairs and fibers, and all vegetable, plant and protein fibers, including but not limited to, raw silk, mohair, bristles, kapok, spanish moss and broom corn.

(t) All sales of printed plastic yard goods, except sales at wholesale and retail in the territories and possessions of the United States.

(u) All sales of commodities made from plastic sheeting or printed plastic yard goods, including but not limited to, shower curtains, table cloths, chair and sofa covers, crib sheets, mattress covers, and pillow covers, except sales at wholesale and retail in the territories and possessions of the United States.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment is effective February 18, 1953.

Director of Price Stabilization.

GOR 5—Exemptions and Suspensions of Certain Consumer Durable Goods and Related Commodities

ADDITIONAL EXEMPTIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 16 to General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

As pointed out in the Statement of Considerations accompanying Amendment 15 to General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1, issued on February 6, 1953, the President of the United States has announced that he does not intend to ask for a renewal of price controls on April 30, 1953, when they expire. He has stated that in the meantime steps will be taken to eliminate price controls in an orderly manner.

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1, is an additional step in the orderly elimination of price controls. It exempts vitrually all consumer durable goods from controls, with the exception of certain specified major appliances. For purposes of convenience, the exempted commodities are described by reference to Appendix A of Ceiling Price Regulation 161, which lists nearly all consumer durable goods. In addition, this amendment exempts all radio, television and phonograph parts, including those intended for original equipment as well as for repair and replacement.

The exemption of these commodities applies to all sales in the continental United States, but applies only to manufacturers' sales in the territories and possessions of the United States. Wholesalers' and retailers' sales in the territories and possessions are not exempted by this amendment.

All records which were required to be prepared and preserved under the applicable ceiling price regulations in effect prior to this amendment must continue to be preserved.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecessary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 5, Revision 1, is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. The following new sections are added to Article II:

SEC. 21. Radio, television and phonograph parts. Radio, television and phonograph parts, except sales at wholesale and retail in the territories and possessions of the United States.

SEC. 22. Commodities listed in CPR 161. The commodities described in Appendix A to Ceiling Price Regulation 161—Consumer Durable Goods Regulation, regardless of whether their ceiling prices have been determined under that regulation or any other regulation. Specifically excluded from this section, however, are sales of these commodities at wholesale or retail in the territories and possessions of the United States. Also specifically excluded from this section are all sales of the following major appliances:

Refrigerators, domestic.
Freezers, farm and home.
Dishwashers, domestic.
Ranges, domestic.
Clothes washers, dryers and ironers, domestic.

2. Article IV is revoked.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended, 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment is effective February 18, 1953.

JOSEPH H. FREEHILL,
Director of Price Stabilization.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 9 is a further action under the directive of the President of the United States that the present price control program be terminated in an orderly manner.

General Overriding Regulation 9, as originally issued, provided a single listing of industrial materials and manufactured goods from which price ceilings were removed. It was intended that other commodities would be added to the coverage of the overriding regulation, and the present amendment is a further decontrol action for the commodities listed.

This amendment exempts from price control non-metallic building materials, refractory products, and certain items of machinery and automotive equipment.

This amendment also expressly continues the requirements heretofore in effect under the applicable regulations respecting preservation of records as to past transactions.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecessary.

[General Overriding Regulation 14, Amdt. 40]

GOR 14—EXCEPTED AND SUSPENDED SERVICES

EXEMPTION OF PREVIOUSLY SUSPENDED SERVICES AND ADDITIONAL EXEMPTIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 40 to General Overriding Regulation 14 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The President of the United States has announced that he does not intend to ask for a renewal of price control authority on April 30, 1953 when the present legislation expires. He has stated that in the meantime, steps will be taken to eliminate controls in an orderly manner. The Office of Price Stabilization has been instructed to proceed accordingly.

This amendment to GOR 14 is one of the actions in which OPS is carrying out that instruction.

GOR 14 was issued to provide, so far as practicable, a single listing of services as to which changing conditions justified suspension or removal of price ceilings. This amendment exempts from price control all services, except laundry, linen and diaper supply and dry cleaning services; services supplied to commercial, industrial or governmental purchasers to the extent that such services are used directly in the processing or manufacturing of commodities which remain under price control; and brokerage fees and agency commissions charged for commodity or services sales which are under ceiling price control.

Warehousing, dock and terminal services and all transportation services including the rental of cars and other transportation equipment are exempted from price control.

All services previously suspended under General Overriding Regulation 14 and Supplementary Regulation 15 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation are exempted from price control by this amendment.

This amendment also expressly continues the requirements heretofore in effect under the applicable regulations respecting preservation of records as to past transactions.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecessary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 14 as amended, is further amended in the following respects:

1. Paragraph (a) of Section 3 is amended by adding at the end thereof the following:

(138) All warehousing, dock and terminal services.

(139) Transportation services including rentals of cars and other transportation equipment.

(140) All services as to which ceiling prices have been suspended under section 4 (b) or under Supplementary Regulation 15 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(141) All other services except the following:

(i) Laundry, linen and diaper supply, and dry cleaning.

(ii) Services supplied to commercial, industrial or governmental purchasers to the extent that such services are used directly in the processing or manufacturing of commodities which are under ceiling price regulation.

(iii) All brokerage fees and agency commissions charged for commodity or service sales which are under ceiling price regulation.

2. The following sentence is added after the first sentence in paragraph (a) of section 3: "However, any record relating to a service exempted from price control which you were required to have immediately prior to such exemption shall continue to be preserved and made available for examination by OPS or any other authorized agency of the United States, in the manner and for the period stipulated in the regulation requiring you to have such record."

GOR 34—EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN LUMBER AND WOOD PRODUCTS

GENERAL DECONTROL OF LUMBER AND WOOD PRODUCTS AND ALLIED COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 8 to General Overriding Regulation 34 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The President of the United States has announced that he does not intend to ask for a renewal of price control authority on April 30, 1953, when the present legislation expires. He has stated that in the meantime steps will be taken to eliminate controls in an orderly manner. The Office of Price Stabilization has been instructed to proceed accordingly.

This amendment to GOR 34 is one of the actions by which OPS is carrying out that instruction.

GOR 34 was issued to provide a single listing of certain commodities and related services of the Lumber and Wood Products Branch of the Forest Products Division as to which changing conditions justified suspension or removal of price ceilings. A similar general regulation has been issued for each of the major commodity areas. Since these regulations are generally familiar to the sellers affected, the actions removing controls will utilize the convenient pattern already thus provided, and will be in form of amendments adding additional groups of items which are to be exempted from price control.

This amendment exempts from price control within the continental limits of the United States and its territories and possessions, all of the commodities and related services hitherto remaining subject to price control under the jurisdiction of the Lumber and Wood Products Branch, including those which had been previously only suspended from price control.

This amendment also expressly continues the requirements heretofore in effect under the applicable regulations respecting preservation of records as to past transactions.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecessary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 34 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2 Sales of commodities and services exempted from price control. (a) All lumber and wood products and allied commodities and services covered by the Forest Products Division of the Office of Price Stabilization and sold in the continental United States, and its territories and possessions such as, but not limited to, logs, lumber, veneer, containers, turned and shaped wood products, plywood, treated and untreated poles and pilings, millwork, and logging and hauling services are hereby exempted from price control.

(b) Any record, relating to a lumber, wood, or allied commodity or service exempted from price control, which you were required to have immediately prior to such exemption shall continue to be preserved and made available for examination by the Office of Price Stabilization or any other authorized agency of the United States, in the manner and for the period stipulated in the regulation requiring you to have such record.

2. Sections 3 and 4 are hereby deleted.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

JOSEPH H. FREEHILL,
Director of Price Stabilization.

SECRECY ORDERS

§ 5.1 Defense inspection of certain applications. In accordance with the provisions of 35 U. S. C., section 181, applications for patent containing subject matter the disclosure of which might be detrimental to the national security are made available for inspection by defense agencies as specified in said section. Only applications obviously relating to national security, and applications within fields indicated to the Patent Office by the defense agencies as so related, are made available. Such inspection must be at the Patent Office and by responsible representatives of the agency who are required to sign a dated acknowledgment of such access accepting the condition that information obtained from the inspection will be used for no other purpose than in the administration of sections 181–188 of Title 35, U. S. Code. Applications relating to atomic energy are made available to the Atomic Energy Commission as specified in § 1.14 of this chapter.

§ 5.2 Secrecy order. (a) When notified by the chief officer of a defense agency that publication or disclosure of the invention by the granting of a patent would be detrimental to the national security, an order that the invention be kept secret will be issued by the Commissioner of Patents.

(b) The secrecy order is directed to the applicant, his successors, any and all assignees, and their legal representatives; hereinafter designated as principals.

(c) A copy of the secrecy order will be forwarded to each principal of record in the application and will be accompanied by a receipt, identifying the particular principal, to be signed and returned.

(d) The secrecy order is directed to the subject matter of the application. Where any other application in which a secrecy order has not been issued discloses a significant part of the subject matter of the application under secrecy order, the other application and the common subject matter should be called to the attention of the Patent Office. Such a notice may include any material such as would be urged in a petition to rescind secrecy orders on either of the applications.

§ 5.3 Prosecution of application under secrecy order; withholding patent. Unless specifically ordered otherwise, action on the application by the office and prosecution by the applicant will proceed during the time an application is under secrecy order to the point indicated in this section:

(a) Applications under secrecy order which come to a final rejection must be appealed or otherwise prosecuted to avoid abandonment. Appeals in such cases must be completed by the applicant but unless otherwise specifically ordered by the Commissioner will not be set for hearing until the secrecy order is removed.

(b) Interferences may be declared involving an application under secrecy order but unless otherwise specifically ordered or permitted such interferences are suspended after the approval of the preliminary statements.

(c) When the application is found to be in condition for allowance except for the secrecy order, the applicant and the agency which caused the secrecy order to be issued will be notified. This notice (which is not a notice of allowance under § 1.311 of this chapter) does not require response by the applicant and places the application in a condition of suspension until the secrecy order is removed. When the secrecy order is removed the Patent Office will issue a notice of allowance under § 1.311 of this chapter, or take such other action as may then be warranted.

§ 5.4 Petition for rescission of secrecy order. (a) A petition for rescission or removal of a secrecy order may be filed by, or on behalf of, any principal affected thereby. Such petition may be in letter form, and it must be in duplicate. The petition must be accompanied by one copy of the application or an order for the same, unless a showing is made that such a copy has already been furnished, to the department or agency which caused the secrecy order to be issued.

(b) The petition must recite any and all facts that purport to render the order ineffectual or futile if this is the basis of the petition. When prior publications or patents are alleged the petition must give complete data as to such publications or patents and should be accompanied by copies thereof.

(c) The petition must identify any contract between the Government and any of the principals, under which the subject matter of the application or any significant part thereof was developed, or to which the subject matter is otherwise related. If there is no such contract, the petition must so state.

(d) Unless based upon facts of public record, the petition must be verified.

§ 5.5 Permit to disclose or modification of secrecy order. (a) Consent to disclosure, or to the filing of an application abroad, as provided in 35 U. S. C. 182, shall be made by a "permit" or "modification" of the secrecy order.

(b) Petitions for a permit or modification must fully recite the reason or purpose for the proposed disclosure. Where any proposed disclosee is known to be cleared by a defense agency to receive classified information, adequate explanation of such clearance should be made in the petition including the name of the agency or department granting the clearance and the date and degree thereof. The petition must be filed in duplicate and be accompanied by one copy of the application or an order for the same, unless a showing is made that such a copy has already been furnished to the department or agency which caused the secrecy order to be issued.

(c) In a petition for modification of a secrecy order to permit filing abroad, all countries in which it is proposed to file must be made known, as well as all attorneys, agents and others to whom the material will be consigned prior to being lodged in the foreign patent office. The petition should include a statement vouching for the loyalty and integrity of the proposed disclosees and where their clearance status in this or the foreign country is known all details should be given.

(d) Consent to the disclosure of subject matter from one application under secrecy order may be deemed to be consent to the disclosure of common subject matter in other applications under secrecy order so long as not taken out of context in a manner disclosing material beyond the modification granted in the first application.

(e) The permit or modification may contain conditions and limitations.

§ 5.6 General and group permits. (a) Organizations requiring consent for disclosure of applications under secrecy order to persons or organizations in connection with repeated routine operation may petition for such consent in the form of a general permit. To be successful such petitions must ordinarily recite the security clearance status of the disclosees as sufficient for the highest classification of material that may be involved.

(b) Where identical disclosees and circumstances are involved, and consent is desired for the disclosure of each of a specific list of applications, the petitions may be joined.

§ 5.7 Compensation. Any request for compensation as provided in 35 U. S. C. 183 must not be made to the Patent Office but should be made directly to the department or agency which caused the secrecy order to be issued. Upon written request persons having a right to such information will be informed as to the department or agency which caused the secrecy order to be issued.

§ 5.8 Appeal to Secretary. Appeal to the Secretary of Commerce, as provided by 35 U. S. C. 181, from a secrecy order cannot be taken until after a petition for rescission of the secrecy order has been made and denied. Appeal must be taken within 60 days from the date of the denial, and the party appealing, as well as the department or agency which caused the order to be issued will be notified of the time and place of hearing. The appeal will be heard and decided by the Secretary or such officer or officers as he may designate.

LICENSES FOR FOREIGN FILING

§ 5.11 License for filing application in foreign country. (a) When no secrecy order has been issued under § 5.2, a license from the Commissioner of Patents under 35 U. S. C. 184 is required before filing any application for patent or for the registration of a utility model, industrial design, or model, in a foreign country, or causing or authorizing such filing, with respect to an invention made in the United States, if:

(1) The foreign application is to be filed or its filing caused or authorized before an application for patent is filed in the United States, or

(2) The foreign application is to be filed, or its filing caused or authorized, prior to the expiration of six months from the filing of the application in the United States.

(b) When there is no secrecy order in effect, a license under 35 U. S. C. 184 is not required if:

(1) The invention was not made in the United States, or

(2) The foreign application is to be filed, or its filing caused or authorized, after the expiration of six months from the filing of the application in the United States.

(c) When a secrecy order has been issued under § 5.2, an application cannot be filed in a foreign country in any case except in accordance with § 5.5.

§ 5.12 Petition for license. Petitions for license under 35 U. S. C. 184 may be presented in letter form and should include petitioner's address, and full instructions for delivery of the requested license when it is to be delivered to other than the petitioner.

§ 5.13 Petition for license; no corresponding U. S. application. Where there is no corresponding United States application, the petition for license must be accompanied by a legible copy of the material upon which license is desired. This copy will be retained as the measure of the license granted. For assistance in the identification of the subject matter of each license so issued, it is suggested that the petition or requesting letter be submitted in duplicate and provide a title and other description of the material. The duplicate copy of the petition will be returned with the license or other action on the petition.

§ 5.14 Petition for license; corresponding U. S. application. (a) Where there is a corresponding United States application on file the petition for license must identify this application by serial number, filing date, inventor, and title, and a copy of the material upon which the license is desired is not required. The subject matter licensed will be measured by the disclosure of the United States application. Where the title is not descriptive, and the subject matter is clearly of no interest from a security standpoint, time may be saved by a short statement in the petition as to the nature of the invention.

(b) Two or more United States applications should not be referred to in the same petition for license unless they are to be combined in the foreign application, in which event the petition should so state and the identification of each United States application should be in separate paragraphs.

(c) Where the application to be filed abroad contains matter not disclosed in the United States application or applications, including the case where the combining of two or more United States applications introduces subject matter not disclosed in any of them, a copy of the application as it is to be filed in the foreign country must be furnished with the petition. If, however, all new matter in the application to be filed is readily identifiable, the new matter may be submitted in detail and the remainder by reference to the pertinent United States application or applications.

§ 5.15 Scope of license. (a) A license to file an application in a foreign country, when granted, includes authority to forward all duplicate and formal papers to the foreign country and to make amendments and take any action in the prosecution of the application, provided subject matter additional to that covered by the license is not involved. In those cases in which no license is required to file the foreign application, no license is required to file papers in connection with the prosecution of the foreign application not involving disclosure of additional subject matter. Any paper filed abroad following the filing of a foreign application, which involves the disclosure of additional subject matter must be separately licensed in the same manner as an application.

(b) Licenses separately granted in connection with two or more United States applications may be exercised by combining or dividing the disclosures, as desired, provided additional subject matter is not introduced.

(c) A license does not apply to acts done before the license was granted unless the petition specifically requests and describes the particular acts and the license is worded to apply to such acts.

§ 5.16 Effect of secrecy order. Any license obtained under 35 U. S. C. 184 is ineffective if the subject matter is under a secrecy order, and a secrecy order prohibits the exercise of or any further action under the license unless separately specifically authorized by a modification of the secrecy order in accordance with § 5.5.

§ 5.17 Who may use license. Licenses may be used by anyone interested in the foreign filing for or on behalf of the inventor or his assigns.

GENERAL

§ 5.21 Effect of modification, rescission or license. Any consent, rescission or license under the provisions of this part does not lessen the responsibilities of the principals in respect to any Government contract or the requirements of any other Government agency.

§ 5.22 Papers in English language. All papers submitted in connection with petitions must be in the English language, or be accompanied by an English translation and a translator's certificate as to the true, faithful and exact character of the translation.

§ 5.23 Correspondence. All correspondence in connection with this part, including petitions, should be addressed to "Commissioner of Patents (Attention Division 70), Washington 25, D. C."

ORDER POSTPONING HEARING

In the matter of The Western Union Telegraph Company, complainant, v. All America Cables and Radio, Inc., The Commercial Cable Company, Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., defendants; Docket No. 10378. In the matter of The Western Union Telegraph Company, complainant, v. RCA Communications, Inc., defendant; Docket No. 10335.

The Commission, having under consideration a petition filed on February 9, 1953, by All America Cables & Radio, Inc., The Commercial Cable Company, and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc. wherein, among other things, it is requested that the hearings in the above-entitled matter now designated for March 3, 1953, be postponed indefinitely or to a later date convenient to the Commission;

It appearing, that the aforementioned petition also requested that the Commission reconsider its action in designating the issues for consolidated hearing as a complaint proceeding and redesignate the same as an investigation into those tariff provisions of the several carriers respondent, including The Western Union Telegraph Company, covering the delivery areas of messages in and around the three so-called gateway cities of New York, Washington, D. C., and San Francisco; and that the issues in such an investigatory proceeding be changed and/or enlarged as the Commission may deem appropriate;

It further appearing, that under the Commission's rules, The Western Union Telegraph Company and RCA Communications, Inc., which have been served with copies of the above-described petition, may submit replies thereto no later than February 19, 1953, and that unless the hearing is postponed, there would remain a period of less than two weeks for Commission consideration of and action upon the aforementioned Petition before the date on which hearings are now scheduled to commence;

It further appearing, that counsel for The Western Union Telegraph Company and RCA Communications, Inc., the only other parties to the consolidated proceeding herein, have indicated no objection to the aforesaid Petition insofar as it requests the postponement of the hearing herein, while reserving all rights with respect to the other requests contained in said Petition, and that the Acting Chief of the Common Carrier Bureau, Federal Communications Commission also has no objection to such postponement;

It further appearing, that when the Commission acts upon the requests contained in the above-described Petition of All America Cables and Radio, Inc., The Commercial Cable Company, and Mackay Radio and Telegraph Company, Inc., other than that for a postponement, it can fix a date for the hearing herein to commence, which date will be appropriate in light of the action the Commission takes on such requests;

b. Additional farm units. It is expected that, through the operation of its land acquisition program the United States may, within twelve (12) months following the date of this announcement, own additional farm units in Irrigation Blocks 40, 41, 42, and 49. Such farm units may be offered for sale under the provisions of this announcement.

The official plats of these irrigation blocks are on file in the office of the County Auditors of Grant County, Adams County, and Franklin County, at Ephrata, Lind, and Pasco, Washington, and copies are on file in the offices of the Bureau of Reclamation at Ephrata, Washington, and Boise, Idaho.

SEC. 2. Limit of acreage which may be purchased. The lands covered by this announcement have been divided into farm units. Each of the farm units represents the acreage which, in the opinion of the Regional Director, Region I, Bureau of Reclamation, will support an average-size family at a suitable level of living. The law provides that with certain minor exceptions not more than one farm unit in the entire project may be held by any one owner or family. A family is defined as comprising husband or wife, or both, together with their children under 18 years of age, or all of such children if both parents are dead.

PREFERENCE OF APPLICANTS

SEC. 3. Nature of preference. A preference right to purchase the farm units described above will be given to veterans (and in some cases to their husbands or wives or guardians of minor children) who submit applications during a 45-day period beginning at 2 p. m., February 17, 1953, and ending at 2 p. m., April 3, 1953, and who, at the time of making application, are in one of the following five classes:

a. Persons, including those under 21 years of age, who have served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, or Coast Guard of the United States for a period of at least ninety (90) days at any time between September 16, 1940, and July 3, 1952, inclusive, and have been honorably discharged.

b. Persons, including those under 21 years of age, who have served in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, or Coast Guard of the United States during the period prescribed in subsection a. of this section regardless of length of service, and who have been discharged on account of wounds received or disability incurred during such period in the line of duty, or subsequent to a regular discharge, have been furnished hospitalization or awarded compensation by the Government on account of such wounds or disability.

c. The spouse of any person in either of the first two classes listed in this section, if the spouse has the consent of such person to exercise his or her preference right. (See subsection 7c of this announcement regarding the provision that a married woman must be head of a family.)

d. The surviving spouse of any person in either of the first two classes listed in this section, or in the case of the death or marriage of such spouse, the minor child or children of such person by guardian duly appointed and qualified and who furnishes to the examining board acceptable evidence of such appointment and qualification.

e. The surviving spouse of any person whose death has resulted from wounds received or disability incurred in the line of duty while serving in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, or Coast Guard during the period described in subsection a of this section, or in the case of death or marriage of such spouse, the minor child or children of such person by a guardian duly appointed and qualified and who furnishes to the examining board acceptable evidence of such appointment and qualification.

SEC. 4. Definition of honorable discharge. An honorable discharge means:

a. Separation from the service by means of an honorable discharge or by the acceptance of resignation or a discharge under honorable conditions.

b. Release from active duty under honorable conditions to an inactive status, whether or not in a reserve component or retirement.

Any person who obtains an honorable discharge as herein defined shall be entitled to veterans preference even though such person thereafter resumes active military duty.

QUALIFICATIONS REQUIRED OF PURCHASERS

SEC. 5. Examining board. An examining board of four members has been appointed by the Regional Director, Region I, Bureau of Reclamation, to determine the qualifications and fitness of applicants to undertake the purchase, development, and operation of a farm on the Columbia Basin Project. The board will make careful investigations to verify the statements and representations made by applicants. Any false statements may constitute grounds for rejection of an application, and cancellation of the applicant's right to purchase a farm unit.

SEC. 6. Minimum qualifications. Certain minimum qualifications have been established which are considered necessary for the successful development of farm units. Applicants must meet these qualifications in order to be eligible for the purchase of farm units. Failure to meet them in any single respect will be sufficient cause for rejection of an application. No added credit will be given for qualifications in excess of the required minimum. The minimum qualifications are as follows:

a. Character and industry. An applicant must be possessed of honesty, temperate habits, thrift, industry, seriousness of purpose, record of good moral conduct, and a bona fide intent to engage in farming as an occupation.

b. Farm experience. Except as otherwise provided in this subsection, an applicant must have had a minimum of two years (24 months) of full-time farm experience, which shall consist of participation in actual farming operations, after attaining the age of 15 years. Time spent in agricultural courses in an accredited agricultural college or time spent in work closely associated with farming, such as teaching vocational agriculture, agricultural extension work, or field work in the production or marketing of farm products, which, in the opinion of the board will be of value to an applicant in operating a farm, may be substituted for full-time farm experience. Such substitution shall be on the basis of one year (academic year of at least nine months) of agricultural college courses or one year (twelve months) of work closely associated with farming for six months of full-time farm experience. Not more than one year of full-time farm experience of this type will be allowed. A farm youth who actually resided and worked on a farm after attaining the age of 15 and while attending school may credit such experience as full-time experience.

Applicants who have acquired their experience on an irrigated farm will not be given preference over those whose experience was acquired on a nonirrigated farm, but all applicants must have had farm experience of such nature as in the judgment of the examining board will qualify the applicant to undertake the development and operation of an irrigated farm by modern methods.

c. Health. An applicant must be in such physical condition as will enable him to engage in normal farm labor.

d. Capital. An applicant must possess assets worth at least $4,500 in excess of liabilities. Assets must consist of cash, property readily convertible into cash or property such as livestock, farm machinery and equipment, which, in the opinion of the board, will be useful in the development and operation of a new, irrigated farm. In considering the practical value of property which will be useful in the development of a farm, the board will not value household goods at more than $500 or a passenger car at more than $500. Assets not useful in the development of a farm will be considered if the applicant furnishes, at the Board's request, evidence of the value of the property and proof of its conversion into useful form before execution of a purchase contract.

SEC. 7. Other qualifications required. Each applicant (except guardian) must meet the following requirements:

a. Be a citizen of the United States or have declared an intention to become a citizen of the United States.

b. Not own outright, or control under a contract to purchase, more than ten acres of crop land or a total of 160 acres of land at the time of execution of a purchase contract for a farm unit.

c. If a married woman, or a person under 21 years of age who is not eligible for veterans preference, be the head of a family. The head of a family is ordinarily the husband, but a wife or a minor child who is obligated to assume major responsibility for the support of a family may be the head of a family.

WHERE AND HOW TO SUBMIT AN APPLICATION

SEC. 8. Filing application blanks. Any person desiring to purchase a farm unit offered for sale by this announcement must fill out the attached application blank and file it with the Land Settlement Branch, Bureau of Reclamation, Ephrata, Washington, in person or by mail. Additional application blanks may be obtained from the office of the Bureau of Reclamation at Ephrata, Washington; Post Office Box 937, Boise, Idaho; or Washington, D. C. No advantage will accrue to an applicant who presents an application in person. Each application submitted, including the evidence of qualification to be submitted following the public drawing, will become a part of the records of the Bureau of Reclamation and cannot be returned to the applicant.

SELECTION OF QUALIFIED APPLICANTS

SEC. 9. Priority of applications. All applications will be classified for priority purposes as follows:

a. First priority group. All complete applications filed prior to 2 p. m., April 3, 1953, by applicants who claim veterans preference. All such applications will be treated as simultaneously filed.

b. Second priority group. All complete applications filed prior to 2 p. m., April 3, 1953, by applicants who do not claim veterans preference. All such applications will be treated as simultaneously filed.

c. Third group. All complete applications filed after 2 p. m., April 3, 1953. Such applications will be considered in the order in which they are filed if any farm units are available for sale to applicants within this group.

SEC. 10. Public drawing. After the priority classification, the board will conduct a public drawing of the names of the applicants in the First Priority Group as defined in subsection 9a of this announcement. Applicants need not be present at the drawing to participate therein. The names of a sufficient number of applicants (not less than four times the number of farm units to be offered for sale) shall be drawn and numbered consecutively in the order drawn for the purpose of establishing the order in which the applications drawn will be examined by the board to determine whether the applicants meet the minimum qualifications prescribed in this announcement, and to establish the priority of qualified applicants for the selection of farm units. After such drawing, the Board shall notify each applicant of his respective standing as a result of the drawing.

SEC. 11. Submission of evidence of qualification. After the drawing, a sufficient number of applicants, in the order of their priority as established by the drawing, will be supplied with forms on which to submit evidence of qualification, showing that they meet the qualifications set forth in sections 6 and 7 of this announcement and, in case veterans preference is claimed, establishing proof of such preference, as set forth in section 3 of this announcement. Full and accurate answers must be made to all questions. The completed form must be mailed or delivered to the Land Settlement Branch, Bureau of Reclamation, Ephrata, Washington, within 20 days of the date the form is mailed to the last address furnished by the applicant. Failure of an applicant to furnish all of the information requested or to see that information is furnished by his references within the time period specified will subject his application to rejection.

SEC. 12. Examination and interview. After the information outlined in section 11 of this announcement has been received or the time for submitting such statements has expired, the Board shall examine in the order drawn a sufficient number of applications together with the evidence of qualification submitted to determine the applicants who will be permitted to purchase farm units. This examination will determine the sufficiency, authenticity, and reliability of the information and evidence submitted by the applicants.

If the applicant fails to supply any of the information required or the Board finds that the applicant's qualifications do not meet the requirements prescribed in this announcement, the applicant shall be disqualified and shall be notified by the Board, by registered mail, of such disqualification and the reasons therefor and of the right to appeal to the Regional Director, Region 1, Bureau of Reclamation. All appeals must be received in the office of the Land Settlement Branch, Bureau of Reclamation, Ephrata, Washington, within 15 days of the applicant's receipt of such notice or, in any event, within 30 days from the date when the notice is mailed to the last address furnished by the applicant. The Land Settlement Branch will promptly forward the appeal to the Regional Director.

If the examination indicates that an applicant is qualified, the applicant may be required to appear for a personal interview with the Board for the purpose of: (a) Affording the Board any additional information it may desire relative to his qualifications; (b) affording the applicant any information desired relative to conditions in the area and the problems and obligations relative to development of a farm unit; and (c) affording the applicant an opportunity to examine the farm units.

If an applicant fails to appear before the Board for a personal interview on the date requested, he will thereby forfeit his priority position as determined by the drawing.

If the Board finds that an applicant's qualifications fulfill the requirements prescribed in this announcement, such applicant shall be notified, in person or by registered mail, that he is a qualified applicant and shall be given an opportunity to select one of the farm units available then for purchase. Such notice will require the applicant to make a field examination of the farm units available to him and in which he is interested, to select a farm unit, and to notify the Board of such selection within the time specified in the notice.

SELECTION OF FARM UNITS

SEC. 13. Order of selection. The applicants who have been notified of their qualification for the purchase of a farm unit will successively exercise the right to select a farm unit in accordance with the priority established by the drawing. If a farm unit becomes available through failure of a qualified applicant to exercise his right of selection or failure to complete his purchase, it will be offered to the next qualified applicant who has not made a selection at the time the unit is again available. An applicant who is considered to be disqualified as a result of the personal interview will be permitted to exercise his right to select, notwithstanding his disqualification, unless he voluntarily surrenders this right in writing. If, on appeal, the action of the Board in disqualifying an applicant as a result of the personal interview is reversed by the Regional Director, the applicant's selection shall be effective, but if such action of the Board is upheld by the Regional Director, the farm unit selected by this applicant will become available for selection by qualified applicants who have not exercised their right to select.

If any of the farm units listed in this announcement remain unselected after all qualified applicants whose names were selected in the drawing have had an opportunity to select a farm unit, and if additional applicants remain in the First Priority Group, the Board will follow the same procedure outlined in section 10 of this announcement in the selection of additional applicants from this group.

If any of the farm units remain unselected after all qualified applicants in the First Priority Group have had an opportunity to select a farm unit, the Board will follow the same procedure to select applicants from the Second Priority Group, and they will be permitted to exercise their right to select a farm unit in the manner prescribed for the qualified applicants from the First Priority Group.

Any farm units remaining unselected after all qualified applicants in the Second Priority Group have had an opportunity to select a farm unit will be offered to applicants in the Third Group in the order in which their applications were filed, subject to the determination of the Board, made in accordance with the procedure prescribed herein, that such applicants meet the minimum qualifications prescribed in this announcement.

If any farm units offered by or under this announcement remain unsold for a period of two years following the date of this announcement, the District Manager, Columbia River District, Bureau of Reclamation, may sell, lease or otherwise dispose of such units to qualified applicants without regard to the provisions of section 10 of this announcement.

SEC. 14. Failure to select. If any applicant refuses to select a farm unit or fails to do so within the time specified by the Board, such applicant shall forfeit his position in his priority group and his name shall be placed last in that group.

PURCHASE OF SELECTED UNIT

SEC. 15. Execution of purchase contract. When a farm unit is selected by an applicant as provided in section 13 of this announcement, the District Manager will promptly give the applicant a written notice confirming the availability to him of the unit selected and will furnish the necessary purchase contract, together with instructions concerning its execution and return. In that notice the District Manager will also inform the applicant of the amount of the irrigation charges assessed by the irrigation district or, if such charges have not been assessed, of an estimate of the amount of the charges for the first year of the development period, to be deposited with the District Manager.

If the purchase is made subsequent to April 1 of any year following the first year of the development period, a deposit will be required to cover the payment of water charges for the next full irrigation season following the purchase.

SEC. 16. Terms of sale. Contracts for the sale of farm units pursuant to this announcement will contain, among others, the following principal provisions:

a. Down payment. An initial or down payment of not less than 20 percent of the purchase price of the lands being purchased from the United States will be required. Larger proportions, or the entire amount of the price, may be paid initially at the purchaser's option.

b. Schedule for payment of balance; interest rate. If only a portion of the purchase price is paid initially, the remainder will be payable within a period of 20 years following the date of the contract. No payments on the principal, except the down payment, will be required during the first three years and the District Manager may postpone such payments for as long as the first five years of the contract. Interest on the unpaid balance at the rate of three per cent per annum, however, will be payable annually. When payments on the principal are resumed, they will be payable each year. The schedule of principal payments, which will be established by the District Manager, will provide for relatively small payments during the first years and larger payments during the later years of the contract period. Payment of any or all installments, or any portion thereof, may be made before their due dates at the purchaser's option.

c. Development requirements. In order that the irrigable area of the entire farm unit shall be developed with reasonable dispatch, each purchaser will be required, as a minimum, to clear, level, irrigate, and plant to crops by the end of each of the calendar years indicated below, and to maintain in crops thereafter, the following percentages of irrigable land as tentatively or finally classified:

Size of farm unit in irrigable acres	Percentage of land classified tentatively or finally as irrigable to be developed by end of each year. (Period will begin with year of purchase if contract is executed and water is available on or before May 1 of that year; otherwise period will begin with the next calendar year.)
	Second year	Third year	Fourth year	Fifth year
10 to 40	75
41 to 60	50	75
61 to 80	50	65	75
81 to 100	40	60	65	75
101 to 160	35	50	65	75

d. Residence requirements. A major objective of the settlement program for the Columbia Basin Project is to assist and encourage the permanent settlement of farm families. In keeping with this objective, each purchaser will be required to do the following with respect to residence: (1) Within one year from the date of his contract, or within one year from the date that water is available to the irrigation block in which the farm unit is located, whichever is later, to initiate residence by actually moving onto the unit, such residence to be maintained by living thereon for not less than 12 months within an 18-month period following the initial date of residence, and (2) before receiving title to the unit under the purchase contract, to establish a permanent and habitable dwelling on the unit. The time for compliance with the initiation of residence may be extended by the District Manager for periods of as long as six months, upon his determination that an extension is necessary to avoid undue hardship to the purchaser and that it will not be detrimental to the orderly development of the irrigation block. The latest permissible date for initiating residence, however, will not be extended for more than one year in addition to the one-year period specified above. In extraordinary situations, the requirements under (1) and (2) above may be waived entirely upon the determination by the Regional Director, after recommendation by the District Manager, that such waiver will be in the interest of orderly development of the block. Any such waiver, however, shall be conditioned on the requirement that the purchaser reside close enough to his unit to permit him to develop it through his own efforts.

e. Speculation and landholding limitations. Purchase contracts and deeds covering farm units offered by this announcement will include provisions governing (1) maximum permissible sizes of holdings of irrigable land; (2) continued conformance of land to the area and boundaries of the farm unit plat for the block; (3) prices at which land can be resold during a period of five years following the date on which water is made available to the irrigation block; (4) disposal of land should it become excess at any time; and (5) limitations as to total area that may be operated on the project whether as lessee or as owner or both.

f. Copies of contract form. The terms listed above, and all other standard contract provisions, are contained in the purchase contract form, copies of which may be obtained by writing to the Bureau of Reclamation, Ephrata, Washington.

IRRIGATION CHARGES

SEC. 17. Water rental charges. During the irrigation season of 1954, while some construction activities will be continuing and the system is being tested, it is expected that water will be furnished on a temporary rental basis to those desiring it. The terms of payment, which will be at a fixed rate per acre-foot of water used, will be announced by the Regional Director before the beginning of the irrigation season.

SEC. 18. Development period charges. Pursuant to the provisions of the repayment contract of October 9, 1945, between the United States and the three irrigation districts in the Columbia Basin Project, the Secretary of the Interior will announce a development period of ten years during which time payment of construction charge installments will not be required. This period probably will commence with the calendar year 1955 for Irrigation Block 12. During the development period, water rental charges will average an estimated $5.50 per year for each irrigable acre as tentatively or finally classified. This figure is preliminary and subject to change because all the data needed to fix the charges are not available nor can they be obtained now. In any event, there will be a minimum charge per farm unit each year whether or not water is used. A notice establishing the details of the plan to be followed and announcing charges and governing provisions for the first year of the development period will be issued prior to January 1 of that year, by the Regional Director, who has the responsibility for fixing charges.

The present plans of the Regional Director are (a) to vary the minimum charge according to the anticipated relative repayment ability of the various land classes; (b) to provide for a small minimum charge for the first year and to increase it each year thereafter so that the charge for the tenth year will be approximately equal to the combined construction and operation and maintenance charge for the following year; and (c) to charge for water in excess of the amount furnished for the minimum charge on an acre-foot basis. The minimum charge will entitle each user to a quantity of water to be specified by the Regional Director, varying with the water requirement classification of the land and the size of the farm unit.

In addition to the water rental charges, the Irrigation District will levy an additional charge to cover administrative costs and probable delinquencies in collections.

SEC. 19. Construction period repayment charges—a. Operation and maintenance charges. After the development period has ended, water users will pay a charge for operation and maintenance of the project irrigation system which will be uniform for the irrigation blocks throughout the project. These charges may or may not be graduated among land classes. Assessment procedure will be left for the Irrigation District Board of Directors to determine, but, in any case, there will be an annual minimum charge per acre. In order to encourage careful use of water, this annual minimum charge will entitle the water user to one-half acre-foot of water per acre less than the amount of water normally required. The normal requirements for the various classes of land will be determined and announced as provided in the repayment contract with the irrigation district in which the land is located. Water in excess of the quantity covered by the minimum charge will be paid for on an acre-foot basis in accordance with an ascending, graduated scale.

b. Construction charges. The contract between the United States and the irrigation districts requires the payment of construction charges for the project irrigation system during the forty years following the development period. The average construction charge per irrigable acre for the entire project will be $2.12 per year. Thus, the total construction charge payment will average $85 per irrigable acre, but that amount was predicated on an estimated total direct irrigation cost of not to exceed $280,782,180 as indicated by Article 6 of the repayment contract, an amount that it now appears is likely to be exceeded. The contract further provides that construction charges shall be graduated according to the relative repayment ability of the land; consequently, the charge per irrigable acre will be larger for the better lands than for the poorer lands. This allocation of construction charges by classes of land will be made as soon as practicable.

VERNON D. NORTHROP,
Under Secretary of the Interior.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 9, Supplementary Regulation 3 Special Order No. 15]

WEMBLEY, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. This order establishes uniform retail ceiling prices for the sale of neckwear manufactured by Wembley, Inc., under the trade names "Wembley" and "Wembley Nor-East" in Alaska, Hawaii, and the Virgin Islands, on the basis of an application filed by Wembley, Inc. under Supplementary Regulation 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 9, Revision 1. This supplementary regulation gives a manufacturer the right to apply for uniform retail ceiling prices for the sale, in a territory or possession, of an article or articles manufactured by him whenever it appears that the article or articles were sold at retail in that territory or possession at a substantially uniform price for the period immediately prior to January 26, 1951, and the Director of Price Stabilization has established a uniform retail ceiling price for sales of the article in the continental United States, and the ceiling prices proposed are no higher than the level of ceiling prices otherwise established under Ceiling Price Regulation 9.

By Delegation of Authority 7, Revised, the authority to establish uniform ceiling prices under this supplementary regulation has been vested in the Director of Region XIV.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the Statement of Considerations and pursuant to Supplementary Regulation 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 9, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for the sale by any retailer in the Territories of Alaska, Hawaii, and the Virgin Islands of neckwear manufactured by Wembley, Inc., New Orleans 5, Louisiana, bearing the brand name "Wembley" and "Wembley Nor-East" are the retail prices listed in the application of Wembley, Inc., dated December 10, 1952, filed with Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Region XIV office of the Office of Price Stabilization with the Federal Register as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. On and after the date of a receipt of a copy of this special order, with notice of prices annexed, but in no event later than March 2, 1953, no seller at retail may offer or sell any article covered by this special order at a price higher than the ceiling price established by this special order. Sales may, of course, be made at less than ceiling prices.

2. The applicant must annex a copy of this price list to a copy of this order and, within 15 days of the effective date of this order, supply 10 copies of the list and order to the Director of the Region XIV office of the Office of Price Stabilization and 1 copy to each retailer to whom the applicant had delivered an article covered by this order within the two-month period immediately preceding the issuing of this regulation. A copy of this special order and the attached list shall be sent to all other purchasers for sale at retail on or before the first delivery date after the effective date of this special order of any article covered by this regulation. In addition, the applicant must furnish the Director of Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., two copies of this notice and the attached list within fifteen days of the effective date of this order and a list of all retailers to whom this order and price list are sent within five days of mailing the orders. The list attached to this order, which must be furnished to sellers of the articles covered by this order, must be in substantially the following form:

Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$_____per_____{unit. dozen. etc.	Terms{net. percent EOM. etc. $_____

3. The applicant for this order must, within 60 days from the effective date of this order, either pre-ticket all articles covered by it, or provide to retailers, sufficient tags with each shipment for retailers to ticket the articles, with the retail ceiling price in the following form:

OPS—CPR 9, SR 3
Ceiling Price $_____

4. No retailer may sell or offer to sell any article covered by this order until a ticket as provided in section 3 has been attached to the article either by him, by the wholesaler, or by the manufacturer.

5. The applicant must file within 45 days of the expiration of the first six-month period following the effective date of this order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive six-month period with the Director of Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this regulation which he has delivered in that six-month period.

6. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization at any time.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective on February 13, 1953.

EDWARD J. FRIEDLANDER, Regional Director.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 34, As Amended, Section 20 (c), Special Order 21, Amdt. 1]

CROWN ZELLERBACH CORP.

CLARIFICATION AND ADDITION OF LOGGING CONTRACTORS

Statement of considerations. This amendment clarifies the amount of the adjustment granted by Special Order 21 to the logging contractors named therein. It also adds to Special Order 21 the names of seven logging contractors supplying logging services to the Crown Zellerbach Corporation.

Simultaneously with the issuance of Special Order 21, the Office of Price Stabilization issued Special Order 22 which also granted a retroactive ceiling price adjustment to logging contractors doing business with the Crown Zellerbach Corporation. Some of the logging contractors receiving the adjustment authorized by Special Order 21 also received the adjustment authorized by Special Order 22; other logging contractors named in Special Order 21 were not named in Special Order 22. Accordingly, to harmonize the adjustments granted to these groups by Special Orders 21 and 22, the language of Special Order 21 is clarified by this amendment.

The reasons stated in the Statement of Considerations to Special Order 21 for the granting of the adjustment in the ceiling prices for logging services supplied to Crown Zellerbach by the logging contractors named in the Order are equally applicable to the logging contractors named in this amendment.

Amendatory provisions. Special Order 21 is amended as follows:

1. So much of Paragraph (a) of the section entitled "Special Provisions" which reads 'The ceiling prices for logging services supplied to Crown Zellerbach Corporation, Portland, Oregon, by the following logging contractors shall be increased by 2.42 percent over the ceiling prices under CPR 34 or Special Order 22 thereunder:" is changed to read as follows:

The ceiling prices established under CPR 34 by the following logging contractors for logging services supplied to Crown Zellerbach Corporation, Portland, Oregon, may be increased by 5.22 percent, subject to the limitation that those logging contractors named both in this Special Order and in Special Order 22 may increase their ceiling prices as adjusted under Special Order 22 by only 2.42 percent:

2. The names of the following logging contractors are added to the list of names set forth in paragraph (a) of the section entitled "Special Provisions":

Wilfred W. Merry, Molalla, Oreg.
W. D. Gresham, Molalla, Oreg.
W. A. Parmer, Route 1, Rainier, Oreg.
Frank E. Serafin, Vernonia, Oreg.
Sam C. Devine, Mist Route, Vernonia, Oreg.
H. C. Owens, Rainier, Oreg.
Wm. L. Roberts, Rainier, Oreg.

Effective date. This order shall become effective February 12, 1953.

GENERAL MOTORS CORP.

APPROVAL OF ADDITIONS ATTACHED TO LETTER TO DEALERS, DATED FEBRUARY 2, 1953

Statement of consideration. This Special Order, pursuant to section 5 of Supplementary Regulation 3 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34, approves certain supplements to flat rate time allowances for 1953 Model Accessories Bulletin C-1 of General Motors for approval for flat rate time allowance.

The Director of Price Stabilization has determined from the data submitted by General Motors Corporation approval of flat rate time allowances for 1953 Model Accessories Bulletin C-1 that the approval of these supplements would not be inconsistent with the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

1. On and after the effective date of this order, the application for approval of flat rate time allowances for 1953 Model Accessories Bulletin C-1 dated February 2, 1953 as covered in the General Motors application is authorized for use in establishing the time allowances for the operations described therein.

2. The following notice must be printed or stamped in a prominent position in the publication "Approved by OPS February 13, 1953 by Special Order No. 27 issued under section 5 of SR 3 to CPR 34."

3. All provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 34, as amended, and Supplementary Regulation 3, as amended, except as changed by this Special Order shall remain in full force and effect.

4. This Special Order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended or amended at any time by the Director of Price Stabilization.

TRANSCONTINENTAL GAS PIPE LINE CORP. ET AL.

ORDER DENYING REQUEST FOR SHORTENED PROCEDURE, CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

In the matters of Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation, Mid-Georgia Natural Gas Co., City of Covington, Georgia, Docket No. G-1277; Docket No. G-2015; Docket No. G-2114.

On July 28, 1952, Mid-Georgia Natural Gas Co. (Applicant a Georgia corporation having its principal place of business in Atlanta, Georgia, filed an application and supplements thereto on October 27, 1952, and January 12, 1953, for an order disclaiming jurisdiction or, in the alternative, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity, pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, authorizing the construction and operation of a town-border station located on Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation's (Transcontinental) main line which passes between Conyers and Porterdale, Georgia, and pipe lines which will extend from such border station through the several Georgia communities to be served, namely Conyers, Porterdale, Covington, and Oxford, and their environs, all as more fully described in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

Notice of filing of the application has been given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on August 15, 1952 (17 F. R. 7439).

On December 9, 1952, Transcontinental, a Delaware corporation having its principal place of business at Houston, Texas, filed a "Petition For Amendment of Order Issuing Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity", by which it requests the Commission to amend its order issued April 28, 1950, accompanying Opinion No. 191 in Docket No. G-

Notice of filing of the petition has been given including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 15, 1953 (18 F. R. 339). Transcontinental has requested that its petition be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) for noncontested proceedings.

On January 22, 1952, the City of Covington, Georgia (Applicant), a municipal corporation organized and existing by virtue of the laws of the State of Georgia, filed an application for an order pursuant to Section 7 (a) of the Natural Gas Act, for an order directing Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation to establish physical connection of its transportation facilities with Applicant's proposed natural-gas distribution system and to sell natural gas to Applicant for local distribution in the community of Covington and in the adjacent area thereto, all as more fully described in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

In its application, the City of Covington asserts that the franchises held by the Newton County Gas Co., which were executed by Covington and Oxford in favor of the aforementioned company, were conditioned upon that company's commencing construction within one year from the date that natural gas was made available to it by Transcontinental. Due to the failure of Newton County Gas Co.'s failure to comply with said condition, the City of Covington states that the franchises have expired and will not be renewed.

Notice of the filing of the application has been given, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, on February 6, 1953 (18 F. R. 778).

On August 28, 1952, and January 22, 1953, petitions to intervene were filed by the Cities of Covington and Oxford, Georgia, in Docket Nos. G–1277 and G–2015. By orders adopted January 27, 1953 and February 10, 1953, the Cities of Covington and Oxford, Georgia were permitted to intervene in Docket Nos. G–1277 and G–2015.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has not been shown for granting Transcontinental's request that its petition be heard under the shortened procedure as provided by the Commission's rules of practice and procedure.

(2) It is necessary and appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act that the proceedings in Docket Nos. G–1277, limited to Transcontinental's petition to amend, G–2015, and G–2114, be consolidated for purpose of hearing.

The Commission orders:

(A) The request made by Transcontinental Gas Pipe Line Corporation that its petition be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure be and the same is hereby denied.

(B) The proceedings upon Trancontinental's petition to amend in Docket No. G–1277, and in Docket Nos. G–2015 and G–2114 be and the same hereby are consolidated for purpose of hearing.

(C) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing be held commencing on March 9, 1953, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by the petition and applications herein.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: February 16, 1953.

SUPPLEMENTAL ORDER CONCERNING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING

FEBRUARY 16, 1953.

Niagara Mohawk Power Corporation ("Niagara Mohawk"), a public utility company and an exempt holding company, of which The United Corporation, a registered holding company, owned, as of January 15, 1953, 9.48 percent of the outstanding voting securities, having filed an application and amendments thereto, pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") with respect to the issue and sale by Niagara Mohawk, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, of $25,000,000 principal amount of General Mortgage Bonds, __ percent Series, due February 1983 and 1,000,000 shares of its common capital stock without par value; and

The Commission having, by order dated February 9, 1953, granted said application, as amended, subject to the conditions, among others, that the proposed sale of bonds and common stock shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding and a final order of the Public Service Commission of the State of New York approving the issue and sale of said bonds and stock shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding, and a further order shall have been entered in the light of the record so completed; and jurisdiction having been reserved over the payment of all fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Niagara Mohawk having on February 16, 1953, filed a further amendment to said application in which it is stated that it has offered the common stock for sale pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 and has received the following bids:

COMMON STOCK	Price per share to Niagara Mohawk
Bidding group headed by:

The amendment further stating Niagara Mohawk has accepted the bid of Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane for the common stock as set forth above and that the common stock will be offered to the public at a price of $27.50 per share, resulting in an underwriters' spread of $0.561 per share; and

The Public Service Commission of the State of New York having entered its Order dated February 5, 1953, approving the issue and sale of the common stock subject to conditions subsequent which have been satisfied, and the record not having been completed with respect to the fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed sale of common stock, which under the order of the State Commission may not exceed $115,000 for the common stock; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and finding no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be received for the common stock, and the underwriters' spread with respect thereto:

It is hereby ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved in connection with the sale of said common stock be, and the same hereby is, released, and that the said application, as further amended, be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 of the General Rules and Regulations under the act.

[Lemon Reg. 473]

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.580 Lemon Regulation 473—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on February 18, 1953; such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time of this section.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., February 22, 1953, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 1, 1953, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 15 carloads;

(ii) District 2: 310 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2" and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

[Grapefruit Reg. 89]

PART 955—GRAPEFRUIT GROWN IN ARIZONA; IN IMPERIAL COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, AND IN THAT PART OF RIVERSIDE COUNTY, CALIFORNIA, SITUATED SOUTH AND EAST OF THE SAN GORGONIO PASS

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 955.350 Grapefruit Regulation 89—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 55, as amended (7 CFR Part 955), regulating the handling of grapefruit grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California, and in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Administrative Committee (established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order), and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of grapefruit, as provided in this section, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective not later than February 22, 1953. Shipments of grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, have been subject to regulation by grades and sizes, pursuant to the amended marketing agreement and order, since October 19, 1952, and will so continue until February 22, 1953; the recommendation and supporting information for continued regulation subsequent to February 21, 1953, was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Administrative Committee on February 12; such meeting was held to consider recommendations for regulation, after giving due notice of such meeting, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including the effective time thereof, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such grapefruit; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period set forth in paragraph (b) so as to provide for the continued regulation of the handling of grapefruit; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time of this section.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., February 22, 1953, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 29, 1953, no handler shall ship:

(i) Any grapefruit of any variety grown in the State of Arizona; in Imperial County, California; or in that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass unless such grapefruit grade at least U. S. No. 2; or

(ii) From the State of California or the State of Arizona (a) to any point outside thereof in the United States, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than 3 $^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, or (b) to any point in Canada, any grapefruit, grown as aforesaid, which are of a size smaller than 3 $^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter ("diameter" in each case to be measured midway at a right angle to a straight line running from the stem to the blossom end of the fruit), except that a tolerance of 5 percent, by count, of grapefruit smaller than the foregoing minimum sizes shall be permitted, which tolerance shall be applied in accordance with the provisions for the application of tolerance, specified in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), 7 CFR 51.241: Provided, That, in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than 3 $^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size 3 $^{13}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller; and in determining the percentage of grapefruit in any lot which are smaller than 3 $^{6}/_{16}$ inches in diameter, such percentage shall be based only on the grapefruit in such lot which are of a size 3 $^{10}/_{16}$ inches in diameter and smaller.

(2) As used in this section, "handler," "variety," "grapefruit," and "ship" shall have the same meaning as when used in said amended marketing agreement and order; and the term "U. S. No. 2" shall have the same meaning as when used in the revised United States Standards for Grapefruit (California and Arizona), 7 CFR 51.241.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5991, Regs. 111]

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

On December 20, 1952, notice of proposed rule making, regarding amendments to the income tax regulations made necessary by section 318 of the Revenue Act of 1951, approved October 20, 1951, by Public Law 251 (82d Congress), approved October 31, 1951, and by Public Law 567 (82d Congress), approved July 16, 1952, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 11657). After consideration of all such relevant matter as was presented by interested persons regarding the rules proposed the amendments set forth below are hereby adopted. Such amendments are necessary in order to conform Regulations 111 (26 CFR Part 29) to section 318 of the Revenue Act of 1951, to Public Law 251 (82d Congress), and to Public Law 567 (82d Congress).

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.112 (f)-1 the following:

SEC. 318. GAIN FROM SALE OR EXCHANGE OF TAXPAYER'S RESIDENCE (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

* * * * *

(b) Technical amendments. (1) Section 112 (f) (relating to involuntary conversions) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "This subsection shall not apply, in the case of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, if the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of the residence, or the sale or exchange of such residence under threat or imminence thereof, occurred after December 31, 1950."

* * * * *

PUBLIC LAW 251, 82D CONGRESS, APPROVED OCTOBER 31, 1951

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That (a) section 112 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to involuntary conversions) is hereby amended to read as follows:

(f) Involuntary conversion. If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, or requisition or condemnation or threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted—

(1) Conversion into similar property. Into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, no gain shall be recognized.

(2) Conversion into money where disposition occurred prior to 1951. Into money, and the disposition of the converted property occurred before January 1, 1951, no gain shall be recognized if such money is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the Secretary, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund. If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain shall be recognized to the extent of the money which is not so expended (regardless of whether such money is received in one or more taxable years and regardless of whether or not the money which is not so expended constitutes gain). For the purposes of this paragraph and paragraph (3), the term "disposition of the converted property" means the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of the converted property, or the sale or exchange of such property under threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation.

(3) Conversion into money where disposition occurred after 1950. Into money or into property not similar or related in service or use to the converted property, and the disposition of the converted property (as defined in paragraph (2)) occurred after December 31, 1950, the gain (if any) shall be recognized except to the extent hereinafter provided in this paragraph:

(A) Nonrecognition of gain. If the taxpayer during the period specified in subparagraph (B), for the purpose of replacing the property so converted, purchases other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or purchases stock in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, at the election of the taxpayer the gain shall be recognized only to the extent that the amount realized upon such conversion (regardless of whether such amount is received in one or more taxable years) exceeds the cost of such other property or such stock. Such election shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe. For the purposes of this paragraph—

(i) No property or stock acquired before the disposition of the converted property shall be considered to have been acquired for the purpose of replacing such converted property unless held by the taxpayer on the date of such disposition; and

(ii) The taxpayer shall be considered to have purchased property or stock only if, but for the provisions of section 113 (a) (9), the unadjusted basis of such property or stock would be its cost within the meaning of section 113 (a).

(B) Period within which property must be replaced. The period referred to in subparagraph (A) shall be the period beginning with the date of the disposition of the converted property, or the earliest date of the threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation of the converted property, whichever is the earlier, and ending—

(i) One year after the close of the first taxable year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized, or

(ii) Subject to such terms and conditions as may be specified by the Secretary, at the close of such later date as the Secretary may designate upon application by the taxpayer. Such application shall be made at such time and in such manner as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe.

(C) Time for assessment of deficiency attributable to gain upon conversion. If a taxpayer has made the election provided in subparagraph (A), then (i) the statutory period for the assessment of any deficiency, for any taxable year in which any part of the gain upon such conversion is realized, attributable to such gain shall not expire prior to the expiration of three years from the date the Secretary is notified by the taxpayer (in such manner as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe) of the replacement of the converted property or of an intention not to replace, and (ii) such deficiency may be assessed prior to the expiration of such three-year period notwithstanding the provisions of section 272 (f) or the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

(D) Time for assessment of other deficiencies attributable to election. If the election provided in subparagraph (A) is made by the taxpayer and such other property or such stock was purchased prior to the beginning of the last taxable year in which any part of the gain upon such conversion is realized, any deficiency, to the extent resulting from such election, for any taxable year ending before such last taxable year may be assessed (notwithstanding the provisions of section 272 (f) or 275 or the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment) at any time before the expiration of the period within which a deficiency for such last taxable year may be assessed.

This subsection shall not apply, in the case of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, if the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of residence, or the sale or exchange of such residence under threat or imminence thereof, occurred after December 31, 1950.

* * * * *

SEC. 3. The amendments made by the first two sections of this Act shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1950, except that the provisions of section 112 (f) (3), and the provisions of section 113 (a) (9), of the Internal Revenue Code as amended by this Act shall also be applicable to any taxable year ending prior to January 1, 1951, in which (a) any gain was realized upon the conversion of property and the disposition of such converted property occurred (within the meaning of such section 112 (f) (3)) after December 31, 1950, or (b) the basis of property is affected by an election made under the provisions of section 112 (f) (3) of such code.

* * * * *

PAR. 2. Section 29.112 (f)–1 is hereby amended as follows:

(A) By changing the headnote thereof to read as follows: Involuntary conversion where disposition of the converted property occurred prior to January 1, 1951.

(B) By inserting immediately preceding paragraph (a) thereof the following: "This section applies only with respect to involuntary conversions where the disposition of the converted property occurred prior to January 1, 1951. The term 'disposition of the converted property' means the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of the converted property, or the sale or exchange of such property under threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation. See § 29.112 (f)–3 if the disposition of the converted property occurred after December 31, 1950."

PAR. 3. Section 29.112 (f)–2 is hereby amended as follows:

(A) By changing the headnote thereof to read as follows: Replacement funds where disposition of the converted property occurred prior to January 1, 1951.

(B) By inserting immediately preceding the first paragraph thereof the following: "This section applies only with respect to involuntary conversions where the disposition of the converted property (as defined in § 29.112 (f)–1) occurred prior to January 1, 1951. See § 29.112 (f)–3 if the disposition of the converted property occurred after December 31, 1950."

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately after § 29.112 (f)–2 the following new section:

§ 29.112 (f)–3 Involuntary conversion where disposition of the converted property occurred after December 31, 1950—(a) In general. This section applies only with respect to involuntary conversions where the disposition of the converted property (as defined in § 29.112 (f)–1) occurred after December 31, 1950. See § 29.112 (f)–1 and § 29.112 (f)–2 if the disposition of the converted property occurred prior to January 1, 1951. This section also applies only with respect to gains; losses from involuntary conversions are recognized or not recognized without regard to this section. This section shall not apply in the case of an involuntary conversion of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence; see § 29.112 (n)–1. In the case of property used by the taxpayer partially as a principal residence and partially for other purposes, proper allocation shall be made and this section shall apply only with respect to the involuntary conversion of the portion used for other purposes.

(b) Conversion into similar property. If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, or requisition or condemnation or threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted only into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, no gain shall be recognized. Such nonrecognition of gain is mandatory. If the conversion is, in whole or in part, into money or property not similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, see paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Conversion into money or into dissimilar property. (1) If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, or requisition or condemnation or threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted into money or into property not similar or related in service or use to the converted property, the gain, if any, shall be recognized, at the election of the taxpayer, only to the extent that the amount realized upon such conversion exceeds the cost of other property purchased by the taxpayer which is similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or the cost of stock of a corporation owning such other property which is purchased by the taxpayer in the acquisition of control of such corporation, if the taxpayer purchased such other property, or such stock, for the purpose of replacing the property so converted and during the period specified in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) All of the details in connection with an involuntary conversion of property at a gain (including those relating to the replacement of the converted property, or a decision not to replace, or the expiration of the period for replacement) shall be reported in the return for the taxable year or years in which any of such gain is realized. An election to have such gain recognized only to the extent provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall be made by including such gain in gross income for such year or years only to such extent. If, at the time of filing such a return, the period within which the converted property must be replaced has expired, or if such an election is not desired, the gain should be included in gross income for such year or years in the regular manner. A failure to so include such gain in gross income in the regular manner shall be deemed to be an election by the taxpayer to have such gain recognized only to the extent provided in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph even though the details in connection with the conversion are not reported in such return. If, after having made an election under section 112 (f) (3), the converted property is not replaced within the required period of time, or replacement is made at a cost lower than was anticipated at the time of the election, or a decision is made not to replace, the tax liability for the year or years for which the election was made shall be recomputed. Such recomputation should be in the form of an "amended return". If a decision is made to make an election under section 112 (f) (3) after the filing of the return and the payment of the tax for the year or years in which any of the gain on an involuntary conversion is realized and before the expiration of the period within which the converted property must be replaced, a claim for credit or refund for such year or years should be filed. If the replacement of the converted property occurs in a year or years in which none of the gain on the conversion is realized, all of the details in connection with such replacement shall be reported in the return for such year or years.

(3) The period referred to in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph is the period of time commencing with the date of the disposition of the converted property, or the date of the beginning of the threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation of the converted property, whichever is earlier, and ending one year after the close of the first taxable year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized, or at the close of such later date as may be designated pursuant to an application of the taxpayer. Such application shall be made prior to the expiration of the one year after the close of the first taxable year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized. Such application shall be made to the Commissioner, or to such person as he may designate, and shall contain all of the details in connection with the involuntary conversion. No extension of time shall be granted pursuant to such an application unless the taxpayer executes a bond, with such surety as the Commissioner may require, in an amount not in excess of twice the estimated additional income taxes (including interest, penalties, and additions to the tax) which would be payable if an election were not made under this section, and conditioned upon the replacement of the converted property within the extended period of time (including any subsequent extensions granted by the Commissioner or such person as he may designate), or the payment of the additional tax attributable to the gain on the conversion (including interest, penalties, and additions to the tax). Only surety companies holding certificates of authority from the Secretary of the Treasury as acceptable sureties on Federal bonds will be approved as sureties. See § 29.112 (f)–2 with respect to the depositing of bonds or notes of the United States in lieu of sureties.

(4) Property or stock purchased before the disposition of the converted property shall be considered to have been purchased for the purpose of replacing the converted property only if such property or stock is held by the taxpayer on the date of the disposition of the converted property. Property or stock shall be considered to have been purchased only if, but for the provisions of section 113 (a) (9), the unadjusted basis of such property or stock would be its cost to the taxpayer within the meaning of section 113 (a). If the taxpayer's unadjusted basis of the replacement property would be determined, in the absence of section 113 (a) (9), under any of the other numbered paragraphs of section 113 (a), the unadjusted basis of the property would not be its cost within the meaning of section 113 (a). For example, if property similar or related in service or use to the converted property is acquired by gift and its basis is determined under section 113 (a) (2), such property will not qualify as a replacement for the converted property.

(5) If a taxpayer makes an election under section 112 (f) (3), any deficiency, for any taxable year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized, which is attributable to such gain may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of three years from the date the officer with whom the return for such year has been filed is notified by the taxpayer of the replacement of the converted property or of an intention not to replace, or of a failure to replace, within the required period, notwithstanding the provisions of section 272 (f) or the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment. If replacement has been made, such notification shall contain all of the details in connection with such replacement. Such notification should be made in the return for the taxable year or years in which the replacement occurs, or the intention not to replace is formed, or the period for replacement expires, if this return is filed with such officer. If this return is not filed with such officer, then such notification shall be made to such officer at the time of filing this return. If the taxpayer so desires, he may, in either event, also notify such officer prior to the filing of such return.

(6) If a taxpayer makes an election under section 112 (f) (3) and the replacement property or stock was purchased prior to the beginning of the last taxable year in which any part of the gain upon the conversion is realized, any deficiency, for any taxable year ending before such last taxable year, which is attributable to such election may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period within which a deficiency for such last taxable year may be assessed, notwithstanding the provisions of section 272 (f) or 275 or the provisions of any law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

(7) If the taxpayer makes an election under section 112 (f) (3), the gain upon the conversion shall be recognized to the extent that the amount realized upon such conversion exceeds the cost of the replacement property or stock, regardless of whether such amount is realized in one or more taxable years.

(8) See § 29.112 (f)–1 as to when property is similar or related in service or use to other property, and as to the treatment of proceeds of a use and occupancy insurance contract and of special assessments.

PAR. 5. There is inserted immediately after § 29.112 (m)–4, as added by Treasury Decision 5374, approved May 25, 1944, the following:

SEC. 318. GAIN FROM SALE OR EXCHANGE OF TAXPAYER'S RESIDENCE (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(a) Nonrecognition of gain in certain cases. Section 112 (relating to recognition of gain or loss) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subsection:

(n) Gain from sale or exchange of residence—(1) Nonrecognition of gain. If property (hereinafter in this subsection called "old residence") used by the taxpayer as his principal residence is sold by him and, within a period beginning one year prior to the date of such sale and ending one year after such date, property (hereinafter in this subsection called "new residence") is purchased and used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, gain (if any) from such sale shall be recognized only to the extent that the taxpayer's selling price of the old residence exceeds the taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence.

(2) Rules for application of subsection. For the purposes of this subsection:

(A) An exchange by the taxpayer of his residence for other property shall be considered as a sale of such residence, and the acquisition of a residence upon the exchange of property shall be considered as a purchase of such residence.

(B) If the taxpayer's residence (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, or seizure) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted into property or into money, such destruction, theft, or seizure shall be considered as a sale of the residence; and if the residence is so converted into property which is used by the taxpayer as his residence, such conversion shall be considered as a purchase of such property by the taxpayer.

(C) In the case of an exchange or conversion described in subparagraph (A) or (B), in determining the extent to which the selling price of the old residence exceeds the taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence, the amount realized by the taxpayer upon such exchange or conversion shall be considered the selling price of the old residence.

(D) A residence any part of which was constructed or reconstructed by the taxpayer shall be considered as purchased by the taxpayer. In determining the taxpayer's cost of purchasing a residence, there shall be included only so much of his cost as is attributable to the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, and improvements made which are properly chargeable to capital account, during the period specified in paragraph (1).

(E) If a residence is purchased by the taxpayer prior to the date of his sale of the old residence, the purchased residence shall not be treated as his new residence if sold or otherwise disposed of by him prior to the date of the sale of the old residence.

(F) If the taxpayer, during the period described in paragraph (1), purchases more than one residence which is used by him as his principal residence at some time within one year after the date of the sale of the old residence, only the last of such residences so used by him after the date of such sale shall constitute the new residence. If within the one year referred to in the preceding sentence property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence is destroyed, stolen, seized, requisitioned, or condemned, or is sold or exchanged under threat or imminence thereof, then for the purposes of the preceding sentence such one year shall be considered as ending with the date of such destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, condemnation, sale, or exchange.

(G) In the case of a new residence the construction of which was commenced by the taxpayer prior to the expiration of one year after the date of the sale of the old residence, the period specified in paragraph (1), and the one year referred to in subparagraph (F) of this paragraph, shall be considered as including a period of 18 months beginning with the date of the sale of the old residence.

(3) Limitation. The provisions of paragraph (1) shall not be applicable with respect to the sale of the taxpayer's residence if within one year prior to the date of such sale the taxpayer sold at a gain other property used by him as his principal residence, and any part of such gain was not recognized by reason of the provisions of paragraph (1). For the purposes of this paragraph, the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of property or the sale or exchange of property under threat or imminence thereof, shall not be considered as a sale of such property.

(4) Basis of new residence. Where the purchase of a new residence results, under paragraph (1), in the nonrecognition of gain upon the sale of an old residence, in determining the adjusted basis of the new residence as of any time following the sale of the old residence, the adjustments to basis shall include a reduction by an amount equal to the amount of the gain not so recognized upon the sale of the old residence. For this purpose, the amount of the gain not so recognized upon the sale of the old residence includes only so much of such gain as is not recognized by reason of the cost, up to such time, of purchasing the new residence.

(5) Tenant-stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation. For the purposes of this subsection, section 113 (b) (1) (K), and section 117 (h) (7), references to property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence, and references to the residence of a taxpayer, shall include stock held by a tenant-stockholder (as defined in section 23 (z) (2)) in a cooperative apartment (as defined in such section) if—

(A) In the case of stock sold, the apartment which the taxpayer was entitled to occupy as such stockholder was used by him as his principal residence, and

(B) In the case of stock purchased, the taxpayer used as his principal residence the apartment which he was entitled to occupy as such stockholder.

(6) Husband and wife. If the taxpayer and his spouse, in accordance with regulations which shall be prescribed by the Secretary pursuant to this paragraph, consent to the application of subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, then—

(A) For the purposes of this subsection, the words "taxpayer's selling price of the old residence" shall mean the selling price (of the taxpayer, or of the taxpayer and his spouse) of the old residence, and the words "taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence" shall mean the cost (to the taxpayer, his spouse, or both) of purchasing the new residence (whether held by the taxpayer, his spouse, or the taxpayer and his spouse); and

(B) So much of the gain upon the sale of the old residence as is not recognized solely by reason of this paragraph, and so much of the adjustment under paragraph (4) to the basis of the new residence as results solely from this paragraph, shall be allocated between the taxpayer and his spouse as provided in such regulations.

This paragraph shall apply only if the old residence and the new residence are each used by the taxpayer and his spouse as their principal residence. In case the taxpayer and his spouse do not consent to the application of subparagraph (B) of this paragraph, then the recognition of gain upon the sale of the old residence shall be determined under this subsection without regard to the rules provided in this paragraph.

(7) Statute of limitations. If the taxpayer during a taxable year sells at a gain property used by him as his principal residence, then—

(A) The statutory period for the assessment of any deficiency attributable to any part of such gain shall not expire prior to the expiration of three years from the date the Secretary is notified by the taxpayer (in such manner as the Secretary may by regulations prescribe) of—

(i) The taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence which the taxpayer claims results in nonrecognition of any part of such gain,

(ii) The taxpayer's intention not to purchase a new residence within the period specified in paragraph (1), or

(iii) A failure to make such purchase within such period; and

(B) Such deficiency may be assessed prior to the expiration of such three-year period notwithstanding the provisions of any other law or rule of law which would otherwise prevent such assessment.

* * * * *

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable to taxable years ending after December 31, 1950, but the provisions of section 112 (n) (1) and (6) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply only with respect to residences sold (within the meaning of such section) after such date.

PUBLIC LAW 567, 82D CONGRESS, APPROVED JULY 16, 1952

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 112 (n) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to nonrecognition of gain from sale or exchange of residence) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph:

(8) Members of Armed Forces. The running of any period of time specified in paragraph (1) or (2) (other than the one year referred to in paragraph (2) (F)) of this subsection shall be suspended during any time that the taxpayer (or his spouse if the old residence and the new residence are each used by the taxpayer and his spouse as their principal residence) serves on extended active duty with the Armed Forces of the United States after the date of the sale of the old residence and before January 1, 1954, except that any such period as so suspended shall not extend beyond the date four years after the date of the sale of the old residence. For the purpose of this paragraph, the term "extended active duty" means any period of active duty pursuant to a call or order to such duty for a period in excess of ninety days or for an indefinite period.

SEC. 2. The amendment made by the first section of this Act shall be applicable to taxable years ending after December 31, 1950, with respect to residences sold (within the meaning of section 112 (n) of the Internal Revenue Code) after such date.

§ 29.112 (n)–1 Gain from sale or exchange of residence—(a) In general. Gain from a sale after December 31, 1950, of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence (referred to in this section as the "old residence") will not be recognized if the taxpayer within a period beginning one year prior to the date of such sale and ending one year after such date purchases property and uses it as his principal residence (referred to in this section as the "new residence") except to the extent that the taxpayer's selling price of the old residence exceeds the taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence. In the case of a new residence the construction of which was commenced by the taxpayer at any time prior to the expiration of one year after the date of the sale of the old residence, the one year after the sale of the old residence referred to in the preceding sentence shall be considered as including a period of 18 months beginning with the date of the sale of the old residence. Such nonrecognition of gain is mandatory. This section applies only with respect to gains; losses from sales of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence are recognized or not recognized without regard to this section.

(b) Rules for application of section—(1) Property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence. (i) Whether or not property is used by the taxpayer as his residence, and whether or not property is used by the taxpayer as his principal residence (in the case of a taxpayer using more than one property as a residence), depends upon all of the facts and circumstances in each individual case, including the bona fides of the taxpayer. The mere fact that property is, or has been, rented is not determinative that such property is not used by the taxpayer as his principal residence. For example, if the taxpayer purchases his new residence before he sells his old residence, the fact that he temporarily rents out the new residence during the period before he vacates the old residence may not, in the light of all the facts and circumstances in the case, prevent the new residence from being considered as property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence. Property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence may include a houseboat, a house trailer, or stock held by a tenant-stockholder in a cooperative apartment corporation (as those terms are defined in section 23 (z) (2)), if the apartment which the taxpayer is entitled to occupy as such stockholder is used by him as his principal residence. Property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence does not include personal property such as a piece of furniture, a radio, etc., which, in accordance with the applicable local law, is not a fixture.

(ii) Where part of a property is used by the taxpayer as his principal residence and part is used for other purposes, an allocation must be made to determine the application of this section. If the old residence is used only partially for residential purposes, only that part of the gain allocable to the residential portion may be not recognized under this section and only an amount allocable to the selling price of such portion need be reinvested in the new residence in order to have the gain allocable to such portion not recognized under this section. If the new residence is used only partially for residential purposes, only so much of its cost as is allocable to the residential portion may be counted as the cost of purchasing the new residence.

(2) Sale of residence. For the purpose of this section, an exchange by the taxpayer of his residence for other property shall be considered as a sale of such residence. Also, if the taxpayer's residence (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted into money or property, the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation shall be considered as a sale of such residence.

(3) Purchase of residence. For the purpose of this section, the acquisition of a residence upon the exchange of property shall be considered as a purchase of such residence. Also, the acquisition of a residence upon the compulsory or involuntary conversion of the taxpayer's residence as the result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft, seizure, requisition or condemnation shall be considered to be a purchase of the residence. A residence any part of which was constructed or reconstructed by the taxpayer shall be considered as purchased by the taxpayer, but the mere improvement of a residence, not amounting to reconstruction, does not constitute a purchase of a residence.

(4) Selling price of old residence. The taxpayer's selling price of the old residence includes the amount of any mortgage, trust deed, or other indebtedness to which such property is subject in the hands of the purchaser whether or not the purchaser assumed such indebtedness. Such selling price also includes the face amount of any liabilities of the purchaser which are part of the consideration for the sale. Commissions and other selling expenses paid or incurred by the taxpayer on the sale of the old residence are not to be deducted or taken into account in determining such selling price. In the case of an exchange or conversion which is considered as a sale under this section, the amount realized by the taxpayer upon such exchange or conversion shall be considered to be the taxpayer's selling price of the old residence. As to what constitutes the amount realized, see § 29.111–1.

(5) Cost of purchasing new residence. The taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence also includes such indebtedness to which the property purchased is subject at the time of purchase whether or not assumed by the taxpayer (including purchase-money mortgages, etc.) and the face amount of any liabilities of the taxpayer which are part of the consideration for the purchase. Commissions and other purchasing expenses paid or incurred by the taxpayer on the purchase of the new residence are to be included in determining such cost. In the case of an acquisition of a residence upon an exchange or conversion which is considered as a purchase under this section, the fair market value of the new residence shall be considered as the taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence. The taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence includes only so much of such cost as is attributable to acquisition, construction, reconstruction, or improvements made within the two-year or 30 months period of time, as the case may be, in which the purchase and use of the new residence must be made in order to have gain on the sale of the old residence not recognized under this section. Such cost also includes only such amounts as are properly chargeable to capital account rather than to the current expense. As to what constitutes capital expenditures, see § 29.24–2. Where any part of the new residence is acquired by the taxpayer other than by purchase, the value of such part is not to be included in determining the taxpayer's cost of the new residence. For example, if the taxpayer acquires a residence by gift or inheritance, and spends $20,000 in reconstructing such residence, only such $20,000 may be treated as his cost of purchasing the new residence.

(6) Selling price and cost of residence in the case of husband and wife. (i) If the taxpayer and his spouse file the consent referred to in this subdivision, then the "taxpayer's selling price of the old residence" shall mean the taxpayer's or the taxpayer and his spouse's selling price of the old residence, and the "taxpayer's cost of purchasing the new residence" shall mean the cost to the taxpayer, or to his spouse, or to both of them, of purchasing the new residence, whether such new residence is held by the taxpayer, or his spouse, or both. Such consent may be filed only if the old residence and the new residence are each used by the taxpayer and his same spouse as their principal residence. If the taxpayer and his spouse do not file such a consent, the recognition of gain upon sale of the old residence shall be determined under this section without regard to the foregoing.

(ii) The consent referred to in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph is a consent by the taxpayer and his spouse to have the basis of the interest of either of them in the new residence reduced from what it would have been but for the filing of such consent by an amount by which the gain of either of them on the sale of his interest in the old residence is not recognized solely by reason of the filing of such consent. Such reduction in basis is applicable to the basis of the new residence, whether such basis is that of the husband, of the wife, or divided between them. If the basis is divided between the husband and wife, the reduction in basis shall be divided between them in the same proportion as the basis (determined without regard to such reduction) is divided between them. Such consent shall be filed with the officer with whom the return for the taxable year or years in which the gain from the sale of the old residence is realized has been filed. The following examples will illustrate the application of this rule:

Example (1). A taxpayer, in 1951, sells for $10,000 the principal residence of himself and his wife, which he owns individually and which has an adjusted basis to him of $5,000. Within a year after such sale he and his wife contribute $5,000 each from their separate funds for the purchase of their new principal residence which they hold as tenants in common, each owning an undivided one-half interest therein. If the taxpayer and his wife file the required consent, the gain of $5,000 upon the sale of the old residence will not be recognized to the taxpayer, and the adjusted basis of the taxpayer's interest in the new residence will be $2,500 and the adjusted basis of the taxpayer's wife's interest in such property will be $2,500.

Example (2). A taxpayer and his wife, in 1951, sell for $10,000 their principal residence, which they own as joint tenants and which has an adjusted basis of $2,500 to each of them ($5,000 together). Within a year after such sale, the wife spends $10,000 of her own funds in the purchase of a principal residence for herself and the taxpayer and takes title in her name only. If the taxpayer and his wife file the required consent, the adjusted basis to the wife of the new residence shall be $5,000, and the gain of the taxpayer of $2,500 upon the sale of the old residence will not be recognized. The wife, as a taxpayer herself, will have her gain of $2,500 on the sale of the old residence not recognized under the general rule.

(c) Basis of new residence. Where the purchase of a new residence results, under this section, in the nonrecognition of any part of the gain realized upon the sale of an old residence, then, in determining the adjusted basis of the new residence as of any time following the sale of the old residence, the adjustments to basis shall include a reduction by an amount equal to the amount of the gain which was not recognized upon the sale of the old residence. Such a reduction is not to be made for the purpose of determining the adjusted basis of the new residence as of any time preceding the sale of the old residence. For the purpose of this determination, the amount of the gain not recognized under this section upon the sale of the old residence includes only so much of the gain as is not recognized because of the taxpayer's cost, up to the date of the determination of the adjusted basis, of purchasing the new residence. The following example will illustrate this rule:

Example (3). On January 1, 1951, the taxpayer buys a new residence for $10,000. On March 1, 1951, he sells for $15,000 his old residence which has an adjusted basis to him of $5,000. During April a wing is constructed on the new house at a cost of $5,000 and in May he builds a garage at a cost of $2,000. The adjusted basis of the new residence is $10,000 during January and February, $5,000 during March and April, and $7,000 following the completion of the construction in May.

(d) Limitations on application of section. If a residence is purchased by the taxpayer prior to the date of the sale of the old residence, the purchased residence shall, in no event, be treated as a new residence if such purchased residence is sold or otherwise disposed of by him prior to the date of the sale of the old residence. And, if the taxpayer, during the period within which the purchase and use of the new residence must be made in order to have any gain on the sale of the old residence not recognized under this section, purchases more than one property which is used by him as his principal residence during the one year (or 18 months in the case of the construction of the new residence) succeeding the date of the sale of the old residence, only the last of such properties shall be considered a new residence. However, if the taxpayer's new residence is destroyed, stolen, seized, requisitioned, condemned, or sold or exchanged under the threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation within such year (or 18 months) succeeding the sale of the old residence, then, for the purpose of the preceding sentence, such year (or 18 months) is deemed to end on the date of the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, condemnation, sale, or exchange. If within one year prior to the date of the sale of the old residence, the taxpayer sold other property used by him as his principal residence at a gain, and any part of such gain was not recognized under this section, this section shall not apply with respect to the sale of the old residence. For the purpose of the preceding sentence, however, the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, condemnation, or sale or exchange under threat or imminence of requisition or condemnation shall not be considered as a sale. The following example will illustrate these rules:

Example (4). A taxpayer sells his old residence on January 15, 1951, and purchases a new residence on February 15, 1951. On March 15, 1951, he sells the new residence and purchases a second new residence on April 15, 1951. The gain on the sale of the old residence on January 15, 1951, will not be recognized except to the extent to which the taxpayer's selling price of the old residence exceeds the cost of purchasing the second new residence purchased on April 15, 1951. Gain on the sale of the first new residence on March 15, 1951, will be recognized. If, instead of selling the first new residence on March 15, 1951, such residence had been destroyed by fire on that date and insurance proceeds in cash had been received as a result thereof, the gain on the sale of the old residence on January 15, 1951, will not be recognized except to the extent to which the taxpayer's selling price of the old residence exceeds his cost of purchasing the new residence purchased on February 15, 1951. And, the gain on the involuntary conversion by fire of the first new residence on March 15, 1951, will not be recognized except to the extent to which the amount realized from such conversion exceeds the taxpayer's cost of purchasing the second new residence purchased on April 15, 1951.

(e) Statute of limitations. (1) Whenever a taxpayer sells property used as his principal residence at a gain, the statutory period prescribed in section 275 for the assessment of any deficiency attributable to any part of such gain will not expire prior to the expiration of three years from the date the officer, with whom the return for the taxable year or years in which the gain from the sale of the old residence is realized has been filed, is notified by the taxpayer (i) of the cost of purchasing the new residence which the taxpayer claims results in the nonrecognition of any part of such gain, or (ii) of the taxpayer's intention not to, or failure to, purchase a new residence within the period when such a purchase will result in the nonrecognition of any part of such gain. Such a deficiency may be assessed prior to the expiration of such three-year period notwithstanding the provisions of any other law or rule of law which might otherwise bar such assessment.

(2) Such notification shall be made in the return for the taxable year or years in which the purchase of the new residence occurs, or the intention not to make such a purchase is formed, or the period for the replacement expires if this return is filed with such officer. If this return is not filed with such officer, then such notification shall be made to such officer at the time of filing this return. If the taxpayer so desires, he may, in either event, also notify such officer prior to the filing of this return. Such notification shall contain all of the details in connection with the sale of the residence and, if applicable, the purchase of the new residence. If an intention not to replace is formed, or if the period for replacement expires, or if the cost of purchasing the new residence is less than the selling price of the old residence, the recognizable gain shall be included in the gross income for the taxable year or years in which such gain was realized; a recomputation in the form of an "amended return" should be made for this purpose if necessary.

(f) Members of Armed Forces. (1) The running of the one-year (or 18 months in the case of the construction of the new residence) period, specified in paragraph (a) of this section, after the sale of the old residence within which the purchase and use of a new residence may result in the nonrecognition of gain on such sale shall be suspended during any time that the taxpayer serves on extended active duty in the Armed Forces of the United States after the date of the sale of the old residence and before January 1, 1954. Any such period as so suspended, however, shall not extend beyond the date four years after the date of the sale of the old residence. For example, if the taxpayer is on extended active duty with the army from January 1, 1951, to December 31, 1953, and if he sold his old residence on January 1, 1951, the latest date on which the taxpayer may use a new residence constructed by him and have any part of the gain on the sale of the old residence not recognized under this section is January 1, 1955, the date four years after the date of the sale of the old residence.

(2) This suspension covers not only the Armed Forces service of the taxpayer but if the taxpayer and his same spouse used both the old and the new residences as their principal residence, then the extension applies in like manner to the time the taxpayer's spouse is on extended active duty with the Armed Forces of the United States.

(3) The time during which the running of the period is suspended is part of such period. Thus, construction costs during such time are includible in the cost of purchasing the new residence under paragraph (b) (5) of this section.

(4) The running of the one-year (or 18 month) periods referred to in paragraph (d) of this section is not suspended, nor is the running of the one-year period prior to the date of the sale of the old residence within which the new residence may be purchased in order to have gain on the sale of the old residence not recognized under this section.

(5) The term "extended active duty" means any period of active duty which is served pursuant to a call or order to such duty for a period in excess of 90 days or for an indefinite period. If the call or order is for a period of more than 90 days, it is immaterial that the time served pursuant to such call or order is less than 90 days, if the reason for such shorter period of service occurs after the beginning of such duty. As to what constitutes active service as a member of the Armed Forces of the United States, see § 29.22 (b) (13)–2. As to who are members of the Armed Forces of the United States, see § 29.3797–11.

(2) Section 113 (a) (9) (relating to basis of property acquired as a result of involuntary conversions) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "This paragraph shall not apply in respect of property acquired as a result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion of property used by the taxpayer as his principal residence if the destruction, theft, seizure, requisition, or condemnation of such residence, or the sale or exchange of such residence under threat or imminence thereof, occurred after December 31, 1950."

SEC. 2. Paragraph (9) of section 113 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to unadjusted basis of property acquired as the result of an involuntary conversion) is hereby amended by striking out "section 112

(f)" and inserting in lieu thereof "section 112 (f) (1) or (2)", and by adding at the end of such paragraph the following new sentence: "In the case of property purchased by the taxpayer which resulted, under the provisions of section 112 (f) (3), in the nonrecognition of any part of the gain realized as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion, the basis shall be the cost of such property decreased in the amount of the gain not so recognized; and if the property purchased consists of more than one piece of property, the basis determined under this sentence shall be allocated to the purchased properties in proportion to their respective costs."

SEC. 3. The amendments made by the first two sections of this Act shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years ending after December 31, 1950, except that the provisions of section 112 (f) (3), and the provisions of section 113 (a) (9), of the Internal Revenue Code as amended by this Act shall also be applicable to any taxable year ending prior to January 1, 1951, in which (a) any gain was realized upon the conversion of property and the disposition of such converted property occurred (within the meaning of such section 112 (f) (3)) after December 31, 1950, or (b) the basis of property is affected by an election made under the provisions of section 112 (f) (3) of such code.

PAR. 7. Section 29.113 (a) (9)–1 is hereby amended as follows:

(A) By inserting immediately after the words "The provisions of" therein the following "the first sentence of", and by inserting after the word "Example" therein the following "(1)".

(B) By adding at the end thereof the following:

The provisions of the last sentence of section 113 (a) (9) may be illustrated by the following example:

Example (2). A taxpayer realizes $22,000 from the involuntary conversion of his barn; the adjusted basis of the barn to him was $10,000, and he spent $20,000 for a new barn which resulted in the nonrecognition of $10,000 of the $12,000 gain on the conversion. The unadjusted basis of the new barn to the taxpayer would be $10,000—the cost of the new barn ($20,000) less the amount of the gain not recognized on the conversion ($10,000). The unadjusted basis of the new barn would not be a substituted basis in the hands of the taxpayer within the meaning of section 113 (b) (2) (B) and § 29.113 (b) (2)–1. If the replacement of the converted barn had been made by the purchase of two smaller barns which, together, were similar or related in service or use to the converted barn and which cost $8,000 and $12,000, respectively, then the basis of the two barns would be $4,000 and $6,000, respectively, the cost of each barn ($8,000 and $12,000) less in each case the proportion of the gain not recognized on the conversion ($10,000) that the cost of each barn bears to the cost of both barns $\left(\frac{8,000}{20,000} \text{ and } \frac{12,000}{20,000}\right)$.

(3) Section 113 (b) (1) (relating to adjusted basis of property) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new subparagraph:

PAR. 11. Section 29.117–4 is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following new paragraph (d):

Chapter XVII—Federal Civil Defense Administration

PART 1701—CONTRIBUTIONS FOR CIVIL DEFENSE EQUIPMENT

AMOUNT OF FEDERAL CONTRIBUTION; FEDERAL AND STATE PROCUREMENT

1. Section 1701.5 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1701.5 Amount of Federal contribution. Federal contributions for civil defense equipment may not exceed fifty percent of the total cost for such equipment: Provided, however, That such percentage may be varied for the Territory of Alaska.

2. Sections 1701.10 and 1701.11 are added to read as follows:

§ 1701.10 Federal procurement. The FCDA will normally procure civil defense equipment which has been recommended for Federal procurement in FCDA Manual M25–1, "Federal Contributions". If, however, FCDA authorization is given for the procurement of such equipment by the State (or political subdivision, if applicable), then the Federal contribution shall not exceed fifty percent of the estimated purchase price obtainable by FCDA at the time the application is approved.

§ 1701.11 State procurement. (a) The State will normally procure all civil defense equipment not recommended for Federal procurement. A project application involving State procurement may include the costs of transportation, installation, and non-Federal taxes (other than those imposed by the State government, or the political subdivision submitting the application). It may include Federal taxes only if an exemption therefrom cannot be obtained by the State or political subdivision. It may not include procurement or maintenance charges.

(b) Civil defense equipment specifications developed by the State, or political subdivision, shall comply with FCDA standards as established by FCDA specifications for such equipment. Where the State or political subdivision incorporates in its specifications details of design or construction, or equivalent requirements, which are based on a specific manufacturer's product, thereby restricting the specifications to that product and requiring design or construction changes by other manufacturers in order to meet the restrictions, such specifications shall be transmitted to FCDA, with a statement justifying the need for the restrictive requirement, for prior approval by FCDA before procurement may be undertaken.

(c) Procurement of civil defense equipment by the State (or political subdivision, if applicable) shall be in accordance with its statutes, regulations, and ordinances covering purchasing: Provided, That, in the absence of State or municipal statutes, regulations, or ordinances requiring that procurement of civil defense equipment be subject to bid procedure, all contracts for procurement of civil defense equipment which exceed $1,000 must be offered by public advertisement and awarded to the lowest responsible bidder unless the FCDA authorizes or prescribes otherwise.

This amendment shall be effective March 1, 1953.

Acting Administrator,
Federal Civil Defense Administration.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 1, Amdt. 7 to Revision 1]

CPR 1—NEW PASSENGER AUTOMOBILES

PRICING NEW PRODUCTS; TOOLING COSTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 1, Revision 1, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Section 10 of Ceiling Price Regulation 1, Revision 1, provides the procedure for establishing ceiling prices for new automobiles and new items of extra, special or optional equipment. In general, the ceiling price of the new product is determined by applying to costs of producing the new product, the profit markup currently realized on the sale of a similar product. A manufacturer is required to submit a report of his current costs of producing both the new product and the comparison product. In the case of items of extra, special or optional equipment, OPS Public Form 149 is provided for this purpose. In reporting their costs, manufacturers have failed to include as a current cost for producing the comparison product, original unit tooling cost, where their tooling costs have been partially or completely amortized at the time of application. As a result, an important element in establishing the ceiling price of the comparison product is omitted and a higher profit markup is indicated. Applying this higher profit markup to the new product artificially enhances its ceiling price. Successive pricing of new products which are based on these markups, may result in substantial distortions of the ceiling prices of the new products.

Accordingly, this amendment to section 10 of Ceiling Price Regulation 1, Revision 1, specifically requires a manufacturer applying for the establishment of a ceiling price for a new automobile, to show his original unit tooling cost and to include such cost in determining his profit markup for the comparison automobile. Similarly, in the case of new items of extra, special or optional equipment, a manufacturer will state on OPS Form 149, his original unit tooling cost of the comparison product.

In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives, to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 1, Revision 1, is amended in the following respects:

1. Subparagraph 3 of section 10 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(3) A description of the automobile which you manufacture and consider most similar to the new automobile and for which you have a ceiling price, a detailed statement of your total unit costs as of the date of your application pursuant to this section, including your direct materials and labor costs, factory overhead, selling, and general and administrative expenses (if any of these costs are estimated this must be indicated, with the basis for arriving at your estimate), your original tooling cost of the comparison item, and the ceiling price to each class of purchaser as of the time the application is submitted, for the similar automobile.

2. Section 10 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) New extra, special or optional equipment. If you produce any item of extra, special or optional equipment not produced or sold by you on the date of the issuance of this regulation, you must file your proposed ceiling price on OPS Form 149 in duplicate. In completing that form you must show in section 4, in the 4th line designated by "tool amortization (c)" under the column for comparison item, your original unit tooling cost. These forms must be sent by registered mail to the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Fifteen days after receipt of these forms by that Office, you may sell at your proposed ceiling price unless you have been notified that your proposed ceiling price has been disapproved.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective February 19, 1953.

[General Overriding Regulation 23, Amdt. 6]

GOR 23—TERRITORIAL EXEMPTIONS

EXEMPTIONS IN ALASKA, HAWAII, THE VIRGIN ISLANDS, AND THE COMMONWEALTH OF PUERTO RICO

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 6 to General Overriding Regulation 23 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The President of the United States has announced that he does not intend to ask for a renewal of price control authority on April 30, 1953, when the present legislation expires. He has stated that in the meantime steps will be taken to eliminate controls in an orderly manner. The Office of Price Stabilization has been instructed to proceed accordingly.

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 23 is one of the actions by which OPS is carrying out that instruction.

GOR 23 was issued to provide a single listing of exemptions and suspensions of price control in the territories and possessions of the United States. Insofar as exemptions, pursuant to the orderly elimination of controls, affect only the territories and possessions of the United States, they will appear as amendments to this General Overriding Regulation.

This amendment exempts from price control, the following:

(1) All sales of meals, food items, and beverages, by restaurants, and eating and drinking establishments, in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, but not in the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico.

(2) All sales in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico of pulp, paper, paperboard, and allied commodities and services.

(3) All sales in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, of fats and oils, including shortening, lard, salad oils and dressings, mayonnaise, and margarine.

Section 2.2 contains a list of regulations applicable only in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, or in one of these areas, which have been revoked. Although, in some instances, some or all of the commodities or services covered by the regulations may have already been exempted from price control, this list will be brought up to date from time to time to provide a convenient listing of territorial regulations which have been revoked and, at least as to certain territories, are no longer applicable.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultations with industry representatives were impracticable and unnecessary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 23 is amended in the following respects:

1. Delete Article II and substitute the following new Article II therefor:

ARTICLE II—REVOCATIONS OF REGULATIONS

SEC. 2.1 What this article does. This article revokes all regulations indicated, and all amendments thereto or revisions thereof hitherto issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, and exempts from price control the sales formerly covered by the revoked regulations.

SEC. 2.2 Revocations. The regulations listed in this section and all amendments thereto, revisions thereof, and orders thereunder, hitherto issued by the Office of Price Stabilization, are revoked, except as indicated. This revocation exempts the sales formerly covered by the following regulations from price control:

(4) Ceiling Price Regulation 128.

SEC. 2.3 Records. If you were required by any regulation to which this Article of this General Overriding Regulation applies, to preserve any records, you shall continue to preserve, and make available for examination by the OPS or any other authorized agency of the United States, in the manner and for the period set forth in that regulation, all such records which you were required, by the regulation, to have immediately prior to the date that regulation was revoked.

2. Delete Article III and substitute the following new Article III therefor:

ARTICLE III—EXEMPTIONS

SEC. 3.1 What this article does. This article exempts the sale, in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, of the commodities indicated in this article, from price control, and exempts the rates, fees, and charges for the supply of the services indicated from price control.

SEC. 3.2 Exemption of commodities. Sales of the commodities listed in this section, in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, are hereby exempted from price control:

(b) Fats and oils, including shortening, lard, salad oils and dressings, margarine.

(c) All pulp, paper, paperboard, and allied commodities and services.

SEC. 3.3 Exemption of services. The rates, fees, and charges for the supply of the services listed below, in Alaska, Hawaii, the Virgin Islands, and the Commonwealth of Puerto Rico, are hereby exempted from price control:

SEC. 3.4 Records. If you were required by any regulation covering a commodity or service exempted in this article, to preserve any records, you shall continue to preserve, and make available for examination by the OPS or any other authorized agency of the United States, in the manner and for the period set forth in that regulation, such records as you were required to have as to that commodity or service immediately prior to the date the commodity or service was exempted.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

The regulations contained in this part are applicable to determinations of industries of a seasonal nature for the purpose of section 7 (b) (3) of the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended. This section provides a partial exemption from the overtime provisions of the act "for a period or periods of not more than fourteen workweeks in the aggregate in any calendar year in an industry found by the Administrator to be of a seasonal nature."

Notice is hereby given that the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division proposes to revise the regulations contained in this part in the manner set forth below. The purpose of the revision is principally to clarify certain procedural requirements and also to include in the regulations the standards which will be applied in making seasonal industry determinations. The proposed revision in § 526.3 (b) would make it possible for certain industries to qualify which previously could not qualify because they do not cease operations or do not cease for a sufficiently long annual period. Thus, this section would now make it possible for the exemption under section 7 (b) (3) to apply to industries which handle or prepare agricultural commodities in their raw or natural state, provided they receive 50 percent of their annual volume in not more than 14 workweeks.

Interested persons may, within 15 days from date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER submit to the Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C., data, views and comments relative to the proposed revised regulations.

The proposed revised regulations are as follows:

Sec.
526.1 Statutory provisions.
526.2 Meaning of industry.
526.3 Industry to which the exemption is applicable.
526.4 Application for determination.
526.5 Amendment and revocation of existing determinations.
526.6 Procedure upon application for determination or proposal for amendment or revocation of an existing determination.
526.7 Procedure where application for determination is set for hearing.
526.8 Petition for reconsideration.
526.9 Petition for review.
526.10 Notice of final determination.
526.11 Petition for amendment of regulations.

§ 526.1 Statutory provisions. The provisions of section 7 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, providing a seasonal industry exemption from the overtime pay requirements of the act are as follows:

Section 7 (a). Except as otherwise provided in this section, no employer shall employ any of his employees who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce for a workweek longer than forty hours, unless such employee receives compensation for his employment in excess of the hours above specified at a rate not less than one and one-half times the regular rate at which he is employed.

(b) No employer shall be deemed to have violated subsection (a) by employing any employee for a workweek in excess of that specified in such subsection without paying the compensation for overtime employment prescribed therein if such employee is so employed—

* * * * *

(3) For a period or periods of not more than fourteen workweeks in the aggregate in any calendar year in an industry found by the Administrator to be of a seasonal nature, and if such employee receives compensation for employment in excess of twelve hours in any workday, or for employment in excess of fifty-six hours in any workweek, as the case may be, at a rate not less than one and one-half times the regular rate at which he is employed.

§ 526.2 Meaning of "industry." (a) The term "industry" as used in this part means a trade, business, industry, or branch thereof, or group of industries in which individuals are gainfully employed.

(b) In determining whether the operations for which exemption is sought constitute an industry or a separable branch of an industry, the following factors, among others, may be considered: The extent to which the activity carried on and the products under consideration are distinguishable from other activities and products, the geographical locations of the operations, the comparability of techniques and physical facilities with those found in other situations, the extent of integration with other operations, the extent of segregation of employees performing the operations involved, established classifications in the industry, and any competitive factors involved.

§ 526.3 Industry to which the exemption is applicable. The exemption for an industry of a seasonal nature is applicable to:

(a) An industry which:

(1) Engages in the handling, extracting, or processing of materials during a season or seasons occurring in a regularly, annually recurring part or parts of the year not substantially greater than six months; and

(2) Ceases production, apart from work such as maintenance, repair, clerical, and sales work, in the remainder of the year because of the fact that, owing to climate or other natural conditions, the materials handled, extracted, or processed, in the form in which such materials are handled, extracted, or processed, are not available in the remainder of the year; or

(b) An industry which:

(1) Engages in the handling, preparing, packing or storing of agricultural commodities in their raw and natural state; and

(2) Receives for handling, preparing, packing or storing 50 percent or more of the annual volume in a period or periods amounting in the aggregate to not more than 14 workweeks.

§ 526.4 Application for determination. Any industry, or employer, or employer group therein, may make written application to the Administrator for a determination that the industry is of a seasonal nature. The application shall state the facts and reasons relied upon to show that the employer or employer group making application is a part or the whole of an industry which meets the conditions set forth in § 526.3. Preferential consideration will be given to applications filed by groups or organizations which are deemed to be representative of the interests of a whole industry or branch thereof.

§ 526.5 Amendment and revocation of existing determinations. (a) Any interested party may submit a written petition to the Administrator for amendment or revocation of any existing determination. The petition shall set forth the facts and reasons relied upon to support the amendment or revocation requested.

(b) The Administrator may at any time amend or revoke any existing determination on his own motion. To the extent applicable, the procedures set forth in §§ 526.6 to 526.10 shall be followed.

§ 526.6 Procedure upon application for a determination or proposal for amendment or revocation of an existing determination. (a) Upon consideration of the facts and reasons stated in an application, the Administrator may, without further proceedings, deny the application on the ground that it fails to allege facts entitling the industry to an exemption as a seasonal industry, or in the case of an application for amendment or revocation of an existing determination, that it fails to allege facts which sustain the action requested.

(b) Upon consideration and investigation of the facts and reasons stated in an application, the Administrator may either (1) set the application or other proposed action for hearing before the Administrator or his authorized representative; or (2) notify the applicant of, and publish in the FEDERAL REGISTER a preliminary determination that a prima facie case for the granting of an exemption or for amendment or revocation of an existing determination has been shown. In the event that the Administrator determines that a prima facie case for exemption, amendment, or revocation has been shown, the Administrator for a period of 15 days following the publication of his preliminary determination will receive objection and request for hearing from any person interested, including but not limited to employees, employee groups, and employee labor organizations, within the industry or industries affected. Upon receipt of objection and request for hearing, the Administrator will set the application for hearing before the Administrator or an authorized representative. If no objection and request for hearing is received within 15 days, the Administrator will make a finding upon the prima facie case. The exemption, amendment, or revocation shall become effective 30 days after publication of the finding in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or at such time prior thereto as may be provided therein upon good cause found and published therewith.

§ 526.7 Procedure where application for determination is set for hearing. (a) One combined hearing may be held on two or more applications presenting related issues of fact or law.

(b) A notice of the time, place, and scope of a hearing upon an application will be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER at least five days before the date of such hearing.

(c) All persons interested, including employees, employee groups, employee labor organizations, employers, employer groups, and trade associations, within the industry affected, and designated subordinates of the Administrator, will be afforded an opportunity to present evidence and to be heard.

(d) The Administrator may issue a subpoena for attendance at such hearings to any party upon request and upon a showing of general relevance and reasonable scope of the evidence sought. The Administrator may, on his own motion, or that of his authorized representative, cause to be brought before him or his authorized representative any witness whose testimony he deems material to the matters in issue.

(e) The Administrator or his authorized representative, as the case may be, shall make a finding and determination upon the record made at the hearing. Any determination made by the Administrator himself shall be final. If the finding and determination is by an authorized representative of the Administrator, the further procedure set forth in §§ 526.8 to 526.10 is applicable.

§ 526.8 Petition for reconsideration. Where the hearing is had before an authorized representative of the Administrator any person aggrieved by the finding of such representative may within 15 days after the action of such representative make application to the authorized representative for reconsideration of his finding if it can be shown that there is additional evidence which would materially affect the decision and that there were reasonable grounds for failure to adduce such evidence in the original proceeding. If the authorized representative grants an application for reconsideration, all interested parties will be afforded an opportunity to present their views either in support of or in opposition to the matters prayed for in the application for reconsideration. Upon publication of the reconsidered determination, or affirmation of the original determination, all interested persons may within 15 days thereafter file a petition for review, as provided in § 526.9. If an application for reconsideration is denied, any person aggrieved by the denial may within 15 days after publication file a petition for review as provided in § 526.9.

§ 526.9 Petition for review. (a) Where a hearing is had before an authorized representative of the Administrator, any person aggrieved by the finding of such representative may, within 15 days after the publication of such finding, and without following the procedure set forth in § 526.8, file a petition for review by the Administrator of the action of the representative upon the record of the hearing. The petition shall state the supporting reasons for the requested action.

(b) The Administrator may deny a petition for review upon examination of the petition. Notice of such denial shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(c) If no petition for review is filed within 15 days, or if the Administrator denies a petition for review, the finding and determination of the authorized representative shall become final.

(d) Where a petition for review is granted, all interested parties will be afforded an opportunity to present arguments in support of or in opposition to the matters prayed for in the petition. Appropriate notice concerning presentation of arguments shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The Administrator shall make his final determination upon review of the record.

§ 526.10 Notice of final determination. (a) Where the final determination is that the industry is of a seasonal nature within the meaning of § 526.3 or that amendment or revocation is warranted, the determination, amendment or revocation shall become effective 30 days after publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, or at such time prior thereto as may be provided therein upon good cause found and published therewith. If the determination is that the industry is not of a seasonal nature, appropriate notice shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

§ 526.11 Petition for amendment of regulations. Any person wishing a revision of any of the terms of §§ 526.1–526.10 may submit in writing to the Administrator a petition setting forth the changes desired and the reason for proposing them. If, after consideration of the petition, the Administrator believes that reasonable cause for amendment of the regulations is set forth, he shall either schedule a hearing, with due notice to interested parties, or shall make other provision for affording interested parties an opportunity to present their views, both in support of and in opposition to the proposed changes.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 17th day of February 1953.

Administrator, Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 34, Supplementary Regulation 44]

SR 44—DRY CLEANING IN THE CITY OF SPOKANE, WASHINGTON

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Supplementary Regulation 44 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This Supplementary Regulation 44 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 permits an increase in ceiling prices for dry cleaning services furnished at wholesale and retail by sellers located in the City of Spokane, Washington. A previous ceiling price increase granted to power laundries in the City of Spokane did not include dry cleaning services.

An OPS study of operating costs and profit margins of a representative number of dry cleaning service sellers in the City of Spokane, Washington accounting for approximately 80% of the total volume of sales of these services, which amounted to $1,500,000 in 1951, reveals that they are suffering an impairment of their pre-Korean earnings as a result of increased labor and material costs.

The action taken herein gives effect to the standards for individual price adjustment contained in section 20 (a) of Ceiling Price Regulation 34 and permits the minimum increase necessary to maintain the financial stability of these dry cleaning service sellers and assure continued supply of these essential services.

Under the provisions of this supplementary regulation, ceiling prices of sellers of dry cleaning services may be increased by 5 percent, such adjustment to be applied to the total amount of each invoice rendered to the customer and identified as the "OPS permitted price increase". If this method is used to apply the amount of the increase, the seller need not make the supplementary filing required by section 18 (c) of Ceiling Price Regulation 34. At the option of the dry cleaning service seller, however, the flat ceiling price for each article may be increased by 5 percent. Adjusted flat ceiling prices must, within 10 days after their determination, be filed with the appropriate OPS district office as required by section 18, as amended, of Ceiling Price Regulation 34. Express authority is granted to make necessary changes in OPS posters.

In the future, sellers subject to this supplementary regulation may not obtain an adjustment of their ceiling prices for dry cleaning services at wholesale and retail under section 20 of Ceiling Price Regulation 34. Any adjustment of ceiling prices under section 20 of Ceiling Price Regulation 34 heretofore granted is automatically revoked as of the effective date of this supplementary regulation.

In the formulation of this supplementary regulation, the Director has consulted insofar as practicable with representative suppliers of these services, including representatives of trade associations, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the increases permitted by this supplementary regulation are necessary to effectuate the purpose of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

Sec.
1. Purpose.
2. Relationship to Ceiling Price Regulation 34.
3. Adjustment of ceiling prices.

SEC. 2. Relationship to Ceiling Price Regulation 34. All provisions of Ceiling Price Regulation 34 except as affected by the provisions of this supplementary regulation shall remain in effect.

SEC. 3. Adjustment of ceiling prices. You may, to the extent you supply dry cleaning services at wholesale or retail from locations in the City of Spokane, Washington increase your ceiling prices for the dry cleaning services thus supplied by 5 percent, by either of the following methods:

(a) You may apply such an adjustment to the total amount of each invoice rendered to the customer provided you shall clearly write or stamp on each such invoice beside the adjustment the words "OPS permitted price increase". If you use this method of applying your price increase, you need not make the supplementary filing required by section 18 (c) of Ceiling Price Regulation 34.

(b) You may, in lieu of the method provided in paragraph (a) of this section, increase by 5 percent the ceiling price of each dry cleaning service article. Within 10 days after your prices are established under this paragraph you must prepare and file with your district office of the Office of Price Stabilization a supplemental statement as required under section 18, as amended, of Ceiling Price Regulation 34 and must change your OPS poster prices or prepare and display a new poster to reflect the price increase permitted by this supplementary regulation. You may not establish prices under paragraph (a) of this section once you have elected to establish prices under this paragraph.

(c) If the price increase computed in paragraph (a) or (b) of this section results in a fraction of a cent, the price increase must be decreased to the next lower cent if the fractional cent is less than one-half cent, or may be increased to the next higher cent if the fraction is one-half cent or more.

SEC. 4. Application of section 20 of Ceiling Price Regulation 34. No seller of dry cleaning services at wholesale or retail subject to this supplementary regulation may, after the effective date of this regulation, obtain an increase in his ceiling prices for such dry cleaning services under either section 20 (a), (b) or (c) of Ceiling Price Regulation 34. All orders establishing ceiling prices of any seller of dry cleaning services subject to this supplementary regulation issued under either section 20 (a), (b) or (c) of Ceiling Price Regulation 34 are hereby revoked upon the effective date of this regulation.

SEC. 5. Definitions. (a) "Dry cleaning services" as used in this supplementary regulation means services rendered in the cleaning of garments and other items primarily with fluids other than water and includes pressing.

Effective date. This Supplementary Regulation 44 to Ceiling Price Regulation 34 shall become effective February 24, 1953.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 156, Amdt. 2]

CPR 156—FABRICATED STRUCTURAL STEEL, MISCELLANEOUS AND ORNAMENTAL IRON, AND VESSEL SHOP PRODUCTS FOR FIELD ASSEMBLY OR ERECTION

CLARIFYING AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 156 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR) 156 clarifies the coverage of that regulation in certain respects.

Pursuant to its section 1 (b) (1), CPR 156 covers all sales by a fabricator of fabricated structural steel, miscellaneous and ornamental iron, and vessel shop products for field assembly or erection. The term "fabricated structural steel, miscellaneous and ornamental iron and vessel shop products," is defined in the initial paragraph of Appendix A. As amended by Amendment 1, that definition specifically excludes "any standardized product lines, or any products made to the fabricator's specifications, sold from established price lists, or made on a production line basis." Information received by OPS indicates that the quoted exclusory clause created some confusion in the industry. Therefore, it is amended and amplified by this amendment.

One class of products covered by CPR 156 is listed in Appendix A as "Structural steel, light, architectural and miscellaneous iron work * * *." It was not intended to exclude from that class products made of non-ferrous metals, nor was it intended to exclude ornamental metal work which does not qualify as architectural metal work. The description of that class of products is amended accordingly.

After the description of the class of products quoted above, Appendix A lists certain specific products included in that class. To eliminate confusion, that list of specific products is supplemented by this amendment by the addition of other products such as metal joists (open and solid web), studding, partitions, metal roof deck, siding, and windows.

Of course, all these products are covered by CPR 156 only if they meet the requirements of the initial paragraph of Appendix A, that is, if they are custom-engineered and custom-fabricated for field assembly or erection. The fabrication may be performed by independent fabricators, or by producers of mill products or standardized product lines. In the latter case it is necessary to determine (under the applicable OPS regulation) the ceiling price of the mill product or standardized product for sale to an independent fabricator; and in determining the current costs of the fabricated product under CPR 156 the fabricator may not employ, as cost of the mill product or standardized product, a figure in excess of that ceiling price. This requirement follows from the intended meaning of the second sentence of section 3 (b) (2) of CPR 156 which reads: "If you use material obtained from your own production facilities, you may not employ, in determining your current costs, a price in excess of the ceiling price applicable to the sale of such material to an independent fabricator." To remove any possible doubt, this amendment indicates by way of an explanatory insertion that the word "material" in the quoted provision includes mill products and standardized products.

In the formulation of this amendment there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 156 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 (b) (2) is amended by inserting in the second sentence between the words "material" and "obtained" the words: "(including any mill product or standardized product)." That sentence will read: "If you use material (including any mill product or standardized product) obtained from your own production facilities, you may not employ, in determining your current costs, a price in excess of the ceiling price applicable to the sale of such material to an independent fabricator."

2. The last sentence of the first paragraph of Appendix A, as amended, is deleted and the following is added in its place:

Also not included are standard products made to the fabricator's specifications, usually sold from established price lists and made on a production line basis.

(1) The term "standard products made to the fabricator's specification" refers to products built on a repetitive basis to the fabricator's designs without respect to any specific application, the fabricator determining all requirements for production, including selection of materials, the design formula and allowable stresses; such products can be fabricated in advance of sale without necessity of approval of the design or engineering details by the purchaser before sale.

(2) The term "sold from established price lists" refers to sales on the basis of established price lists which are made available through distribution to prospective buyers for their use in purchasing the products listed.

(3) The term "made on a production line basis" refers to quantity production of products which do not have job identification, as opposed to products made on job orders.

3. The item in Appendix A beginning "Structural steel, light, architectural and miscellaneous iron work * * *" is amended to read as follows:

Structural steel, light, ornamental and other metal work. This includes angle irons, fire escapes, balconies, marquees, stairs, bank fixtures, expansion joint or load transferring devices, ladders, walkways and platforms, railings, metal joists (open and solid web), open metal flooring, studding, partitions, metal roof deck and siding, and windows, excluding mill products and standardized product lines.

Effective date. This Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 156 is effective February 24, 1953.

Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-46, Amendment 1 of February 24, 1953]

M-46—PRIORITIES ASSISTANCE FOR THE PETROLEUM AND GAS INDUSTRIES IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA

AMENDMENT OF DELIVERY ORDER FILING REQUIREMENT

This amendment to NPA Order M-46 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued under the authority of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. Consultation with industry representatives in advance of issuance of this amendment has been rendered impracticable due to the fact that it applies to all branches of the petroleum and gas industries.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

This amendment affects NPA Order M-46 as last amended September 30, 1952, by removing the requirement that delivery orders must be filed for information and by reducing the number of delivery orders for materials other than controlled materials which must be filed for approval. These changes are made by revising section 8 and Schedule E.

1. Section 8 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 8. Filing of delivery orders—(a) Introductory. To obtain priorities assistance, certain delivery orders must be filed for approval. Where a delivery order must be filed for approval, the order must be submitted in duplicate, and an operator may not use any of the priority assistance of this order until there has been returned to him an approved copy of the order. In every instance where a delivery order is submitted for approval, an operator shall prepare a statement of the reasons why assistance is required, containing the following information: (1) the price, quantity, and a detailed description of the material required, including the weight, if controlled material (carbon and alloy steel in tons; copper, aluminum, and stainless steel in pounds); (2) the branch of industry in which the material will be used (see section 2 (e) of this order); (3) the number and date of the delivery order; (4) the date at which delivery must be made or has been promised by the suppliers; (5) the reasons why timely delivery cannot be effected without the assistance requested; (6) the relationship of the materials to operations (specific or actual end use); and (7) the circumstances which justify assistance in the interests of national defense. This statement in duplicate should be submitted with, or as part of, the delivery order. A delivery order need not be filed for approval if priority assistance has been authorized on Forms PAD 15, 17, 17 DP, 26, or 26 LP.

(b) Filing for approval. The following delivery orders must be filed for approval: (1) Any delivery order for controlled material if it is in a total amount specified in Item I of Schedule E of this order; and (2) any delivery order for other than controlled material if it is in a total amount specified in Item II of Schedule E.

(c) Limitation on use of self-authorization for construction operations. Delivery orders not listed in paragraph (b) of this section need not be filed for approval. Notwithstanding this privilege of self-authorization, no petroleum or gas operator may obtain by self-authorization, for any small construction operation, more than 25 tons of carbon and alloy steel including all types of structural shapes (but not to include more than 2½ tons of alloy steel and no stainless steel) per project per quarter.

2. Schedule E is amended to read as follows:

SCHEDULE E OF NPA ORDER M-46—DOLLAR AMOUNTS OF DELIVERY ORDERS TO BE FILED AS PROVIDED IN SECTION 8

Item I: $500 or more.
Item II: $7,500 or more, or $2,500 or more for any line item, as defined in this order.

This amendment shall take effect February 24, 1953.

SECTION 1. What this direction does. The purpose of this direction is to provide rules for the acquisition and use of carbon conversion steel without allotments. The direction provides that the only finished carbon conversion steel which may be obtained by petroleum and gas operators without allotments is finished carbon conversion steel for use in approved construction projects. The effect of this is to require that finished carbon conversion steel in the form and shape of oil country tubular goods continue to be acquired only by allotments. "Finished carbon conversion steel" has the same meaning as in CMP Regulation No. 1, Direction 19.

SEC. 2. Applicability of other orders. No operator shall acquire any finished carbon conversion steel, including such steel in the form and shape of oil country tubular goods, pursuant to the provisions of Direction 19 to CMP Regulation No. 1, as amended, or Direction 7 to Revised CMP Regulation No. 6, as amended.

SEC. 3. Carbon conversion steel for construction operations. (a) Any operator who has received authorization from the Petroleum Administration for Defense to commence construction of a petroleum or gas project on Form PAD-26 together with a related allotment of carbon steel for the third calendar quarter of 1952, the fourth calendar quarter of 1952, the first calendar quarter of 1953, or the second calendar quarter of 1953, may use the allotment symbol identifying such allotment to order for delivery in each of such quarters, for each such approved project, up to 500 tons of finished carbon conversion steel without charging the related allotment, and use such steel in such project.

(b) To obtain authorization to acquire in excess of 500 tons of finished carbon conversion steel in any such calendar quarter for any such project, as provided in paragraph (a) of this section, without charging the related allotment, or to obtain authorization to acquire finished carbon conversion steel in any amount for any other construction project without charging the related allotment, a domestic operator shall make application to the Petroleum Administration for Defense, Washington 25, D. C., and a Canadian operator shall make application to the Petroleum Division, Department of Defence Production, Toronto, Canada. Such application shall describe and state the tonnage of the semifinished and finished conversion product and the name and address of the supplier and the finishing plant.

SEC. 4. Orders for carbon conversion steel. Any person who is authorized to acquire and use finished carbon conversion steel pursuant to section 3 of this direction, may place authorized controlled material orders for such steel with the finished conversion steel producer, and such producer may accept and fill such orders if they will not interfere with production directives and other directives which may be issued from time to time to such steel producer by NPA, or with the acceptance and filling of orders which such steel producer is required to accept pursuant to any regulation or order of NPA. The person ordering such steel shall make his own arrangements for obtaining the semifinished carbon conversion steel with the original ingot producer, or the finished conversion steel producer. In arranging to purchase the semifinished carbon conversion steel from an original ingot producer or an intermediate producer, such person shall furnish to such original ingot producer or intermediate producer a certification in the following form:

Certified Under Direction 5 to NPA Order M-46

which shall be signed as provided in section 8 of NPA Reg. 2. This certification shall constitute a representation to the original ingot producer or intermediate producer and to NPA that such person is authorized to place such order under the provisions of this direction to obtain the quantity of semifinished conversion steel covered by the delivery order, for conversion into finished conversion steel, and that he will furnish an authorized controlled material order to the finished conversion steel production. Notwithstanding the provisions of any NPA regulation or order, a producer of semifinished carbon conversion steel may deliver semifinished carbon conversion steel pursuant to such a certification: Provided, however, That such delivery shall not interfere with production directives and other directives which may be issued from time to time to such steel producer by NPA, or with delivery on orders which such steel producer is required to accept pursuant to any regulation or order of NPA.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This direction as amended shall take effect February 24, 1953.

SEC. 3. Hereafter, each cadet appointed to the United States Military Academy and each midshipman appointed to the United States Naval Academy shall, if a citizen or national of the United States, sign articles, with the consent of his parents or guardian if he be a minor, and if any he have, by which he shall engage, unless sooner discharged by competent authority—

(1) To complete the course of instruction at said Academy; and

(2) If tendered an appointment as a commissioned officer in the Regular Army or Regular Air Force upon graduation from the United States Military Academy, or in the Regular Navy or Regular Marine Corps or Regular Air Force upon graduation from the United States Naval Academy, to accept such appointment and to serve under such appointment for not less than three consecutive years immediately following the date of graduation; and

(3) In the event of the acceptance of his resignation from a commissioned status in the Regular component of such armed service prior to the sixth anniversary of his graduation, or in the event of an appointment in such Regular service not being tendered, to accept a commission which may be tendered him in the Reserve component of such Regular service and not to resign from such Reserve component prior to such sixth anniversary.

NOMINATIONS AND APPOINTMENTS

§ 710.3 Allowance of nominations. The Vice President and each Senator, Representative, and Delegate in Congress are allowed a maximum of 5 midshipmen at the Naval Academy at any one time. A maximum of 5 midshipmen is allowed for the District of Columbia and each year 75 may be appointed from the United States at large. The appointments from the District of Columbia and 75 each year at large are made by the President. The appointments of midshipmen at large are given by the President to the sons and adopted sons of officers and enlisted personnel of the Regular Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force and Coast Guard for the reason that officers and enlisted personnel, owing to the nature of their duties, are unable to establish permanent residence and thus be in a position to secure nominations for their sons from their Senators and Representatives. Stepsons are not eligible for these appointments. Adopted sons must have been adopted prior to having reached the age of 15 years in order to be eligible. All these candidates are required to take either the substantiating examination or the regular mental examination in competition with each other, the 75 passing highest in the examination receiving the appointments. Applications should be addressed to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, and should give the full name, date of birth, home address, and present address of the candidate, the full name and rank or rating of his parent, and in case of an adopted son evidence should be submitted as to date of adoption. In the event that the quota of midshipmen authorized by law to be appointed annually to the Naval Academy from (a) enlisted men of the United States Navy and Marine Corps, (b) enlisted men of the Naval Reserve or Marine Corps Reserve, or (c) by the President at large, is not filled, the Secretary of the Navy may fill the vacancies in such quota by appointing other candidates, from any other of such sources, who were found best qualified on examination for admission into the Academy and not otherwise appointed. The vacancies from the District of Columbia are filled by competitive examination of candidates residing in the District. The selection of candidates, by competitive examination or otherwise for nomination for vacancies in the quota of Senators, Representatives, and Delegates in Congress is entirely in the hands of each Senator, Representative, and Delegate in Congress having a vacancy; and all applications for appointments or inquiries relative to competitive examinations should be addressed accordingly.

§ 710.4 Additional appointments—(a) Appointments by competitive examination from the regular Navy and Marine Corps. (1) The law authorizes the appointment of 160 enlisted men each year, to be selected as a result of a competitive examination given enlisted men of the regular Navy and Marine Corps who are not more than 22 years of age on July 1 of the year it is desired to enter and who were enlisted in the Navy or Marine Corps on or before July 1 of the preceding year. The mental and physical requirements for these candidates are the same as for other candidates for midshipmen. Briefly, the service requirements are: That the applicant must have enlisted on or before July 1 of the year preceding his possible admission to the Academy. The competitive examinations will commence the last Wednesday in March of each year and will consist of either the substantiating examination or the regular entrance examination, eligibility for the substantiating examination being contingent upon the candidate's presenting an acceptable secondary school certificate. Enlisted men who can fulfill the requirements as to age and length of service should make known to their commanding officers early in their enlistments their desire to become candidates for admission to the Naval Academy. The initial selection steps directed by the Bureau of Naval Personnel usually begin in the spring of each year to determine eligibility for assignment to the United States Naval Preparatory School convening in September. Only men assigned to this school are eligible to compete for appointment to the Naval Academy by the Secretary of the Navy. In the event that the quota of midshipmen authorized by law to be appointed annually to the Naval Academy from (i) enlisted men of the United States Navy and Marine Corps, (ii) enlisted men of the Naval Reserve or Marine Corps Reserve, or (iii) by the President at large, is not filled, the Secretary of the Navy may fill the vacancies in such quota by appointing other candidates, from any other of such sources, who were found best qualified on examination for admission into the Academy and not otherwise appointed. Enlisted men failing in the examinations for midshipmen will be required to serve out their terms of enlistment.

(2) For further information in regard to enlisting in the Navy, candidates should apply to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.

(b) Appointments from the enlisted men of the Naval Reserve and the Marine Corps Reserve. (1) The law authorizes the Secretary of the Navy to appoint each year not more than 160 midshipmen, to be selected as a result of competitive examination of enlisted men of the Naval Reserve and the Marine Corps Reserve, hereinafter referred to as the Reserve. In the event that the quota of midshipmen authorized by law to be appointed annually to the Naval Academy from (i) enlisted men of the United States Navy and Marine Corps, (ii) enlisted men of the Naval Reserve or Marine Corps Reserve, or (iii) by the President at large, is not filled, the Secretary of the Navy may fill the vacancies in such quota by appointing other candidates, from any other of such sources, who were found best qualified on examition for admission into the Academy and not otherwise appointed.

(2) Candidates must be citizens of the United States, must not be more than 22 years of age and have been members of the Reserve for one year by July 1, of the year of entrance to the Naval Academy. In addition, candidates must be members of a unit of the Organized Reserve or members of the Volunteer Reserve in drill status, be recommended by their commanding officers, have maintained efficiency in drill attendance with their Reserve units, and must meet the same mental and physical requirements as other candidates for appointment to the Naval Academy.

(3) Men in Reserve classes NROTC, NACP, and aviation cadet program, are not eligible to enter from the enlisted quotas.

(4) For further information regarding details of enlistment and service thereafter, candidate should apply to the nearest Navy Recruiting Station.

(c) Appointments from among the sons of deceased officers, soldiers, sailors, and marines of the World War. (1) An act of Congress approved November 24, 1945 (59 Stat. 586; 34 U. S. C. 1036a), authorizes that the number of midshipmen now authorized by law at the United States Naval Academy be increased by 40 from the United States at large, to be appointed by the President from among the sons of members of the land or naval forces (including male and female members of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Coast Guard, and of all components thereof) of the United States, who were killed in action, or have died, or may hereafter die, of wounds or injuries received, or disease contracted, or preexisting injury or disease aggravated, in active service during World War I or World War II (as each is defined by laws providing service-connected compensation or pension benefits for veterans of World War I and World War II and their dependents): Provided, That the determination of the Veterans' Administration as to service connection of the cause of death shall be binding upon the Secretary of the Navy: Provided, further, That all such appointees are otherwise qualified for admission: And provided further, That the appointees under this act shall be selected in order of merit as established by competitive examination. (This law enacted while U. S. Air Force was part of U. S. Army. Therefore, it is construed to include U. S. Air Force.)

(2) No recommendation or endorsement from any source is necessary. All applications for appointment or for further information should be addressed to the Chief of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, D. C. Full name and date of birth of applicant should be given; also full name, rank, and date of death of his parent.

(d) Appointments from Puerto Rico. One midshipman is allowed from Puerto Rico, who must be a native of that island. The appointment is made by the President, on the recommendation of the Governor of Puerto Rico. At present, five midshipmen are also allowed from Puerto Rico, appointed on the nomination of the Resident Commissioner.

(e) Appointments from among the honor graduates of educational institutions which are designated as "honor schools" by the War Department, or by the Navy Department, and the members of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps. (1) An act of Congress approved June 6, 1941 (55 Stat. 246; 34 U. S. C. 1033a), authorizes the Secretary of the Navy to appoint not more than 20 midshipmen annually to the Naval Academy from among the honor graduates of educational institutions which are designated as "honor schools" by the War Department or by the Navy Department in accordance with regulations established by the Secretary of the Navy, and from among members of the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

(2) The 20 appointments authorized in the act of June 6, 1941, will be made as a result of competitive examinations to commence the last Wednesday in March of each year. These examinations will be open to candidates selected in accordance with subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. The Secretary of the Navy has approved the establishing of separate competing groups with a maximum of 10 appointments being allowed from the honor military school nominees and 10 from the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps nominees except that in the event less than 10 qualify for appointment from either group the quota of that group may be filled by appointment of excess qualified nominees from the other group. The examinations will consist of either the substantiating examination or the regular entrance examination, eligibility for the substantiating examination being contingent upon the candidate's presenting an acceptable secondary school certificate.

(3) The candidates for the competitive examination outlined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph will be selected in accordance with the following:

(i) The Navy Department will obtain a list of "honor schools" from the War Department each year, and three honor graduates as defined by the Army Regulations may be designated each year by the head of each such school; similar action will be taken in the case of the three honor graduates designated by the head of each "honor school" selected by the Navy Department. The candidates from these "honor schools" whose standing indicates that they will be honor graduates of said schools in June of the year in which the examination will be held will also be eligible to be nominated as candidates from such schools to compete in the examination, but will not be considered for appointment in case they do not fulfill the requirements which would entitle them to be honor graduates at the time of their graduation.

(ii) Three candidates may be nominated each year by the president of each of the educational institutions in which a Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit is established. Each such candidate must be a regularly enrolled contract student in the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps and must have completed a minimum of 1 year's scholastic work in that corps at the time of entrance to the Naval Academy.

(iii) All students nominated as candidates in accordance with subdivisions (i) and (ii) of this subparagraph must meet the requirements as to age, moral qualifications, etc., as set forth in this part.

(iv) The examinations outlined in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph are the only mental examinations required for entrance into the United States Naval Academy, and examination papers will be marked on a competitive basis. The 10 candidates in each group passing this mental examination with the highest rating will, if physically qualified, be appointed in order of their standing on the list. In case of failure of any of these candidates to pass physically, the candidates passing the examination with a standing below that of the first 10 on each competitive list will be called for physical examination in the order of their mental standing to fill the vacancies caused by physical failure or rejection for any other reason of candidates who have qualified mentally above them on the list.

(f) Appointment from Canal Zone. An act of Congress approved June 8, 1939 (53 Stat. 814; 34 U. S. C. 1035a), provides that there shall be at the United States Naval Academy one midshipman to be selected from among the sons of civilians residing in the Canal Zone and the sons of civilian employees of the United States Government and the Panama Railroad Co. residing in the Republic of Panama, whose appointment shall be made by the Secretary of the Navy on the recommendation of the Governor of the Panama Canal.

(g) Qualified alternates and qualified competitors. An act of Congress approved June 30, 1950 (64 Stat. 305; 34 U. S. C. 1049), provides that when upon determination that upon the admission of a new class to the United States Naval Academy, the total number of midshipmen will be less than the number authorized, the Secretary of the Navy may within his discretion and within the capacity of the Academy nominate additional midshipmen to be admitted in such class in such number to meet the needs of the armed services, but not to exceed the authorized strength of the brigade of midshipmen, from qualified candidates holding alternate appointments and other qualified candidates holding competitive appointments from the remaining sources of admission authorized by law recommended and found to be qualified by the Academic Board of the Academy, at least two-thirds of those so appointed to be from among qualified alternate candidates nominated by the Vice President, Members of the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States, Delegates and Resident Commissioners, the Commissioners of the District of Columbia, and the Governor of the Panama Canal, and not more than one-third of those so appointed to be from among qualified candidates holding competitive appointments from sources authorized by law other than those holding such alternate appointments. This law provides that these appointments shall be in addition to and not in lieu of appointments otherwise authorized by law. The only candidates eligible for consideration under this law are those who were found mentally and physically qualified for admission under alternate or competitive nominations from authorized sources in the year for which they are being considered under the provisions of this act. Special application for consideration is unnecessary because the Academic Board at the Naval Academy will automatically review and classify in order of merit the available records of all candidates in this category in each year that additional admissions are possible.

(h) Appointments from among the sons of persons who have been or shall hereafter be awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor. (1) An act of Congress approved November 24, 1945 (59 Stat. 586; 34 U. S. C. 1038), provides that the number of midshipmen authorized by law enacted prior to the enactment of this act at the United States Naval Academy, be increased by such number as may be appointed by the President from the United States at large from among the sons of persons who have been or shall hereafter be awarded a Medal of Honor in the name of Congress for acts performed while in any of the armed forces of the United States: Provided, That all such appointees are otherwise qualified for admission.

(2) No recommendation or endorsement from any source is necessary. All applications for appointment or for further information should be addressed to the Chief of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, D. C. Full name and date of birth of applicant should be given; also full name and rank of person awarded medal.

(i) Appointments from American Republics (other than the United States) and Canada. An act of Congress approved July 14, 1941 (55 Stat. 589; 34 U. S. C. 1036–1), as amended by an act approved June 1, 1948 (Pub. Law 564, 80th Cong.; 62 Stat. 279), provides that the Secretary of the Navy is authorized to permit, upon designation of the President of the United States, not exceeding 20 persons at a time from the American Republics (other than the United States) and Canada to receive instruction at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. Not more than three persons from any one of such Republics, or Canada, shall receive instruction under authority of this act at the same time. The persons receiving instruction under authority of this act shall receive the same pay, allowances, and emoluments, to be paid from the same appropriations, and subject to such exceptions as may be determined by the Secretary of the Navy, shall be subject to the same rules and regulations governing admission, attendance, discipline, resignation, discharge, dismissal, and graduation as midshipmen at the Naval Academy appointed from the United States; but such persons shall not be entitled to appointment to any office or position in the United States Navy by reason of their graduation from the Naval Academy. Application for appointment under the provisions of this law must be addressed to the appropriate naval official of the applicant's country. The following regulations are established for candidates from American Republics (other than the United States) and Canada:

(1) Each such candidate must:

(i) Be an unmarried, bona fide male citizen of the country transmitting the request, be not less than 17 years of age nor more than 22 years of age on July 1 of the calendar year in which he enters the Naval Academy.

(ii) Possess physical qualifications as specified in this part. All candidates must undergo a physical examination and a physical aptitude examination by a board of medical examiners designated by the Chief of Naval Personnel. The formal physical examination of candidates from other American Republics and the Dominion of Canada will be conducted by the Permanent Medical Examining Board at the United States Naval Academy at the time of reporting for admission. Such candidates are therefore urged to undergo careful preliminary examination by qualified medical personnel informed of the physical requirements set forth in §§ 710.53 and 710.54 before leaving their homes for the Naval Academy. Those with obviously disqualifying defects may be spared the needless expense of the trip to Annapolis. However, in case of reasonable doubt as to whether defects are disqualifying it is recommended that telegraphic inquiry be addressed to the Superintendent, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., U. S. A.

(iii) Be proficient in reading, writing, and speaking idiomatic English and meet the same mental entrance requirements as are required of citizens of the United States except as noted under subparagraph 3 of this paragraph. The requirements for citizens of the United States are contained in §§ 710.26 to 710.50.

(2) Candidates may qualify for admission under any of the following three methods:

(i) Certificates from accredited secondary schools and colleges of the United States of America.

(ii) Certificates from accredited secondary schools of the United States of America and on substantiating examination.

(iii) Regular entrance examination.

(3) The regular entrance examination will be modified as follows with respect to English and history:

(i) Candidates from the American Republics will be given an examination in English similar to that required of a citizen of the United States except that no questions will be asked on English and American literature. These candidates will not be given the examination in United States history. In lieu of the examinations in English and American literature and in United States history, the candidate shall submit a certificate from his Government that he is conversant with the literature and history of his native country and that he has:

(a) In literature, completed a course in the literature of his native language equivalent in general to 2 years of secondary school work in literature in the United States.

(b) In history, completed a course in the history of his native country equivalent in general to a 1-year history course in the secondary schools of the United States.

(c) In lieu of these two certifications, a candidate from an American Republic may produce evidence of having acquired the units for literature and/or United States history from accredited schools of the United States.

(ii) Candidates from Canada will not be examined in United States history but must meet the same requirement in English as a citizen of the United States. In lieu of the examination in United States history, a candidate from Canada will be required to submit a certificate of equivalent study (a 1-year secondary school course) of the history of Canada, or produce evidence of having acquired the unit for United States history from accredited schools of the United States.

(4) Regular or substantiating examinations for entrance into the United States Naval Academy may be taken either in the United States or in the candidates' respective native countries. In the latter case, the mental examinations will be taken under the supervision of the naval attaché or, in the event no naval attaché is accredited to the country, a diplomatic representative of the United States, and he shall in the cases of all candidates from other American Republics furnish a report as to the candidates' proficiency in the use of idiomatic English.

(5) Each Government concerned should submit the names of candidates as early as possible in order that they may qualify for entrance during the month of March and enter the Naval Academy in July except in the cases of candidates attending secondary schools and college in the United States whose school records for the current year are essential to fulfillment of admission requirements. In this case candidates may be granted until June 25 in order to permit completion of the required certificates. The nomination of the candidate should contain a statement of the method of admission under which he wishes to qualify.

(6) In lieu of the oath of allegiance to the United States, a substitute oath will be required, in substance as follows:

I, ----------, a citizen of ----------, age ------ years ------ months, having been appointed a midshipman at the United States Naval Academy, do solemnly swear to comply with all regulations for the police and discipline of the Academy, and to give my utmost efforts to accomplish satisfactorily the required curriculum; do swear not to divulge any information of military value which I may obtain, directly or indirectly, in consequence of my presence at the United States Naval Academy, to any alien government; and do agree that I shall be withdrawn from the United States Naval Academy if deficient in conduct, health, or studies.

(7) Notification shall be made to each foreign government concerned that students found by proper authority to be unsatisfactory in conduct, studies, or health would be accorded the same consideration given other midshipmen regarding withdrawal from the Academy, or repetition of a year's work.

(j) Appointments from the Republic of the Philippines. An act of Congress approved June 24, 1948 (Pub. Law 752, 80th Cong.; 62 Stat. 583), provides that the Secretary of the Navy is authorized to permit, upon designation of the President of the United States, not exceeding four Filipinos at a time to receive instruction at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. The Filipinos receiving instruction under authority of this act shall receive the same pay, allowances, and emoluments, to be paid from the same appropriations, and, subject to such exceptions as may be determined by the Secretary of the Navy, shall be subject to the same rules and regulations governing admission, attendance, discipline, resignation, discharge, dismissal, and graduation, as midshipmen at the Naval Academy appointed from the United States; but such persons shall not be entitled to appointment to any office or position in the United States Navy by reason of their graduation from the Naval Academy. The following regulations are established for candidates from the Republic of the Philippines:

(1) Each such candidate must:

(i) Be an unmarried, bona fide male citizen of the Republic of the Philippines, be not less than 17 years of age nor more than 22 years of age on July 1 of the calendar year in which he enters the Naval Academy.

(ii) Possess physical qualifications as specified in this part. All candidates must undergo a physical examination and a physical aptitude examination by a board of medical examiners designated by the Chief of Naval Personnel. The formal physical examination of candidates from the Republic of the Philippines will be conducted by the Permanent Medical Examining Board at the United States Naval Academy at the time of reporting for admission. Such candidates are therefore urged to undergo careful preliminary examination by qualified medical personnel informed of the physical requirements set forth in §§ 710.53 and 710.54 before leaving their homes for the Naval Academy. Those with obviously disqualifying defects may be spared the needless expense of the trip to Annapolis. However, in case of reasonable doubt as to whether defects are disqualifying, it is recommended that telegraphic inquiry be addressed to the Superintendent, U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., U. S. A.

(iii) Be proficient in reading, writing, and speaking idiomatic English and meet the same mental entrance requirements as are required of citizens of the United States except as noted under subparagraph 3 of this paragraph. The requirements for citizens of the United States are contained in §§ 710.26 to 710.50.

(2) Candidates may qualify for admission under any of the following three methods:

(i) Certificates from accredited secondary schools and colleges of the United States of America.

(ii) Certificates from accredited secondary schools of the United States of America and on substantiating examination.

(iii) Regular entrance examination.

(3) The regular entrance examination will be modified as follows with respect to English and history:

(i) Candidates from the Republic of the Philippines will be given an examination in English similar to that required of a citizen of the United States except that no questions will be asked on English and American literature. These candidates will not be given the examination in United States history. In lieu of the examinations in English and American literature and in United States history, the candidate shall submit a certificate from his government that he is conversant with the literature and history of his native country and that he has:

(a) In literature, completed a course in the literature of his native language equivalent in general to 2 years of secondary school work in literature in the United States.

(b) In history, completed a course in the history of his native country equivalent in general to a 1-year history course in the secondary schools of the United States.

(c) In lieu of these two certificates, a candidate from the Republic of the Philippines may produce evidence of having acquired the units for literature and/or United States history from accredited schools of the United States or of the Republic of the Philippines.

(4) Regular or substantiating examinations for entrance into the United States Naval Academy may be taken either in the United States or in the Philippines. In the latter case, the mental examination will be taken under the supervision of a naval representative or, in the event no naval representative is accredited to the country, a diplomatic representative of the United States, and he shall in the case of each candidate furnish a report as to the candidate's proficiency in the use of idiomatic English.

(5) The Philippine Government should submit the names of candidates as early as possible in order that they may qualify for entrance during the month of March and enter the Naval Academy in July except in the cases of candidates attending secondary schools and colleges in the United States whose school records for the current year are essential to fulfillment of admission requirements. In this case, candidates may be granted until June 25 in order to permit completion of the required certificates. The nomination of the candidate should contain a statement of the method of admission under which he wishes to qualify.

(6) In lieu of the oath of allegiance to the United States, a substitute oath will be required, in substance as follows:

I, _____, a citizen of _____, aged _____ years _____ months, having been appointed a midshipman at the United States Naval Academy, do solemnly swear to comply with all regulations for the police and discipline of the Academy, and to give my utmost efforts to accomplish satisfactorily the required curriculum; do swear not to divulge any information of military value which I may obtain, directly or indirectly, in consequence of my presence at the United States Naval Academy, to any alien government; and do agree that I shall be withdrawn from the United States Naval Academy if deficient in conduct, health, or studies.

(7) Notification shall be made to the Philippine Government that students found by proper authority to be unsatisfactory in conduct, studies, or health would be accorded the same consideration given other midshipmen regarding withdrawal from the Academy, or repetition of a year's work.

§ 710.5 Selection of candidates by Members of Congress; by Secretary of the Navy. "Hereafter the Secretary of the Navy shall, as soon as possible after the 1st day of June of each year preceding the graduation of midshipmen in the succeeding year, notify in writing each Senator, Representative, and Delegate in Congress of any vacancy that will exist at the Naval Academy because of such graduation, or that may occur for other reasons, and which he shall be entitled to fill by nomination of a candidate and one or more alternates therefor. The nomination of a candidate and alternate or alternates to fill said vacancy shall be made upon the recommendation of the Senator, Representative, or Delegate, if said recommendation is made by the 4th day of March of the year following that in which said notice in writing is given, but if it is not made by that time the Secretary of the Navy shall fill the vacancy by appointment of an actual resident of the State, congressional district, or Territory, as the case may be, in which the vacancy will exist, who shall have been for at least two years immediately preceding the date of his appointment an actual and bona fide resident of the State, congressional district, or Territory in which the vacancy will exist and of the legal qualification under the law as now provided. In cases where by reason of a vacancy in the membership of the Senate or House of Representatives, or by the death or declination of a candidate for admission to the academy, there occurs or is about to occur at the Academy a vacancy for any State, district, or Territory that cannot be filled by nomination as herein provided, the same may be filled as soon thereafter and before the final entrance examination for the year as the Secretary of the Navy may determine." (Act approved June 29, 1906, 34 Stat. 578; 34 U. S. C. 1041.)

§ 710.6 Residence of candidates. (a) Candidates allowed for States, congressional districts, Territories, and the District of Columbia must be actual residents of such States, congressional districts, Territories, or District of Columbia, respectively, from which they are nominated. (R. S. 1517, as amended; 34 U. S. C. 1045.)

(b) The number of alternates that may be nominated for any one vacancy for midshipman shall be restricted to three. Alternates are given the privilege of reporting for mental examination at the same time with the principal. In lieu of a principal and three alternates, four candidates may be nominated to take the regular entrance examination on a competitive basis, the one passing highest to receive the principal appointment. Regardless of method of qualifying mentally the number of candidates designated for any one vacancy must be limited to four.

§ 710.7 Inquiries relative to appointments and competitive examinations. (a) The selection of candidates, by competitive examination or otherwise, for nomination from any congressional district, is entirely in the hands of the Member of Congress entitled to make the nomination, and all applications for appointment or inquiries relative to competitive examinations should be addressed to the Congressman representing the congressional district in which the vacancy exists.

(b) As soon as nominated, a copy of these entrance regulations will be forwarded direct to each candidate in order that he may be fully informed regarding service requirements and the mental and physical qualifications of candidates. A syllabus of the first year's work at the Naval Academy is shown in Appendix A, following § 710.67, to enable each candidate to spend his time profitably at his local school and thus be better prepared to pursue the course at the Naval Academy after appointment.

(c) The Naval Academy entrance examinations, both substantiating and regular, are held commencing the last Wednesday in March of each year. The United States Naval Academy aptitude test, which is required of all candidates, is given on the first day of the entrance examinations. (See § 710.51.) However, it is the policy of some Senators and Representatives to have the United States Civil Service Commission hold special competitive examinations at times other than as stated, for the purpose of enabling them to select their nominees. These special competitive examinations have no bearing upon the candidates' mental qualifications for admission as midshipmen, as the Naval Academy requirements must also be met. All of the details concerning the special competitive examinations are handled by the Senator or Representative concerned and the United States Civil Service Commission in Washington, and correspondence relative thereto should be addressed accordingly.

COURSE OF INSTRUCTION AND DISPOSITION OF MIDSHIPMEN AFTER GRADUATION

§ 710.8 Course of instruction. The course for midshipmen is of 4 years' duration. Instruction, drills, and exercises are designed to provide them with a basic education and knowledge of the naval profession and to prepare them for the duties of a junior line officer of the Navy. High and exacting academic standards prevail. Only candidates who are equipped to assimilate rapidly, who possess retentive memories, and are capable of intense application may reasonably expect to complete the course.

§ 710.9 Disposition after graduation. Graduates of the Naval Academy who at graduation meet all requirements are commissioned as ensigns in the Navy and from each graduating class a limited number may be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps and in the United States Air Force. Their commissions may be revoked at any time during the first 3 years following graduation from the Naval Academy. On successful completion of the probationary period, officers are permanently commissioned. Officers whose commissions are revoked shall be discharged from the service, without advance pay or allowances.

AGE, MORAL, AND CITIZENSHIP REQUIREMENTS; MARRIAGE

§ 710.10 Age limits; citizenship. (a) All candidates are required to be citizens of the United States and must be not less than 17 years of age nor more than 22 years of age on July 1 of the calendar year in which they enter the Naval Academy. (64 Stat. 304; 34 U. S. C. 1047.)

(b) If the candidate has not reached his seventeenth birthday on or before July 1, or if he will have reached his twenty-second birthday on or before July 1 of the calendar year in which he expects to enter the Naval Academy, he will be ineligible for admission.

§ 710.11 Moral character. Candidates must be of good moral character. No candidate who has been dismissed in accordance with the act of Congress of April 9, 1906, (34 Stat. 104; 34 U. S. C. 1062) or who is permitted to resign in lieu of dismissal, shall be reappointed or allowed to reenter the Naval Academy.

§ 710.12 Marital status. No person who is married, or who has been married, shall be admitted as a midshipman to the Naval Academy. Midshipmen shall not marry, and any midshipman who becomes married or who is found to be married shall be recommended for discharge.

METHODS OF ADMISSION

§ 710.13 When candidates may be mentally examined. "All candidates for admission into the Academy shall be examined according to such regulations and at such stated times as the Secretary of the Navy may prescribe. Candidates rejected at such examination shall not have the privilege of another examination for admission to the same class unless recommended by the board of examiners." (Rev. Stat., sec. 1515; 34 U. S. C. 1043.) (This refers to mental examinations.)

mission to the Naval Academy will be held only in March of each year. The examinations will begin on the last Wednesday in that month. The substantiating examination will be completed in 2 days whereas the regular entrance examination will require 2½ days. A United States Naval Academy aptitude test, which requires no special preparation, will be included with each type of examination. Those candidates who intend to qualify for admission by the college certificate method will be required to take the United States Naval Academy aptitude test on the last Wednesday in March. (College certificate candidates who do not receive nominations in time to take the aptitude test on the last Wednesday in March will be given the test after their arrival at the Naval Academy if otherwise qualified for admission as midshipmen.) The examinations will be under the supervision of the United States Civil Service Commission, at points named in the accompanying list. All those qualifying mentally and physically, who are entitled to appointment, in order of nomination, will be notified by the Bureau of Naval Personnel when to report to the Academy for appointment as midshipman.

§ 710.15 Separate methods for mental qualifications. There are three separate and distinct methods of qualifying mentally for admission to the Naval Academy and candidates are required to indicate the method by which they propose to qualify on a special form which will be provided by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. This information is essential as it is necessary that arrangements be made for mental examinations when required.

(c) Regular entrance examination. § 710.40.

§ 710.16 College certificate method. Only noncompetitive candidates can utilize the college certificate method (certificate only) of qualifying. All candidates, however, must take the United States Naval Academy Aptitude Test—a test that requires no special preparation. There is no prescribed passing score on the aptitude test but a candidate who does not present acceptable secondary school or college credit in physics or chemistry will be required to demonstrate by performance in the "U. S. Naval Academy Aptitude Test" his capacity to pursue studies along engineering and scientific lines. This test will be given at the same time and at the same places it is given to candidates taking the regular and substantiating examinations. (See § 710.14 and § 710.51.) Candidates accepted for admission to the Naval Academy under the college certificate method whose appointments were made too late to take the "United States Naval Academy Aptitude Test" in March will take it after admission. Any other candidate, regardless of the source of his nomination, who can present an acceptable secondary school certificate, the requirements for which are outlined elsewhere in this part, will be eligible to take the substantiating examination in algebra, plane geometry, and English. The only exception to this statement would occur in case a Member of Congress specified that his nominees take the full regular entrance examination. Those candidates who cannot present acceptable secondary school certificates may qualify only by passing the regular entrance examinations in all of the subjects listed in § 710.40. Secondary school and college credits may be combined to establish an acceptable secondary certificate. In determining the order of merit of successful candidates from any of the purely competitive sources such as Presidential nominees, those from the Navy and Marine Corps, those from the Naval and Marine Corps Reserves, those from honor military schools and Naval Reserve Officers' Training Corps units, etc., and those who are specifically required by the Member of Congress nominating them to take the Naval Academy entrance examinations on a competitive basis, the arithmetic average of the three marks received in algebra, plane geometry, and English will be used. Candidates who must also submit to examination in United States History must receive at least a passing mark in that subject but it will not be used in determining relative standing in competitive lists.

§ 710.17 Review work where candidate has failed. (a) In case a candidate has failed on either the regular examination or the substantiating examination and submits a certificate subsequent to such failure, the following determines the consideration of such certificates: "Credits claimed for subjects on a certificate by a candidate who has registered a failure in those subjects on a regular or substantiating examination cannot be allowed. To overcome the certain disallowance of such credits the submitted certificate must show that the subjects on which he failed have been reviewed at some duly accredited school subsequent to such failure. Such review work must be done in regular school course and the marks assigned must meet the requirements of the academic board." Postgraduate work in secondary school or college work in advanced related branches of the failed subject or subjects may be offered in lieu of review work.

(b) The academic board has established 60 clock hours of classroom work as its minimum for a half year's work in secondary school and 120 clock hours as its minimum for a full year's work. In regard to college work, the board requires approximately 50 clock hours, or 3 semester hours of credit, for a half year's work and 100 clock hours, or 6 semester hours, for a full year's work.

§ 710.18 Preparation of examination papers. The examination questions used in all examinations are prepared by the Educational Testing Service under the direction of the Naval Academy and the result for each candidate is finally passed upon by the academic board. No candidate shall be admitted unless in the opinion of the academic board, he shows the requisite mental qualifications. To aid the academic board in evaluating the candidate's demonstration of these requisite mental qualifications a United States Naval Academy aptitude test will be given to each candidate participating in the entrance examinations. There is no passing or failing score for the United States Naval Academy aptitude test and no one will be disqualified because of this test score alone unless he has failed to offer acceptable secondary school or college credit in physics or chemistry. Certification of such credit or of evidence that an acceptable course in either science is being pursued and scheduled for completion at the end of the current regular school year must be submitted to the Naval Academy on or before the last Wednesday in March.

§ 710.19 Limitation upon reexamination. A candidate who fails either the substantiating examination or the regular entrance examination and who is renominated for admission in a subsequent year must take the full regular entrance examination unless all requirements for the reestablishment of certificate credits are fulfilled.

§ 710.20 Renomination. Candidates who have successfully passed the regular entrance examination or who have qualified for admission by either of the certificate methods of qualifying mentally will not be required again to qualify mentally in the event of renomination. The only exceptions to this rule are as stated in § 710.21 and in cases in which candidates are required to compete for appointments.

§ 710.21 Requirements for second examination. Former midshipmen who may be nominated for readmission to the Naval Academy, and who were deficient in the academic work of the first year of the course at the time of separation, must take the United States Naval Academy aptitude test and requalify scholastically by passing the substantiating entrance examinations in English and mathematics.

§ 710.22 Correspondence relative to examinations. The Civil Service Commission merely conducts the examination of candidates whose names have been furnished by the Navy Department. All correspondence relative to the nomination and examination of candidates should be addressed to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

§ 710.23 Time of entrance. Candidates will be required to enter the academy immediately after passing the prescribed mental and physical examinations, or at such times as the Secretary of the Navy may designate. Normally, candidates are required to report for admission the first week in July. Notification of the date and hour of reporting will be issued each eligible candidate by the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

§ 710.24 No annual leave granted first year students. Annual leave of absence during the summer will not be granted to midshipmen of the fourth class (first year students).

§ 710.25 Submission of high school or college records. Immediately upon its acceptance of the nomination of a candidate, the Bureau of Naval Personnel will send him the Naval Academy certificate forms and other pertinent papers. The high school record, and college record, if any, should be submitted to the Naval Academy at the earliest practicable date on the appropriate certificate forms. Certificates should include all entries required by the form covering work that has been completed and should list subjects scheduled for completion in the current school year with information to indicate the ultimate credit value of each incomplete or proposed course. Regardless of whether or not a candidate is a high school graduate or whether or not he wishes to qualify by one or the other of the certificate methods, he should have his school records submitted. Such certificates will establish whether or not the candidate has or will have acceptable credit in physics or chemistry and will thus enable the academic board to determine the measure of performance to be required on the United States Naval Academy aptitude test. Acceptable evidence of credit in physics or chemistry must reach the Superintendent, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., on or before the last Wednesday in March in order for the candidate to be exempted from the requirement that he achieve the required level of performance on the aptitude test. This exemption may also be granted when it is shown that an acceptable course in physics or chemistry is in progress and is scheduled for completion at the end of the regular school year in which the entrance examination is taken.

METHODS OF QUALIFYING MENTALLY FOR ADMISSION; BASED ON CERTIFICATE ONLY

§ 710.26 When admission is based on certificate only. The academic board will consider and may admit without mental examination (except for the United States Naval Academy aptitude test, § 710.16) a candidate who presents a properly attested certificate (Form I) that he is or has been a regularly enrolled student in good standing without condition in a university, college, or technological school accredited by the United States Naval Academy, Provided, That:

(a) He submits also a properly attested certificate (Form II) that he has been graduated from an accredited secondary school, indicating that he has shown proficiency in 7 units of certain required subjects and in at least 8 units of optional subjects. These subjects are listed in § 710.41. If some of the necessary 15 units are lacking from the candidate's secondary school record, the deficiency may be made up by showing completion of acceptable college work in the lacking subject or subjects. College credits used for the purpose of making up deficiencies in the secondary school certificate must, however, be in excess of the minimum requirements for an acceptable college certificate.

(b) At the time of entry into the Naval Academy he will have satisfactorily completed a year's work in the university, college or technological school, with a minimum of 24 semester hours in English, natural science, social science, or languages, at least 6 of which shall be in college English and/or history, and 6 shall be in college mathematics, selected from such subjects as college algebra, plane trigonometry, analytical geometry, calculus, differential equations, etc.

(c) He has taken the United States Naval Academy aptitude test. (College certificate candidates who do not receive nominations in time to take the aptitude test on the last Wednesday in March may be given the test after their arrival at the Naval Academy if otherwise qualified for admission as midshipmen.)

(d) (1) If Form I shows low or barely passing grades, the candidate may be required to take the substantiating examination in mathematics and English.

(2) In the event that Form II is also unacceptable, the candidate will be required to take the regular entrance examination.

§ 710.27 Evaluation of courses. It is the policy of the Naval Academy to evaluate the courses offered in the college certificate in terms of semester hours. A semester hour of credit implies that, in addition to outside preparation, the subject has required one classroom recitation of approximately 1 hour in length each week for a semester of not less than 16 weeks; or one double-length laboratory or practical work period for the same length of time. In general, where this definition is approximated, it is the policy to abide by the credit values indicated by the certifying institutions.

§ 710.28 Length of college attendance. The length of college attendance prescribed is defined as requiring actual full-time attendance for one regular school year during which the candidate pursues courses constituting a normal year load. Deficiencies not in excess of nine semester hours of credit may be made up as the result of regular class work in extension classes of fully accredited colleges and universities provided such work is in excess of the normal year of college work. Extension classes are defined as classes which meet beyond regular day school hours. Under no circumstances will credit be allowed for correspondence or tutoring work or for a subject for which credit has been established as the result of an examination alone.

§ 710.29 Accredited colleges, universities, and technical schools. The Naval Academy does not maintain a restricted list of accredited colleges, universities, and technological schools. It accredits, for certification purposes, any of the standard colleges, universities, technological schools of collegiate rank and 2-year junior colleges that are fully and unqualifiedly accredited by the various State boards of education which prescribe collegiate standards in their respective states, or by any of the recognized accrediting agencies such as the Association of American Universities, the New England Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, the Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools of the Southern States, the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and the Northwest Association of Secondary and Higher Schools. In case of doubt as to the accredited status of the institution under consideration, specific inquiry should be addressed to the Superintendent, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., giving the name of the institution.

§ 710.30 Requirements for admission by qualifying certificates. (a) A nominee who contemplates qualifying by certificate only but who has not completed the required year of college work at the time of receipt of nomination for appointment should submit his high school record on the prescribed form and should have a preliminary college certificate (Form I) submitted showing the courses contemplated or in progress and the amount of credit in semester hours to be assigned for each course. For instance, a college certificate submitted at the end of the first semester should show the first semester grade for each course and should indicate the courses to be pursued during the second semester and the amount of credit to be assigned eventually for each. A certificate submitted prior to the receipt of any grades should indicate the courses to be pursued during the full school year and the credit value of each course.

(b) When review of a nominee's secondary school and college certificates discloses that the secondary record is acceptable and that the college record through the first semester or first two quarters meets requirements as to subjects studied and grades received with formal acceptance dependent only upon satisfactory completion of the final term's courses, tentative acceptance will be reported. Acceptance of the college certificate will become final upon receipt of a supplementary statement from the college registrar or other authorized official attesting satisfactory standing in studies and conduct during the final term. Further, it is not required that the college certificate be formally accepted by the academic board before the examination date of the last Wednesday in March.

(c) If an informal opinion is rendered which involves modification of the nominee's schedule of courses, or if the quality of his work is such that special additional requirements must be imposed, it will be the responsibility of the nominee to decide whether he is to take any mental examination other than the United States Naval Academy aptitude test. The decision of the nominee should depend upon his ability to effect such changes as may be necessary in his courses or, as the case may be, upon his own estimate of his ability to meet such other specific requirements as may have been imposed.

(d) If the supplementary statement cannot be mailed to the Naval Academy by June 25 and if the nominee receives from the Chief of Naval Personnel an authorization to report at the Naval Academy for admission before it is mailed, he must bring it with him and present it when he reports.

(e) It is the specific responsibility of each nominee to insure compliance with this limiting date, and failure to do so can conceivably result in cancellation of the nomination. A nominee who is an alternate has no ready means of knowing when he may become eligible for admission and should not be deterred from taking every possible step to insure submission of essential certificate papers. An incomplete record when a nominee becomes eligible for call can result in the conclusion that the individual has abandoned his candidacy.

(f) The nominee is encouraged to submit certificates prior to completion of the first term of the school year immediately preceding entrance to the Naval Academy. An early review of the record of completed work and of courses proposed for completion may reveal defects which can be offset by slight changes in the final semester schedule.

METHODS OF QUALIFYING MENTALLY FOR ADMISSION; BASED ON CERTIFICATE AND SUBSTANTIATING EXAMINATION

§ 710.31 When admission is based on certificate and substantiating examination. The academic board will consider and may admit a candidate: Provided, That:

(a) He submits a properly attested certificate (Form II) that he has been graduated from an accredited secondary school, indicating that he has shown proficiency in 7 units of certain required subjects and in at least 8 units of optional subjects. These subjects are listed in § 710.41. However, if some of the necessary 15 units are lacking from the candidate's secondary school record, the deficiency may be made up by transferring credits assigned for acceptable college work in the lacking subject or subjects to the secondary school record.

(b) The certificate is accepted by the academic board as evidenced that the candidate can pursue successfully the course at the Naval Academy.

(c) This evidence is further substantiated by the candidate's passing the entrance examinations in algebra, plane geometry, and English. The examination in these three subjects is known as the substantiating examination. The United States Naval Academy aptitude test will also be included with the substantiating examination. The scope of the subjects covered in the substantiating examination is given in §§ 710.46 to 710.49.

(d) Candidates whose certificates are rejected because of low grades or who for reasons mentioned in § 710.32 cannot qualify for admission to the Naval Academy by passing the substantiating examination have the right to demonstrate their qualifications by passing the regular entrance examination.

§ 710.32 Rejection of certificate. (a) If the certificate (Form II) submitted shows evidence of low grades, or of grades below the standards of acceptance set by higher institutions to which the certifying school is accredited, the certificate will be rejected.

(b) A certificate showing graduation at an irregular date will be rejected; that is, at a date other than the regular date set for the graduation of a class of which the applicant is a member.

(c) When the credits submitted have been obtained in more than one secondary school, it is advisable to have the credits and marks obtained at the previous school reported to the later school for incorporation in the final certificate. If this is impracticable, the candidate will be permitted to forward certificates from each institution to be judged together.

§ 710.33 Secondary school to stand as sponsor when certifying a candidate. The secondary school certifying a candidate stands sponsor for his success under conditions explained on the official Form II certificate, and it is expected that the responsible school authority will recommend only those candidates who, in his or her opinion, have the scholastic background needed to pursue successfully a difficult college course in which the emphasis is placed principally on engineering subjects; and who have those qualities of character necessary for success in an institution where training for effective leadership is of paramount importance.

§ 710.34 Definition of unit. In order to facilitate the comparison of credits submitted by various institutions, in fulfillment of admission requirements with one another, the academic board has given its approval to the following statement formulated by the National Conference Committee on Standards of Colleges and Secondary Schools descriptive of a unit of admission requirements:

A unit represents a year's study in any subject in a secondary school, constituting approximately a quarter of a full year's work. A 4-year secondary school curriculum should be regarded as representing not more than 16 units of work.

This statement is designed to afford a standard of measurement for the work done in secondary schools. It takes the 4-year high school course as a basis and assumes that the length of the school year is from 36 to 40 weeks, that a period is from 40 to 60 minutes in length and that the study is pursued for 4 or 5 periods a week; but under ordinary circumstances a satisfactory year's work in any subject cannot be accomplished in less than one hundred and twenty 60-minute periods or their equivalent. Schools organized on any other than a 4-year basis can, nevertheless, estimate their work in terms of this unit. Not more than 1½ units of credit can be allowed for work done in fully accredited night high schools or in fully accredited schools of comparable character where the classes meet other than in regular day school hours. No credit will be allowed in a certificate, or as evidence of review to offset low grades or a failure on the entrance examinations, for work done in correspondence courses, under a tutor, or in nonaccredited schools.

§ 710.35 Necessary requirements for acceptance of a certificate. The acceptance or rejection of a certificate will depend on the evidence it shows as to the thorough completion of the work submitted. The records made in the Academy by midshipmen admitted by certificate will influence the academic board in its future consideration of certificates submitted by the schools or colleges from which these midshipmen come. Final decision as to the acceptance or rejection of any certificate rests with the academic board. A certificate will not be formally considered unless submitted on one of the appropriate forms, except that official college transcript forms may be used for record of academic work when attached to Form I certificate. All work essential to the acceptance of the certificate or certificates must have been completed by the end of the regular school year in order to establish eligibility for admission to the Naval Academy in that year. Summer School work will not be accepted for entry in the year in which it is completed. High school and college certificates should be submitted to the Superintendent of the Naval Academy as early as practicable, and not later than June 25 for the class entering that year (§ 710.36). As soon as nominated each candidate will receive copies of the certificate forms from the Bureau of Naval Personnel. For additional forms, address the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.

§ 710.36 Submission of certificate in advance of graduation. (a) Certificate or certificates covering high school work still uncompleted will be reviewed informally and the nominee will be furnished a report of the academic board's action in his case. This report will indicate clearly necessary further steps, if any, on his part to complete his certificate papers. If certificates are fully acceptable and require no further evidence of school work, no other action on his part will be necessary with regard to school records and he will be so informed.

(b) A certificate submitted for a nominee who has additional subjects in a course for which final marks have not been assigned should indicate clearly the subjects that are still being pursued together with an average of the marks assigned in each subject in course at the time of the submission of the certificate.

§ 710.37 Decision as to which examination candidate will take. (a) If an informal opinion is rendered which involves modification of his schedule of courses or if the quality of his work is such that special additional requirements must be imposed, it will be the nominee's responsibility to decide whether to take the full regular entrance examination. The nominee's decision, naturally, should depend upon his ability to effect such changes as may be necessary in his courses or, as the case may be, upon his own estimate of his ability to meet such other specific requirements as may have been imposed.

(b) When review of the secondary school record reveals that subjects studied and grades received fulfill requirements and that formal acceptance of the certificate is dependent only upon successful completion of courses in progress in the final semester, tentative acceptance will be reported. In such case, acceptance of the certificate will become final upon receipt of a supplementary statement from the school attesting satisfactory standing in studies and conduct during the final semester. The statement must also include indication of eligibility for graduation and the secondary school diploma unless evidence of graduation was presented previously.

(c) If the supplementary statement cannot be mailed to the Naval Academy by June 25 and if the nominee receives from the Chief of Naval Personnel his authorization to report at the Naval Academy for admission before it is mailed, he must bring it with him and present it upon reporting.

§ 710.38 Responsibility of nominees. (a) It is the specific responsibility of each nominee to insure compliance with this limiting date, and failure to do so can conceivably result in cancellation of the nomination. A nominee who is an alternate has no ready means of knowing when he may become eligible for admission and should not be deterred from taking every possible step to insure submission of essential certificate papers. An incomplete record when a nominee becomes eligible for call can result in the conclusion that the individual has abandoned his candidacy.

(b) The nominee is encouraged to submit certificates prior to completion of the first term of the school year immediately preceding entrance to the Naval Academy. An early review of the record of completed work and of courses proposed for completion may reveal defects which can be offset by slight changes in the final semester schedule.

(c) As stated in § 710.37, the certificate action reports issued by the Naval Academy state clearly such ensuing steps on the nominee's part as may be necessary to complete his case. When in doubt, however, communications addressed to the Superintendent, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Maryland, will be answered as promptly as possible.

§ 710.39 Admission by certificate considered a privilege. Admission by either of the certificate methods is a privilege which the academic board may accord to those whom it considers, on the basis of school records presented, to be worthy of the exemptions allowed and to be capable of pursuing successfully the Naval Academy course.

METHODS OF QUALIFYING MENTALLY FOR ADMISSION; BASED ON REGULAR EXAMINATION

§ 710.40 When admission is based on regular examination. A candidate who cannot qualify under either of the methods described in §§ 710.26 to 710.39, that is, who cannot submit an acceptable certificate as required by one of those methods, can qualify mentally for admission to the Naval Academy if he passes an examination in each of the following subjects: Algebra, plane geometry, English and United States history. The examination in these four subjects is known as the regular examination. Deficiency in any one of these subjects will be sufficient to insure rejection of the candidate. § 710.44 Definition of English. The study of English in school has two main objects: (a) Command of correct and clear English, spoken and written; (b) ability to read with accuracy, intelligence, and appreciation; familiarity with a few masterpieces.

(a) Grammar and composition (one and one-half units). The first object requires instruction in grammar and composition. English grammar should ordinarily be reviewed in the secondary school; and correct spelling and grammatical accuracy should be rigorously exacted in all written work during the four years. The principles of English composition governing punctuation, the use of words, sentences, and paragraphs should be thoroughly mastered; and practice in composition, oral as well as written, should extend throughout the secondary school period. Written exercises should include letter writing, narration, description, and simple exposition and argument. It is advisable that subjects for this work be taken from the student's personal experience, general knowledge, and studies other than English, as well as from his reading in literature. Finally, special instruction in language and composition should be accompanied by concerted effort of teachers in all branches to cultivate in the student the habit of using good English in his recitations and various exercises, whether oral or written.

(b) Literature (one and one-half units). The second object is sought by the reading and study of English and American literature in a progressive course covering four years. The student should be trained to read aloud with expression and clarity and to read silently with swift comprehension. He should be encouraged to commit to memory some of the more notable passages both in verse and in prose. As an aid to literary appreciation he should be further advised to acquaint himself with the most important facts in the lives of the authors whose works he reads and with their place in literary history. The aim is to foster in the student the habit of intelligent reading and to develop a taste for good literature, by giving him a first-hand knowledge of some of its best specimens. He should read the books carefully, but his attention should not be so fixed upon details that he fails to appreciate the main purpose and charm of what he reads.

§ 710.45 Definition of history. (a) Ancient history, comprising the history of the ancient world and of Greece and Rome to the year 476 A. D. (One unit.)

(b) European history, including both medieval and modern. (One unit.)

PHYSICAL REQUIREMENTS

§ 710.52 Introduction. (a) All candidates for the Naval Academy must meet the physical standards established by the Secretary of the Navy. These standards are outlined in detail herein under the heading "Physical Standards and Disqualifying Defects."

(b) Physical examinations are divided into three categories: (1) Preliminary physical examination; (2) formal physical examination; and (3) physical reexamination. Each of these is discussed herein under the appropriate heading.

§ 710.53 Physical Standards and Disqualifying Defects—(a) General. Candidates are required to meet the physical standards outlined in the following paragraphs. Physical standards are established to secure uniformity in conducting physical examinations and in interpreting physical fitness of candidates for, and persons in, the naval service. The object is to procure and retain personnel who are physically fit and temperamentally adaptable to the conditions of military life. This is intended to preclude from acceptance, those individuals who present contagious or infectious disease which would be likely to endanger the health of other personnel, those who are likely to require repeated admissions to the sick list, prolonged hospitalization, or invaliding from service, and those who present any condition which would be likely to form the basis of a claim for physical retirement benefits. In order to eliminate preferential treatment to any individual or group of individuals, defects which are listed as disqualifying will not be waived and requests or recommendations that physical defects be waived shall not be submitted.

(1) Candidates will save valuable time and money (see paragraph on preliminary examinations) for themselves and the Government by procuring careful complete physical and dental examinations prior to reporting for their formal physical examinations in order that disqualifying defects such as cavities in teeth (cause for 90 percent of temporary rejection), hernia, etc., can be repaired.

(2) The candidate should insist that his medical and dental examiner fully inform him of all his physical defects and whether or not such defects are considered disqualifying for entrance to the U. S. Naval Academy.

(3) Since a history of having had certain illnesses which are recurrent and/or progressive in nature is disqualifying for entrance to the U. S. Naval Academy it is of paramount importance that the candidate inform the medical and dental examiner in detail of his past medical record. The candidate who fails to inform his examiner of his past medical record in order to gain entrance into the U. S. Naval Academy has not accomplished his goal if he must be discharged because of a recurrent or progressive disease subsequent to his entrance there. A number of examples of diseases which fall into the category under discussion are (i) allergies (asthma, severe hay fever, food allergy, contact allergy, urticaria, angioneurotic edema, bacterial allergy), (ii) abnormal sensitivity to physical agents (heat, cold, light), (iii) tuberculosis, (iv) diabetes, (v) dental diseases (advanced gingival diseases, rampant dental caries, marked malocclusion), (vi) psychic disturbances (psychoneuroses, psychoses, personality or behavior disorders), (vii) disease, derangement, or injury to major or weight-bearing bones or joints or their actuating and supportive musculature and its innervation, (viii) cardiovascular disorders (rheumatic fever or sequelae, hypertensive vascular disease, organic heart disease), (ix) chronic disease or absence of a thoracic or abdominal viscus, (x) carcinoma, et cetera.

(b) Medical history. In order to assist the examiner in conducting the physical examination, it is required that a careful history be obtained. An applicant for entry into the U. S. Naval Academy, upon reporting for examination, shall first be required to complete Standard Form 89 (Report of Medical History). The use of this form is not required in case of a candidate appearing before his own family physician and dentist. When used, the data on the completed form shall be reviewed, and elaborated upon by the examiner whenever it is necessary to present a more complete picture of the individual's medical history.

(c) Psychiatric disorders. The following conditions are causes for rejections:

(1) Psychotic disorders:
(i) Schizophrenic reactions.
(ii) Affective reactions.

(d) Weight, height, and miscellaneous considerations. (1) The applicant's weight should be well distributed and in proportion to age, height, and skeletal structure. The following table shall be used as a general guide.

Height (inches)	66	67	68	69	70	71	72	73	74	75	76
Weight (pounds):
Minimum	120	124	128	132	136	140	144	148	152	156	160
Maximum	170	175	180	185	190	195	201	208	214	220	226

NOTE. The figures in the table above are for growing youths and are for the guidance of medical officers in connection with the other data obtained at the examination, a consideration of which will determine the candidate's physical eligibility.

(2) The applicant's height shall be measured in inches to the nearest one-half inch, without shoes. The table below sets forth the minimum and maximum heights acceptable for candidates for the U. S. Naval Academy.

Minimum (inches)	Maximum (inches)
66	76 (74 if under 18 years of age).

(3) The following miscellaneous conditions are causes for rejection:
(i) Any deformity which is repulsive or which prevents the proper functioning of any part to a degree interfering with military efficiency.
(ii) Deficient muscular development or deficient nutrition.

(e) The endocrine glands and metabolism. The following conditions are causes for rejection:
(1) Toxic goiter; thyroid adenoma with pressure symptoms or of such size as to interfere with wearing a uniform.
(2) Cretinism; hypothyroidism; myxedema, spontaneous or postoperative (with clinical manifestations and diagnosis not based solely on low basal metabolic rate).

(4) Frohlich's syndrome, if severe.

(6) Addison's disease.
(7) Glycosuria if persisting; diabetes mellitus. If sugar is found in the urine, further specimens, voided in the presence of the physician or authorized assistant, should be examined. In doubtful cases the fasting blood sugar and glucose tolerance tests should be obtained.
(8) Nutritional deficiency diseases (including sprue, beriberi, pellagra, and scurvy) which are severe or not readily remediable or in which permanent pathological changes have been established.
(10) Hyperinsulinism when established by adequate investigation and if regarded by the examiners as of sufficient degree to disqualify for military service.

(f) The eyes. (1) For enrollment in the U. S. Naval Academy a minimum visual acuity of 20/20 each eye is required. No squinting or visual aids are allowed and the test letters should be read correctly and promptly. Refraction is not required for entrance into any component of the naval service unless medically indicated; after entrance, each midshipman at the U. S. Naval Academy shall submit to refraction under a cycloplegic (homatropine 4 percent) for record purposes only.
(2) Defective vision due to disease of the eye grounds shall be cause for rejection at any time.
(3) Both eyes must be free from any disfiguring or incapacitating abnormality and from acute or chronic disease.
(4) Any student in the U. S. Naval Academy whose vision in either eye during his period of service falls below 20/40 (10/20) may be recommended for discharge, except those specifically designated for staff corps. Where the student's vision has dropped below 20/100 (4/20), he shall be recommended for discharge.
(5) These requirements as given above are considered necessary in order to graduate midshipmen with vision sufficiently serviceable to enable them to carry out their duties at sea in inclement weather, without the aid of glasses or when the wearing of glasses would prove a handicap. During late adolescence it is quite common for developmental myopia to become manifest to such an extent that the resulting myopic visual defect is sufficient to disqualify the student. It is therefore imperative that a careful examination for visual acuity be performed. Visual performance resulting from "corrective eye exercises" is misleading in that the apparent improvement in vision is not maintained. Following such corrective eye exercises the candidate may be able to pass successfully the 20/20 visual requirements, but when the candidate is required to study for considerable periods of time the true visual acuity becomes evident. Through inability of the student to pass the required visual test subsequent to entrance, it may become necessary to recommend him for discharge. For this reason, "corrective eye exercises" prior to entrance physical examinations are not recommended.
(6) The following conditions are causes for rejection:
(ii) Chronic conjunctivitis, or xerophthalmia.
(iii) Pterygium encroaching upon the cornea.

(vii) Epiphora, chronic dacryocystitis, or lachrymal fistula.
(viii) Chronic keratitis, ulcers of the cornea, staphyloma, or corneal opacities encroaching on the pupillary area and reducing the acuity of vision below the standard.
(ix) Irregularities in the form of the iris, or anterior or posterior synechiae sufficient to reduce the visual acuity below the standard.
(x) Opacities of the lens or its capsule sufficient to reduce the acuity of vision below the standard, or progressive cataract of any degree.
(xi) Extensive coloboma of the choroid or iris, absence of pigment (albino), glaucoma, iritis, or extensive or progressive choroiditis of any degree.

Orthodontic retaining appliances such as are used after the completion of treatment are acceptable provided they are not an oral health hazard.

(iii) The teeth must be free from dental caries, restorations must be of high quality, and the peridontal tissues must be free from disease. A "Type 2" examination is necessary for the detection of interproximal caries. Definition of a "Type 2" examination is: Mouth mirror and explorer examination; adequate natural or artificial illumination; posterior bite-wing roentgenograms; periapical roentgenograms, when indicated.

(iv) Teeth should be free from calculus, all restorations of the highest standard, the oral soft tissue in a state of normal health, and the general appearance of the mouth indicative of the practice of strict personal hygiene. All required dental treatment, restorations, and replacements must be obtained prior to entrance to the Naval Academy.

(iv) Appointees as midshipmen must have had all carious teeth restored or extracted.

(v) A bicuspid may not be counted as a molar nor may a cuspid be counted as an incisor.

(vi) An abutment tooth (a natural tooth to which a bridge is attached) may be counted as serviceable only when the pulp is vital, the tooth is sound, supported by healthy tissue, is in useful occlusion, and the bridge attachment is well designed and in good condition.

Prosthetic appliances are not considered as substitutions for natural sound teeth, unless in excess of the 20 vital sound serviceable permanent teeth required. Unerupted teeth will not be included in the 20 vital sound serviceable permanent teeth required. Natural teeth supporting fixed or removable prosthetic appliances (crowns or dentures) will be considered as sound and serviceable only when they are vital, in normal healthy condition and supported by healthy tissue. Extraction is indicated for all carious teeth incapable of receiving treatment and restoration.

§ 710.54 Preliminary physical examination. (a) The Departments of the Navy, Army, and Air Force have made available to all candidates for the Naval Academy places where a careful preliminary physical examination can be obtained at no expense to the candidate other than the cost of such travel and subsistence as may be necessary. The preliminary physical examinations are conducted by medical specialists under conditions approximating as closely as possible those of the formal physical examinations given by the medical examining boards authorized to conduct formal examinations.

(b) The preliminary examinations are authorized primarily for the convenience of candidates and prospective candidates. They serve to reveal obviously disqualifying defects which may preclude admission as midshipman and may reveal defects which can be remedied prior to appearance for the formal physical examination. Candidates are urged to avail themselves of this opportunity and thus spare themselves the needless expense and disappointment which may result from the late discovery of disqualifying defects.

(c) Preliminary physical examinations are conducted at any of the places in the list which follows and will be given to any candidate who presents a request from the Bureau of Naval Personnel, or from a member of Congress, or who is a son or dependent relative of a member of the Armed Forces and presents a request signed by the member concerned. It is advisable to communicate with the activity selected for physical examination to arrange an appointment.

§ 710.55 Formal physical examination. (a) Each candidate who receives an official notification from the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C., authorizing him to report for formal physical examination must bear all expenses for travel and subsistence incident this examination. The formal physical examinations will be conducted usually during the period from May 1 to May 10 each year and every duly nominated candidate will be notified by the Bureau of Naval Personnel when and where to report for the examination. Normally, it will require only 1 day. In case of urgent necessity for change in the place or date of examination, within the 10-day period, written or telegraphic request should be addressed to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, address as above.

(b) In order to assist in the determination of muscular coordination, strength, and endurance, a physical aptitude examination wil be given in conjunction with the formal physical examination. The physical aptitude examination will consist of a series of tests such as push-ups, pull-ups, Burpee, sit-ups, and one arm hang. Failure to obtain a passing grade in this examination may be cause for rejection.

(c) When reporting for the formal physical examination, candidates should take with them clothing and shoes suitable for use when undergoing the required physical exercises.

§ 710.56 Physical reexamination. Candidates rejected by a medical examining board because of defects which can be corrected promptly, or who desire reexamination for other reasons, may be given a reexamination by the Board of Medical Review at the United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md., upon authorization by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. The findings of the Board of Medical Review will be final. Candidates desiring to avail themselves of this privilege must make written request to the Bureau of Naval Personnel by June 1. The physical reexaminations will be conducted late in June. The cost of travel to and from Annapolis, and subsistence, must be borne by the candidate. Those who are found qualified by the Board of Medical Review and who are otherwise eligible for appointment may remain at Annapolis for the brief period prior to actual admission as midshipman.

ENTRANCE PROCEDURE AND EQUIPMENT

§ 710.57 Appointments as midshipmen. (a) Candidates for whom there are vacancies, who have subscribed the "Engagement to Serve" and who have met the mental, moral, and physical requirements will receive appointments as midshipmen and be admitted as such to the Naval Academy.

§ 710.58 Execution of loyalty certificate. (a) In keeping with the national policy announced by the President of the United States in Executive Order 9835, approved 21 March 1947, and as directed by the Secretary of the Navy, candidates for appointment as midshipman are required to execute a loyalty certificate. The purpose of this certificate is to aid in determining whether the candidate's conduct or associations, past or present, have been such as to cast any doubt whatever upon his loyalty to the Government of the United States.

(b) The loyalty certificate includes a list of those agencies, groups, etc., designated by the Attorney General of the United States to be totalitarian, fascist, communist or subversive, or as having adopted a policy of advocating or approving the commission of acts of force or violence to deny persons their rights under the Constitution of the United States, or as seeking to alter the form of government of the United States by unconstitutional means.

(c) The admission of conduct or association, past or present, within the purview of acts as defined in the certificate, or association with any of the groups or organizations designated by the Attorney General, shall preclude appointment pending investigation and determination of eligibility by the Department of the Navy.

(d) False representation, or failure fully to disclose conduct or associations defined in the certificate shall constitute grounds for trial before a general court martial with possible consequent conviction and imprisonment, or for separation from the naval service under conditions other than honorable, with or without any precedent court-martial procedure.

§ 710.59 Execution of oath of office. (a) Each candidate for midshipman upon entrance will be required to take oath of office as follows:

I, _____, of the State of _____ aged _____ years _____ months, having been appointed a midshipman in the United States Navy, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegiance to the same; that I take this obligation freely, without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion; and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties of the office on which I am about to enter; So Help Me God.

(b) He will also be required to subscribe to the following under oath:

For and in consideration of the privileges, opportunities, and benefits afforded me during the continuance of my service as a midshipman, I agree to and with the Superintendent of the United States Naval Academy, as follows:

First: To enter the service of the Navy of the United States and to the utmost of my power and ability to be in everything conformable and obedient to the several requirements and lawful commands of the officers who may be placed over me.

Second: I oblige myself, during such service, to comply with and be subject to the Uniform Code of Military Justice and such other laws and regulations as are or shall be established by the Congress of the United States or other competent authority.

Third: To submit to treatment for the prevention of smallpox, typhoid (typhoid prophylaxis), and to such other preventive measures as may be considered necessary by naval authorities.

§ 710.60 Course of training; standing in class. All midshipmen at the Naval Academy take the same course of instruction except in Foreign Languages. The course is of 4 years' duration and is designed for the purpose of training students to become officers in the Navy. The word "officers" as used in the foregoing sentence means officers of the line and does not include officers of the Medical Corps, Dental Corps, etc. No special courses are offered. No midshipman, regardless of his special qualifications or advanced education, can be given advanced standing upon his admission to the Naval Academy. However, these factors should be especially beneficial in that they should enable a midshipman to stand near the top of his class. His relative standing in his class upon graduation has an important bearing on promotions after being commissioned an officer in the Navy.

§ 710.61 Pay of midshipmen. The pay of a midshipman is $973.44 a year, commencing at the date of his admission, and is designed to meet all his expenses while at the Naval Academy.

§ 710.62 Insurance. Midshipmen are covered under the provisions of the Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951, i. e., Public Law No. 23—82d Congress.

§ 710.63 Personal effects. Midshipmen, immediately upon entrance, will be required to purchase from the midshipmen's storekeeper a regulation entrance outfit. Slide rules and drawing sets are furnished as part of the outfit. Candidates are advised, therefore, not to purchase these items for use at the Academy prior to entering.

§ 710.64 Deposit required. Each candidate who has qualified mentally and physically must, before being admitted as a midshipman, deposit with the midshipmen's storekeeper the sum of $100, to be used in part payment to cover cost of uniforms, clothing, textbooks, etc. The amount deposited is not refunded, but is expended for clothing and textbooks, which become the property of the midshipman. This deposit should be made in the form of cash, cashier's check, certified check, traveler's check, or postal or telegraph money order and must not be made payable to the order of the Superintendent of the United States Naval Academy but should be made payable to the candidate's own order and presented to the midshipmen's storekeeper at the Naval Academy at the time of entrance. Commercial paper made payable in any other form causes needless delay and inconvenience.

§ 710.65 Credit allowance. The required regulation entrance outfit, plus the additional uniforms, clothing, and textbooks required the first year, are valued at approximately $965. Candidates are required to deposit a minimum of $100 as a prerequisite to appointment as midshipman. This $100 deposit is supplemented by an entrance credit of $600 upon first admission to the Naval Academy. The $600 credit is a loan advanced by the Government to be subsequently repaid by deductions from the midshipman's pay. Thus the sum of $700 is available toward defraying the cost of the uniforms and equipment essential during the first year. Repayment of the indebtedness is accomplished by monthly deductions of $20 from the midshipman's pay, beginning in October of the second year at the Naval Academy and continuing until the indebtedness is liquidated. By thrift during the progress of the 4-year course at the Naval Academy, it is still possible for midshipmen to accumulate a modest surplus of funds, to aid in the purchase of graduation outfit and equipment upon being commissioned in any of the armed services. The amount of this surplus is seriously reduced due to repayment of the entrance credit and is further dependent upon the degree of thriftiness which the individual exercises in expending for optional and incidental items. Any midshipman desiring to do so may repay this $600 entrance credit from personal funds immediately after appointment as midshipman. Midshipmen who are involuntarily separated from the Naval Academy prior to repayment of the entrance credit, are required to turn in all articles of uniform and equipment deemed suitable for reissue, to an amount sufficient to liquidate the indebtedness. If reclaimed articles are insufficient to cover the indebtedness, the remainder of the debt is canceled. Midshipmen applying for voluntary separation for their own convenience are required to repay in full the amount of indebtedness prior to such separation and here also articles acceptable for reissue may be turned in toward repayment of indebtedness.

§ 710.66 Mileage allowance. Upon being admitted to the Naval Academy, midshipmen receive the travel and transportation allowances prescribed in paragraph 5001, Joint Travel Regulations. A mileage allowance of 6 cents per mile is payable for all authorized travel within the United States. A monetary allowance of 5 cents per mile is payable for all authorized land travel outside the United States. In addition, reimbursement will be made for the actual cost of passage fares on commercial vessels if sea travel is involved and provided no Government transportation is available. In the event travel originates outside the United States, candidates must contact the nearest naval activity for information as to the availability of Government transportation before endeavoring to procure commercial transportation. The money to which entitled is credited to their accounts after they have actually become midshipmen. This money usually is retained on the midshipman's account to his credit, and his account is thereby in much better condition when he desires money for leave on the practice cruise or during his first September leave. If parents desire to be reimbursed for the money advanced their sons to make the trip to Annapolis, the mileage allowance may be sent to them, providing the midshipman makes written request to the Commandant of Midshipmen.

§ 710.67 Available accommodations for candidates taking formal physical examination. Candidates are usually sworn in as midshipmen on the day they are accepted for admission, i. e., the date of reporting at the Naval Academy as designated in the authorization to report issued by the Bureau of Naval Personnel. Due to limited living accommodations in the city of Annapolis candidates are urged to time their arrival at Annapolis to coincide as closely as possible with the reporting date, keeping in mind, however, that transportation facilities between Washington and Baltimore and Annapolis are not unlimited. Those arriving in Annapolis a day or two prior to actual reporting date may take advantage of berthing and messing facilities made available in Bancroft Hall, the midshipmen's dormitory. The cost for bed and meals per day is equal to the cost of a midshipman's daily ration allowance.

DIRECT OR INDIRECT ADDITION OF ANTIBIOTIC DRUGS TO FOODS FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION

Pursuant to section 3 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237, 238; 5 U. S. C. 1002), the following statement of policy is issued:

§ 3.29 Direct or indirect addition of antibiotic drugs to foods for human consumption. (a) The Food and Drug Administration has received inquiries concerning the use of antibiotic drugs as food preservatives. Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 1—PRACTICE AND PROCEDURE

REVISION OF FCC FORM 323

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of February 1953;

The Commission having before it for consideration its revised FCC Form 323 (Ownership Report) adopted December 12, 1952; and

It appearing, that paragraph 8, lines 7 and 8, requires that licensees report annually the total consideration paid by each stockholder for the stock and the date of acquisition of such stock; and

It further appearing, that the foregoing information is not needed by the Commission and that the requirement for its submission imposes an unnecessary burden on licensees.

It is ordered, That, effective immediately, pursuant to authority under sections 4 (i) and 303 (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, FCC Form 323 (Rev. 12–52) Ownership Report is revised so as to delete therefrom the requirement that lines 7 and 8 of paragraph 8 must be filled out for each stockholder when the form is used to render an annual ownership report;

It is further ordered, That FCC Form 323, Ownership Report is amended by the deletion of the Note appearing at top of page 3 and the substitution of the following:

NOTE: (Read carefully): The numbered items below refer to line numbers in the following table. Lines 1 thru 17 should be filled out completely when this form is filed to report stock transactions pursuant to Instruction 1 (c). Lines 1 thru 8, inclusive, should be filled out when the form is used to report ownership after receipt of original construction permit, or consummation, pursuant to Commission consent, of a transfer of control, or assignment of license, pursuant to Instruction 1 (b). PART 3—RADIO BROADCAST SERVICES

TABLE OF ASSIGNMENTS

In the matter of amendment of § 3.606 (b) Table of assignments, rules governing television broadcast stations; Docket No. 10373.

1. The Commission has under consideration its notice of proposed rule making issued January 9, 1953 (FCC 53-19), and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on January 15, 1953 (18 F. R. 322), proposing to assign UHF Channel 65+ to Newton, Iowa, in lieu of UHF Channel 29— and UHF Channel 69 to Bogalusa, Louisiana, in lieu of UHF Channel 39 in order to correct substandard assignment spacings in the Table of Assignments.

2. In accordance with the provisions of paragraph 4 of the aforesaid notice of proposed rule making, the time for filing comments therein expired January 26, 1953. No comments opposing the proposed amendment in Newton, Iowa, were filed. Miss-Lou, Inc., an applicant for a new television station to be operated on Channel 39 in Bogalusa, Louisiana, opposed the proposal to substitute Channel 69 for Channel 39 in Bogalusa. Miss-Lou, Inc., urged that the change in assignment to Bogalusa would result in an inferior service in Bogalusa due to the higher frequency involved. Miss-Lou, Inc., did not offer any counterproposal to the Commission's proposal. Supreme Broadcasting Company, Inc., New Orleans, Louisiana, filed an opposition to the comments of Miss-Lou, Inc.

3. In the Sixth Report and Order in Docket 8736 et al., paragraph 337, the Commission found that "The record contains no basis for distinguishing between channels in the UHF band for the purpose of establishing a Table of Assignments." Miss-Lou, Inc., has not advanced any arguments as to why the Commission should deviate from this position nor has it advanced any other proposal which would remove the deficiency in the assignment of Channel 39 in Bogalusa and Channel 32 in New Orleans.

4. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, That effective 30 days from the publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, the table of assignments contained in § 3.606 of the Commission's rules and regulations is amended as follows:

City	Channel No.
	Delete	Add
Newton, Iowa	29—	65+
Bogalusa, La	39	69

Adopted: February 11, 1953.

[Docket No. 9751]

PART 5—EXPERIMENTAL RADIO SERVICES

REVISION OF PART

In the matter of revision of Part 5 of the Commission's rules governing Experimental Radio Services; Docket No. 9751.

On August 2, 1950, the Commission issued a notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter. Interested persons were given until September 15, 1950, to file comments thereon. Five comments from interested parties were received. These comments appear to be in general agreement with the proposed rules. Certain specific recommendations were made ranging from editorial modifications of the text to the deletion of certain portions of the proposed rules. The Commission has made many of these changes in the final rules.

Several of the comments received recommended various changes in the rules which would permit "greater latitude on the part of those performing the experimental activities". These range from the suggestion made by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company that Subparts C and D which relate to technical standards and operating requirements not be applied to the research classes of experimental authorizations, to the suggestion made by Motorola, Inc. that certain specific frequencies above 25 Mc be assigned to an applicant for experimentation with no limitation on the use of those frequencies. The proposed rules have been modified to permit waiver of the technical operating standards in instances where the applicant makes a showing that such provisions are impractical or undesirable in view of the nature of the proposed operation. It has been the experience of the Commission that in most instances experimental operations can comply with the technical standards and operating conditions set forth in the proposed rules. It is believed that with provision for waiver of particular provisions upon showing by the applicant that those provisions are inapplicable or impractical in view of the operation proposed, adequate latitude will be afforded.

The proposal that a number of frequencies above 25 Mc be made available exclusively for experimental use is not possible within this proceeding since all of the usable frequencies in that portion have already been allocated to the use of particular services. Any change in this allocation scheme would require a separate rule-making proceeding to determine the relative need for the frequencies among experimental users and the various services to which the frequencies are already allocated. The Commission will give consideration to any request to institute such separate proceedings but sees no reason to delay finalization of these rules.

The proposed rules have been modified by deleting certain portions relating to information concerning experimental operations performed under governmental contracts. This deletion was made at the suggestion of the military agencies who have agreed to supply such justification as might be necessary with respect to these operations.

All of the comments have received careful consideration and it appears that no new issues or facts which would require oral argument or hearing are raised by said comments, and it is not believed oral argument or hearing would contribute to a decision in this matter. Accordingly, it is ordered, This 11th day of February 1953, that Part 5 of the Commission's rules and regulations relating to Experimental Radio Services shall become effective March 17, 1953, as set forth below.

It is further ordered, That all references to sections of Part 5 of the Commission's rules included in outstanding experimental authorizations shall be construed to mean the corresponding sections of revised Part 5 when such revision becomes effective.

Released: February 16, 1953.

SUBPART A—GENERAL

§ 5.1 Basis and purpose. (a) The rules following in this part are promulgated pursuant to the provisions of Title III of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, which vests authority in the Federal Communications Commission to regulate radio transmissions and to issue licenses for radio stations.

(b) The purpose of this part is to prescribe the manner in which parts of the radio frequency spectrum may be made available for experimentation as defined in this part and provided for.

§ 5.2 Services available. (a) Experimental services are classified, according to the type of experimentations permitted, into two categories as follows:

(1) Experimental Service (Research)—Subpart E.

(2) Experimental Service (Developmental)—Subpart F.

§ 5.3 Definition of terms. For the purpose of this part, the following definitions shall be applicable. For other definitions, refer to Part 2 of this chapter (Frequency Allocations and Treaty Matters; General Rules and Regulations).

(a) Authorized frequency. The frequency assigned to a station by the Commission and specified in the instrument of authorization.

(b) Authorized power. The power assigned to a radio station by the Commission and specified in the instrument of authorization. The authorized power does not necessarily correspond to the power used by the Commission for purposes of its Master Frequency Record (MFR) and notification to the Bureau of the International Telecommunications Union.

(c) Experimental service. A service in which Hertzian waves are employed for purposes of experimentation in the radio art or for purposes of providing essential communications for research projects which could not be conducted without the benefit of such communications.

(d) Experimental service (research). An Experimental Service (1) for research in the radio art not related to the development of an established or proposed new service, or (2) for providing essential communications for research projects which could not be conducted without the benefit of such communications.

(e) Experimental service (developmental). An Experimental Radio Service for the development of equipment, engineering or operational data, or techniques for an existing or proposed radio service.

(f) Fixed service. A service of radiocommunication between specified fixed points.

(g) Fixed station. A station in the fixed service.

(h) Harmful interference. Any radiation or any induction which endangers the functioning of a radionavigation service or of a safety service or obstructs or repeatedly interrupts a radio service operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations and other provisions of Part 2 of this chapter.

(i) Landing area. As defined by Title I, section I (22) of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, landing area means any locality, either of land or water, including airdromes and intermediate landing fields, which is used, or intended to be used, for the landing and take-off of aircraft, whether or not facilities are provided for the shelter, servicing, or repair of aircraft, or for receiving or discharging passengers or cargo.

(j) Land station. A station in the mobile service not intended for operation while in motion.

(k) Mobile service. A service of radiocommunication between mobile and land stations, or between mobile stations.

(l) Mobile station. A station in a mobile service intended to be used while in motion or during halts at unspecified points.

(m) Mean power of radio transmitter. The power supplied to the antenna during normal operation, averaged over a time sufficiently long compared to the period corresponding to the lowest frequency encountered in actual modulation.

(n) Peak power of a radio transmitter. The mean power supplied to the antenna during one radio frequency cycle at the highest crest of the modulation envelope, taken under conditions of normal operation.

(o) Person. An individual, partnership, association, joint stock company, trust, or corporation.

(p) Public correspondence. Any telecommunication which the offices and stations, by reason of their being at the disposal of the public, must accept for transmission.

(q) Radio service. An administrative subdivision of the field of radio-communication. In an engineering sense, the subdivisions may be made according to the method of operation, as, for example, mobile service and fixed service. In a regulatory sense, the subdivisions may be descriptive of particular groups of licensees, as, for example, the groups of persons licensed under this part.

(r) Station authorization. Any construction permit, license, or special temporary authorization issued by the Commission.

§ 5.4 General citizenship restrictions. A station license may not be granted to or held by:

(a) Any alien or the representative of any alien.

(b) Any foreign government or the representative thereof.

(c) Any corporation organized under the laws of any foreign government.

(d) Any corporation of which more than one-fifth of the capital stock is owned of record or voted by: Aliens or their representatives; a foreign government or representative thereof; or any corporation organized under the laws of a foreign country.

(e) Any corporation of which any officer or director is an alien.

(f) Any corporation directly or indirectly controlled by any other corporation of which any officer or more than one-fourth of the directors are aliens, if the Commission finds that the public interest will be served by the refusal or revocation of such license; or

(g) Any corporation directly or indirectly controlled by any other corporation of which more than one-fourth of the capital stock is owned of record or voted by: Aliens or their representative; a foreign government or representative thereof; or any corporation organized under the laws of a foreign country, if the Commission finds that the public interest will be served by the refusal or revocation of such license.

§ 5.5 Transfer and assignment of station authorization. A station authorization, the frequencies authorized to be used by the grantee of such authorization, and the rights therein granted by such authorization shall not be transferred, assigned, or in any manner either voluntarily or involuntarily disposed of, or indirectly by transfer of control of any corporation holding such authorization, to any person, unless the Commission shall, after securing full information, decide that said transfer is in the public interest, and shall give its consent in writing. Requests for authority to transfer or assign a station authorization shall be submitted on the forms prescribed by § 5.55.

SUBPART B—APPLICATIONS AND LICENSES

§ 5.51 Station authorization required. No radio transmitter shall be operated in the Experimental Radio Services except under and in accordance with a proper station authorization granted by the Federal Communications Commission.

§ 5.52 Procedure for obtaining a radio station license. (a) The first step toward obtaining a station license is the filing of an application for a construction permit in accordance with this part. After the construction and installation are completed, an application for station license may be submitted in accordance with § 5.55.

(b) In the case of complete transmitters which are to be used without modification and the installation of which requires only the interconnection of the transmitter units, the application for license may be submitted simultaneously with the application for construction permit, except in those instances in which the filing of Form 401–A is required under § 5.55.

(c) When the design and construction of the transmitting equipment is an integral part of the experimental program, the application for license may be submitted simultaneously with the application for construction permit, except in those instances when the filing of Form 401–A is required under § 5.55.

§ 5.53 Filing of applications. (a) To assure that necessary information is supplied in a consistant manner by all persons, standard forms are prescribed for use in connection with the majority of applications and reports submitted for Commission consideration. Standard numbered forms applicable to the Experimental Services are discussed in § 5.55 and may be obtained from the Washington, D. C., office of the Commission, or from any of its engineering field offices. Concerning matters where no standard form is applicable, the informal application procedure outlined in § 5.55 (k) should be followed.

(b) Any application for radio station authorization and all correspondence relating thereto shall be submitted to the Commisson's office at Washington, D. C.

(c) Unless otherwise specified, an application shall be filed at least sixty days prior to the date on which it is desired that Commission action thereon be completed.

(d) Each application for station authorization shall be specific and complete with regard to station location, proposed equipment, power, antenna height, and operating frequency; and other information required by the application form and this part.

(e) Applications involving operation at temporary locations:

(1) When a land station or a fixed station is to remain at a single location for less than six months, the location is considered to be temporary and the procedure outlined in § 5.65 shall apply.

(2) When a land station or fixed station authorized to operate at temporary locations remains at a single location for more than six months, an application for modification of the station authorization to specify the permanent location shall be filed within thirty days after expiration of the six-month period.

(f) Unless otherwise specified in a particular case or for a particular form, each application shall be filed in duplicate.

§ 5.54 Who may sign applications. One copy of each application for an authorization shall be signed under oath or affirmation by the applicant if the applicant be an individual, by any one of the partners if an applicant be a partnership, by an officer if the applicant be a corporation, or by a member who is an officer if the applicant be an unincorporated association.

§ 5.55 Forms to be used. (a) Application for construction permit for land stations and fixed stations. A separate application for construction permit shall be submitted on FCC Form 401 for each base station and each fixed station. Such applications shall be accompanied by FCC Form 401–A in triplicate in all cases when:

(1) The antenna structure proposed to be erected will exceed an over-all height of 170 feet above ground level: Provided, however, That FCC Form 401–A is not required when the antenna is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure and does not increase the over-all height of such man-made structure by more than 20 feet; or

(2) The antenna structure proposed to be erected will exceed an over-all height of one foot above the established airport (landing area) elevation for each 200 feet of distance, or fraction thereof, from the nearest boundary of such landing area: Provided, however, That FCC Form 401–A is not required when the antenna does not exceed 20 feet above the ground or is mounted on top of an existing man-made structure or natural formation and does not increase the over-all height of such man-made structure or natural formation by more than 20 feet.

(b) Description of antenna structure. When required to be submitted, by the terms of paragraph (a) of this section, FCC Form 401–A shall be submitted in triplicate. There shall be attached to each copy of the form a sketch showing the antenna and supporting structure as well as a map showing the location of the antenna, landing areas in the vicinity thereof, and all tall structures that may affect the requirement for marking the antenna or supporting structure.

(c) Application for construction permit for mobile station. Application for construction permit for each mobile station comprising any specified number of mobile units to be operated in the same service, including hand-carried or pack-carried units, may be combined into one application and shall be submitted on FCC Form 401.

(d) Application for station license. Application for station license shall be filed on FCC Form 403 upon completion of construction or installation in accordance with the terms and conditions set forth in the construction permit.

(e) Application for modification of construction permit. Separate application for modification of construction permit shall be submitted on FCC Form 401 for each station to be located at a fixed point. Application for modification of construction permit for any number of mobile units to be operated in the same service, including hand-carried or pack-carried units, may be combined into one application and shall be submitted on FCC Form 401.

(f) Application for modification of station license. Application for modification of station license shall be submitted on FCC Form 403. A blanket application for modification of a group of station licenses of the same class may be submitted in those cases where the modification requested is the same for all stations covered by the application. The individual stations covered by such application shall be clearly identified therein.

(g) Application for renewal of station license. Application for renewal of station license shall be submitted on FCC Form 405. A blanket application may be submitted for renewal of a group of station licenses in the same class in those cases where the renewal requested is in exact accordance with the terms of the previous authorizations. The individual stations covered by such applications shall be clearly identified thereon. Unless otherwise directed by the Commission, each application for renewal of license shall be filed at least 60 days prior to the expiration date of the license to be renewed.

(h) Application for additional time to construct radio station. FCC Form 701 shall be submitted in duplicate, whenever it is necessary to request an extension of the time limit specified on a valid construction permit.

(i) Application for consent to assignment of radio station construction permit or license. Application on FCC Form 702 shall be submitted when the legal right to construct or to control the use and operation of a station is to be transferred as a result of a voluntary act (contract or other agreement) or an involuntary act (death or legal disability) of the grantee of a station authorization or by involuntary assignment of the physical property constituting the station under a court decree in bankruptcy proceedings, or other court order, or by operation of law in any other manner. Such application must be accompanied by statements signed by the proposed assignee which supply information required of an original licensee by § 5.57.

(j) Application for consent to transfer of control of corporation holding construction permit or station license. Application for consent to transfer of control shall be submitted on FCC Form 703 whenever it is proposed to change the control of a corporation holding a station authorization.

(k) Informal application. (1) An application not submitted on a standard form prescribed by the Commission is considered to be an informal application. Each informal application shall be submitted in duplicate, normally in letter form, and with the original signed under oath or affirmation. Each application shall be clear and complete within itself as to the facts presented and the action desired.

(2) An informal application for authority to operate transmitting equipment will be accepted only under the conditions set forth in § 5.56.

§ 5.56 Procedure for obtaining a special temporary authorization. (a) The Commission may issue a special temporary authorization under this part in cases where a need is shown for operation of an authorized station for a limited time only, in a manner other than that specified in the existing authorization, but not in conflict with the Commission's rules.

(b) An application for special temporary authorization may be filed as an informal application in the manner prescribed by § 5.55 (k) and shall contain the following information:

(1) Name and address.

(2) Need for special action.

(3) Type of operation to be conducted.

(4) Purpose of operation.

(5) Time and date of proposed operation.

(8) Equipment to be used, including name of manufacturer, model and number of units.

(9) Frequency(s) desired.

(10) Plate power input to final radio frequency stage.

(12) Antenna height. (FCC Form 401–A shall be filed if required by § 5.55 (b).)

(c) No request for special temporary authorization will be considered unless full particulars as to the purpose for which the request is made are stated.

§ 5.57 Supplementary statements required—(a) Showing. Each applicant for an authorization in the Experimental Radio Service must enclose with his application for construction permit a factual showing in regard to the following:

(1) That the applicant is a person qualified to carry forward the proposed program of experimentation;

(2) That the program of experimentation will be conducted by qualified personnel, and the applicant possesses adequate technical facilities to carry forward the program and has made adequate financial appropriations toward this end;

(3) That the applicant has an organized plan of experimentation leading to a specific objective;

(4) That the program of experimentation has reasonable promise of contribution to the development, extension, or expansion or utilization of the radio art, or is along lines not already investigated;

(5) That the applicant has a program of experimentation that has reached a stage in the laboratory where actual transmission by radio is essential to its further progress;

(6) That the station(s) shall be operated in accordance with the applicable Commission's rules and regulations and only in such a manner and at such times as to preclude harmful interference with established stations or services.

(b) Confirmation clauses. In addition to the showing required by paragraph (a) of this section, a statement shall be filed with and made a part of each application for construction permit for a station in these services confirming the applicant's understanding:

(1) That all operations on the frequencies assigned will be on an experimental basis, and conducted in accordance with the provisions of this part and as specified in the station instrument of authorization;

(2) That the granting of the authority requested shall not be construed as a finding on the part of the Commission:

(i) That the frequencies authorized are the best suited to the particular purpose to be served by the station;

(ii) That the applicant is qualified to operate a station in a service on any basis other than experimental;

(iii) That the applicant will be authorized to operate on any basis other than experimental;

(iv) That the Commission is obligated by the results of the experimental program to make provision in the service-allocation plan for the applicant's type of operation.

(3) That the applicant desires and is willing to conduct and finance the experimental program with full knowledge and understanding of the provisions of this section.

(c) Applications involving government contracts. The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be applicable to applicants for an authorization in the Experimental Service (Research) to be used for the purpose of fulfilling the requirements of a contract with an agency of the United States Government. Such applicants shall include as a part of the application for construction permit the following information:

(1) The contract number and name of the government agency concerned.

(2) The nature of the program of experimentation, security regulations permitting.

(3) The daily hours of operation and the estimated dates of the beginning and end of the specific time period for which the requested authorization is required.

(d) Applications involving development of equipment for export purposes. In addition to the information required by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, in the case of experimentation for the purpose of developing equipment for export purposes to be employed by stations under the jurisdiction of a foreign government, the application shall include:

(1) The contract number and the name of the foreign government concerned.

(2) The daily hours of operation and the estimated date of the beginning and end of the specific time period for which the authorization is required.

(e) Applications involving communications essential to a research project. The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not be applicable to applications for an authorization in the Experimental Service (Research) to be used for communications essential to a research project. Applicants in this service shall include as a part of the application for construction permit the following:

(1) A description of the nature of the research project being conducted.

(2) A showing that communication facilities are necessary for the research project involved.

(3) A showing that existing communication facilities are inadequate.

§ 5.58 Partial grant. Where the Commission, without a hearing, grants an application in part, or with any privileges, terms or conditions other than those requested, the action of the Commission shall be considered as a grant of such application unless the applicant shall within 20 days from the date of such grant, or from its effective date if a later effective date is specified, file with the Commission a written request rejecting the grant as made. Upon receipt of such request, the Commission will vacate its original action and set the application for hearing.

§ 5.59 Defective applications. (a) Applications which are defective with respect to completeness of answers to required questions, execution or other matters of a purely formal character will not be received for filing by the Commission, and will be returned to the applicant with a brief statement as to the omissions.

(b) If an applicant is requested by the Commission to file any documents or information not included in the prescribed application form, a failure to comply with such request will constitute a defect in the application.

(c) Applications which are not in accordance with the Commission's rules, regulations or other requirements will be considered defective unless accompanied either (1) by a petition to amend any rule or regulation with which the application is in conflict, or (2) by a request of the applicant for waiver of, or an exception to, any rule, regulation or requirement with which the application is in conflict. Such request shall show the nature of the waiver or exception desired and set forth the reasons in support thereof.

§ 5.60 Amendment or dismissal of applications. Any application may be amended or dismissed without prejudice upon request of the applicant prior to the time the application is granted or designated for hearing. Each amendment to, or request for dismissal of an application shall be signed, authenticated, and submitted in the same manner and with the same number of copies as required for the original application. All subsequent correspondence or other material which the applicant desires to have incorporated as a part of an application already filed shall be submitted in the form of an amendment to the application.

§ 5.61 Construction period. Each radio station construction permit issued by the Commission will specify the date of grant as the earliest date of commencement of construction and installation, and a maximum of eight months thereafter as the time within which construction shall be completed and the station ready for operation, unless otherwise determined by the Commission in any particular case.

§ 5.62 License required for separate experimental projects. A separate station license will be required for each class of station in the experimental radio services. Application for a class of station embracing widely divergent and unrelated experimentations normally will require a separate license for each phase of the experimental program: Provided, however, That the Commission may, when circumstances warrant, issue a single license embracing the entire project.

§ 5.63 License period. (a) Licenses for stations in the Experimental Radio Services will be issued normally for a period of one year unless otherwise stated in the instrument of authorization, and each respective class of station license shall expire each year at 3:00 a. m., e. s. t., on the first day of the following months:

(1) Experimental Service (Research) October.

(2) Experimental Service (Developmental) November.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered, when an application for a new station license is granted within three months of the expiration date of the license, term of the particular class of station involved, the license shall be issued for the unexpired period of the current license term and for the full succeeding term. If granted more than three months from the normal expiration date, the license will be issued for the unexpired period of the current license term only.

(c) If the Commission approves a modification of a license, a modified license will be issued for the unexpired license period. If such period is 30 days or less, the application will also be treated as an application for renewal and, if approved, a new authorization will be issued to indicate this unexpired period plus the full succeeding term of the license as designated in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 5.64 Change in equipment. (a) A change may be made in a licensed transmitter without specific authorization from the Commission provided: (1) The change does not result in operation inconsistent with any term of the outstanding authorization for the station involved; and (2) a description of the change is incorporated in the next application for renewal or modification of license.

(b) Prior authorization from the Commission is required before the following antenna changes may be made at a station at a fixed location:

(1) Any change which will either increase the height of a structure supporting the radiating portion of the antenna or decrease the height of a lighted antenna structure.

(2) Any change in the location of an antenna when such relocation involves a change in the geographic coordinates of latitude or longitude by as much as one second, or when such relocation involves a change in street address.

§ 5.65 Operation at a temporary location. (a) An application for authority to operate at temporary locations shall specify the general geographical area within which the operation will be confined.

(b) When a station is authorized to operate at temporary locations, the following notification procedure shall be followed:

(1) When the station is placed in operation for the first time, the Engineer in Charge of the Radio District(s) involved shall be notified.

(2) When the station is moved from one location to another, the Engineer in Charge of the Radio District(s) involved shall be notified.

§ 5.66 Discontinuance of station operation. In case of permanent discontinuance of operation of a fixed or land station in the experimental services, or in case of permanent discontinuance of operation of all transmitter units listed in the license for a mobile station in the experimental services, the licensee shall forward the station license to the Washington, D. C., office of the Commission for cancellation. A copy of the request for cancellation of the license shall be forwarded to the Commission's Engineer in Charge of the radio district in which the station is located.

§ 5.67 Policy governing the assignment of frequencies. (a) Each frequency or band of frequencies, available for assignment to stations in the experimental services is available on a shared basis only, and will not be assigned for the exclusive use of any one applicant, and such use may also be restricted to one or more specified geographical areas. Normally not more than one frequency in a band of frequencies will be assigned for the use of a single applicant unless a showing is made demonstrating that need for the assignment of additional frequencies is essential to the proposed program of experimentation.

(b) Frequency assignments will be made only on the condition that harmful interference will not be caused to any station operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocation of Part 2 of this chapter.

(c) The frequencies available for use in these services are set forth in §§ 5.203 and 5.253.

§ 5.68 Cancellation provisions. The applicant for a station in the experimental services accepts the license with the express understanding: (1) That the authority to use the frequency or frequencies assigned is granted upon an experimental basis only and does not confer any right to conduct an activity of a continuing nature; and (2) that said grant is subject to change or cancellation by the Commission at any time without hearing if in its discretion the need for such action arises.

SUBPART C—TECHNICAL STANDARDS

§ 5.101 Frequency stability. The frequencies assigned in accordance with the provisions of §§ 5.203 and 5.253 shall be maintained to within the tolerance set forth in the rules governing the service to which the frequencies are assigned in the Table of Frequency Allocations of Part 2 of this chapter unless otherwise designated in the station authorization.

(b) Less restrictive tolerances than those specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section may be authorized for stations in the experimental services provided the applicant presents satisfactory evidence of the need for such tolerances and that the program of research can and will be conducted without causing harmful interference to any other radio service operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations set forth in Part 2 of this chapter.

§ 5.102 Types of emission. (a) Stations in the Experimental Radio Services may be authorized to use any of the classification of emissions covered in Part 2 of this chapter. A request for a specific type of emission not included in paragraph (b) of this section shall be accompanied by a showing of need therefor, which shall include a statement of the band width required for the proposed operations, a full and complete description of the emission specified and the purpose for which such emission is desired.

(b) The following systems of designating emissions, modulation and transmission may be employed:

§ 5.103 Emission limitations. (a) Each authorization issued to a station operating in these services will show, as the prefix to the emission classification, a figure specifying the maximum authorized bandwidth in kilocycles to be occupied by the emission. The specified band shall contain those frequencies upon which a total of 99 percent of the radiated power appears, extended to include any discrete frequency upon which the power is at least 0.25 percent of the total radiated power. Any radiation in excess of the limits specified in paragraph (b) of this section is considered to be an unauthorized emission.

(b) For the purpose of demonstrating compliance with paragraph (a) of this section, the following limits shall apply:

(1) Any emission appearing on any frequency removed from the carrier frequency by at least 50 percent, but not more than 100 percent, of the maximum authorized bandwidth shall be attenuated not less than 25 db below the unmodulated carrier.

(2) Any emission appearing on any frequency removed from the carrier frequency by at least 100 percent of the maximum authorized bandwidth shall be attenuated below the unmodulated carrier by not less than the amount indicated in the following table:

Maximum authorized plate power input to the final radio frequency stage:	Attenuation (db.)
3 watts or less	40
Over 3 watts and including 25 watts	50
Over 25 watts and including 150 watts	60
Over 150 watts and including 600 watts	70
Over 600 watts	80

(c) When an unauthorized emission results in harmful interference, the Commission may, at its discretion, require appropriate technical changes in equipment to eliminate such interference.

(d) The Commission may, at its discretion, designate limits other than those set forth in paragraph (b) of this section after a proper showing of the need therefor.

§ 5.104 Modulation requirements. Modulation requirements of stations in the Experimental Radio Services shall not be in excess of that necessary for the conduct of the authorized program of experimentation nor shall the emissions exceed the limitations imposed by § 5.103, unless specifically authorized by the Commission.

§ 5.105 Power and antenna height. (a) The effective radiated power and antenna height which may be used by a station in this service shall be no more than the minimum necessary to satisfactorily carry on the authorized program of experimentation. No station shall operate at any time with power in excess of that authorized in the station instrument of authorization.

(b) The maximum power requested by an applicant shall not be in excess of the maximum obtainable power of the transmitter consistent with satisfactory technical operation.

§ 5.106 Transmitter control requirements. (a) Each transmitter shall be so installed and protected that it is not accessible to or capable of operation by persons other than those duly authorized by the licensee.

(b) A control point is an operating position which meets all of the following conditions:

(1) The position must be under the control and supervision of the licensee;

(2) It is a position at which the monitoring facilities required by this section are installed; and

(3) It is a position at which an operator responsible for the operation of the transmitter is stationed.

(c) Except where unattended operation is authorized in accordance with § 5.155 (b) (4), each station shall be provided with a control point, the location of which will be specified in the license. It will be assumed that the location of the control point is the same as that of the transmitting equipment unless the application includes a request for a different location. Authority must be obtained from the Commission for the installation of additional control points.

(d) A dispatch point is a position from which messages may be transmitted under the supervision of a control point operator. Dispatch points may be installed without authorization from the Commission.

(e) At each control point the following facilities shall be installed:

(1) A carrier operated device which will provide continuous visual indication when the transmitter is radiating; or, in lieu thereof, a pilot lamp or meter, or other dependable device, which will provide continuous visual indication when the transmitter control circuits have been placed in a condition to produce radiation: Provided, however, That the provisions of this subparagraph shall not apply to hand-carried or pack-carried transmitters;

(2) Equipment to permit the operator to aurally monitor all transmissions originating at dispatch points under his supervision; and capable of receiving transmissions from stations to which harmful interference might be caused.

(3) Facilities which will permit the operator either to disconnect the dispatch point circuits from the transmitter or to render the transmitter inoperative from any dispatch point under his supervision; and

(4) Facilities which will permit the operator to turn the transmitter carrier on and off at will.

(5) In cases in which the applicant makes a satisfactory showing that one or more of the requirements set forth in subparagraphs (1) through (4) of this paragraph would be inappropriate and requests that such requirements be eliminated or others substituted, the Commission will consider such requests.

§ 5.107 Transmitter measurements. (a) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, the licensee of each station in the Experimental Radio Services shall employ suitable procedures to determine that the carrier frequency, power, and modulation do not exceed the limits prescribed in the station authorization.

(b) The transmitter operating characteristics shall be checked and necessary adjustments made when the equipment is originally installed, when any changes are made which might result in operation outside the limits specified in the instrument of authorization, and as often as necessary to maintain the transmitter operation within the limits specified in the instrument of authorization.

(c) Exceptions to these provisions may be made, provided the applicant makes a satisfactory showing that the nature of the proposed program of experimentation precludes compliance therewith.

SUBPART D—OPERATING REQUIREMENTS

§ 5.151 General limitations on use. (a) The following transmission limitations are applicable to all classes of stations in the experimental services and are in addition to the specific requirements applicable to each respective class of service as covered under Subparts E and F of this part:

(1) Stations may make only such transmissions as are necessary and directly related to the conduct of the licensee's stated program of experimentation as specified in his application for construction permit and license and the related station instrument of authorization, and as governed by the provisions of the rules and regulations contained in this part. All transmissions shall be limited to the minimum practical transmission time.

(2) When transmitting, the licensee must use every precaution to insure that the radio frequency energy emitted will not cause harmful interference to the services carried on by stations operating in accordance with the Table of Frequency Allocations of Part 2 of this chapter and, further, that the power radiated is reduced to the lowest practical value consistent with the program of experimentation for which the station authorization is granted. If harmful interference to an established radio service develops, the licensee shall cease transmissions and such transmissions shall not be resumed until it is certain that harmful interference will not be caused.

(b) Unless expressly permitted in the instrument of authorization, experimental stations shall not be used:

(1) To retransmit signals of any other station, except in conjunction with the authorized program of experimentation.

(2) To transmit programs intended for public reception or render any communication service.

§ 5.152 Station identification. Each class of station in the experimental services shall, unless specifically exempted by the terms of the station authorization, transmit its assigned call sign at the end of each complete transmission: Provided, however, That the transmission of the call sign at the end of each transmission is not required for projects requiring continuous, frequent, or extended use of the transmitting apparatus, if, during such periods and in connection with such use, the call sign is transmitted at least once every thirty minutes.

§ 5.153 Suspension of transmission required. The radiations of the transmitter shall be suspended immediately upon detection or notification of a deviation from the technical requirements of the station authorization until such deviation is corrected, except for transmissions concerning the immediate safety of life or property, in which case the transmissions shall be suspended as soon as the emergency is terminated.

§ 5.154 Mobile installations in vehicles not under the continuous control of the licensee. A mobile radio station licensed in the experimental services may not be installed or maintained in a vehicle, aircraft, or vessel, which is not at all times controlled exclusively by the licensee, unless precautions have been taken to eliminate effectively the possibility of the licensed transmitter being operated during the period that the vehicle, aircraft, or vessel is not under the control of the licensee.

§ 5.155 Operator requirements. (a) All transmitter adjustments which may affect the proper operation of a station shall be made by or under the immediate supervision and responsibility of a person holding a radiotelephone or radiotelegraph first or second class operator license: Provided, however, That only a person holding a radiotelegraph first or second class operator license shall perform such functions at a radiotelegraph station transmitting by any type of the Morse code.

(b) A person holding a radiotelephone or radiotelegraph first or second class operator license, as may be appropriate for the type of emission being used, shall be on duty and in charge of the transmitter during the normal rendition of service: Provided, however, That if the transmitter is so designed that none of the operations necessary to be performed during the normal rendition of service may cause off-frequency operation or result in any unauthorized radiation, an operator holding any class of commercial radio operator license except Aircraft Radiotelephone Operator Authorization or Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class Operator License shall be on duty and in charge of the transmitter except:

(1) Only a person holding a commercial radiotelegraph operator license of any class except Temporary Limited Radiotelegraph Second Class shall operate a station when transmitting radiotelegraphy by any type of Morse code: Provided, however, That a person holding a commercial radiotelephone operator license of any class except Aircraft Radiotelephone Operator Authorization may operate such station when telegraphy is transmitted by automatic means for identification, testing, or actuating an automatic signalling device.

(2) An unlicensed person may operate a mobile station when transmitting radiotelephony on frequencies above 25 Mc.

(3) An unlicensed person may operate a mobile station when transmitting radiotelephony on frequencies below 25 Mc when such mobile station is under the operational control of a land station of the same licensee.

(4) No person is required to be in attendance at a station when transmitting on frequencies above 50 Mc for telemetering purposes or when serving as a relay station for the purpose of retransmitting by self-actuating means signals from another station or stations.

(c) The provisions of this section authorizing unlicensed persons to operate certain stations shall be applicable only to stations located within the United States, its territories or possessions and which communicate exclusively with one or more stations located in the United States, its territories or possessions.

(d) The provisions of this section authorizing unlicensed persons to operate mobile stations shall not be construed to change or diminish in any respect the responsibility of station licensees to have and to maintain control over the stations licensed to them, or for the proper functioning and operation of those stations in accordance with the terms of the licenses of those stations.

§ 5.156 Evidence of operator license. Whenever a licensed operator is required by § 5.155, the original license or verification card of such operator shall be immediately available at the place where the operator is on duty.

§ 5.157 Transmitter identification card and posting of station license. (a) The current authorization of each station in these service authorized at a fixed location shall be posted in a conspicuous place in the principal control position of that station. At all other control points listed on the station authorization, a photocopy of the authorization shall be posted. In addition, an executed transmitter Identification Card (FCC Form No. 452–C, Revised) shall be affixed to each transmitter operated at a fixed location, when such transmitter is not in view of, and readily accessible to, the operator at the principal control position. The following information shall be entered on the card by the permittee or licensee:

(1) Name of permittee or licensee.

(2) Station call sign assigned by the Commission.

(3) Exact location or locations of the station's records of operation.

(4) Frequency or frequencies on which the transmitter is adjusted to operate; and

(5) Signature of the permittee or licensee, or a designated official thereof.

(b) The current station authorization for each station authorized for mobile operation shall be retained as a permanent part of the station record but need not be posted. In addition, a transmitter Identification Card (FCC Form No. 452–C, Revised) executed in accordance with paragraph (a) of this section, shall be affixed to each mobile transmitter or associated control equipment. When the transmitter is not in view of, and readily accessible to, the operator, it is preferred that the Identification Card be affixed to the control equipment at the transmitter operating position.

§ 5.158 Authorized points of communication. Stations in the experimental services may communicate only with other stations licensed in the experimental services: Provided, however, That upon a satisfactory showing that the proposed communications are essential to the conduct of the research project, authority may be granted to communicate with stations in other services and U. S. Government stations.

§ 5.159 Operation during an emergency. The licensee of any station in the Experimental Radio Services may, during a period of emergency in which the normal communication facilities are disrupted as a result of hurricane, flood, earthquake, or similar disaster, utilize such station for emergency communication service by communicating in a manner other than that specified in the station license: Provided,

(1) That as soon as possible after the beginning of such emergency use, notice be sent to the Commission at Washington, D. C., and to the Engineer in Charge of the district in which the station is located, stating the nature of the emergency and the use to which the station is being put, and

(2) That the emergency use of the station shall be discontinued as soon as substantially normal communication facilities are again available, and

(3) That the Commission at Washington, D. C., and the Engineer in Charge shall be notified immediately when such special use of the station is terminated: Provided further,

(4) That in no event shall any station engage in emergency transmission on frequencies other than, or with power in excess of, that specified in the instrument of authorization or as otherwise expressly provided by the Commission, or by law: And provided further,

(5) That the Commission may, at any time, order the discontinuance of any such emergency communication undertaken under this section.

§ 5.160 Inspection of stations. All stations and records of stations in the Experimental Services shall be made available for inspection at any time while the station is in operation or shall be made available for inspection upon reasonable request of an authorized representative of the Commission.

§ 5.161 Inspection and maintenance of tower marking and associated control equipment. The licensee of any radio station which has an antenna structure required to be painted or illuminated pursuant to the provisions of section 303 (q) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, and Part 17 of this chapter, shall operate and maintain the tower marking and associated control equipment in accordance with the following:

(a) The tower lights shall be observed at least once each 24 hours, either visually or by observing an automatic and properly maintained indicator designed to register any failure of such lights, to insure that all such lights are functioning properly as required; or, alternatively, there shall be provided and properly maintained an automatic alarm system designed to detect any failure of the tower lights and to provide indication of such failure to the licensee.

(b) Any observed or otherwise known failure of a code or rotating beacon light or top light not corrected within thirty minutes, regardless of the cause of such failure, shall be reported immediately by telephone or telegraph to the nearest Airways Communication Station or office of the Civil Aeronautics Administration. Further notification by telephone or telegraph shall be given immediately upon resumption of the required illumination.

(c) All automatic or mechanical control devices, indicators, and alarm systems associated with the tower lights shall be inspected at intervals not to exceed three months, to insure that such apparatus is functioning properly.

(d) All lighting shall be exhibited from sunset to sunrise unless otherwise specified in the instrument of station authorization.

(e) A sufficient supply of spare lamps shall be maintained for immediate replacement purposes at all times.

(f) All towers shall be cleaned or repainted as often as is necessary to maintain good visibility.

§ 5.162 Answers to notices of violations. Any person receiving official notice of a violation of the terms of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, any legislative act, treaty to which the United States is a party, or the rules and regulations of the Federal Communications Commission, shall, within 3 days from such receipt, send a written answer to the office of the Commission originating the official notice. If an answer cannot be sent, or an acknowledgment made within such 3-day period, acknowledgment and answer shall be made at the earliest practicable date with an explanation of the delay. The answer to each notice shall be complete in itself and shall not be abbreviated by reference to other communications or answers to other notices. The reply shall set forth the steps taken to prevent a recurrence of such violation.

§ 5.163 Content of station records. (a) The licensee of each station in the experimental services shall maintain adequate records of the station's operations, including:

(1) Dates and hours of operation.

(2) All measurements of the frequency(s), including the name of the person making the measurements, the exact frequency measured or the observed deviations from the assigned frequency(s) expressed in cycles, kilocycles or percent plus or minus, and a statement of any corrective action taken.

(3) Power.

(5) Chronological record of experimentation conducted.

(6) The name of the operator on duty.

(b) For all stations, when service or maintenance duties are performed which may affect their proper operation, the responsible operator shall sign and date an entry in the station record concerned, giving:

(1) Pertinent details of all duties performed by him or under his supervision;

(2) His name and address; and

(3) The class, serial number and expiration date of his license: Provided, however, That the information called for under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph and this subparagraph, so long as it remains unchanged, is not required to be repeated in the case of a person who is regularly employed as operator on a full-time basis at the stations.

(c) For stations whose antenna or antenna supporting structure is required to be illuminated, a record in accordance with the following:

(1) The time the tower lights are turned on and off each day, if manually controlled.

(2) The time the daily check of proper operation of the tower lights was made.

(3) In the event of any observed or otherwise known failure of a tower light:

(b) Each entry in the record shall be signed by a person having actual knowledge of the facts to be recorded.

(c) No record or portion thereof shall be erased, obliterated, or willfully destroyed within the required retention period. Any necessary correction may be made only by the persons originating the entry, who shall strike out the erroneous portion, initial the correction made, and indicate the date of correction.

(d) A copy of this part shall be maintained in the records of each fixed or land station licensed under this part.

§ 5.165 Retention of station records. Records required to be kept by this part shall be retained by the licensee for a period of at least one year.

§ 5.166 Adherence to program of research. (a) The program of experimentation as stated by an applicant in its application for construction permit or license or in the station instrument of authorization, shall be substantially adhered to unless the licensee is authorized to do otherwise by the Commission.

(b) Where some phases of the experimental program are not covered by the general rules of the Commission or by the rules of this part, the Commission may specify supplemental or additional requirements or conditions in each case as deemed necessary in the public interest, convenience, or necessity.

§ 5.203 Frequencies available for assignment to stations operating in the Experimental Service (Research). Stations operating in the Experimental Service (Research) may be authorized to use any government or non-government frequency designated in the table of frequency allocation set forth in Part 2 of this chapter as available for assignment to this service: Provided, That the need of the specific frequency(s) requested is fully justified by the applicant.

§ 5.204 Experimental report. (a) Except in the case of those stations providing essential communications for research projects, a report on the results of the experimental program carried on under this subpart shall be filed with and made a part of each application for renewal of license: Provided, however, That the licensee shall, upon request, forward experimental reports at such times during the term of the station authorization as the Commission may deem necessary to evaluate the progress of the experimental program.

(b) An applicant may request that the Commission withhold from the public certain reports and associated material, and the Commission will withhold the same unless the public interest requires otherwise.

(c) The experimental report shall include comprehensive information on the following items:

(1) Detailed analysis of the results obtained.

(2) Report on the experimentation conducted.

(3) Total number of hours of operation on each frequency assigned.

(d) A showing of continued need shall be included with the application for renewal of an authorization to provide communications essential to a research project.

SUBPART F—EXPERIMENTAL SERVICE (DEVELOPMENTAL)

§ 5.251 Eligibility for license. (a) Authorizations for stations in the Experimental Service (Developmental) will be issued only to persons qualified to conduct experimentations utilizing hertzian waves for the development of equipment for use in an existing service or for the development of equipment or technical operational data directly related to a use of radio not provided by existing rules.

(b) Applicants eligible for authorizations in an established service, and seeking to develop operational data or techniques directed toward the improvement or extension of that service, shall conduct such projects under the developmental rules of the established service.

§ 5.252 Scope of service. Stations operating in the Experimental Service (Developmental) will be permitted to conduct the following types of operations:

(a) Development of radio equipment, operational or engineering data related to an existing or proposed radio service.

(b) Field strength surveys by persons not eligible for authorization in any other service or the demonstration of equipment by manufacturers to prospective purchasers for proposed stations in existing services. Transmission shall be limited to test messages essential to the installation, extension or development of a radio communication facility and the procedure set forth in § 5.253 (c) shall apply.

(c) Testing of equipment in connection with production or type approval of such equipment.

§ 5.253 Frequencies available for assignment to stations operating in the Experimental Service (Developmental). (a) Any frequency allocated in Part 2 of this chapter to a particular service may be assigned for the purposes set forth in § 5.252 provided the proposed operation is in accordance with the rules governing the service involved.

(b) Frequencies which have been allocated in Part 2 of this chapter rules to a shared government and non-government service for which rules governing non-government stations have not been promulgated may be assigned for the purpose indicated in column 8 of the table of frequency allocations contained in § 2.104 of this chapter.

Each application requesting the use of frequencies not allocated to an established service for which a developmental program is planned or which is contrary to the rules governing that service must be accompanied by a petition requesting the amendment of the rules governing the service involved to provide for the proposed operation.

(e) Except as provided in paragraph (f) of this section, frequencies will not be assigned for the development of a service for which no frequencies have been allocated until the Commission has made a preliminary determination that the public interest, convenience, or necessity would be served by the establishment of the service. Such applications must be accompanied by a petition requesting the allocation of frequencies for the proposed service and setting forth the reasons in support of the petition.

(f) Where circumstances require and permit, the Commission may defer action on any petition required by paragraphs (d) and (e) of this section and authorize a grant of limited duration for the sole purpose of developing data which the Commission finds to be necessary to make the determinations with respect to such petitions. Such grants shall in no way be construed as a finding by the Commission with respect to the matters set forth in the petitions or that the operation of any radio station thereunder will serve the public interest, convenience, or necessity beyond the express terms of the particular grant. The terms of such grant, including frequency, power, emission, etc., will be specified in the instrument of authorization.

§ 5.254 Frequencies available for field strength surveys or equipment demonstration. (a) Specific frequencies will not normally be designated in a station license issued for the purpose of conducting field strength surveys or equipment demonstrations. § 5.255 Experimental report. (a) A report on the results of the experimental program carried on under this subpart shall be filed with and made a part of each application for renewal of license: Provided, however, That the licensee shall, upon request, forward experimental reports at such time during the term of the station authorization as the Commission may deem necessary to evaluate the progress of the experimental program.

(b) An applicant may request that the Commission withhold from the public certain reports and associated material, and the Commission will withhold the same unless the public interest requires disclosures.

(c) The experimental report of stations operating in this service for the development of existing services shall include comprehensive information on the following items in the order designated:

[Docket No. 10174]

PART 10—PUBLIC SAFETY RADIO SERVICES

SPECIAL EMERGENCY RADIO SERVICE

In the matter of amendment of Subpart J of Part 10—Public Safety Radio Services; Docket No. 10174.

1. The Commission heretofore, on April 17, 1952, adopted a notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 26, 1952 (17 F. R. 3750). The amendments proposed to state more clearly the terms and conditions of eligibility for authorizations in the Special Emergency Radio Service; to describe the manner and extent of permissible use of facilities in this service in greater detail and in respect to each type of eligible; and to provide standby facilities for use of persons who operate wire line communication circuits for transmission of messages of a nature that any disruption thereof would endanger life or public property. Experience under the existing rules indicated a need for the proposed changes, if the most efficient administration of the service was to be obtained. For example, considerable difficulty has been encountered in interpretation of the phrases "remote areas" and "where other communication facilities are not available" in connection with the eligibility of physicians under the present rules. Similar difficulties were experienced in regard to the permissible communications and the number and classes of stations for each eligible group.

2. Written comments were received from ten interested parties and organizations. No general opposition to the proposed amendments was expressed in any of the comments, but there was some disagreement concerning certain portions of the amendments proposed. To the extent feasible, suggestions were adopted, and §§ 10.462 (d) and (e), 10.452 (a), (b) and (d), and 10.457 were changed in whole or in part to conform with the views expressed. The bulk of unfavorable comment was directed toward the proposal to revise the eligibility of rural area physicians, veterinarians and school bus operators in a manner which would delete the requirement that other communication facilities be unavailable. These comments, received from several licensees of miscellaneous common carrier communication systems, appear to object to the proposed rule changes on the basis that physicians, veterinarians and school bus operators in rural areas are potential users of public communication facilities.

3. While some of these rural area users may employ common carrier facilities where available, it is thought that the limited number of such users would be insufficient to generate any substantial demand for common carrier service. Further, experience in administering the Special Emergency Radio Service rules since these rural area users were first made eligible, on July 1, 1949, indicates that, from a frequency loading standpoint, it is feasible to remove the restriction relating to unavailability of other communication facilities. Conversely, however, the number of frequencies available to this service does not appear to be sufficient to permit a complete delimitation of the eligibility of physicians or other restricted users. Adoption of the rules as proposed in this regard also will simplify and expedite the administration of the Special Emergency Radio Service, since determinations of availability and adequacy of common carrier facilities no longer will be necessary in processing applications submitted by this limited group of eligibles.

4. On the other hand, one physician regularly practicing on Long Island, New York, objected to the proposed amendment on the ground that the eligibility provided for physicians was too limited and that such eligibility should be further extended to include physicians in urban areas who are under contract to render emergency medical service to public agencies. He asked that oral argument be granted on this proposal. However, this request is denied, since (1) there was no other request for oral argument and the physician's proposal appears to relate only to his own personal desire to operate a radio station in the Special Emergency Radio Service; (2) the substance of this proposal has been previously denied (Petition of Dr. Eugene Rodin to amend Special Emergency Radio Service Rules—denied by the Commission April 17, 1952), and (3) the physician's pending application has been the subject of a public hearing to determine, among other things, his eligibility under the existing rules governing the Special Emergency Radio Service.

5. The subject of providing an unlimited radio communication service for physicians was under study by the Commission over a period of several years prior to the formulation of rules establishing a number of new radio services, effective July 1, 1949, which grew out of the general mobile experimental program. While the advantages of private system operation for all physicians were recognized, it became apparent, as a result of the frequency demands generated during the experimental period, that many potential radio users would have to rely on common carrier systems. In this regard, the Commission, in its Report and Order in Docket 9018, et al. (General Mobile Hearing), dated April 27, 1949, stated in part—

> As a result of a consideration of the experimental data compiled in relation to this service, the comments submitted and the arguments presented, the Commission has concluded that many of the miscellaneous types of users who have been authorized to operate these Special Industrial and private general mobile experimental systems, particularly in urban areas, must, in the future, obtain their mobile radio communication service from common carrier systems, and from the Citizens Radio Service.

6. In general, it appears that public communication facilities available in urban areas are superior to those provided in rural areas, and therefore, the need for unrestricted eligibility seems to be greater in the rural areas. Further, since it has been determined in prior proceedings that there is a recognizable difference between urban and nonurban radio users in regard to the use of common carrier facilities, and since the proposed amendments do not disturb this determination, but rather provide a convenient and easily interpreted norm for determining the eligibility of rural area mobile users in the Special Emergency Radio Service, it appears reasonable and practicable to adopt the rule amendments in this regard as proposed.

7. In view of the foregoing: It is ordered, This 13th day of February 1953, that the amendments to Part 10 of the Commission's rules as set forth below are adopted, effective March 27, 1953.

Released: February 17, 1953.

SUBPART J—SPECIAL EMERGENCY RADIO SERVICE

§ 10.451 Availability of service. Special Emergency Radio Service is available only to the extent and for the purposes described in succeeding sections of this subpart. The eligibility requirements, classes of stations available to each eligible group, permissible communications in accordance with eligibility, and other applicable conditions of use are set forth as separate sections of this subpart.

§ 10.452 Disaster relief organizations—(a) Eligibility. Organizations established for disaster relief purposes and which have an emergency communications plan involving the use of radio are eligible in this service.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from a disaster relief organization shall be accompanied by a copy of the charter or other authority under which the organization was established and a copy of the communications plan with a full explanation as to how the requested radio facilities would be used under such plan and integrated into any other communication facilities which normally would be available to assist in the alleviation of the emergency condition.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Disaster relief organizations may be authorized to operate an unlimited number of base, mobile and fixed stations.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for transmissions which are necessary for drills and tests as permitted by § 10.151 (e), stations licensed to disaster relief organizations may be used only for the transmission of communications relating to the safety of life or property, the establishment and maintenance of temporary relief facilities, and the alleviation of the emergency situation during periods of actual or impending emergency, or disaster, and until substantially normal conditions are restored.

§ 10.453 Physicians and veterinarians—(a) Eligibility. Physicians and veterinarians are eligible in this service: Provided, That the applicant can qualify under the following conditions:

(1) The applicant is a physician or veterinarian having a regular practice in a rural area.

(2) For the purpose of this part a rural area is considered to be any area outside of the established or accepted boundaries of towns or communities having a population in excess of 2,500 inhabitants.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from a physician or veterinarian shall be accompanied by a statement in sufficient detail to permit a ready determination of the applicant's eligibility. Any subsequent application may refer to information previously filed if there has been no change in the status of the applicant's eligibility. In the event changes have occurred which affect the original eligibility statements, a new showing must accompany the application. The initial eligibility showing must contain as a minimum the information indicated below:

(1) A physician or veterinarian desiring to establish eligibility based on a rural area practice shall describe the radio communication facilities desired and the rural area to be served.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Each physician or veterinarian normally may be authorized to operate not more than one base station and two mobile units. Additional base stations or mobile units will be authorized only in exceptional circumstances when the applicant can show a specific need therefor.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmissions as permitted by § 10.151 (e), stations licensed to physicians or veterinarians may be used only for the transmission of messages pertaining to the safety of life or property and urgent messages relating to the medical duties of the licensee.

§ 10.454 Ambulance operators and rescue organizations—(a) Eligibility. Persons or organizations operating an emergency ambulance service or rescue squad are eligible in this service.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from a person or organization operating an ambulance service or rescue squad shall be accompanied by a statement describing the radio communication facilities desired and indicating how they would be used to enhance the safety of human life in the service being rendered. The statements also shall indicate the number of vehicles actually engaged in the emergency operation.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Each ambulance operator or rescue squad normally may be authorized to operate not more than one base station and a number of mobile units, excluding mobile units of the hand or pack carried type, not in excess of the number of vehicles actually engaged in the emergency operation. Mobile units of the hand carried or pack carried type may be authorized to an extent not to exceed two such units for each radio equipped ambulance or rescue squad vehicle. Additional base stations or mobile units will be authorized only in exceptional circumstances when the applicant can show a specific need therefor.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmissions as permitted by § 10.151 (e), stations licensed to ambulance operators or rescue squads may be used only for the transmission of messages pertaining to the safety of life or property and urgent messages necessary for the rendition of an efficient ambulance or emergency rescue service.

§ 10.455 Beach patrols—(a) Eligibility. Persons or organizations operating beach patrols having responsibility for life-saving activities are eligible in this service.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from a person or organization operating a beach patrol shall be accompanied by a statement describing the radio communication facilities desired and the area served by the beach patrol. The statement shall also clearly indicate the proposed method of operation and the number and classes of stations required.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Eligibles in this category will be authorized to operate base, mobile, and fixed stations in the stated area served by the beach patrol. The number of such stations requested shall be fully justified in the eligibility showing.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmissions as permitted by § 10.151 (e) stations licensed to persons or organizations operating beach patrols may be used only for the transmission of messages pertaining to the safety of life or property.

§ 10.456 School buses—(a) Eligibility. Persons or organizations operating school buses having regular routes into rural areas are eligible in this service.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from a person or organization operating a school bus service shall be accompanied by a statement describing the radio communication facilities desired. The statement shall also indicate the school or schools being served and describe the area in which the service is operated. If the applicant is not a government sub-division the statement shall indicate the authority under which the school buses are being operated and the tenure of any contractual agreement in effect.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Each school bus operator normally may be authorized to operate not more than one base station and a number of mobile units not in excess of the total of the number of buses and maintenance vehicles regularly engaged in the school bus operation. Additional base stations or mobile units will be authorized only in exceptional circumstances when the applicant can show a specific need therefor.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmissions as permitted by § 10.151 (e), stations licensed to school bus operators may be used only for the transmission of messages pertaining to the safety of life or property or urgent messages relating to buses which have become inoperative on regular runs.

§ 10.457 Communication standby facilities—(a) Eligibility. Persons or organizations operating communication circuits are eligible for standby radio facilities in this service: Provided, That the applicant can qualify under either of the following conditions:

(1) The applicant is a communications common carrier.

(2) The applicant is a person or organization operating communications circuits which normally carry essential communications of such a nature that any disruption thereof will endanger life or public property.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from an eligible in this category proposing to operate a radio standby facility for other normal communication circuits shall be accompanied by a statement describing the radio communication facilities desired and the proposed method of operation. When appropriate, the statement shall include a description of the messages normally being carried and explain how a disruption thereof will endanger life or public property.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Eligibles in this category may be authorized to operate an unlimited number of fixed stations as standby radio facilities. Any such fixed station may be licensed for operation either at a specified location or at any temporary location within a specified area. In the latter case the area of desired operation must be specified by the applicant.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmission as permitted by § 10.151 (e), stations licensed for communication circuit standby facilities may be used only during periods when the normal circuits are inoperative due to circumstances beyond the control of the user. During such periods the radio facilities may be used to transmit any communication which would normally be carried by the regular circuits.

§ 10.458 Establishments in isolated areas—(a) Eligibility. Persons or organizations maintaining establishments in isolated areas where public communication facilities are not available and where the use of radio is the only feasible means of establishing communication with a center of population, or other point from which emergency assistance might be obtained if needed, are eligible in this service.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application requesting a station authorization for an establishment in an isolated area shall be accompanied by a statement describing the radio communication facilities desired, the applicant's need therefor, and the proposed method of operation, including the location, class of station and name of licensee of the station with which communication is requested. The statement shall also describe the status of public communication facilities in the area of the applicant's establishment and indicate the results of any attempts the applicant may have made to obtain public communication service. In the event radio communications service is to be furnished the proposed station by another station which is not licensed to the applicant, a statement shall be submitted from the licensee of the station involved indicating that the proposed service will be rendered.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Persons or organizations in this category may be authorized to operate not more than one fixed station at any isolated establishment and in addition not more than one fixed station in a center of population.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmissions as permitted by § 10.151 (e), stations licensed for use at establishments in isolated areas may be used only during an actual or impending emergency endangering life, health or property for the transmission of essential communications arising from the emergency. The transmission of routine or non-emergency communications is strictly prohibited.

(e) Communication service rendered and received. (1) The licensee of a fixed station at an establishment in an isolated area shall make the communication facilities of such station available at no charge to any person desiring the transmission of any communication permitted by paragraph (d) of this section.

(2) For the purpose of providing the communications link desired the licensee of a fixed station at an establishment in an isolated area either may be the licensee of a similar station at another location or may obtain communication service under a mutual agreement from the licensee of any station in the Public Safety Radio Services or any other station which is authorized to communicate with the special emergency fixed station.

§ 10.459 Emergency repair of public communications facilities. (a) Communications common carriers are eligible in this service for radio facilities to be used in effecting expeditious repairs to interruptions of public communications facilities where such interruptions have resulted in disabling intercity circuits or service to a multiplicity of subscribers in a general area.

(b) Eligibility showing. The initial application from a communications common carrier under the provisions of this section shall be accompanied by a statement describing the radio communication facilities desired and the proposed method of use under such emergency conditions as the applicant expects to arise. The statement shall also clearly indicate the number and classes of stations required in the proposed operation.

(c) Class and number of stations available. Eligibles in this category may be authorized to operate base, mobile and fixed stations. The number of such stations requested shall be fully justified in the eligibility showing.

(d) Permissible communications. Except for test transmissions as permitted by § 10.151 (e) stations authorized under the eligibility provisions of this section may be used only, when no other means of communication is readily available, for the transmission of messages relating to the safety of life and property and messages which are necessary for the efficient restoration of the public communication facilities which have been disrupted.

§ 10.460 Points of communication. (a) Special emergency base stations are primarily authorized to intercommunicate with special emergency mobile stations. Special emergency mobile stations are primarily authorized to intercommunicate with base and other special emergency mobile stations.

(b) Special emergency base and mobile stations are secondarily authorized to intercommunicate with other stations in the Public Safety Radio Services and to transmit to receivers at fixed locations: Provided, That no harmful interference will be caused to the service of any station transmitting to a point of communication for which that station is primarily authorized.

(c) Special emergency fixed stations are authorized to intercommunicate with other stations in the Public Safety Radio Services and to transmit to receivers at fixed locations. Such stations are also authorized to intercommunicate with any other station which is authorized to communicate with the special emergency fixed station.

§ 10.461 Station limitations. (a) Mobile relay stations will not be authorized in the Special Emergency Radio Service.

(b) Except for fixed stations operating on frequencies assigned under the provisions of limitation note 10 of § 10.462 (f), each operator of a station in the Special Emergency Radio Service shall listen on the licensed frequency of the station prior to transmitting and shall not transmit until it has been reasonably determined that harmful interference will not be caused to any authorized communication in progress on the frequency.

(c) Where a radio station authorization in the Special Emergency Radio Service is held by a person or organization engaging in activities beyond the scope of those indicated in the eligibility provisions of this service the operation of such station shall be strictly confined to those activities on which the eligibility was established except for messages relating to the safety of life.

§ 10.462 Frequencies available to the Special Emergency Radio Service. (a) The frequencies or bands of frequencies listed herein are available for assignment to stations in the Special Emergency Radio Service subject to the conditions and limitations of this section.

(b) The amount of separation between assignable frequencies listed in this section does not necessarily indicate the amount of frequency separation required for systems operation; accordingly, grants of adjacent channel assignments in all bands shall be in the discretion of the Commission.

(c) The operation of mobile systems in the Special Emergency Radio Service will be restricted to the use of only one frequency per system.

(d) Frequencies indicated normally for base and mobile stations in the Special Emergency Radio Service will be authorized to fixed stations also subject to the condition that harmful interference will not be caused to the mobile service.

(e) The following tabulation indicates the frequency or bands of frequencies, the class of station(s) to which they are normally available, and the specific assignment limitations, which are developed in paragraph (f) of this section:

(3) Assignable frequencies spaced by 40 kc beginning with the frequencies 72.02 and 75.42 Mc and ending with the frequencies 74.58 and 75.98 Mc, respectively, are available on a shared basis to operational fixed stations in the Special Emergency Radio Service on the condition that no harmful interference will be caused to the reception of television stations on Channels 4 or 5.

(4) Assignable frequencies spaced by 60 kc beginning with the frequency 159.51 Mc and ending with the frequency 161.79 Mc are available on a shared basis to base and mobile stations in the Special Emergency Radio Service upon an adequate showing of need and upon the condition that no harmful interference will be caused to the service of any existing or future station operating in the Railroad Radio Service.

(5) The use of this frequency may be authorized to base and mobile stations in the Special Emergency Radio Service on the condition that no harmful interference will be caused to the Maritime Mobile Service. (i) That such fixed station is established pursuant to the eligibility provisions of § 10.458 and that the isolated area involved is an island or other location not more than 300 statute miles removed from the desired point of communication and isolated from that point by water.

(ii) That evidence is submitted showing that an arrangement has been made with the coast station licensee for the handling of emergency communications permitted by § 7.302 (b) of this chapter and § 10.458 (d).

(iii) That operation of the special emergency fixed station shall at no time conflict with any provision of Part 8 of this chapter and further, that such operation in general shall conform to the practices employed by Public Ship Stations for radiotelephone communication with the same Public Coast Station.

(11) This frequency is shared with the State Guard Radio Service.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR Parts 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 33, 34, 35, 51]

CITIZENSHIP REQUIREMENTS FOR ISSUANCE OF AIRMAN CERTIFICATES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Pursuant to authority delegated by the Civil Aeronautics Board to the Bureau of Safety Regulation, notice is hereby given that the Bureau will propose to the Board amendments of Parts 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 33, 34, 35, and 51 of the Civil Air Regulations as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rules by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rules, communications must be received by March 24, 1953. Copies of such communications will be available after March 26, 1953, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

Currently effective Civil Air Regulations prescribe that an applicant for an airman certificate shall be a citizen of the United States or of a foreign government which grants or has undertaken to grant reciprocal privileges to citizens of the United States on equal terms and conditions with citizens of such foreign government. Provision is also made for the issuance to a citizen of a foreign government of a Limited Pilot Certificate appropriate to his pilot time and aeronautical experience upon a showing that he holds a currently effective certificate or license issued by his foreign government. The issuance of this certificate does not require the existence of a reciprocal agreement. Current regulations further prescribe that an airman certificate issued to other than a United States citizen shall remain in effect no longer than 12 months after the date of issuance.

As a result of the Bureau's studies of the necessity for reciprocity provisions in connection with the issuance of airman certificates, it appears desirable that aliens who have immigrated to the United States on a permanent residence visa should, as prospective citizens, be included in the classification of United States citizens for the purpose of obtaining airman certificates. In addition, with regard to those classes of airman certificates which cannot be used for remuneration or hire, namely, student, private pilot, and free balloon pilot certificates, no realistic purpose was found to exist for requiring reciprocity to be considered as an element precedent to their issuance.

The studies, however, did indicate that it is desirable that a reciprocity requirement be retained for those classes of certificates which qualify the holder to engage in commercial enterprise. However, with regard to these classes of certificates an exception to the reciprocity requirement appears desirable for those involving "ground duties" when the holder uses the certificate outside the United States and renders service thereunder which would be of benefit to the operation of United States aircraft.

In view of the foregoing it is proposed to amend the citizenship requirements of Parts 20, 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27, 33, 34, 35, and 51 as follows:

a. Student, Private Pilot, and Free Balloon Pilot (Parts 20 and 22):

Applicant may be a citizen of any country or a person without nationality.

b. Commercial Pilot, Airline Transport Pilot, Flight Radio Operator, Flight Navigator, Flight Engineer (Parts 20, 21, 22, 33, 34, 35):

Applicant shall be:

1. A citizen of the United States or an individual who has been admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or

2. A citizen of any other country whose government grants or has undertaken to grant to citizens of the United States _____ (Insert here commercial pilot, airline transport pilot, etc., as appropriate) privileges equivalent to those which such government grants to its own citizens.

c. Mechanic, Repairman, Parachute Rigger, Air-Traffic Control-Tower Operator, Aircraft Dispatcher, Ground Instructor (Parts 24, 25, 26, 27, 51):

Applicant shall be:

1. A citizen of the United States or an individual who has been admitted to the United States for permanent residence, or

2. A citizen of any other country whose government grants or has undertaken to grant to citizens of the United States _____ (Insert here mechanic, parachute rigger, etc., as appropriate) privileges equivalent to those which such government grants to its own citizens, or

3. A citizen of any country or a person without nationality who:

(a) Is in the employ of a United States air carrier; or

(b) Is in the employ of a holder of an air agency certificate issued pursuant to the Civil Air Regulations; or

(c) Does not meet the requirements of (a) or (b) but will, in the opinion of the Administrator, perform duties under his certificate which will benefit the operation of United States aircraft.

Provided, That the holder of a certificate issued under the provisions of this paragraph (3) shall not exercise within the United States the privileges conferred by the certificate.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[47 CFR Part 11]

[Docket No. 9703]

SPECIAL INDUSTRIAL RADIO SERVICE

FURTHER NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

In the matter of revision of Subpart K of Part 11, rules governing the Special Industrial Radio Service.

1. The Commission has had under consideration a notice of proposed rule making in the above entitled matter and comments filed relative thereto. It is apparent from these comments and the experience gained in the administration of the Special Industrial Service since these rules were originally proposed that the public interest would best be served by the withdrawal of the original proposal and the substitution of a new one. Accordingly, the outstanding notice of proposed rule making is hereby withdrawn and the rules set forth below are substituted in lieu thereof.

2. The Commission has been confronted with a difficult situation in the interpretation of present § 11.501 (a) (1) with respect to what is "a remote or sparsely settled region." A more realistic approach would appear to be the establishment of a definite criterion which may be used as a yardstick in determining a particular applicant's eligibility. The Commission believes the term Standard Metropolitan Area as recently promulgated by the Bureau of Census may be used as such a criterion.

It will be noted that these areas are defined not as to a particular city alone, but in terms of one or more contiguous counties surrounding the city, thereby giving a much truer picture of the area involved. This would eliminate much of the uncertainty contained in the present rule. The new rule, § 11.502 (a) (1), has been built around this standard.

3. It will be noted that the phrase "activities of a service or distribution nature" which are excluded in the present § 11.501 (a) has been changed in § 11.502 (a) to read "activities of a maintenance, repair, sales or distribution nature." This change is designed to remove some of the ambiguity connected with the term "service" under which there was some doubt concerning the eligibility of persons who performed work of a productive nature for others under contract. We have in mind the harrower, harvester, cropduster, oil well acidizer and the like who while not engaged in producing for himself performs an integral step in the production of the final product. We intend that these persons be considered as meeting the basic eligibility requirements contained in § 11.502 (a).

4. Attention is also directed to the fact that the current revision is designed to meet the problem of mobile service communications only. No policy concerning eligibility for fixed point-to-point systems in the Special Industrial Radio Service has as yet been promulgated. Accordingly, for the present, except for fixed station auxiliaries to be used as part of a mobile service system, all requests for point-to-point facilities will be handled on a case by case basis.

5. There is pending before the Commission, a petition filed December 30, 1952, by the National Ready Mixed Concrete Association and the National Sand and Gravel Association for the Allocation of Industrial Radio Facilities to be used by contractors and subcontractors. This petition raises, among other things, certain allocation questions which may not be disposed of at this time. Its disposition, therefore, will be the subject of another proceeding. This is the reason why the present § 11.501 (a) (2) is being carried over into the new rules without change. For the time being, those contractors seeking radio authorizations will have to qualify under current regulations.

6. At the time the rules are finalized, it is proposed to adopt the following policy with respect to existing licensees in the Special Industrial Radio Service:

a. Each licensee of a station operating under the provisions of § 11.501 (a) (1) and (2), any part of whose operations take place within a Standard Metropolitan Area who desires to have his license renewed or modified shall submit with his application for renewal or modification details sufficiently complete to determine the applicant's eligibility under the new rules. In the event any such person can not qualify under the new standards for a Special Industrial Service authorization, he will be given an amortization period of 3 years from date of expiration of his current license, during which time he may continue to operate under the same terms and conditions as are contained in his current instrument of authorization.

7. The proposed rules are issued under the authority of sections 4 (i) and 303 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended.

8. Any interested party who is of the opinion that the proposed amendment should not be adopted or should not be adopted in the form set forth herein may file on or before March 16, 1953, a written statement or brief setting forth his comments. Comments in support of the proposed amendment may also be filed on or before the same date. Comments or briefs in reply to the original comments may be filed within 10 days from the last day for filing said original comments or briefs. The Commission will consider all such comments that are submitted before taking action in this matter, and if any comments appear to warrant the holding of a hearing or oral argument, notice of the time and place of such hearing or oral argument will be given.

9. In accordance with the provisions of § 1.784 of the Commission rules and regulations, an original and 14 copies of all statements, briefs, or comments shall be furnished the Commission.

Adopted: February 11, 1953.

Released: February 13, 1953.

[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

Proposed amendments to Subpart K of Part 11, rules governing Special Industrial Radio Services:

1. Renumber present §§ 11.502, 11.503, and 11.504 to be new §§ 11.504, 11.505, and 11.506, respectively.

2. Delete present § 11.501 and substitute new §§ 11.501, 11.502, and 11.503 in lieu thereof, as follows:

§ 11.501 Scope of service. (a) The rules set forth in this subpart are designed to make available to a variety of individual industrial enterprises mobile radio communication systems which can contribute materially to the safety and efficiency of the operations involved. The number of frequencies available for assignment in this service precludes making it available to all classes of persons who might have a need for mobile radio communication, particularly in or near large population centers. Accordingly, strict eligibility limitations have been placed on industrial radio usage in such areas. Furthermore, those persons who do qualify for their own radio systems in such areas are cautioned that a substantial amount of interference can be expected.

(b) While certain frequencies are listed as available for assignment for fixed operations in this service, this should not be construed to mean that any policy concerning their use has, as yet, been formulated. The extent to which point-to-point systems will be authorized must await further development of the microwave program. Except, therefore, for fixed station auxiliaries to be used as part of a mobile service system, requests for point-to-point facilities will be considered on a case by case basis.

§ 11.502 Eligibility for mobile service facilities. (a) A person is eligible to hold an authorization to operate a radio station in the Special Industrial Radio Service when such person is engaged in an industrial activity the primary function of which is devoted to agriculture, construction, fabrication, manufacturing, production, or similar processes, as distinguished from activities of a maintenance, repair, sales or distribution nature, and, in addition, meets one or more of the following requirements:

(1) At least seventy-five percent of the average daily hours of operation of the vehicles in connection with which radio is to be used takes place in areas not forming part of any Standard Metropolitan Area, as that term is defined in 1950 Census of Population, Advance Reports, Series PC–9, No. 6, released by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, November 24, 1952; or

(2) The industrial operation is a construction project of a public character; or

(3) The use of radio is required within the yard area of a single plant for mobile service communications and the use of the Low Power Industrial Service does not meet the operational requirements of the industry otherwise found eligible under this subparagraph. (Mobile units may be operated outside of the physical limits of the "yard area" for the purpose of maintaining plant security when authorized by the Commission in writing or by notation on the instrument of station authorization upon a showing that such operation is necessary in the interest of the national defense.)

(b) A subsidiary corporation organized for the sole purpose of furnishing a non-profit communication service to its parent corporation and/or its subsidiaries may be considered eligible for this service if the parent corporation and/or its subsidiaries meet the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Each application for authority to operate in the Special Industrial Radio Service shall be accompanied by a statement in detail sufficient to indicate clearly the applicant's eligibility under paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 11.503 Mobile service frequencies for use at temporary locations. (a) Subject to the applicable provisions of § 11.54, authorization to operate a Base station in this Service at temporary locations will be granted only on the frequencies 27.31, 27.35, 27.39, 43.02, 43.06, 43.10, 43.14, 49.70, or 152.87 Mc: Provided, however, That this paragraph shall not be applicable in the case of such stations when they are to be operated only within direct communication range of one or more permanently located Base stations operated by the same licensee.

(b) A Mobile station not associated with one or more Base stations installed at permanent locations will be authorized to operate on the frequencies 27.31, 27.35, 27.39, 43.02, 43.06, 43.10, 43.14, 49.70 or 152.87 Mc only.

ORDER ENLARGING ISSUES

In re applications of The Enterprise Company, Beaumont, Texas, Docket No. 10286, File No. BPCT–743; Beaumont Broadcasting Corporation, Beaumont, Texas, Docket No. 10287, File No. BPCT–762; KTRM, Inc., Beaumont, Texas, Docket No. 10288, File No. BPCT–971; for television construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 11th day of February 1953;

The Commission having under consideration a petition to enlarge the issues in the above-entitled proceeding filed by the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau on November 12, 1952; and

It appearing, that the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau alleges that the tower proposed in the above-entitled application of KTRM, Inc., would be located in the vicinity of the directional array of standard broadcast Station KTRM, Beaumont, Texas; that the proximity of the proposed television tower might impair the ability of the standard broadcast station to operate in accordance with the terms of its license; that the impairment (a) may result in changes in the radiation characteristics of the AM antenna system to the extent that interference to other stations is caused, or in a manner that will adversely affect AM service in the Beaumont area, or (b) may have an effect on the potential assignment of foreign stations authorized under existing and proposed international agreements; that inadequate consideration is given to this problem in the application of KTRM, Inc.; and that in view of the aforesaid, the Commission should enlarge the issues in the above-entitled proceeding so as to require a determination as to whether the construction of the tower proposed by KTRM, Inc., will adversely affect the operations of Station KTRM; and

It further appearing, that the Commission has consistently granted similar petitions by the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau;

It is ordered, That the above-described petition of the Chief of the Broadcast Bureau is granted; and

It is further ordered, That the Commission's order of July 11, 1952, designating the above-entitled applications for hearing is amended, so that Issue No. 5 is renumbered as Issue No. 6, and a new Issue No. 5 is added as follows:

5. To determine whether the erection of the television antenna proposed in the application of KTRM, Inc. will adversely affect the ability of standard broadcast Station KTRM to operate in accordance with the terms of its license and the construction permit pursuant to which its license was issued, particularly with respect to the operation of its radiating system, and whether corrective measures for such effect are possible and feasible.

[Docket No. 8380]

OZARKS BROADCASTING CO. (KWTO)

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR FURTHER HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Ozarks Broadcasting Company (KWTO), Springfield, Missouri, Docket No. 8380, File No. BP–5259, BMP–5650, for construction permit; Ozarks Broadcasting Company (KWTO), Springfield, Missouri, File No. BMP–5930, for modification of construction permit.

1. The above-entitled application for construction permit (BP–5259) was granted by the Commission in a decision released December 21, 1950, authorizing Ozarks Broadcasting Company (KWTO), to increase its nighttime power to 5 kw on 560 kc. This decision was the subject of an appeal by Beaumont Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station KFDM, Beaumont, Texas. During the pendency of the appeal the construction permit issued to KWTO was modified by the grant of application BMP–5650 on October 4, 1951, the effect of which was to reduce the interference caused Station KFDM. The Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit reversed the decision granting the application of Ozarks and remanded the matter to this Commission for further proceedings in accordance with its opinion. Beaumont Broadcasting Corporation v. Federal Communications Commission, 7 Pike & Fischer R. R. 2149.[1]

2. The Court of Appeals held that the Commission had committed error in two respects in arriving at the decision to grant Ozarks' application. At the hearing Ozarks' engineering expert had been permitted to testify that he was unable to design a practicable directional array which would afford protection to all stations operating on 560 kc. The Court decided that under the facts of this case the Commission had improperly excluded cross examination by Beaumont and the other intervenors of this witness, and their proffer of evidence of alternative antenna arrays. The second error found by the Court of Appeals was that no findings were made in the Commission's decision concerning whether there is an actual disparity between the amount of interference found by the Commission in the present proceedings, and the amount which the Commission, in 1947, found would be suffered by Beaumont when it authorized Beaumont to increase its nighttime power subject to any interference which might result from a subsequent grant of Ozarks' application which was then pending.

3. On January 6, 1953, Ozarks filed with the Commission a Petition to Issue an Amended Decision Consistent With the Court of Appeals Decision. Ozarks, addressing itself to each of the errors found by the Court, asserts that an amended decision consistent with the Court's mandate may be issued without holding a further hearing in this matter. With respect to consideration by the Commission of alternative antenna proposals, Ozarks contends that the Commission has before it a sufficient record from which to spell out the fact that the Beaumont alternative proposal was "not proper." In this connection Ozarks argues that the issues of the proceeding did not contemplate consideration of alternative antenna proposals; that Beaumont should have moved to enlarge the issues if it desired to introduce such evidence, and cannot now complain of its failure in this regard; and that the Beaumont proposal was not proper because it deprived the other parties to the hearing of proper and timely notice. With respect to the second finding of error, Ozarks asserts that the record already compiled in this proceeding contains sufficient evidence so that the Commission may properly find that the interference resulting to Station KFDM from the operation of Station KWTO as the result of the grant made in this proceeding occurs in that area which is reached by the KFDM signal only so long as Station KWTO is not operating with a nighttime power of 5 kw. It is further asserted by Ozarks that the Commission decided at the time of the conditional grant to Beaumont that the public interest required that this "expanded area" be lost by Beaumont in order that Ozarks render expanded service.

4. On January 12, 1953, Beaumont filed with the Commission a Motion to Dismiss Ozarks' petition which is in effect, and will be considered, as an opposition thereto. In this motion Beaumont relies upon a quotation from the Court's opinion in which the error of the Commission in refusing to allow cross examination or the introduction of evidence by Beaumont on the subject of possible directional antenna arrays which might protect all licensees on 560 kc was discussed. Beaumont asserts in this motion that it had filed with the Commission on November 12, 1952,[2] a suggested antenna design for Ozarks' operation, and contends that the Court's opinion requires that a hearing be held on "alternative directive antennas."

5. Insofar as Ozarks' petition requests that this proceeding be terminated by the issuance of an amended decision without further hearing, it must be denied. The opinion of the Court of Appeals in Beaumont Broadcasting Corporation v. Federal Communications Commission cited above, quite clearly holds that in the circumstances of this particular case legal error was committed by refusing to allow cross examination and the introduction of evidence by the parties to the hearing upon the subject of the possibility of designing and utilizing a directional antenna other than that proposed by Ozarks, which would protect all other licensees on 560 kc. This error cannot be rectified as the Court's mandate requires without reopening the record for the reception of such evidence. Accordingly, this matter must be designated for further hearing upon this question.

6. It is unnecessary to decide the correctness of Ozarks' assertion that further hearing is not required in order to determine the precise extent of the interference which would be caused Beaumont under Ozarks' proposal. It is true that Ozarks' proposal had not changed between the time of the conditional grant to Beaumont and the time that the hearing was held in this matter and that the record contains sufficient information on which to base a finding that there is no disparity in the amount of such interference predicted and the amount shown at the hearing. It is to be noted that in its motion to dismiss the Ozarks' petition, Beaumont did not refer to that portion of the opinion of the Court of Appeals in which this question was discussed. However, the subject of the further hearing in this case will be Ozarks' original application (BP–5259) as amended (BMP–5650) subsequent to the hearing which was held. Accordingly, the effects of the changes in Ozarks' proposal must be considered at such further hearing. Any showing upon the question of disparity between the interference accepted by Beaumont and that it would receive under Ozarks' present proposal may be made under the issue designated by the Commission in this connection.

7. The opinion of the Court of Appeals recognized that advance submission of the technical data involved in the proposal of an alternative directional antenna would promote efficiency and expedition of the administrative hearing. Any party to this proceeding who wishes to submit a proposal for an alternative directional antenna for consideration in the further hearing will be required to file such proposal within 30 days of the release date of this order. The proposal must be set forth in full detail, supported by the affidavit of a radio engineer, and include a specific showing of the respect in which the alternative proposal constitutes a more efficient use of the radio spectrum than that proposed in the application. The burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof that the alternative proposal constitutes a more efficient use of the radio spectrum than the facilities applied for shall be on the party making the alternative proposal.

8. In view of the fact that Ozarks' construction permit (BP 5259) as modified (BMP–5650) must be vacated in order for the Commission to comply with the mandate of the Court of Appeals, Ozarks' application for extension of time within which to complete construction (BMP–5930) must be dismissed as moot.

9. For the foregoing reasons, It is ordered, That the Petition to Issue an Amended Decision Consistent With the Court of Appeals Decision, filed by Ozarks Broadcasting Company on January 6, 1953, is, with the exceptions heretofore stated, denied; and

It is further ordered, That the construction permit issued to Ozarks Broadcasting Company, dated December 20, 1950, and the modification of said construction permit to provide a change in the directional antenna system specified therein, dated October 4, 1951, are vacated; the application (BMP 5930) of Ozarks Broadcasting Company for modification of construction permit to extend the completion date is dimissed as moot; and the above-entitled application for construction permit (BP–5259) as amended by BMP–5650 is designated for further hearing to be held at Washington, D. C., before Examiner J. D. Bond upon a date to be hereafter determined upon the following issues:

[2] A copy of a letter of transmittal to Ozarks and of the alternative proposal was sent to the Commission on November 21, 1952, but has not been filed in this proceeding.

1. To determine what changes, if any, are required in the findings herein as a result of the amendment of the Ozarks' application BP–5259 by BMP–5650.

2. To determine whether a grant of the subject application, as amended, would be in the public interest in the light of any alternative proposals submitted by parties to this proceeding under which Ozarks could render substantially the same service proposed by Ozarks, but eliminate or reduce the objectionable interference to other stations.

3. To determine, on the basis of the above issues and the record heretofore had in these proceedings, whether a grant of application BP–5259 as amended by BMP–5650 is in the public interest.

It is further ordered, That Johnson-Kennedy Radio Corporation licensee of Station WIND, Chicago, Illinois, Beaumont Broadcasting Corporation, licensee of Station KFDM, Beaumont, Texas, and KLZ Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station KLZ, Denver, Colorado, be, and they are hereby, made parties to this further proceeding; and

It is further ordered, That any party to this proceeding may, if it so desires, submit for consideration in connection with issue number 2, above, an alternative antenna proposal to that set forth in the subject application, but said alternative proposal will only receive consideration if filed with the Commission and served upon each of the parties within thirty days of the date of release of this order, and if said proposal is submitted in full detail, supported by the affidavit of a radio engineer, and includes a specific showing of the respect in which the alternative proposal constitutes a more efficient use of the radio spectrum than that proposed in the subject application as amended; and

It is further ordered, That the burden of proceeding with the introduction of evidence and the burden of proof that an alternative proposal constitutes a more efficient use of the radio spectrum than the facilities applied for shall be on the party introducing the alternative proposal.

AMERICAN WATER WORKS AND ELECTRIC CO., INC., ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING AND ORDER FOR HEARING ON APPLICATION FOR ALLOWANCE OF FEES AND EXPENSES

FEBRUARY 18, 1953.

In the matter of American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated, and subsidiary companies, etc., File No. 59-84; the West Penn Electric Company, et al., File No. 54-142.

During February of 1946 American Water Works and Electric Company, Incorporated ("American"), a registered holding company, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission ("Commission") under section 11 (e) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") Plans I and II providing for a comprehensive reorganization of its holding company system. Such Plans provided, among other things, for (a) the reorganization of American's water company system, the transfer of control thereof to a subsidiary, American Water Works Company, Inc., and the disposition of such water companies through the sale of the securities of such subsidiary to the common stockholders of American and the public, and (b) the elimination of one tier of holding companies in the system through the dissolution of American, the payment in cash of its outstanding senior securities, the transfer to its subsidiary, the West Penn Electric Company ("West Penn Electric") of its remaining assets and the distribution of all of the common stock of West Penn Electric to the common stockholders of American.

The Plans were approved by order of the Commission dated February 17, 1947, were ordered enforced by the United States District Court for the District of Delaware by order entered on March 19, 1947, and were substantially carried out in October of 1947, the final liquidation of American being effected in January of 1948.

At the time such Plans were filed American had outstanding 199,868 shares of $6 Series, First Preferred Stock (the "Preferred Stock"), all of which were held by the public. The terms and provisions of such stock, as set forth in American's charter, provided for payment to it upon "any liquidation, dissolution, or winding up of the affairs of the corporation whether voluntary or involuntary" of the sum of $100 per share plus accrued and unpaid dividends. By the terms of the charter, all other assets of American remaining after such specified payment were to be distributed to the common stock.

In accordance with the charter provision, the Plans as filed provided for payment to the Preferred Stock upon the dissolution of American pursuant to the Plans of the specified preferential amount. However, prior to final approval of the Plans by the Commission, and in accordance with its findings and opinion, dated December 23, 1947, this provision was modified so as to provide for payment in cash of such specified amount at the time of the liquidation of American under the Plans, together with the issue to the holders of the Preferred Stock of Certificates ("Escrow Certificates") entitling them to receive such additional amount, if any, as might finally be determined to be due them on such dissolution by the Commission or by a Court of competent jurisdiction. The Plans also provided for an escrow fund in the amount of $2,200,000 to secure such payment and the payment of expenses incurred in connection therewith, such fund to be represented by promissory notes of West Penn Electric. Accordingly, when the Plans were consummated as of October 15, 1947, the American Preferred stockholders received $100.25 in cash (constituting the charter liquidation price of $100 and accrued and unpaid dividends to the date of payment) together with appropriate Escrow Certificates, and such escrow fund was established with City Bank Farmers Trust Company, as Distribution Agent. Upon the dissolution of American, its liabilities (including those under the Escrow Certificates) were assumed by West Penn Electric up to the amount of the capital contribution received by it from American under the Plans.

American had committed itself to pay all fees and expenses to whomsoever incurred in connection with the Plans or the proceedings in respect thereto, to the extent approved by the Commission, but had reserved the right to contend before the Commission or any appropriate Court that any particular fees or expenses claimed or allowed are unreasonable in amount or are of a character not properly payable.

On October 12, 1949 the Commission issued its memorandum opinion and order (Holding Company Act Release No. 9410) allowing fees and expenses relating to the transactions approved in the Commission's order dated February 17, 1947.

On March 17, 1952 the Commission issued its supplemental findings and opinion (Holding Company Act Release No. 11095) determining that the Escrow Certificate Holders were entitled to receive an additional amount of $10 per share plus compensation for delay computed at 5.45 percent per annum from October 15, 1947. This determination was upheld by the United States District Court for the District of Delaware on September 17, 1952. Subsequent to November 12, 1952 payments pursuant to such determination have been and are being made to the holders of the Escrow Certificates.

Notice is hereby given that applications for the payment of fees and reimbursement for expenses for services and expenditures in connection with the determination of the amounts payable in respect of the Escrow Certificates have been filed by the following persons and in the indicated amounts:

The Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to said applications:

It is ordered, Pursuant to section 11 (e) and 18 of the act, that the hearings herein be reconvened for the purpose of taking evidence on said applications, said hearing to commence on April 8, 1953, at 11:00 a. m., e. s. t., at the office of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. Any person who is not already a party, or who has not already filed an application for allowance for fees or expenses, or who has not been granted leave to participate herein, who desires to be heard or otherwise wishes to participate, shall file with the Secretary of the Commission, on or before April 3, 1953, a request or application relative thereto as provided by Rule XVII of the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That Edward C. Johnson or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for the purpose, shall preside at the hearing on such matters. The officer so designated to preside at such hearing is hereby empowered to exercise all such powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the Commission's rules of practice.

The Division of Public Utilities of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of said applications and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration by the Commission, without prejudice to its specifying additional matters and questions upon further examination:

(1) Whether the requested amounts for fees and expenses were incurred in rendering services which were necessary in connection with the reorganization plan and whether the requested amounts are reasonable.

(2) Whether there are any other factors apart from the nature and value of the services rendered and the capacity in which rendered, which would make any of the requests for compensation and reimbursement improper.

It is further ordered, That particular attention be directed at said hearing to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That a copy of this notice shall be mailed by registered mail to the West Penn Electric Company and the applicants herein, that notice shall be given to all other persons by general release of this Commission, which shall be distributed to the press and mailed to the mailing list for releases under the act, and that further notice shall be given to all persons by pulbication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The Commission having, by order dated February 9, 1953, granted said application, as amended, subject to the conditions, among others, that the proposed sale of bonds and common stock shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding and a final order of the Public Service Commission of the State of New York approving the issue and sale of said bonds and stock shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding, and a further order shall have been entered in the light of the record so completed; and jurisdiction having been reserved over the payment of all fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed transactions; and

The Commission by order dated February 16, 1953 having released jurisdiction with respect to the sale of the common stock; and

Niagara Mohawk having on February 18, 1953, filed a further amendment to said application in which it is stated that it has offered the bonds for sale pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 and has received the following bids:

The Public Service Commission of the State of New York having entered its order dated February 5, 1953 approving the issue and sale of the bonds subject to conditions subsequent which have been satisfied, and the record not having been completed with respect to the fees and expenses to be incurred in connection with the proposed sale of the bonds, which under the order of the State Commission may not exceed $235,000 for the bonds; and

The Commission having examined said amendment and having considered the record herein and finding no basis for imposing terms and conditions with respect to the price to be received for the bonds, redemption prices of the bonds and the interest rate thereon, and the underwriters' spread with respect thereto:

It is hereby ordered, That jurisdiction heretofore reserved in connection with the sale of said bonds be, and the same hereby is, released, and that the said application, as further amended, be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 of the general rules and regulations under the act.

It is stated that said interest rate for such notes at the present time is 3 percent per annum. In the event that such interest rate is in excess of 3¼ percent per annum at the time any of said additional promissory notes are to be issued, the borrowing company will file an amendment to its declaration at least five days prior to the issuance of said note or notes setting forth the name of the bank or banks, the terms of the note or notes, and the rate of interest. Each of the borrowing companies requests that such amendment become effective at the end of such five day period unless the Commission notifies it to the contrary within said period.

The following table shows the amount of promissory notes proposed to be issued by each of the borrowing companies and the use of the proceeds derived from such notes.

Company	Notes proposed to be issued prior to June 30, 1953	Use of proceeds
		Payment of notes payable to banks	Construction expenditures

Total	23,840,000	20,590,000	3,250,000

Each of the borrowing companies states that the proceeds from any permanent financing will be applied in reduction of, or in total payment of, promissory notes then outstanding, and the amount of authorized but unissued notes, if any, will be reduced by the amount, if any, by which such permanent financing exceeds the notes at the time outstanding.

The declarations state that incidental services in connection with the proposed note issues will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $200 for each of the borrowing companies or an aggregate of $1,600. The declarations further state that, except for an exemption by the Public Utilities Commission of New Hampshire with respect to notes proposed to be issued by NEPCO, no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

The borrowing companies request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than February 26, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reason or reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. [Rev. S. O. 562, Taylor's I. C. C. Order 11]

SOUTHERN PACIFIC CO.

REROUTING AND DIVERSION OF TRAFFIC

In the opinion of Charles W. Taylor, Agent, the Southern Pacific Company, because of fire-damaged bridge at Yuma, Arizona, is unable to transport traffic over its line: It is ordered, That:

(a) Rerouting traffic: The Southern Pacific Company, being unable to transport traffic routed over its line because of fire-damaged bridge at Yuma, Arizona, is hereby authorized to divert or reroute such traffic over any available route to expedite the movement, regardless of routing shown on the waybill. The billing covering all such cars rerouted shall carry a reference to this order as authority for the rerouting.

(b) Concurrence of receiving roads to be obtained: The railroads desiring to divert or reroute traffic under this order shall confer with the proper transportation officer of the railroad or railroads to which such traffic is to be diverted or rerouted, and shall receive the concurrence of such other railroads before the rerouting or diversion is ordered.

(c) Notification to shippers: The carriers rerouting cars in accordance with this order shall notify each shipper at the time each car is rerouted or diverted and shall furnish to such shipper the new routing provided under this order.

(d) Inasmuch as the diversion or rerouting of traffic by said Agent is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic diverted or rerouted by said Agent shall be the rates which were applicable at the time of shipment on the shipments as originally routed.

(e) In executing the directions of the Commission and of such Agent provided for in this order, the common carriers involved shall proceed even though no contracts, agreements, or arrangements now exist between them with reference to the divisions of the rates of transportation applicable to said traffic; divisions shall be, during the time this order remains in force, those voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; or upon failure of the carriers to so agree, said divisions shall be those hereafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act.

(f) Effective date: This order shall become effective at 12:01 p. m., February 17, 1953.

(g) Expiration date: This order shall expire at 11:59 p. m., February 27, 1953, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or annulled.

It is further ordered, That this order shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of all railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

PROCLAMATION 3005

CHILD HEALTH DAY, 1953

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Congress, by a joint resolution of May 18, 1928 (45 Stat. 617), authorized and requested the President of the United States to issue annually a proclamation setting apart May 1 as Child Health Day; and

WHEREAS the health and wholesome development of our children are matters of the deepest concern to all Americans; and

WHEREAS the stresses and strains of our times create many problems bearing on the spiritual and emotional health of our children and are reflected notably in juvenile delinquency; and

WHEREAS we have made tremendous advances in overcoming the most severe physical hazards of childhood, and are now striving to make equally significant progress in understanding the nature of emotional health, in order that our children may grow into mature, responsible citizens of a democracy:

NOW, THEREFORE, I, DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER, President of the United States of America, do hereby designate the first day of May, 1953, as Child Health Day; and I urge all parents and young people, and all other individuals, as well as agencies and organizations interested in the well-being of children, to increase their understanding of the emotional, social, and spiritual growth of children, so as to apply this understanding in their day-to-day relations with the rising generation.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this 20th day of February in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-three, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-seventh.

SUBPART—1953-CROP CASTOR BEAN PRODUCTION AND PROCUREMENT PROGRAM

§ 643.835 1953-crop castor beans. (a) In order to obtain increased quantities of castor beans and castor oil for national defense purposes, the Secretary of Agriculture has authorized the Commodity Credit Corporation (referred to in this section as "CCC") to carry out a program for the domestic production and procurement of 1953-crop castor beans. It is contemplated that castor beans will be produced under the program by harvesting about 125,000 acres in areas for which adapted seed is available within the States of Arizona, Arkansas, California, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas. The program will be available to producers who enter into contracts with CCC or with private companies, producers cooperative associations, or other persons who contract with CCC to arrange for castor bean production in specified areas within such States. Such producer contracts will contain the detailed terms and conditions under which castor beans will be grown by and purchased from producers. Insofar as possible, contracts will be offered to producers within concentrated production areas, so that maximum use can be made of harvesting machinery and receiving, hulling, and storage facilities. In general, the base price to be paid to producers will be the higher of nine cents per pound or the market price at the time and place of delivery, out-of-hull basis, with appropriate adjustments in the net weight or price for quality factors, which may include oil content. Premiums will be paid for certain improved varieties or strains of castor beans grown for planting seed under special seed production and purchase contracts.

(b) CCC will stand ready to enter into contracts with private companies, producer cooperative associations, or others with adequate facilities who will agree to arrange for the production and procurement of 1953-crop castor beans in certain areas. Under the terms of such contracts the company, association, or other person may be required to (1) enter into contracts with producers for the production and purchase of 1953-crop castor beans, (2) purchase, at prices not less than the price to producers mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section, all castor beans grown and delivered by producers under contract which are suitable for crushing or planting seed, (3) hull the castor beans in areas where the producers deliver in the hull pursuant to the terms of their contracts, (4) inspect, handle, store, and load out the castor beans, and (5) perform all functions and services necessary to the efficient operation of the program in the area. Such contracts also will provide that the company, association, or other person may offer to CCC, under terms provided in the contracts, any or all castor beans delivered by producers under contract, or the oil equivalent of such beans, at any time when the market price of castor beans at the delivery point, as determined by CCC, is less than nine cents per pound. If CCC makes farm machinery or other equipment available to producers in any area covered by such a contract with a company, association, or other person, under conditions which CCC determines are likely to result in a loss, such company, association, or other person must deliver to CCC, under terms provided in the contract, a percentage of the castor beans (or oil equivalent) produced which is equal to the ratio of the estimated number of machine hours used by such machinery or equipment to the total number of machine hours required in the production of the castor bean crop, unless provision for reimbursement of CCC in full for such loss is made. Any private company, producer association, or other person interested in entering into such a contract with CCC should notify the Chairman, State PMA Committee, for the State of Arizona, Arkansas, California, New Mexico, Oklahoma, or Texas, as the case may be, of his interest and request further information. Such notification must be filed with the State PMA Chairman within twenty days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, unless the State PMA Chairman, for good cause shown, extends the time for filing such notification. The State PMA Committee will determine the areas in which the above described contract will be effective within the State. An authorized CCC contracting officer within the State PMA office will enter into contracts on behalf of CCC.

(c) There will be made available to producers under the program facilities for receiving, hulling (except where producers are required by their contracts to deliver castor beans out-of-hull), and inspecting castor beans delivered by such producers pursuant to the terms of their contracts. CCC will sell or rent harvesting machinery and other machinery or equipment owned by it. Other information regarding the program may be obtained from the appropriate State committee in States where the program is in operation or by writing to the Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.

(d) The following is a list of the addresses of the Chairmen of the State Committees for the States where castor beans will be produced under the program:

PART 52—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES, PROCESSED PRODUCTS THEREOF, AND CERTAIN OTHER PROCESSED FOOD PRODUCTS

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS[1]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF CANNED CARROTS

A notice of proposed rule making was published on October 29, 1952, in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 9749) regarding proposed United States Standards for Grades of Canned Carrots. After considering all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following United States Standards for Grades of Canned Carrots are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621 et seq.), and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1953 (Pub. Law 451, 82d Cong., approved July 5, 1952).

[1] The requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

§ 52.216 Canned carrots. "Canned carrots" means the canned product properly prepared from the clean, sound root of the carrot plant as defined in the definitions and standards of identity for canned vegetables (21 CFR, Cum. Supp. 52.990, as amended 17 F. R. 8176) issued pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(a) Styles of canned carrots. (1) "Whole" or "whole carrots" means canned carrots consisting of whole carrots that retain the approximate original conformation of the whole carrot.

(2) "Slices" or "sliced carrots" means canned carrots consisting of carrot slices produced by slicing whole carrots transverse to the longitudinal axis.

(3) "Quarters" or "quartered carrots" means canned carrots consisting of quarters of carrots produced by cutting whole carrots longitudinally into four approximately equal units. Whole carrots cut longitudinally into six units approximating the size and appearance of the quartered carrots are also permitted in this style.

(4) "Diced carrots" means canned carrots consisting of units produced by cutting whole carrots into cubes having edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less.

(5) "Julienne," "French style," or "shoestring" means canned carrots consisting of strips of carrots.

(6) "Cut" means canned carrots consisting of units which with respect to size or shape do not conform to any of the foregoing styles. Carrots which have been cut longitudinally into two approximately equal units are included in this style.

(7) "Unit" means an individual carrot or portion of a carrot in canned carrots.

(b) Grades of canned carrots. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of canned carrots that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; that are tender; that are practically uniform in size and shape; and that score not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(2) "U. S. Grade C" or "U. S. Standard" is the quality of canned carrots that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a normal flavor and odor; that possess a fairly good color; that are fairly free from defects; that are fairly tender; that are fairly uniform in size and shape; and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "Substandard" is the quality of canned carrots that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard.

(c) Recommended fill of container. The recommended fill of container is not incorporated in the grade of the finished product since fill of container, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purpose of these grades. It is recommended that the container of canned carrots be filled as full as practicable with carrots without impairment of quality and that the product and packing medium occupy not less than 90 percent of the total capacity of the container.

(d) Recommended minimum drained weight. The minimum drained weight recommendations in Table No. I of this paragraph are not incorporated in the grades of the finished product since drained weight, as such, is not a factor of quality for the purpose of these grades. The drained weight of canned carrots is determined by emptying the contents of the container upon a U. S. Standard No. 8 sieve of proper diameter so as to distribute the product evenly, inclining the sieve slightly to facilitate drainage and allowing to drain for two minutes. The drained weight is the weight of the sieve and carrots less the weight of the dry sieve. A sieve 8 inches in diameter is used for the No. 2½ size can (401 x 411) and smaller sizes; and a sieve 12 inches in diameter is used for containers larger than the No. 2½ size can.

TABLE NO. I—RECOMMENDED MINIMUM DRAINED WEIGHTS, IN OUNCES, OF CARROTS

Container size or designation	Style of canned carrots
	Whole	Diced	Quartered cut	Sliced	Julienne
8-ounce tall	5¾	6	6	5¾	5½
8-ounce glass	5¾	6	6	5¾	5½
No. 1 picnic	7¼	7½	7½	7¼	7
No. 300	9½	10	10	9½	9
No. 303	10½	11	11	10½	10
No. 303 glass	10½	11	11	10½	10
No. 2	12½	13	12½	12½	12
No. 2½	18½	19	18½	18½	18¼
No. 2½ glass	18¼	18¾	18¼	18¼	18
No. 10	68	72	70½	69	68

(e) Sizes of carrots in whole carrots. The size of any carrot is determined by measuring the longest diameter through the center transverse to the longitudinal axis of the carrot.

(f) Sizes of carrot slices in sliced carrots. The size of any slice in sliced carrots is determined by measuring the smallest diameter of the largest surface of the slice.

(g) Sizes of carrot quarters in quartered carrots. The size of any quarter in quartered carrots with respect to diameter is determined by measuring the largest cut surface transverse to the longitudinal axis.

(h) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of canned carrots is ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, uniformity of size and shape, absence of defects, and texture.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given each such factor is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	25
(ii) Uniformity of size and shape	15
(iii) Absence of defects	30
(iv) Texture	30
Total score	100

(3) "Normal flavor and odor" means that the canned carrots are free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(i) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range for the rating of each factor is inclusive (for example, "12 to 15 points" means 12, 13, 14, or 15 points).

(1) Color. (i) Canned carrots that possess a good color may be given a score of 21 to 25 points. "Good color" means that the canned carrots possess an orange-yellow color that is bright and typical of canned carrots, and that the presence of green units does not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(ii) If the canned carrots possess a fairly good color, a score of 18 to 20 points may be given. Canned carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly good color" means that the canned carrots possess the typical color of canned carrots, that such color may be slightly dull but not off-color, and that the presence of green units does not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) Canned carrots that are off-color for any reason or that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 17 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Uniformity of size and shape. (i) Canned carrots that are practically uniform in size and shape may be given a score of 12 to 15 points. "Practically uniform in size and shape" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned carrots:

(a) Whole carrots. The size of the individual carrot is not more than 1¾ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid; the carrots may vary moderately in shape and the diameter of the largest unit is not more than 50 percent greater than the diameter of the second smallest unit.

(b) Quartered carrots. The carrots from which the quarters have been prepared were of a size not more than 2½ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid, and the diameter of the largest quarter is not more than 50 percent greater than the diameter of the second smallest quarter, and the length of the longest quarter is not more than 50 percent greater than the length of the second shortest quarter.

(c) Sliced carrots. The individual slice is not more than ⅜ inch in thickness when measured at the thickest portion; the size of each slice is not more than 2½ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid, and the diameter of the largest slice is not more than 50 percent greater than the diameter of the second smallest slice.

(d) Diced carrots. The units are practically uniform in size and shape with edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less; and the aggregate weight of all units of irregular shape which are noticeably smaller than one-half the volume of an average size cube and of all noticeably large and large irregular shaped units does not exceed 12 percent of the weight of all the units.

(e) Julienne, French style, or shoestring. The strips of carrots are practically uniform in size and shape, with cross sections measuring approximately 3/16 inch, and the aggregate weight of all strips less than ½ inch in length does not exceed 12 percent of the weight of all the strips.

(f) Cut. The individual units weigh not less than ¼ ounce and the largest unit is not more than four times the weight of the second smallest unit. When cut longitudinally into two approximately equal units, the carrots from which the units have been prepared were of a size not more than 2½ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid, and the weight of the largest unit is not more than 50 percent greater than the weight of the second smallest unit.

(ii) If the canned carrots are fairly uniform in size and shape a score of 8 to 11 points may be given. Canned carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly uniform in size and shape" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned carrots:

(a) Whole carrots. The size of the individual carrot is not more than 2¼ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid; the carrots may vary considerably in shape, and the diameter of the largest unit is not more than twice the diameter of the second smallest unit.

(b) Quartered carrots. The carrots from which the quarters have been cut were of a size not more than 2½ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid, and the diameter of the largest quarter is not more than twice the diameter of the second smallest unit, and the length of the longest quarter is not more than twice the length of the second shortest quarter.

(c) Sliced carrots. The individual slice is not more than ⅜ inch in thickness when measured at the thickest portion; the size of each slice is not more than 2½ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid; and the diameter of the largest slice is not more than twice the diameter of the second smallest slice.

(d) Diced carrots. The units are fairly uniform in size and shape, with edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less; and the aggregate weight of all units of irregular shape which are noticeably smaller than one-half the volume of an average size cube and of all noticeably large and large irregular shaped units does not exceed 25 percent of the weight of all the units.

(e) Julienne, French style, or shoestring. The strips of carrots are fairly uniform in size and shape, with cross sections measuring approximately 3/16 inch and the aggregate weight of all the strips less than ½ inch in length does not exceed 25 percent of the weight of all the strips.

(f) Cut. The individual units weigh not less than ⅛ ounce and the largest unit is not more than twelve times the weight of the second smallest unit. When cut longitudinally into two approximately equal units, the carrots from which the units have been prepared were of a size not more than 2½ inches in diameter, measured as aforesaid, and the weight of the largest unit is not more than twice the weight of the second smallest unit.

(iii) Canned carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 7 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Absence of defects. (i) The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from defective units. Defective units are units damaged by mechanical injury, unpeeled units, units blemished or seriously blemished by brown or black internal or external discoloration, sunburn, or green colored units, pathological injury or insect injury, and units blesmished or seriously blemished by other means.

(a) "Damaged by mechanical injury" means crushed, broken, or cracked units, units with excessively frayed edges and surfaces, excessively trimmed units, or damaged by other means.

(b) "Unpeeled unit" means any unit possessing an unpeeled area greater than the area of a circle ¼ inch in diameter.

(c) "Blemished" means any unit blemished to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is materially affected.

(d) "Seriously blemished" means any unit blemished to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is seriously affected.

(ii) Canned carrots that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned carrots:

(a) Whole carrots. The aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 15 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 15 percent not more than ½ thereof or one carrot, whichever weighs more, may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 1 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished, and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(b) Sliced, quartered, and cut carrots. The aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 15 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 15 percent not more than ½ thereof or one slice, quarter or cut, whichever weighs more, may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 1 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished, and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(c) Diced, Julienne, French style, or shoestring carrots. The aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 10 percent of the weight of all the units and of such 10 percent not more than ½ thereof may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 1 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished, and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) Canned carrots that are fairly free from defects may be given a score of 22 to 25 points. Canned carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly free from defects" has the following meanings with respect to the various styles of canned carrots:

(a) Whole carrots. The aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 25 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 25 percent, not more than ½ thereof may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 2 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished, and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(b) Sliced, quartered, and cut carrots. The aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 25 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 25 percent not more than ½ thereof may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 2 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished, and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(c) Diced, Julienne, French style, or shoestring carrots. The aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 20 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 20 percent not more than ½ thereof may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 2 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished, and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not seriously affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iv) Canned carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(4) Texture. (i) The factor of texture refers to the tenderness of the carrots and the degree of freedom from coarse and fibrous units.

(ii) Canned carrots that possess a tender texture may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Tender texture" means that the carrots are tender and firm but not fibrous, and possess a practically uniform texture.

(iii) If the canned carrots possess a fairly tender texture, a score of 22 to 25 points may be given. Canned carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade C or U. S. Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Fairly tender texture" means that the carrots are fairly tender, may be variable in texture but not soft or mushy, tough or hard, and there may be present a few units which possess a coarse or fibrous texture.

(iv) Canned carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(j) Tolerance for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of canned carrots, the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total score of all containers if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers comprising the sample fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, must be within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

SUBPART B—UNITED STATES STANDARDS [1]

U. S. STANDARDS FOR GRADES OF FROZEN DICED CARROTS

A notice of proposed rule making was published on September 19, 1952, in the FEDERAL REGISTER (17 F. R. 8439) regarding proposed United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Diced Carrots. After considering all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, the following United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Diced Carrots are hereby promulgated under the authority contained in the Agricultural Marketing Act of 1946 (60 Stat. 1087; 7 U. S. C. 1621, et seq.), and the Department of Agriculture Appropriation Act, 1953 (Pub. Law 451, 82d Cong., approved July 5, 1952).

§ 52.218 Frozen diced carrots. Frozen diced carrots is the clean and sound product prepared from the fresh root of the carrot plant (Daucus carota) by washing, sorting, peeling, trimming, and blanching, and is then frozen in accordance with good commercial practice and maintained at temperatures necessary for the preservation of the product.

(a) Style of frozen diced carrots. "Diced carrots" means frozen carrots consisting of units produced by cutting whole carrots into cubes having edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less.

(b) Grades of frozen diced carrots. (1) "U. S. Grade A" or "U. S. Fancy" is the quality of frozen diced carrots that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a good flavor and odor; that possess a good color; that are practically free from defects; that are tender; that are practically uniform in size and shape; and that score not less than 85 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

[1] The requirements of these standards shall not excuse failure to comply with the provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act.

(2) "U. S. Grade B" or "U. S. Extra Standard" is the quality of frozen diced carrots that possess similar varietal characteristics; that possess a reasonably good flavor and odor; that possess a reasonably good color; that are reasonably free from defects; that are reasonably tender; that are reasonably uniform in size and shape; and that score not less than 70 points when scored in accordance with the scoring system outlined in this section.

(3) "Substandard" is the quality of frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard.

(c) Ascertaining the grade. (1) The grade of frozen diced carrots may be ascertained by considering, in conjunction with the requirements of the respective grade, the respective ratings for the factors of color, uniformity of size and shape, absence of defects, and texture.

(2) The relative importance of each factor which is scored is expressed numerically on the scale of 100. The maximum number of points that may be given each factor is:

Factors:	Points
(i) Color	25
(ii) Uniformity of size and shape	15
(iii) Absence of defects	30
(iv) Texture	30
Total score	100

(3) The score for the factors of color, uniformity of size and shape, and absence of defects in frozen diced carrots is determined immediately after thawing to the extent that the product is substantially free from ice crystals and can be handled as individual units. A representative sample of the product is cooked to determine texture and flavor and odor.

(4) "Good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking has a good characteristic, normal flavor and odor and is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(5) "Reasonably good flavor and odor" means that the product after cooking may be lacking in good flavor and odor but is free from objectionable flavors and objectionable odors of any kind.

(d) Ascertaining the rating for the factors which are scored. The essential variations within each factor which is scored are so described that the value may be ascertained for each factor and expressed numerically. The numerical range within each factor which is scored is inclusive (for example, "12 to 15 points" means 12, 13, 14, or 15 points).

(1) Color. (i) Frozen diced carrots that possess a good color may be given a score of 21 to 25 points. "Good color" means that the frozen diced carrots possess an orange-yellow color that is bright and typical of frozen carrots, and that the presence of green units does not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(ii) If the frozen diced carrots possess a reasonably good color, a score of 18 to 20 points may be given. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably good color" means that the frozen diced carrots possess the typical color of frozen carrots and such color may be slightly dull but not off color, and that the presence of green units does not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that are off color for any reason or that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 17 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(2) Uniformity of size and shape. (i) Frozen diced carrots that are practically uniform in size and shape may be given a score of 12 to 15 points. "Practically uniform in size and shape" means that the units are practically uniform in size and shape with edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less; and the aggregate weight of all units of irregular shape which are noticeably smaller than one-half the volume of an average size cube and of all noticeably large and large irregular shaped units does not exceed 12 percent of the weight of all the units.

(ii) If the frozen diced carrots are reasonably uniform in size and shape a score of 8 to 11 points may be given. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably uniform in size and shape" means that the units are reasonably uniform in size and shape with edges, other than the rounded outer edges, measuring approximately ½ inch or less; and the aggregate weight of all units of irregular shape which are noticeably smaller than one-half the volume of an average size cube and of all noticeably large and large irregular shaped units does not exceed 25 percent of the weight of all the units.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 7 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(3) Absence of defects. (i) The factor of absence of defects refers to the degree of freedom from defective units. Defective units are units damaged by mechanical injury, unpeeled units, units blemished or seriously blemished by brown or black internal or external discoloration, sunburn, or green colored units, pathological injury or insect injury, and units blemished or seriously blemished by other means.

(a) "Damaged by mechanical injury" means crushed, broken or cracked units, units with excessively frayed edges and surfaces, or damaged by other means.

(b) "Unpeeled unit" means any unit possessing an unpeeled area greater than the area of a circle ⅛ inch in diameter.

(c) "Blemished" means any unit blemished to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is materially affected.

(d) "Seriously blemished" means any unit blemished to the extent that the appearance or eating quality is seriously affected.

(ii) Frozen diced carrots that are practically free from defects may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Practically free from defects" means that the aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 10 percent of the weight of all the units, and of such 10 percent not more than one-half thereof may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 1 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not more than slightly affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that are reasonably free from defects may be given a score of 22 to 25 points. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably free from defects" means that the aggregate weight of all defective units does not exceed 16 percent of the weight of all the units and of such 16 percent not more than ½ thereof may consist of blemished units and seriously blemished units: Provided, That not more than 2 percent, by weight, of all the units may be seriously blemished and that the presence of blemished and seriously blemished units does not materially affect the appearance or eating quality of the product.

(iv) Frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (iii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(4) Texture. The factor of texture refers to the tenderness of the carrots and the degree of freedom from coarse or fibrous units.

(i) Frozen diced carrots that possess a tender texture may be given a score of 26 to 30 points. "Tender texture" means that the carrots are tender, not fibrous, and possess a practically uniform texture.

(ii) If the frozen diced carrots possess a reasonably tender texture, a score of 22 to 25 points may be given. Frozen diced carrots that fall into this classification shall not be graded above U. S. Grade B or U. S. Extra Standard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule). "Reasonably tender texture" means that the carrots are reasonably tender, may be variable in texture but not tough or hard, and there may be present a few units which possess a coarse or fibrous texture.

(iii) Frozen diced carrots that fail to meet the requirements of subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph may be given a score of 0 to 21 points and shall not be graded above Substandard, regardless of the total score for the product (this is a limiting rule).

(e) Tolerance for certification of officially drawn samples. (1) When certifying samples that have been officially drawn and which represent a specific lot of frozen diced carrots the grade for such lot will be determined by averaging the total scores of all containers, if:

(i) Not more than one-sixth of the containers comprising the sample fails to meet all the requirements of the grade indicated by the average of such total scores, and with respect to such containers which fail to meet the requirements of the indicated grade by reason of a limiting rule, the average score of all containers in the sample for the factor, subject to such limiting rule, must be within the range for the grade indicated;

(ii) None of the containers comprising the sample falls more than 4 points below the minimum score for the grade indicated by the average of the total scores; and

(iii) All containers comprising the sample meet all applicable standards of quality promulgated under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act and in effect at the time of the aforesaid certification.

(g) Effective time and supersedure. The revised United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Diced Carrots (which are the second issue) contained in this section will become effective thirty days after date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER and will thereupon supersede the United States Standards for Grades of Frozen Diced Carrots which have been in effect since October 15, 1951.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Dolcin Corporation et al., New York, N. Y., Docket 5692, December 2, 1952]

In the Matter of Dolcin Corporation, and Victor Van Der Linde, George Shimmerlik and Albert T. Wantz, Individually and as Officers of Dolcin Corporation

This proceeding was heard by Abner E. Lipscomb, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission, respondents' answer, and hearings at which testimony and other evidence, duly recorded and filed in the office of the Commission, in support of and in opposition to the allegations of said complaint, were introduced before said examiner, theretofore duly designated by the Commission.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said examiner, upon the complaint, answer thereto, testimony and other evidence, proposed findings as to the facts and conclusions presented by counsel, oral argument not having been requested; and said hearing examiner, having duly considered the record in the matter and having found that the proceeding was in the interest of the public, made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts,[1] conclusion [1] drawn therefrom, and order to cease and desist.

Thereafter, following respondents' appeal from said initial decision, the matter was disposed of by the Commission's "Order Denying Appeal from Initial Decision of the Hearing Examiner, Decision of the Commission and Order to File Report of Compliance", dated December 2, 1952, as follows:

This matter came on to be heard by the Commission upon respondents' appeal from the initial decision of the hearing examiner, briefs in support of and in opposition to said appeal and oral argument of counsel. In support of their appeal respondents have set out in their appeal brief extensive exceptions to certain of the findings as to the facts, conclusion and provisions of the order and to certain procedural rulings of the hearing examiner. These exceptions have been fully considered and denied by the Commission in a separate order issued simultaneously herewith.

This matter relates to the truth of falsity of certain claims made by respondents in advertisements of the preparation Dolcin. There is no contest as to the actual advertisements or as to the ingredients of the preparation. The contest is as to the meaning of the advertisements and the effects of using the preparation as directed.

The record shows that respondents claimed in their advertising that, in addition to providing relief from the symptoms of arthritic and rheumatic conditions, Dolcin would attack the underlying causes of the conditions themselves. An example is the following excerpt from one of respondents' advertising pamphlets:

7. Is Dolcin just another palliative * * * a product for relieving pain for a few hours? The answer is very definitely that Dolcin is not just a palliative masking pain and discomfort for a few hours. Dolcin is designed to relieve pain promptly but, also, the Dolcin treatment is directed to the disturbances in metabolism which are a very important part of the background of the Rheumatic State, and is designed to give prolonged relief from symptoms.

The greater weight of the evidence is that other than aspirin none of the ingredients in Dolcin have any value in connection with arthritic and rheumatic conditions and that the only value of aspirin taken in this connection is that it provides temporary relief from the less severe pains and fever accompanying these conditions. Respondents admit their preparation will not prevent the underlying causes, cure or arrest the progress of arthritic or rheumatic conditions. However, they do contend that it will relieve stiffness and swelling accompanying such conditions in certain cases in addition to providing pain relief. The greater weight of the evidence is contrary to respondents' contention and fully supports the findings of the hearing examiner in his initial decision.

The record also shows that respondents claimed in their advertising that Dolcin is non-toxic, may be taken safely in large quantities over prolonged periods even by persons adversely affected by aspirin. The greater weight of the evidence shows that the aspirin in Dolcin has exactly the same effect as if taken alone and that certain persons are adversely affected by aspirin and should not take it in large quantities or over a prolonged period. Aspirin is one of the safest analgesics known and is widely prescribed by physicians in large dosages for temporary relief of pain and fever in arthritic and rheumatic conditions. Serious results from such excessive use are rare. However, less serious but undesirable effects such as headache, nausea, vomiting will occur in persons unable to tolerate aspirin. Respondents' representations to the contrary are false and deceptive as found by the hearing examiner in his initial decision.

For these reasons as well as those set out in its ruling on respondents' exceptions, the Commission is of the opinion that all of the findings as to the facts contained in the initial decision are supportable by reliable, substantial, and probative evidence of record; that the conclusion contained therein is correct; and that the order to cease and desist therein is proper upon this record and is required to provide proper relief from respondents' illegal practices; and

The Commission, therefore, being of the opinion that respondents' appeal from the hearing examiner's initial decision is of no merit and that said initial decision is appropriate in all respects to dispose of this proceeding:

It is ordered, That the appeal of respondents from the initial decision of the hearing examiner be, and it hereby is, denied.

It is further ordered, That the initial decision of the hearing examiner shall on the 2d day of December 1952 become the decision of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the respondents shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist contained in said initial decision, a copy of which is attached hereto.

The order to cease and desist in said initial decision, thus made the decision of the Commission, is as follows:

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated, any advertisement by any means for the purpose of inducing, or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of said preparation, which advertisement contains any of the representations prohibited in paragraph 1 hereof.

SECTION 1. Basis and purpose. (a) The purpose of this regulation is to establish a Program to encourage expansion of domestic production of manganese by providing a uniform price scale for small domestic producers of metallurgical grade manganese ores and concentrates. Any small domestic producer whose total anticipated or actual production is less than 10,000 long dry tons per calendar year shall be eligible to participate under the provisions of this Program as hereinafter specifically set forth. Individuals or firms whose total production exceeds 10,000 long dry tons per year may negotiate with the Government for the purchase of their production.

(b) This regulation interprets and implements the authority of the Administrator of General Services, pursuant to delegation of authority from the Defense Materials Procurement Administrator of even date with this regulation, to purchase metallurgical grade manganese ores and concentrates, all of domestic origin, as authorized by the Defense Production Administration on May 9, 1952, and outlines the attendant responsibilities and functions of the Administrator of General Services in purchasing such manganese ores and concentrates for Government use and resale. In accordance with the Program set forth herein, the Administrator of General Services will buy domestically produced metallurgical grade manganese ores and concentrates conforming to the specifications, at the price, and under the other terms and conditions of this regulation.

SEC. 2. Definitions. (a) "Administrator" means the Administrator of General Services.

(b) "Program" means the Program as set forth in the following paragraphs.

(c) "Shipping point" means the location at which the small domestic producer delivers material f. o. b. railroad cars.

(d) "Receiving point" means the location to which shipments shall be consigned.

(e) "Small domestic producer" means any individual or firm whose total anticipated or actual production of manganese ore or concentrates mined and milled in the continental United States annually is less than 10,000 long dry tons.

(f) The term "continental United States" means the forty-eight (48) States and the District of Columbia.

(g) "Long ton unit" means one percent of 2,240 pounds avoirdupois dry weight, or 22.4 pounds of metallic manganese contained in manganese oxide or manganese carbonate.

(h) "Manganese ores or concentrates" means natural or sintered oxide ores or concentrates or sintered carbonate ores or concentrates, as defined in section 5 of this regulation, and furnace slags, excluding battery and chemical grades and ores and concentrates containing manganese as manganese silicate in excess of 10 percent.

(i) "Lot" means that quantity of ore and concentrates offered at one time. It shall consist of one or more railroad carloads. Fractions of a carload may not be offered.

(j) "Carload" means the quantity (carried in one railroad car) equalling or exceeding the minimum tonnage which can be moved at the lowest transportation rate.

SEC. 3. Duration of the Program. The Program shall terminate and be of no further force or effect at the close of business June 30, 1956, or when deliveries under the Program total 19,000,000 long dry ton units of manganese, whichever occurs first.

SEC. 4. Participation in the Program. Any small domestic producer desiring to participate in the Program shall make application to the nearest General Services Administration regional office in the form of a letter, postcard, or telegram, postmarked or dated by the telegraph office on or before June 30, 1953, stating (a) that applicant has read this regulation and accepts its terms and conditions, and (b) that applicant desires to participate in this Program, and will offer manganese ore or concentrates to the Government pursuant thereto. Such notification must be signed and a return address given. Receipt of this application will be acknowledged by the regional office which may request such additional information as may be necessary and will issue to those who qualify hereunder a certificate authorizing the applicant to make shipments under the Program.

SEC. 5. Specifications—(a) Chemical requirements. All shipments must meet the following chemical analysis:

	By weight (dry basis) (percent)
Manganese (Mn)	40.0 minimum.

Silica plus alumina (SiO_2 plus Al_2O_3).	[1].

[1] No maximum specified; however, material over 15 percent will be purchased in exceptional cases only.

(b) Physical requirements. Four types of material, according to physical characteristics, are covered by this specification. All offers shall stipulate the type covered and the following shall constitute the rejection limits of each type.

Type I—Lump ore shall be natural ore, unprocessed except for grading, washing, or screening. Not more than 5 percent shall pass a Tyler standard 20 mesh screen.

Type II—Fine ore shall be natural ore, unprocessed except for grading, washing, or screening. Not more than 15 percent shall pass a Tyler standard 20 mesh screen.

§ 903.7 Producer. A producer means any person who produces Grade A or Grade B raw milk under a dairy farm permit or rating issued by a health authority duly authorized to administer regulations governing the quality of milk disposed of in the marketing area, which milk is received at an approved plant or diverted from an approved plant by a cooperative association. This definition shall not include a person who produces milk which is received at the plant of a handler partially exempt from the provisions of this pact, pursuant to § 903.61 with respect to milk received by such handler.

2. Delete § 903.8, "City Plant," and substitute therefor the following:

§ 903.8 City plant. City plant means a plant where milk is received from producers or from a country plant and which packages milk, skim milk or cream, processed and disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area, to wholesale or retail outlets, including plant stores.

3. Insert new section as follows:

§ 903.__ Approved plant. An approved plant is a plant at which milk is received from producers and which plant disposes of milk, skim milk, or cream in an amount of not less than 65 percent or more of the volume of milk received at such plant from producers during any month as Class I milk in the marketing area: Provided, That if such plant disposed of 65 percent or more of its receipts from producers during each of four months of the period July through December, such plant, upon application in writing to the market administrator before December 31 of such year, shall be allowed to retain the status as approved plant for the months of January through June.

4. Insert new section as follows:

§ 903.__ Unapproved plant. An unapproved plant would be any milk manufacturing, processing, bottling or distributing plant, other than an approved plant .

5. Delete the period at the end of § 903.10 and add the following: "Or a cooperative association of producers with respect to milk diverted by such cooperative, whether to an approved plant or an unapproved plant."

6. Compensatory payments: Add a provision requiring that an operator of an unapproved plant shall pay to the market administrator on any milk disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area an amount calculated as follows:

Multiply the pounds of such milk by the Class I price adjusted by the Class I butterfat differential and subtract therefrom the amount of such milk multiplied by the Class II price adjusted by the Class II butterfat differential: Provided, That money so paid to the market administrator shall be distributed pro rata on the basis of the volume of milk received from producers to handlers for distribution to producers.

7. Delete § 903.45 (a) (2).

8. Delete that portion of § 903.43 (d) which precedes subparagraph (1) and substitute therefor the following:

(d) Skim milk and butterfat disposed of in bulk form as milk, skim milk or cream by transfer or diversion from a plant of a handler to any plant other than a plant of a handler or to a nonhandler shall be classified as Class I milk, unless:

9. Clarify the language of § 903.52 with respect to eligibility of Class I milk to receive the location differential credit and provide a maximum rate of deduction of 36 cents.

10. Delete § 903.51 (b) and substitute therefor the following:

(b) The price per hundredweight for Class II milk shall be computed from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling price (using the mid-point of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92 score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, during the month;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of car lot prices per pound of spray process non-fat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the U. S. Department of Agriculture; and

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph subtract 75.2 cents: Provided, That such prices shall not be less than the basic formula price during the months of September through February.

11. Amend § 903.53 (b) to provide that the factor used in determining the Class II butterfat differential shall be 1.12 during the months of March through August inclusive.

12. Make such further changes in the order as required to effectuate the purpose of the amendments here proposed.

By Producers Creamery Company of Cabool, Missouri:

13. Delete all of § 903.51 (b) and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Class II Milk. The price per hundredweight for Class II milk shall be that computed from the following formula:

(1) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92 score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture during the delivery period;

(2) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process non-fat dry milk solids, for human consumption f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding delivery period through the 25th day of the current delivery period by the United States Department of Agriculture; and

(3) From the sum of the results arrived at under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph subtract 75 cents: Provided, That for each of the delivery periods of September through February, the Class II price shall be not less than the basic formula price.

14. Delete all of § 903.53 (b) and substitute in lieu thereof the following:

(b) Class II milk. Multiply by 1.12 the average daily wholesale price per pound of 92 score butter in the Chicago market as reported by the Department of Agriculture during the delivery period and divide the result by 10.

15. Delete all of § 903.84.

16. Amend the order to provide for a "market-wide" pool for the St. Louis marketing area in lieu of the "individual handler" pool as now effective, to-wit, to provide for the determination of the uniform price to be paid on the basis of a market-wide utilization rather than an individual handler utilization, and to provide for the establishment of a producer-settlement fund into which and out of which qualified pool plants will make or receive payments on the basis of each handler's utilization in relation to the market utilization.

17. Amend the order to provide that for a plant to become a qualified pool plant and to participate in the pool as contemplated by the establishment of a market-wide uniform price and to participate in the payments into and the distributions from the producer-settlement fund, such plant must meet certain performance requirements in lieu of the presently established health requirements. Said performance requirements should, in general, be that a plant must be either a city plant where milk is received from producers or from a country plant and from which packaged or processed milk, skim milk, or cream is disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area to wholesale or retail outlets, including plant stores, or if a plant does not meet the requirements of a city plant as hereinabove set forth, such plant may qualify as a country plant if it receives milk from producers and during at least four out of the five-month period September through January disposes of a given percentage of all its Grade A receipts to a city plant.

18. Redefine the definitions of producer, city plant, country plant, handler, non-handler, and other source milk, and add such definitions of pool plant and non-pool plant, and such further definitions, all as may be necessitated to effectuate the change from individual handler pool to a market-wide pool.

19. Make all conforming changes in the order necessitated by the change from an individual handler pool to a market-wide pool, and the establishment of performance requirements in order to be a qualified pool plant, including but not limiting the generality of the foregoing, such changes as may be necessary in the duties of the market administrator, the responsibility of handlers, and reclassification of milk, transfers, allocation of skim milk, and butterfat classified.

20. Provide that all plants now qualified as handlers under the terms of the present order would continue to be qualified as a pool plant from the effective date of any amendment to the order until disqualified.

By Square Deal Milk Producers Association of Illinois and Cooperative Milk Producers of Missouri:

21. That the emergency price increase in Order No. 3, effective September 1, 1952, should be continued through the month of March, 1953, so that it would be therein provided that for said month the Class I price differential or premium would not be less than $1.79 per hundredweight.

22. That § 903.51 (a) be amended to provide that the month of April be included in the delivery periods now provided for January, February and March so that as amended the month of April would receive the delivery period premium provided in the order of $1.15 per hundredweight.

23. That § 903.51 (a) of Order No. 3, as amended, be amended so that the delivery period premium for the months of May and June be 90 cents per hundredweight rather than 75 cents per hundredweight as now provided in said order.

By St. Louis Dairy Company:

24. Amend § 903.51 (a) by providing that July and December shall be removed from that group of delivery periods for which the highest amount is added to the basic formula price to obtain the Class I price, and be included in the group of delivery periods for which the medium amount is added to the basic formula price to obtain the Class I price.

25. Further amend § 903.51 (a) in the supply-demand adjustment provision by adding the months of July and December to the present group of January through March, and removing the months of July and December from the present group of July through December.

28. Amend § 903.53 (b) by deleting the first three words thereof "Multiply by 1.2," and replacing with the words "Multiply by 1.12."

29. Amend § 903.81 by deleting the first three words after the colon, "Multiply by 1.2," and replacing with the words "Multiply by 1.12."

By Major Dairy Company:

30. That the market be changed from independent handler pool to market-wide pool.

31. That there should be some reduction in price of Class II milk during surplus months, particularly when such milk has to move to manufacturing plants for conversion into cheese, butter, dry milk solids, and canned evaporated milk.

32. That there should be some reduction in formula price for Class II butterfat over the 3.5 base when such butterfat has to move to butter manufacturing plants.

33. That if market-wide pool is adopted, that only handlers selling a certain percentage of their milk on the market be allowed to participate in the pool.

34. That if a handler qualifies for participation in the pool, he shall offer milk to other handlers on the market, in tank truck lots, at a price not to exceed the Class I price plus 50 cents per hundredweight handling charge, and plus Health Department fees and market administrator fees, before being allowed to export milk to other markets. Such charges on small sales in can lots or partial tank loads may be more .

35. To prevent dumping of milk during surplus months on the St. Louis market, that any handler not now a qualified handler on the St. Louis market, shall be required to sell milk on the market for at least one year before being allowed to participate in the pool benefits. Also, that he must also meet the requirements for percentage of milk sold on the market, Item 33, and shall offer such milk at prices in line with Item 34.

40. Market administrator assessment to apply on Class I only.

By Pevely Dairy Company:

41. That consideration be given to amending Federal Order No. 3, as amended, so that a lower Class II price be determined in Federal Order No. 3, as amended.

42. That consideration be given to amending Federal Order No. 3, as amended, so that a lower butterfat differential be applied to Class II users of milk as determined in the order, as amended.

43. That consideration be given to amending Federal Order No. 3, as amended, so that the Federal milk market administrator's fees be based on Class I sales only.

44. That consideration be given to amending the order so that the Federal milk market administrator be required to publish the name of a handler, if any, and the volume of milk other than Grade A as having been priced for Class I sales to such handler, if any, in each delivery period when the use of such milk other than Grade A has been so determined.

45. That consideration be given to amending Federal Order No. 3, as amended, so that all imports from other Federal market areas be deducted from Class I usage before allocating the balance of Class I to local producer milk.

HANDLING OF MILK IN FORT SMITH, ARKANSAS, MARKETING AREA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was conducted at Fort Smith, Arkansas, on February 5, 1953, pursuant to notice thereof which was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER January 31, 1953 (18 F. R. 670).

The material issues of record related to:

1. A proposal that the price for Class II milk be decreased; and

2. The need for immediate action by the Secretary because of emergency conditions surrounding the marketing of producer milk not needed for Class I use.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions with respect to the aforementioned material issues to be considered in this decision, all of which are based on the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof, are as follows:

1. Emergency marketing conditions for milk used for manufacturing in the Fort Smith area make it necessary to alter the pricing provisions of the order. Evidence in the record indicates that under present conditions, much of the Class II milk cannot be marketed at prices which are comparable to the Class II price as now provided by the order. It is necessary therefore that lower prices be provided for milk in certain uses in order to provide a market for such milk and to maintain the orderly flow of milk from farms to plants.

Since the order has been in effect, the Class II price has been based on the average of the prices paid farmers by several milk manufacturing plants in the general area. It has been customary in the past several years for a number of the nearby milk manufacturing plants to accept excess milk from Fort Smith handlers and pay for it at a rate somewhat above the prices paid producers. Under this arrangement handlers have accepted and disposed of whatever producer milk was offered for sale. Fort Smith handlers have been dependent upon these outlets for milk since they have no manufacturing facilities in their own plants.

Recently however, most of the local manufacturing plants have discontinued purchasing any milk except that received directly from dairy farmers. Plants in the area which are accepting additional milk pay only the equivalent of prices paid their farmers, or less. This appears to be an abnormal condition brought on partly by an unseasonably high rate of milk production on the part of ungraded producers. The record indicates that receipts of ungraded milk are now as much as 70 percent above a year ago at some plants.

Because of the inability of handlers to obtain satisfactory prices for Class II milk and because they have no processing facilities of their own, they have been unwilling to accept any producer milk except that needed to maintain Class I operations.

Some producers' milk was refused by handlers during January. More has been refused in February as production has increased. Further increases in production during the next three or four months may be expected to result in additional refusals by handlers unless the Class II price is reduced, or unless marketing conditions for such milk change materially.

Producers in some instances have been required to keep their milk on the farm or to divert it to other plants where possible. Milk which has not been accepted from producer members of the Farm Bureau Milk Producers Association has been diverted by the association to manufacturing plants. Although diverted milk may be pooled with all milk under the order, producers of such milk or the cooperative which markets it will nevertheless receive a lower net rate of return on such milk than if it were accepted by the handlers at their plants. This results from the extra expense in hauling such milk to manufacturing plants. Furthermore, to the extent the price received for such milk by the cooperative is less than the Class II price, the cooperative must make up the difference or pay its members less than the uniform price provided under the order.

At the time of the hearing the cooperative was diverting approximately 15 thousand pounds of milk every other day to the Sugar Creek Creamery at Russellville, Arkansas. According to the testimony presented by the cooperative, the cost of hauling this milk to Russellville was expected to exceed the cost of hauling it to Fort Smith. Data provided indicate that this excess cost will amount to about 25 to 30 cents per hundredweight of milk diverted.

Not all outlets for excess milk have been equally affected by the emergency marketing conditions. Testimony and prices contained in the record indicate that plants making ice cream in the Fort Smith market are paying prices for milk and milk products which exceed those paid by plants in the area making cheese, evaporated milk, and butter. No reason was presented to indicate that the price for milk should be reduced on Class II products, such as ice cream and cottage cheese.

The manufacturing plants which ordinarily accept excess milk and which are now refusing to purchase such milk are for the most part those making butter, American type cheeses, and evaporated milk. It is concluded therefore that the order should provide a credit to the handler for butterfat used in the production of these products, and that the regular Class II price should not be altered with respect to other products.

The eligibility of milk transferred or diverted to unapproved plants for this credit should be considered to have been established if the operator of the unapproved plant permits the market administrator to verify that an equivalent amount of butterfat was used at the plant during the month in the production of butter, American type cheeses, or evaporated milk. Such credit should be allowed on the basis of 7 cents per pound of butterfat in the milk so utilized. Indications are that the average butterfat test for producer milk will be near 4.0 percent during the flush production season. This would mean therefore that an additional margin of about 28 cents per hundredweight of milk will be allowed on milk eligible for such credit. It is concluded that this change will permit milk to be diverted by the cooperative without undue loss, and also will encourage handlers to assume a larger share of the handling of Class II milk.

Changes in the net price charged under the order for milk used in making butter, American type cheeses, and evaporated milk will be dependent upon variations in the Class II pricing provisions of the order. Thus, if prices paid by local manufacturing plants decrease as milk production gains during the spring months, then the cost of milk subject to this credit will be correspondingly lower.

The reduction in handlers' obligations which result from the credit herein provided shall be reflected to producers during the base operating period first in blend prices for excess milk. No reduction should be made in the base price unless the quantity of butterfat which receives the credit exceeds that contained in excess milk. This will continue the practice of allocating the value of milk sold for manufacturing purposes to the excess milk and preserve first priority on Class I sales for base milk.

It is concluded that the emergency butterfat credit to handlers allowed under the amendment herein provided should be continued through the months of greatest production. Since data showing milk supplies are available only since September 1952, when the order became effective, the usual amounts of Class II milk to be expected during various months are not known. The record indicates that May is ordinarily the month of largest production. June is also a month of large production however, and it is concluded that the allowance herein provided should be continued through that month in order to facilitate the disposition of excess milk when such milk is likely to be in largest supply. The credit provided under this amendment is extended therefore through the month of June. This will carry through the months of greatest production and allow time for further consideration of additional changes in the order if such are required.

2. The due and timely execution of the function of the Secretary under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission of a recommended decision by the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, and the opportunity for exception thereto, on the above issues.

The conditions complained of are such that it is urgent that remedial action be taken as soon as possible. Delay beyond the minimum time required to make the attached order effective would defeat the purpose of such amendment. Accordingly, the time necessarily involved in the preparation, filing, and publication of a recommended decision, and exceptions thereto, would make such relief ineffective. The propriety of omitting the recommended decision and opportunity for filing exceptions thereto with respect to all proposals considered was indicated on the record by interested parties, who likewise waived the opportunity to file briefs on the record of the hearing.

General findings. (a) The tentative marketing agreement and the order as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the tentative marketing agreement and in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The tentative marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Determination of representative period. The month of December 1952 is hereby determined to be the representative period for the purpose of ascertaining whether the issuance of an order amending the order as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, marketing area in the manner set forth in the attached amending order, as amended, is approved or favored by producers who during such period were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the marketing area specified in such order.

Marketing agreement and order. Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled "Marketing Agreement Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, Marketing Area," and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, Marketing Area," which have been decided upon as the detailed and appropriate means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions. These documents shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached marketing agreement, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of said marketing agreement are identical with those contained in the order, as amended, and as hereby proposed to be further amended by the order shown below which will be published with this decision.

This decision filed at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of February 1953.

[SEAL] TRUE D. MORSE,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

Order[1] Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, Marketing Area

§ 976.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon certain proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act:

(2) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity, specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

1. In § 976.44 (f) change the period at the end thereof to a colon and add the following: "Provided, That if the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of receipts and utilization at any such unapproved plant, butterfat contained in such transfers or diversions may be deemed to have been used in the production of butter, American type cheeses or evaporated milk to the extent butterfat was used at such plant in the production of such products during the month."

2. In § 976.70 change the period at the end thereof to a colon and add the following: "Provided, That from the effective date hereof through June 1953, 7 cents shall be deducted from this sum for each pound of butterfat in producer milk which was allocated to Class II pursuant to § 976.46, and which was used in the production of butter, American type cheeses or evaporated milk, or which was assigned to such products pursuant to § 976.44 (f)."

3. In § 976.72 (d) change the semicolon at the end thereof to a colon, and add the following: "Provided, That from the foregoing sum shall be subtracted an amount equal to the deductions made pursuant to the proviso in § 976.70 or 7 cents times the pounds of butterfat in excess milk, whichever is less;"

[F. R. Doc. 53-1821; Filed, Feb. 25, 1953; 8:53 a. m.]

[1] This order shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders have been met.

[7 CFR Part 986]

HANDLING OF HOPS GROWN IN OREGON, CALIFORNIA, WASHINGTON, AND IDAHO, AND OF HOP PRODUCTS PRODUCED THEREFROM IN THESE STATES

PROCEDURAL RULES GOVERNING LIQUIDATION OF HOP CONTROL BOARD

Notice is hereby given that the Department is considering issuance of the proposed administrative rule herein set forth pursuant to provisions of § 986.107 (c) of Marketing Agreement No. 107, as amended, and Order No. 86, as amended (17 F. R. 6626), regulating the handling of hops grown in Oregon, California, Washington, and Idaho, and of hop products produced therefrom in these States, as well as pursuit to the order (17 F. R. 11772) terminating said program, effective July 1, 1953.

Prior to final issuance of this proposed administrative rule, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., and which are received not later than the close of business on the tenth day after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, except that if said tenth day should fall on a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, such submission may be received by the Director not later than the close of business on the next following work day.

Said agreement and order, as amended, provide, in § 986.107 (c), that, upon termination of the regulation, the members of the Control Board then functioning shall continue as trustees for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of said Control Board and it further provides that the activities of the trustees shall be as prescribed by the Secretary. The termination order provides that proceedings after termination shall be in accordance with such supplementary instructions as may be issued by the Secretary prior to the effective time of termination.

Pursuant to the above stated provisions, the proposed administrative rule is as follows:

§ 986.404 Procedural rules governing activities of the members of the Hop Control Board acting as trustees for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the Hop Control Board—(a) Delegation of authority. The general supervision and control of the trustees in connection with the taking of this liquidation action is hereby delegated to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., who is referred to hereafter as the "Director." The Director is empowered to make all necessary decisions, and to issue all necessary instructions to the said trustees, in regard to such liquidation action, consistent with the provisions hereof, except the final discharge of such trustees.

(b) Selection and organization of the trustees. In accordance with § 986.107 (c) of Marketing Agreement No. 107, as amended, and Marketing Order No. 86, as amended, the members of the Hop Control Board in office on December 23, 1952, shall act as trustees for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the Board (including its subsidiaries, the Growers Allocation Committee, and the several Growers Advisory Committees), consistent with the continuance of this program in effect until July 1, 1953, and shall continue in that capacity until discharged by the Secretary: Provided, That such trustees may perform such liquidation actions through a committee selected by them from their membership, which committee shall act under the general supervision of, and, subject to the ratification of their actions by said trustees: And provided further, That such persons shall also continue to function in their present capacities as members of the Hop Control Board until July 1, 1953. Unless changed by subsequent action of the trustees, the chairman, vice-chairman, secretary, and treasurer who were serving in those capacities for the Board on December 23, 1952, shall serve in the same respective capacities under the trusteeship.

(c) Compensation. The several trustees shall serve without compensation, but shall be paid their reasonable expenses incurred in the performance of their duties hereunder.

(d) Actions of trustees. Actions of the trustees shall be taken by an affirmative vote of not less than ten members. The chairman of the Board may authorize voting by mail or telegraph: Provided, That due advance notice is given to all members, including complete information on each matter under consideration.

(e) Maintenance of books and records. The trustees shall keep books, and other appropriate records of their operations, which shall reflect clearly all of their acts and transactions as trustees, which books and other records shall be subject, at any time, to examination by the Director, or his designated representatives.

(f) Expenses of liquidation. Liquidation expenses shall be paid from assessment funds on hand, and the proceeds resulting from this liquidation, and shall include all necessary expenses, such as salaries, transportation, rent, cost of advertising and selling property, cost of mailing checks, audits, and cost of meetings of the trustees.

(g) Collection of debts. The trustees shall make every reasonable effort to collect all debts by June 30, 1953, and if there should remain outstanding as of that date any uncollected indebtedness, they shall submit promptly to the Director a detailed statement and recommendation with regard to each such situation for his consideration and instructions as to what further action should be taken.

(h) Disposition of property. The trustees shall dispose of all furniture, equipment, and supplies by sale at the most advantageous prices obtainable, except filing cabinets necessary to contain books and records to be retained permanently as authorized in paragraph (l) of this section. The funds derived from such sales shall be a part of the gross liquid assets.

(i) Refunds to handlers. When, in the opinion of the Director, liquidation action has been completed from the standpoint that all property has been sold, all collectible indebtedness due the Board has been collected, and all expenses incurred by the Board (including the costs of this liquidation action) have been paid, he shall direct the trustees to refund to handlers the net assets from this liquidation procedure plus any unused funds from assessments imposed for the 1952–53 marketing season. Said refund shall be made to the handlers who paid assessments for the 1952–53 marketing season, and shall be prorated among them in proportion to their respective assessment payments for that season. Insofar as practicable only one refund check shall be issued to each handler. A brief explanatory statement shall be sent with each check, indicating that it represents the handler's share in unused assessments for the 1952–53 marketing season and his equity in the net assets.

(j) Disposition of funds not distributable to handlers. Any unused assessment funds for marketing seasons prior to the 1952–53 marketing season which it has not been practicable to refund to handlers by reason of inability to locate them, or for any other reason, and any refunds due handlers pursuant to paragraph (i) of this section which it is not practicable to make by reason of inability to locate said handlers, or for any other reason, shall be remitted by the trustees to the Director in the form of a check payable to the Treasurer of the United States.

(k) Audit. The trustees shall cause the books and other records of the Hop Control Board, in connection with its operations under the aforementioned marketing agreement and order, to be audited by one or more competent accountants as of the close of business on June 30, 1953, and their own books and other records as trustees hereunder, as of the close of the liquidation period, as provided for in this section, and shall submit promptly to the Secretary at least two copies of each of such audit reports. The audit of the trustees' books and records shall set forth a complete financial accounting, and shall include among other things a statement of refunds to individual handlers, and an itemized statement of disposition of furniture, equipment, and supplies.

(l) Disposition of books and records. (i) A list of all records, with a brief description of each type, a statement of the cubic feet of file space that each type occupies, the number and size of filing cabinet drawers, and a recommendation as to the records which should be retained permanently, shall be submitted to the Director. Prior to completion of final liquidation, the Director shall designate the books and records to be retained.

(ii) Upon completion of the liquidation, the books and records which have been designated by the Director for permanent retention (together with the file cabinets or other containers thereof) of both the Hop Control Board and the trustees shall be delivered to the Director, or his designated representative, at such address as he may designate. The records not designated for permanent retention shall be disposed of by the trustees in accordance with instructions from the Director, and the manner and time of such disposition shall be reported to the Director.

(m) Preservation of rights and liabilities. With respect to violations, rights accrued, or liabilities incurred under the above mentioned marketing agreement, as amended, and order, as amended, up to the effective time of their termination (i. e. July 1, 1953), all provisions of said marketing agreement, as amended, and order, as amended, in effect prior to the effective time of such termination action, shall be deemed to continue in full force and effect for the purpose of sustaining any proper suit, action, or other proceeding with regard to any such violation, right, or liability.

(n) Report of liquidation. This liquidation shall be completed, and a final report of the trustees in connection therewith shall be submitted to the Director, on or before August 1, 1953, unless such time is extended by the Director.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 20th day of February 1953.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[14 CFR Parts 40, 61]

SCHEDULED INTERSTATE AIR CARRIER CERTIFICATION AND OPERATION RULES; FLIGHT TIME AND DUTY TIME LIMITATIONS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING AND POSTPONEMENT OF ORAL ARGUMENT

Notice is hereby given that the Civil Aeronautics Board is proposing the adoption of an amendment to Part 61 of the Civil Air Regulations and is postponing the oral argument concerning flight time and duty time limitations scheduled for February 26, 1953, as hereinafter set forth.

Interested persons may participate in the making of the proposed rule by submitting such written data, views, or arguments as they may desire. Communications should be submitted in duplicate to the Civil Aeronautics Board, attention Bureau of Safety Regulation, Washington 25, D. C. In order to insure their consideration by the Board before taking further action on the proposed rule, communications must be received by April 21, 1953. Copies of such communications will be available after April 23, 1953, for examination by interested persons at the Docket Section of the Board, Room 5412, Department of Commerce Building, Washington, D. C.

On December 23, 1952, the Board circulated Draft Release No. 52-34 and published as a notice of proposed rule making and oral argument in the FEDERAL REGISTER on December 31, 1952, giving notice that the Board would hear oral argument on February 26, 1953, on four designated points at issue concerning flight time and duty time limitations. Draft Release No. 52-34 also stated that persons desiring to participate in the oral argument should so indicate to the Board by January 26, 1953, with comment as to the views and arguments to be presented. No comment was received in response to this draft release. Meanwhile, the Air Transport Association and the Air Line Pilots Association have requested that the oral argument be postponed to permit these two parties to establish a working group to explore the problems in connection with the matters designated for oral argument. Two of the four points at issue involve amendments sponsored by the Air Transport Association and heretofore opposed by the Air Line Pilots Association which, if adopted by the Board, would relax certain current daily and weekly flight time limitations. A third point involves the 85 hour monthly flight time limitations set forth in section 401 (1) of the act and a construction thereof urged by the Air Line Pilots Association, which the Board has heretofore not followed and to which the carriers are opposed. The Board is of the opinion that under the circumstances the postponement of oral argument on these issues will benefit the public interest by permitting further cooperative exploration by the parties most directly concerned and the possibility of producing a sounder factual basis on which the Board can ultimately make its decision. In the meantime, of course, the current requirements will remain in effect.

The fourth point at issue, however, stands on a different basis. It involves the question of placing limitations on over-all duty time for air carrier flight crews, a provision not currently in the regulations. Since the Board is of the opinion that the imposition of some requirement of this nature may be necessary in the interest of safety in air commerce, it does not believe that an indefinite postponement of this issue is warranted. However, rather than hear oral argument on this issue alone, the Board considers it desirable to institute separate rule-making proceedings thereon.

In view of the foregoing, the Board hereby postpones sine die the hearing of oral argument presently scheduled for February 26, 1953, concerning flight time and duty time limitations and institutes separate rule-making proceedings concerning daily duty time limitations as contained herein.

Accordingly, it is proposed to amend Part 61 (proposed revision of Part 40) of the Civil Air Regulations by adding a new provision to the scheduled air carrier flight time limitations which will limit the scheduled duty time of flight crew members to a fixed number of hours in any 24 hour period. Consideration is being given to proposals by interested persons for duty time limitations ranging from 12 to 16 hours. The Board is considering the merits of adopting a scheduled daily duty time limitation of less than the 16 hour limitation currently being used by air carriers as a scheduled daily duty time limitation, in order to render more remote the probability that actual duty time will exceed 16 hours. The Board also has received a proposal that daily duty time limitations for flight engineers should not exceed 12 hours, irrespective of what limits may be established for pilots, because of the peculiar conditions under which flight engineers are required to serve. Comment is invited with respect to these views.

Proposals of interested persons also differ with respect to the manner of application of such daily duty time limitations. Some persons have recommended that the daily duty time limitations be applied only on a daily scheduled basis and that, if in any particular case the daily duty time limitations are exceeded, a subsequent rest period of not less than 16 hours shall be provided the flight crew members involved. Other interested persons, however, have proposed that the daily duty time limitations operate as an absolute maximum to be applicable on a "flight" basis (block to block) such that a pilot who has exceeded the daily duty time limitations would not be permitted to continue a scheduled trip beyond an en route stop.

Comment is requested, therefore, as to whether duty time limitations, if any, should operate solely as a limitation on daily scheduled time or whether there should be an absolute restriction and in either case what numerical value should be used. In the event duty time limitations are applied solely on a scheduled basis, comment is desired concerning a mandatory subsequent 16 hour rest period. In the event duty time limitations are treated as absolute limitations, comment is desired concerning a mandatory 8 hour rest period, if adequate rest facilities are provided at the airport, or 10 hours, if adequate rest facilities are not provided at the airport. Comment is also invited with regard to the desirability of considering deadhead time as on duty time and, if so, under what conditions.

This regulation is proposed under the authority of Title VI of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended. The proposal may be changed in the light of comments received in response to this notice of proposed rule-making.

BRANIFF AIRWAYS, INC., AND UNITED AIR LINES, INC.; INTERCHANGE OF EQUIPMENT

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the joint application of Braniff Airways, Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc., for approval by the Civil Aeronautics Board under section 412 and, if such approval is deemed necessary, under section 408 of the Civil Aeronautics Act, as amended, of an agreement relating to the interchange of equipment.

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 408, 412 and 1001 of the said act, that the above-entitled proceeding is assigned for hearing on March 16, 1953, at 10:00 a. m., e. s. t., in Room 2045, Temporary Building No. 4, Seventeenth Street, south of Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Joseph L. Fitzmaurice.

Without limiting the scope of the issues presented by the joint application, particular attention will be directed to the following questions:

1. Does the agreement constitute a lease or contract to operate the properties, or any substantial part thereof, of an air carrier by another air carrier within the meaning of section 408 (a) (2) of the act?

2. If Board approval is required by section 408 (b) of the act, is the agreement consistent with the public interest with respect to any improvement in air transportation service to be provided by the interchange operation, the adverse effect, if any upon another air carrier, and the justness and reasonableness of the agreement as it relates to each party?

3. Will the agreement give the two air carrier parties such a degree of control over air transportation in the area covered by the agreement as to constitute a monopoly?

4. If the Board approves the agreement should it impose any terms and conditions to protect the public interest?

For further details of the issues involved in the proceeding interested persons are referred to the joint application and the prehearing conference report which are on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Notice is further given that any person, other than a party of record, desiring to be heard in this proceeding must file with the Board on or before March 16, 1953, a statement setting forth such propositions of fact or law as he desires to advance, and such person may then appear and participate in the hearing in accordance with Rule 14 of the Board's rules of practice.

Dated at Washington, D. C., February 20, 1953.

SOUTHERN UNION GAS CO. ET AL.

ORDER DENYING REQUESTS FOR SHORTENED PROCEDURE, CONSOLIDATING PROCEEDINGS AND FIXING DATE OF HEARING

FEBRUARY 17, 1953.

In the matters of Southern Union Gas Company, Docket No. G–1668; El Paso Natural Gas Company, Docket Nos. G–1828 and G–1998; West Texas Gas Company, Docket No. G–2026.

By its order issued November 23, 1951, the Commission consolidated proceedings at Docket Nos. G–1668 and G–1828, with those on West Texas Gas Company's (West Texas) application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity in Docket No. G–1831. Following hearing on January 16, 1952, further hearings on the consolidated proceedings were recessed subject to further order of the Commission. West Texas was later permitted to withdraw its Docket No. G–1831 application by the Commission's order issued January 31, 1952.

The proceedings in Docket No. G–1668 concern the construction and operation of facilities by Southern Union Gas Company (Southern Union) to permit the taking of increased volumes of gas from West Texas. The proceedings in Docket No. G–1828 concern a partial abandonment of service to West Texas by El Paso Natural Gas Company (El Paso).

On July 11, 1952, El Paso filed an application in Docket No. G–1998 and on November 5, 1952 a supplement thereto, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity authorizing it to acquire from West Texas and to operate certain natural-gas transmission facilities subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission, as described in the application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

West Texas on August 7, 1952 filed at Docket No. G–2026 an application for permission to abandon by sale the facilities proposed to be purchased by El Paso, and to abandon service rendered by means of such facilities to Southern Union. A supplement to this application was filed on September 30, 1952.

Due notice of the filing of these applications has been given by publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on July 31, 1952 (17 F. R. 7031), in the case of Docket No. G–1998 and on August 22, 1952 (17 F. R. 7710), in the case of Docket No. G–2026.

El Paso and West Texas have requested that their applications in Docket Nos. G–1998 and G–2026 respectively be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) for noncontested proceedings. Intervention has been permitted Southern Union in these dockets by the Commission's orders issued September 16, 1952.

It appears that the above-entitled proceedings involve common questions of law and fact.

The Commission finds:

(1) Good cause has not been shown for granting El Paso and West Texas' requests that their applications in Docket Nos. G–1998 and G–2026 respectively be heard under the shortened procedure as provided by the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, and said request should be denied as hereinafter ordered.

(2) It is appropriate for carrying out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and good cause exists for consolidating the above proceedings for purpose of hearing.

The Commission orders:

(A) El Paso and West Texas' requests that their applications in Docket Nos. G–1998 and G–2026 respectively be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) be and the same are hereby denied.

(B) The proceedings in Docket Nos. G–1668, G–1828, G–1998, and G–2026 be and the same hereby are consolidated for purpose of hearing.

(C) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a public hearing be held commencing on March 19, 1953 at 10:00 a. m., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters presented and the issues involved in the above dockets.

(D) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: February 18, 1953.

ARLINGTON GAS LIGHT CO. ET AL.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING PROPOSED NOTE ISSUES

FEBRUARY 19, 1953.

In the matter of Arlington Gas Light Company, Central Massachusetts Gas Company, Gloucester Gas Light Company, Malden and Melrose Gas Light Company, Salem Gas Light Company; File No. 70–2990.

Notice is hereby given that declarations have been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"), by the above named companies hereinafter individually referred to as "Arlington", "Central Mass.", "Gloucester Gas", "Malden and Melrose" and "Salem Gas" and collectively referred to as the "borrowing companies", all public-utility subsidiary companies of New England Electric System, a registered holding company. The borrowing companies have designated sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rules U-23 and U-42 (b) (2) promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Under bank loan agreements, dated March 20, 1952, as amended, the borrowing companies have outstanding $6,690,000 principal amount of unsecured promissory notes, due April 1, 1953, and payable to the National City Bank of New York. Each borrowing company proposes to issue additional unsecured promissory notes to said bank under its bank loan agreement, as further amended. The amended loan agreements, among other things, extend the date on or before which the new notes may be issued to December 31, 1953, and provide that the new notes will mature March 1, 1954, and will bear interest at the same rate as the presently outstanding notes. The following table shows the principal amount of new notes to be issued and the interest rate thereof and the principal amount of presently outstanding notes:

Company	Notes to be issued		Notes outstanding
	Amount	Interest rate
		Percent
Arlington	$2,000,000	3¼	$1,785,000
Central Mass	700,000	3½	350,000
Gloucester Gas	700,000	3½	625,000
Malden and Melrose	3,000,000	3¼	2,760,000
Salem Gas	1,250,000	3¼	1,170,000
Total	7,650,000		6,690,000

Each borrowing company will use the proceeds derived from the issuance of new notes to pay and discharge its presently outstanding notes and the balance, if any, will be applied to the payment of construction expenditures and for other corporate purposes.

Each borrowing company proposes that if any permanent financing is done before the maturity of the proposed notes, it will apply the proceeds therefrom in reduction of, or in total payment of, notes then outstanding, and the amount of authorized but unissued notes, if any, will be reduced by the amount, if any, by which such permanent financing exceeds the notes at the time outstanding.

The declarations state that incidental services in connection with the proposed note issues will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $300 for each of the borrowing companies, or an aggregate of $1,500.

The declarations state that no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed note issues. Each of the borrowing companies requests that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 12, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason or reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. DELAWARE POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING PROPOSED INCREASE OF AUTHORIZED PREFERRED STOCK

FEBRUARY 19, 1953.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by Delaware Power & Light Company ("Delaware"), a registered holding company and a public utility company. The declarant has designated sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rule U-62 promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transaction, which is summarized as follows:

Delaware proposes to amend its certificate of incorporation so as to increase the number of its authorized shares of preferred stock from 200,000 to 300,000 shares. Such action is proposed to be taken by vote of its preferred and common stockholders at Delaware's annual meeting of stockholders to be held on April 21, 1953, and Delaware proposes to submit this proposal to its stockholders for their approval at that meeting.

Delaware presently has outstanding 190,000 shares of its cumulative preferred stock, having a par value of $100 per share. The presently outstanding stock consists of four series having respective dividend rates of 4 percent, 3.70 percent, 4.28 percent, and 4.56 percent. The Company represents that continuing demands for electric and gas service have required the adoption of a substantial construction program, and the Company anticipates that such construction program will require expenditures of approximately $35,000,000 during the next three years. The declaration represents that, while the Company does not presently have any definitive plans as to the issue and sale of additional preferred stock, it is contemplated that the construction program will be financed in substantial part by the sale of additional preferred and common stock and by the sale of mortgage bonds and unsecured temporary bank borrowings.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 5, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues of fact or law, if any, raised by the said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after March 5, 1953, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof. All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed.

By the Commission.

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION

[Ex Parte No. 185]

INCREASED EXPRESS RATES AND CHARGES, 1953

FEBRUARY 20, 1953.

By petition dated January 30, 1953, the Railway Express Agency, Incorporated, requests authority to increase and revise its express rates and charges and classification provisions. Appendix I as set forth below contains a summary of petitioner's proposals.

This proceeding has been assigned to Division 3 and by it to Commissioner James K. Knudson for administrative handling and to Examiner Burton Fuller for hearing. It is the desire of the Division and the Examiner that it be handled with dispatch and minimum expense to the parties and the Commission, consistent with proper hearing and disposition of the issues.

To meet the foregoing objectives, it has been found necessary to provide for only one hearing outside of Washington, namely, at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, Illinois, beginning at 9:30 a. m., U. S. standard time, on May 4, 1953, with the closing hearing at the offices of the Commission in Washington, D. C., beginning at 9:30 a. m., U. S. standard time, on May 18, 1953, with the special rules of practice set forth in Appendix II as set forth below, providing among other things, for verified statements by parties not desiring or unable to be present at the oral hearings. The Chicago hearing will be primarily for the presentation of petitioner's evidence in chief, cross examination of its witnesses by protestants, and for the presentation of evidence by protestants who desire to be heard at that session. The Washington hearing will be primarily for the presentation of further evidence by protestants and rebuttal by petitioner.

It is anticipated that a representative of the State Commissions will participate in this proceeding under the cooperative plan and that one or more members of Division 3 will sit in at the hearings from time to time as their engagements may permit.

Copies of this notice and appendices are being served upon petitioner, the Governors and regulatory bodies of the several States, and all parties to the prior proceeding, Ex Parte No. 177, Increased Express Rates and Charges, 1951, and upon the general public by depositing same in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing same with the Director of the Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] GEORGE W. LAIRD,
Acting Secretary.

APPENDIX I

SUMMARY OF PETITIONER'S PROPOSALS

Petitioner proposes a new scale of First Class rates per 100 pounds for nationwide application, which are $1.04 or $1.05 higher than the current First Class rates. The difference between the increases of $1.04 and $1.05 is due to the disposition of fractions Second Class rates per 100 pounds are to be on the normal basis of 75 percent of First Class.

A new table of First Class graduated charges on shipments 1 to 99 pounds is proposed, computed by deducting $1.86 from the one-hundred-pound First Class rate, dividing the remainder by one hundred and multiplying the quotient by the weight of the package, and adding to the product the $1.86 originally deducted. Thus each package charge contains the fixed factor of $1.86. Where the charge so computed is less than the minimum charge of $2.30, the latter charge applies.

The proposed Second Class graduated charges are on the normal basis of 75 percent of the First Class charges, observing 75 percent of the ten pound First Class charge as a minimum but no charge to be less than the minimum charge of $2.30.

The proposed First and Second Class rates and charges are to supersede the present First and Second Class rates and charges including the present additional charge by 6 cents per shipment.

Petitioner also proposes to increase generally by 25 percent rates and charges on commodity rated traffic, valuation charges, c. o. d. service charges, storage charges, empty containers returned, Money Classification rates and charges, various merchandise classification rates and charges, including minimum charges, carload rates on fruits, vegetables and other perishable traffic, carload shipments subject to class rates, and international rates, charges and classification items between points in the United States and Canada, except carload rates on fruits, vegetables and other perishable traffic with a minimum of over 20,000 pounds, would be increased 15 percent.

A charge of not less than $2.30 per shipment will apply on any express shipment, except milk and cream and related commodities, daily newspapers, and human remains.

Notice of intention to produce testimony at the hearings. Persons who desire to be heard will facilitate necessary arrangements by promptly sending notice of their intention by letter or telegram to the Commission at Washington, so as to reach the Commission on or before April 10, 1953, which shall state the number of witnesses, the approximate amount of time considered necessary for presentation of direct testimony, and whether they desire to be heard at Chicago or Washington.

Verified statements (affidavits). Evidence in the form of verified statements (affidavits) without personal appearance of the affiant as a witness will also be received in the absence of objection, as hereinafter specified. Parties desiring to offer such statements should make available as early as possible during the hearing 15 copies for the Commission and 100 copies for other parties, including the applicants. Verified statements may be mailed, addressed to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, D. C., so as to reach this Commission on or prior to the date of the hearing. Notice of any objection to the receipt of any such statement in evidence should be given to the Commission and to the party submitting the statement promptly following the receipt of such statement. If no such notice is given promptly it will be considered that objection to the receipt of the statement in evidence is waived, but objection to the weight to be accorded the statement of facts is reserved. Such statements should conform to the rules of practice in respect of style, mimeographing or printing, etc. They should be limited strictly to statements of fact and contain no argument, and if not so limited may be excluded. Such statements of fact should include the name and location of the party represented, qualifications of the witness, the commodity or commodities, between what points shipped, average loading, value, and volume of movement by express for a representative period before and after the last increase, and movement by other forms of transportation. The Commission on its own motion or on objection may exclude a verified statement or any portion thereof which (a) is not material or relevant to the questions presented in this proceeding, (b) is obviously incompetent, or (c) is argumentative in character. In the absence of objection to introduction of the verified statement it will be unnecessary for the affiant to appear personally at the hearing. All verified statements received in evidence will be part of the record in the proceeding, upon which the Commission will base its decision.

Correspondence. Correspondence relative to this matter should be addressed to the Secretary of the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington 25, D. C., with reference to the docket number, Ex Parte No. 185.

APPENDIX II

SPECIAL RULES OF PRACTICE

Protestants: Petitions of intervention unnecessary. Persons appearing in opposition to the petition herein, will be considered as protestants, and may be heard without the filing of petitions of intervention.

Simplification of presentations. In order to conserve time and avoid expense, it is strongly urged that persons finding themselves with common interests in the proceeding shall, to the greatest extent possible, endeavor to consolidate their presentation of testimony, and arrange for cross-examination by as few counsel as possible. The same course should be followed upon oral argument.

Evidence offered should carefully be prepared with a view to conciseness and clarity, and so as to avoid unnecessary extraneous, immaterial, and irrelevant matter, and undue cumulation of testimony or of witnesses upon any point. It should be factual in character, and argument should be reserved for the oral argument stage, and not be incorporated in the testimony.

Exhibits. In the preparation of exhibits, Rules 81 to 84, inclusive, of the general rules of practice should be followed. If possible, all documents submitted by a witness should be embraced in a single exhibit, with pages consecutively numbered, suitably bound together. In order to supply the State Commissioners, members of this Commission, and counsel in the proceeding, at least 150 copies of each exhibit should be prepared. So far as possible, exhibits should be made self-explanatory in order to minimize the amount of time required for explanation by oral testimony.

Prepared statements. Witnesses who expect in the course of their testimony to read from a written statement should comply with Rule 77 of the rules of practice. They should have sufficient copies thereof to supply opposing counsel, the representative of the State Commissions, the Examiner on the bench, and the official reporter.

Submission of evidence in chief in written form. The evidence in chief to be produced on behalf of the petitioner Railway Express Agency, Inc., shall be submitted in written form, as prepared statements by the respective witnesses, with their accompanying exhibits. Such documents should be made available to the Commission by filing 25 copies on or before April 20, 1953, and a copy should be transmitted by express by petitioner to the regulatory authority of each State having jurisdiction with respect to the intrastate rates and charges of petitioner, and also to each person who shall give notice on or before April 10, 1953, to the Commission of their intention to appear at the hearings as protestants.

(b) The Secretary of Agriculture, having determined that swine in the States named in paragraph (a) of this section are affected with the contagious, infectious and communicable disease known as vesicular exanthema and that it is necessary to quarantine the areas specified in paragraph (a) of this section and the following additional areas in such States in order to prevent the spread of said disease from such States, hereby quarantines the areas specified in paragraph (a) of this section and in addition:

Essex and Union Counties, in New Jersey;

Montgomery County, in Pennsylvania.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective upon issuance. This amendment includes within the areas in which vesicular exanthema has been found to exist, and in which a quarantine has been established:

The foregoing amendment in part relieves restrictions presently imposed and must be made effective immediately to be of maximum benefit to persons subject to such restrictions. In part the amendment imposes further restrictions necessary to prevent the spread of vesicular exanthema, a communicable disease of swine, and to this extent it must be made effective immediately to accomplish its purpose in the public interest. Accordingly, under section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003) it is found upon good cause that notice and other public procedure with respect to the foregoing amendment are impracticable and contrary to the public interest and good cause is found for making the amendment effective less than 30 days after publication hereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Civil Air Regs., Amdt. 21-13]

PART 21—AIRLINE TRANSPORT PILOT RATING

ADDITIONAL PROVISIONS FOR CONVERTING HORSEPOWER RATINGS TO TYPE RATINGS ON AIRLINE TRANSPORT PILOT CERTIFICATES WHICH EXPIRE MAY 1, 1953

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 20th day of February 1953.

On August 27, 1952, the Board adopted a new paragraph (e) to § 21.24 of Part 21 of the Civil Air Regulations providing that all airline transport pilot certificates showing horsepower ratings would expire on May 1, 1953. This provision however, provided that such valid certificates could be exchanged for new certificates with type ratings in lieu of the present horsepower ratings. This exchange would be permitted without a further showing of competency in those instances where the applicant either had passed an official rating test as prescribed by the Administrator in that type aircraft, or had served as pilot in command of that type aircraft for at least 10 hours since May 1, 1949.

In the administration of this provision, difficulty has been encountered in those instances where applicants are presently employed as copilots in air carrier operation and hold airlines transport pilot certificates with appropriate horsepower ratings. Although such applicants have received the required training and checkouts and in many cases the same 6-month check and training as given to pilots in command, their accumulated flying time or any portion thereof cannot be credited as pilot-in-command time and, as a result, they are unable to meet the 10-hour pilot-in-command time requirement for type ratings.

The Board has considered this problem and is of the opinion that for the purpose of converting horsepower ratings to type ratings in connection with the exchange of airline transport pilot certificates, the accomplishment of an appropriate pilot training program acceptable to the Administrator provides an equivalent level of safety to that provided by either the pilot-in-command or the official rating test provisions.

This amendment provides that in addition to those instances presently provided for in § 21.24 (e), the Administrator shall exchange present airline transport pilot certificates with horsepower ratings for new certificates with type ratings in those instances where the certificate holder presents reliable evidence showing that he has successfully accomplished, in that type aircraft, a pilot ground and flight training program acceptable to the Administrator.

The time remaining prior to the May 1, 1953, deadline for the exchange of certificates is relatively short. In order that this amendment effectively provide a remedy to the problem presently adversely affecting the administration of the exchange of airline transport pilot certificates, it is necessary that it become effective as soon as possible. For the foregoing reasons the Board finds that notice and public procedure hereon are impracticable and contrary to the public interest, and that good cause exists for making this amendment effective on less than 30 days' notice.

In consideration of the foregoing the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 21 of the Civil Air Regulations (14 CFR Part 21, as amended) effective immediately:

By amending paragraph (e) of § 21.24 to read as follows:

(e) All airline transport pilot certificates showing horsepower ratings shall expire May 1, 1953. Upon application to the Administrator prior to May 1, 1953, such valid certificates may be exchanged, without further showing of competency, for new certificates with ratings coinciding with those held; except that in lieu of horsepower ratings, type ratings for aircraft exceeding 12,500 lbs. maximum certificated weight shall be issued upon presentation of reliable evidence that the certificate holder has:

(1) Passed an official rating test, as prescribed by the Administrator, in that type aircraft; or

(2) Successfully accomplished, in that type aircraft, a pilot ground and flight training program acceptable to the Administrator; or

(3) Served as pilot in command and sole manipulator of the controls of that type aircraft for at least 10 hours since May 1, 1949, and such aircraft was within his category, class, and horsepower ratings.

TITLE 17—COMMODITY AND SECURITIES EXCHANGES

Chapter II—Securities and Exchange Commission

PART 240—GENERAL RULES AND REGULATIONS UNDER THE SECURITIES EXCHANGE ACT OF 1934

REPORTS OF DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, AND PRINCIPAL STOCKHOLDERS

Purpose of rules. On October 20, 1952, the Commission published notice that it had under consideration proposals for the adoption of two new rules, §§ 240.16a-8 and 240.16a-9 (Rules X-16A-8 and X-16A-9). It invited all interested persons to comment upon the proposals. The Commission has considered all comments and suggestions received and has determined that §§ 240.16a-8 and 240.16a-9, and a new rule, § 240.16a-10 (Rule X-16A-10), should be adopted in the forms set forth below.

The new rules clarify and describe the reporting requirements imposed by section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act upon trusts and provide certain exemptions from the provisions of both section 16 (a) and section 16 (b). Rule X-16A-8 provides that any trustee who is an officer, director, or 10 percent stockholder of any company with any class of equity securities registered on a national securities exchange shall be required to file the reports specified by section 16 (a) of the Securities Exchange Act where either he or members of his immediate family have a vested interest in the income or corpus of the trust. It also provides that beneficiaries of trusts and settlors who have the power to revoke a trust without obtaining the consent of all the beneficiaries should also file the reports under some circumstances. Beneficiaries and settlors are exempted from section 16 (a) where less than 20 percent of the securities of the trust having a readily ascertainable market value consist of equity securities with respect to which a report would otherwise be required and when the trust transactions are entered into without their prior approval. The rule also requires the trustees of a trust holding 10 percent or more of any registered equity security to file reports. Beneficial owners of portfolio securities held by holding companies registered under the Public Utility Holding Company Act, investment companies registered under the Investment Company Act, business trusts with over twenty-five beneficiaries, and pension or retirement plans holding securities of an issuer whose employees generally are the beneficiaries of the plan, are also exempted from the provisions of section 16 (a).

Rule X-16A-9 provides an exemption for certain transactions in which the amounts involved are so small that there appears to be no public interest in requiring reports of the transactions when they occur.

Rules X-16A-8 and X-16A-9 are not to be construed as imposing any obligations or liabilities under section 16 (b). They are designed solely as interpretative and exemptive rules affecting section 16 (a). It is recognized that many reports are required by section 16 (a) of transactions which are not subject to section 16 (b) liability. On the other hand, section 16 (b) liability should not be predicated upon any transactions which are not subject to the reporting requirements of section 16 (a). To effectuate this purpose, Rule X-16A-10 is adopted to exempt from section 16 (b) those transactions which need not be reported pursuant to the requirements of section 16 (a) and the rules adopted thereunder.

Statutory basis. The new rules are adopted pursuant to the authority vested in the Commission by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 3 (a) (12), 3 (b), 16 (b) and 23 (a).

Texts of rules. The texts of the rules hereby adopted are as follows:

§ 240.16a-8 Ownership of securities held in trust. (a) Beneficial ownership of a security for the purpose of section 16 (a) shall include:

(1) The ownership of securities as a trustee where either the trustee or members of his immediate family have a vested interest in the income or corpus of the trust,

(2) The ownership of a vested beneficial interest in a trust, and

(3) The ownership of securities as a settlor of a trust in which the settlor has the power to revoke the trust without obtaining the consent of all the beneficiaries;

(b) Except as provided in paragraph (c) of this section, beneficial ownership of securities solely as a settlor or beneficiary of a trust shall be exempt from the provisions of section 16 (a) where less than twenty percent in market value of the securities having a readily ascertainable market value held by such trust, determined as of the end of the preceding fiscal year of the trust, consists of equity securities with respect to which reports would otherwise be required. Exemption is likewise accorded from section 16 (a) with respect to any obligation which would otherwise be imposed solely by reason of ownership as settlor or beneficiary of securities held in trust, where the ownership, acquisition, or disposition of such securities by the trust is made without prior approval by the settlor or beneficiary. No exemption pursuant to this subsection shall, however, be acquired or lost solely as a result of changes in the value of the trust assets during any fiscal year or during any time when there is no transaction by the trust in the securities otherwise subject to the reporting requirements of section 16 (a).

(c) In the event that ten percent of any class of any equity security (other than an exempted security) which is registered on a national securities exchange is held in a trust, that trust and the trustees thereof as such shall be deemed a person required to file the reports specified in section 16 (a) of the act.

(d) Not more than one report need be filed to report any holdings or with respect to any transaction in securities held by a trust, regardless of the number of officers, directors or ten percent stockholders who are either trustees, settlors, or beneficiaries of a trust: Provided, That the report filed shall disclose the names of all trustees, settlors and beneficiaries who are officers, directors or ten percent stockholders. A person having an interest only as a beneficiary of a trust shall not be required to file any such report so long as he relies in good faith upon an understanding that the trustee of such trust will file whatever reports might otherwise be required of such beneficiary.

(e) As used in this section the "immediate family" of a trustee means:

(1) A son or daughter of the trustee, or a descendant of either,

(2) A stepson or stepdaughter of the trustee;

(3) The father or mother of the trustee, or an ancestor of either,

(4) A stepfather or stepmother of the trustee,

(5) A spouse of the trustee.

For the purpose of determining whether any of the foregoing relations exist, a legally adopted child of a person shall be considered a child of such person by blood.

(f) In determining, for the purposes of § 240.16a–1, whether a person is the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of more than 10 percent of any class of any listed equity security, the interest of such person in the remainder of a trust shall be excluded from the computation.

(g) No report shall be required by any person, whether or not otherwise subject to the requirement of filing reports under section 16 (a) with respect to his indirect interest in portfolio securities held by

(1) Any holding company registered under the Public Utility Holding Company Act,

(2) Any investment company registered under the Investment Company Act,

(3) A pension or retirement plan holding securities of an issuer whose employees generally are the beneficiaries of the plan,

(4) A business trust with over 25 beneficiaries.

(h) Nothing in this section shall be deemed to impose any duties or liabilities with respect to reporting any transactions or holding prior to its effective date.

§ 240.16a–9 Exemption for small transactions. (a) Any acquisition of securities shall be exempt from section 16 (a) where:

(1) The person effecting the acquisition does not within six months thereafter effect any disposition, otherwise than by way of gift, of securities of the same class, and

(2) The person effecting such acquisition does not participate in acquisitions or in dispositions of securities of the same class having a total market value in excess of $3,000 for any six months period during which the acquisition occurs.

(b) Any acquisition or disposition of securities by way of gift, where the total amount of such gifts does not exceed $3,000 in market value for any six months period, shall be exempt from section 16 (a) and may be excluded from the computations prescribed in paragraph (a) (2) of this section.

(c) Any person exempted by paragraphs (a) or (b) of this section shall include in the first report filed by him after a transaction within the exemption a statement showing his acquisitions and dispositions for each six months period or portion thereof which has elapsed since his last filing.

§ 240.16a–10 Exemption from section 16 (b) of transactions which need not be reported under section 16 (a). Any transaction which has been or shall be exempted by the Commission from the requirements of section 16 (a) shall, in so far as it is otherwise subject to the provisions of section 16 (b), be likewise exempted from section 16 (b).

The foregoing rules shall become effective March 30, 1953.

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately after § 29.12–4 the following new section:

§ 29.12–5 Surtax in case of head of household—(a) General rule. For taxable years beginning after October 31, 1951, an individual who is the head of a household under the rules prescribed in section 12 (c) is subject to the surtax imposed by that section instead of the surtax imposed by section 12 (b) (2) and section 12 (b) (3).

(b) Definition of head of household. (1) For the purpose of section 12 (c), the taxpayer shall be considered the head of a household if, and only if, he is not married at the close of his taxable year and maintains as his home a household which constitutes for such taxable year the principal place of abode, as a member of such household, of at least one of the individuals specified in section 12 (c) (3) (A) or provided for in section 12 (c) (3) (B). Under no circumstances shall the same individual be used to qualify more than one taxpayer as the head of a household in the same taxable year.

(2) Section 12 (c) (3) (A) specifies that any of the following persons may be used to qualify the taxpayer as the head of a household: A son, stepson, daughter, stepdaughter, or a descendant of a son or daughter of the taxpayer. If, however, such person is married at the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer, the taxpayer may qualify as the head of a household by reason of such person only if the taxpayer is entitled to an exemption for his taxable year under section 25 (b) for such person, that is, only if such person has a gross income of less than $600 for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, if the taxpayer supplies more than one-half of the support of such person for such calendar year, and if such person does not make a joint return with his spouse for the taxable year beginning in such calendar year. For example, if such person is an unmarried son of the taxpayer, the taxpayer is not deprived of his status as the head of a household because the son has income in excess of $600 for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins; if, however, such son is married at the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer, the taxpayer still may qualify as the head of a household, but only if the gross income of the son is less than $600 for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins and the other conditions for allowance of the dependency credit under section 25 (b) are met.

(3) Section 12 (c) (3) (B) provides that a person for whom the taxpayer is entitled to an exemption under section 25 (b) for the taxable year may be used to qualify the taxpayer as the head of a household. Section 25 (b) provides that the taxpayer may be entitled to an exemption for any of the following persons:

(i) His brother, sister, stepbrother or stepsister;

(ii) His father or mother, or an ancestor of either;

(iii) His stepfather or stepmother;

(iv) A son or a daughter of his brother or sister;

(v) A brother or sister of his father or mother; or

(vi) His son-in-law, daughter-in-law, mother-in-law, father-in-law, sister-in-law, or brother-in-law;

if such person has a gross income of less than $600 for the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, if the taxpayer supplies more than one-half of the support of such person for such calendar year and if such person does not make a joint return with his spouse for the taxable year beginning in such calendar year. For example, an unmarried taxpayer who maintains a home for himself and his widowed mother may not qualify as the head of a household by reason of his maintenance of a home for his mother if his mother has income of $600 or more in the calendar year in which the taxable year of the taxpayer begins, or if he does not furnish more than one-half of the support of his mother for such calendar year.

(4) For the purposes of this section, a taxpayer shall be considered as not married if at the close of his taxable year he is legally separated from his spouse under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance, or if at any time during the taxable year the spouse to whom the taxpayer is married at the close of his taxable year was a nonresident alien. A taxpayer shall be considered married at the close of his taxable year if his spouse (other than a spouse who is a nonresident alien) dies during such year.

(c) Household. Section 12 (c) is applicable only where the household actually constitutes the home of the taxpayer for his taxable year and also constitutes the principal place of abode of at least one other person specified in section 12 (c) (3) (A) or provided for by section 12 (c) (3) (B) for such taxable year, without regard to the fact that the physical location of such household may have changed during such taxable year. It is not sufficient that the taxpayer maintain the household without being its occupant. The taxpayer and such other person must occupy the household for the entire taxable year of the taxpayer. They will be considered as occupying the household for such entire taxable year notwithstanding temporary absences from the household due to special circumstances. A nonpermanent failure to occupy the common abode by reason of illness, education, business, vacation, military service, or a custody agreement under which a child or stepchild is absent for less than six months in the taxable year of the taxpayer, shall be considered a temporary absence due to special circumstances. Such absence will not prevent the taxpayer from qualifying as the head of a household if (1) it is reasonable to assume that the taxpayer or such other person will return to the household, and (2) the taxpayer continues to maintain such household or a substantially equivalent household in anticipation of such return. The taxpayer will not be deprived of the benefits of section 12 (c) because such other person dies during the taxable year of the taxpayer if the household constitutes the principal place of abode of such other person during that part of such taxable year preceding death.

(d) Cost of maintaining a household. The taxpayer shall be considered as maintaining a household only if he pays more than one-half the cost thereof for his taxable year. The cost of maintaining a household shall be the expenses incurred for the mutual benefit of the occupants thereof by reason of its operation as the principal place of abode of such occupants for such taxable year. Such expenses include property taxes, mortgage interest, rent, utility charges, upkeep and repairs, property insurance, and food consumed on the premises. The cost of maintaining a household shall not include expenses otherwise incurred. Thus, such cost does not include expenses incurred for clothing, education, medical treatment, vacations, life insurance, and transportation. In addition, the cost of maintaining a household shall not include any amount which represents the value of services rendered in the household by the taxpaper or by a person specified in section 12 (c) (3) (A) or provided for by section 12 (c) (3) (B).

PAR. 4. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.25–1 the following:

SEC. 310. GROSS INCOME OF DEPENDENT OF TAXPAYER (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(a) Increase in amount of gross income permitted. Section 25 (b) (1) (D) (relating to exemptions for dependents of taxpayer) is hereby amended by striking out "$500" and inserting in lieu thereof "$600".

(b) Effective date. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1950.

PAR. 5. Section 29.25–3, as amended by Treasury Decision 5893, approved April 4, 1952, is amended further as follows:

(A) By striking "as amended by the Revenue Act of 1948" from the first sentence of paragraph (d) (1); and

(B) By striking "$500," from the first sentence of paragraph (d) (5), relating to exemption for dependents whose gross income is less than a certain figure, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "$600 ($500 for a calendar year beginning after December 31, 1947, and before January 1, 1951),".

PAR. 6. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.51–1 the following:

SEC. 301. TAX TREATMENT IN CASE OF HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

* * * * *

(b) Computation of tax by collector. (1) Section 51 (f) (1) (relating to tax computed by collector in case of wage earners) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "In the case of a head of a household electing the benefits of this subsection, the tax shall be computed by the collector under Supplement T without regard to the taxpayer's status as head of a household."

* * * * *

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after October 31, 1951.

PAR. 7. Section 29.51–2 (c), as added by Treasury Decision 5649, approved August 25, 1948, is amended by adding immediately after subparagraph (3), thereof, the following new subparagraph:

(4) Head of household. In the case of a head of a household electing to make his return on Form 1040A in accordance with the rules prescribed in this section, the tax shall be computed under Supplement T without regard to the status of the taxpayer as the head of a household.

PAR. 8. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.402–1 the following:

SEC. 301. TAX TREATMENT IN CASE OF HEAD OF HOUSEHOLD (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

* * * * *

(b) Computation of tax by collector. * * *

(2) Section 402 (relating to effect of election to pay the tax imposed by Supplement T) is hereby amended by adding at the end thereof the following: "In the case of a head of a household electing to have his tax computed by the collector pursuant to the provisions of section 51 (f), the tax imposed by section 400 shall be computed without regard to the status of the taxpayer as a head of a household."

(c) Effective date. The amendments made by this section shall be applicable only with respect to taxable years beginning after October 31, 1951.

PAR. 9. Section 29.402–1, as amended by Treasury Decision 5965, approved December 22, 1952, is further amended by adding at the end of paragraph (b) thereof, the following: "In the case of a head of household electing to make his return on Form 1040A, see § 29.51–2 (c) (4)."

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

[General Overriding Regulation 7, Revision 1, Amdt. 22]

GOR 7—Exemptions and Suspensions of Certain Food and Restaurant Commodities

ADDITIONAL EXEMPTIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order 2, this Amendment 22 to General Overriding Regulation 7, Revision 1, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Pursuant to the President's policy calling for orderly termination of the price control program, this amendment exempts from price control the following additional items sold within the continental United States.

All dry groceries, formerly controlled at the retail level by Ceiling Price Regulations 15 and 16, except coffee and coffee concentrates. Among the items affected are baby foods; cereals; cocoa; chocolate and cereal drink preparations; flour; gelatin; jams, jellies and preserves; peanut butter; macaroni and spaghetti; soups; tea; and vinegar.

In addition, all tobacco products and all confectionery and confectionery mixes, including candies and nuts, are exempt.

Finally, this amendment revokes community pricing of dry groceries.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, was impracticable and unnecessary. In the judgment of the Director, this amendment complies with the applicable provisions of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 7, Revision 1, is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 (k) is amended to read as follows:

(k) Tobacco products. All tobacco products, including cigarettes, cigars, snuff, and smoking and chewing tobacco.

2. Section 2 is amended by the addition of new paragraphs to read as follows:

(q) Dry groceries. All sales (including sales by procesors) in the Continental United States of all commodities, regardless of size and whether sold in bulk or in container, formerly controlled by the Ceiling Price Regulations 14, 15 and 16, except coffee and coffee concentrates.

(r) Confectionery. All confectionery and confectionery mixes, including candies, nuts, and all fountain-type fruits, syrups and toppings, regardless of type or size of container.

3. Section 4 is amended by the addition of new paragraph (e) to read as follows:

(e) General overriding regulations. General Overriding Regulation 24 and all orders issued pursuant thereto.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

Effective date. This amendment is effective February 25, 1953.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Overriding Regulation 9, Amdt. 42]

GOR 9—Exemptions of Certain Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods

COPPER AND ALUMINUM

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this amendment to General Overriding Regulation 9 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 9 is a further action under the directive of the President of the United States that the present price control program be terminated in an orderly manner.

This amendment exempts from price control primary copper and aluminum; aluminum mill products (including powder and paste), brass mill products; copper wire mill products; copper powder; copper and aluminum screen cloth; mechanical precision springs, metal stampings, and screw machine products; and bolts, nuts, screws and rivets. It also exempts copper and aluminum ores and concentrates.

Amendment 40 to GOR 9, effective February 12, 1953, exempted from price control, among other things, copper and aluminum scrap and secondary metals. Although it was anticipated that such action would increase the flow of copper scrap and alleviate to some extent the difficult supply situation which has arisen with respect to that metal without too serious an impact upon price levels, it now appears that this objective has not been achieved. Brass mills which ordinarily obtain a substantial portion of their raw materials in the form of scrap say that they cannot, because of the ceiling prices retained on their products, pay the increased prices for such material and consequently their supply has been reduced to the point where their continued production is threatened. Since brass mill products are important in the national defense effort, any reduction in output would have a serious impact on the defense effort. Furthermore, the differential which has arisen in the price for primary refined copper and secondary refined copper since decontrol of the latter has created some confusion in the market and a consequent reduction in the flow of vitally needed metal. In order to avoid hardship and further disruption, certain products for which primary copper, brass mill products, copper wire mill products are a principal raw material, are also included in this action.

Primary aluminum has been exempted from price control in order to alleviate any confusion which may have resulted from the earlier decontrol of secondary aluminum, and aluminum mill products are included to prevent hardship and any interruption in the flow of needed materials.

In view of the special nature and basis of this amendment, consultation with industry representatives was impracticable and unnecesary.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Section 2 (a) of General Overriding Regulation 9 is amended by the addition of the following:

(74) Sales of primary aluminum and copper and certain aluminum and copper products. Sales of the following products:

Alumina and bauxite.
Primary aluminum and aluminum alloy ingot, pig and other shapes.
Aluminum mill products including plates, sheet, foil, wire, cable (including AGSR), rods, bars, extrusions, tubing, pipe, roofing and siding, etc.
Aluminum powder and paste.
Copper ores, concentrates, blister and matte.
Primary refined copper in all shapes.
Copper powder.
Brass mill products.
Copper wire mill products.
Screen cloth including insect, hardware, strainer, fourdrinier and all other woven wire products made from copper or aluminum.

(75) Sales of mechanical precision springs, metal stampings and screw machine products. A "mechanical precision spring" is an elastic metallic contrivance designed for a specific mechanical purpose to support or react against applied pressure, lead or distortion which is manufactured to definitely specified physical requirements of spring temper materials or annealed materials subsequently heat-treated for purpose of obtaining precise metallurgical structure. The term includes volute flat, coil, spiral and formed wire springs; but does not include leaf, vehicle suspension, screen door, bed or upholstery springs or standard all-purpose or dual purpose springs usually sold through retail channels.

"Metal stampings" are stamped or pressed metal products which are mechanically processed by the use of dies and upon which further finishing operations may or may not have been performed when sold unassembled. A stamping may consist of two or more stamped pieces which have been permanently joined by methods such as branding, riveting, soldering or welding.

"Screw machine products" are any component parts upon which the manufacturing process is initiated on a hand operated or automatic screw machine.

The manufacturer may also perform finishing, or secondary operations such as drilling, grinding, chamfering, heat treating, plating, etc.

(76) Sales of bolts, nuts, screws and rivets made from ferrous or non-ferrous metals. "Bolts, nuts, screws and rivets" does not include steel wire nails or brads.

(Sec. 704, 64 Stat. 816, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2154)

FOREIGN TRADE STATISTICS

CONFIDENTIAL NATURE OF SHIPPER'S EXPORT DECLARATION; LIMITATIONS ON ACCESS TO COPIES

The Shipper's Export Declaration (on Commerce Form 7525-V, 7525-V Alternate, or 7513) which exporters are required to file with Collectors of Customs in order to obtain clearance for export shipments, is an official form of the United States Department of Commerce and is intended for use solely for official purposes authorized by the Secretary of Commerce.

In order to insure that copies of the declaration authenticated by a Collector of Customs will not be available for any unofficial use, a proposal for amendment of the Foreign Commerce Statistical Regulations is being made as described below. To make it more clear that the form is under the jurisdiction of the Department of Commerce and must not be used except for the purposes officially authorized, the term "confidential" on the Shipper's Export Declaration will be supplemented, at the next reprinting of the form by the Government Printing Office, by the statement: "For use solely for official purposes authorized by the Secretary of Commerce. Use for unauthorized purposes is not permitted."

For the purpose of initiating the changes in the Foreign Commerce Statistical Regulations referred to in the preceding paragraph, notice is hereby given, pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act (Pub. Law 404, 79th Cong.) and the authority contained in section 161 (5 U. S. C. 22) of the Revised Statutes, section 4, 32 Stat. 826 (5 U. S. C. 601) and section 7, 44 Stat. 572 (49 U. S. C. 177 (c)), that the Director of the Census is considering a proposal to issue Foreign Commerce Statistical Decision 75, as shown below, amending § 30.5 (b) of the Foreign Commerce Statistical Regulations so as further to limit access to copies of the Shipper's Export Declaration, and to add § 30.5 (c) containing definite provisions with respect to limitations on the use of authenticated copies of the Shipper's Export Declaration.

All persons who wish to submit written data, views, or arguments, in connection with the proposed Foreign Commerce Statistical Decision 75, may do so by filing them in quadruplicate with the Bureau of the Census, Washington 25, D. 1. Paragraph (b) of § 30.5 is amended, effective sixty days after the date of this Foreign Commerce Statistical Decision, to read as follows:

§ 30.5 Confidential information. * * *

(b) The contents of all copies of the export declaration must be treated as confidential and may not be disclosed to others than the exporter or his agent by employees of the Customs Service, the Department of Commerce, or other United States Government agencies, without the written consent of the Secretary of Commerce.

2. Paragraph (c), to be effective sixty days after the date of this Foreign Commerce Statistical Decision, is added to § 30.5, as amended by Foreign Commerce Statistical Decision 20 (January 8, 1942), to read as follows:

(c) A copy of a Shipper's Export Declaration authenticated by a Collector of Customs by certification, validation by numbering stamp, or any other method, may be supplied to exporters or their agents only where such a copy (1) is required, with the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, to be supplied by the exporter or his agent to an agency of the Federal Government or (2) is needed for presentation to the exporting transportation company as authorization for export. An authenticated copy of a Shipper's Export Declaration supplied to an exporter or his agent under either of the conditions in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph may not be used for any other purposes nor may it be photostated or reproduced in any other form by the exporter or his agent, the Federal Government agency, or by a transportation company or its agents.

FEBRUARY 18, 1953.

In accordance with the authority contained in section 4 of the act of May 24, 1928, 45 Stat. 728 (49 U. S. C. 214), and pursuant to section 2.22 (a) of the Delegation Order No. 427 of the Director, Bureau of Land Management, approved August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5641), it is ordered as follows:

Departmental orders of the dates shown below withdrawing certain lands in Nevada for use by the Department of Commerce in maintenance of air-navigation facilities are hereby revoked so far as they affect the following described lands, and these lands are hereby opened to disposition under applicable public land laws, subject to valid existing rights:

All of the above-described lands are arid desert lands. The lands included in Sites 200, 212, 306 and 325 are rough, mountainous lands with the topography varying from rolling to steep and rocky. The lands in the remainder of the sites are relatively flat and sandy but, owing to alkali and lack of a water supply for irrigation, are unsuitable for agricultural development. Sites 22 and 28B contain graded earth landing strips which are now unserviceable. All of the lands included in this order are chiefly valuable for grazing. They will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until classified, and it is unlikely that any tract will be classified as suitable for homestead, desert land or small tract use.

All the lands are in grazing districts. This order shall, therefore, become effective immediately as to the administration of grazing on them by the Bureau of Land Management but shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of them until 10:00 a. m., Pacific Standard Time, until the 35th day after the date hereof.

At that time the said lands shall become subject to application, petition, location and selection subject to valid existing rights, the provisions of existing withdrawals, the requirements of the applicable law and the 90-day preference-right filing period for veterans and others entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279-284), as amended.

Information showing the period during which and the conditions under which veterans and others may file applications for this land may be obtained on request from the Manager of the Bureau of Land Management Land and Survey Office, 322 Post Office Building, Reno, Nevada.

J. H. FAVORITE,
Acting Regional Administrator.

Office of International Trade

[Case No. 148]

HILLARD CORP. AND STANLEY FINKELMAN

ORDER REVOKING AND DENYING EXPORT PRIVILEGES

In the matter of The Hillard Corporation, Stanley Finkelman, 32 Broadway, New York 4, New York, respondents; Case No. 148.

Stanley Finkelman, an officer and principal of The Hillard Corporation, and said corporation, were duly convicted in the United States District Court, Southern District of New York, on October 17, 1952, following pleas of guilty to charges under the Federal mail fraud statute that they had participated in a scheme to defraud consignees in Hong Kong pursuant to which they had, during 1949 and 1950, exported and caused to be exported to such consignees a variety of clay of little value for sodium hydrosulphite ordered; and, in another instance, in the name of another company owned by Finkelman, had substituted various inexpensive pigment colors instead of the more costly coal tar dyes ordered.

It was disclosed that in carrying out the aforesaid exportations and in furtherance of the fraudulent scheme, Finkelman had issued falsified shipping instructions to an authorized freight forwarding agency, therein deliberately misdescribing the commodity to be shipped, intending that such false information appear on the shipping documents relating to such export, and had also caused an office associate to prepare and execute falsified shipping documents which were used to effect other exportations in furtherance of the fraud.

The sentence of the court provided for a fine of $1,000 against the corporation and imprisonment for Finkelman for one year and one day; execution of the prison sentence was suspended and Finkelman was placed on probation for two years; he was also fined $1,000, and, as a condition of probation, ordered to pay the fines imposed upon himself and the corporation, and, in addition, to pay $500 as restitution to the victims of the fraud. It appears that the two fines were paid on October 17, 1952, and the restitution payment made later; it also appears that Finkelman had settled the claim of the defrauded coal tar dye purchaser out of court for $10,000, such settlement having occurred in October 1950.

On the basis of the aforementioned criminal charges and conviction, and upon the pleas of guilty by respondents, the Office of International Trade brought administrative compliance proceedings against respondents by issuing a charging letter on December 18, 1952, charging therein, in substance, that by so violating the Federal mail fraud statute in connection with exportations of commodities from the United States respondents had violated a law relating to export control as defined in § 382.1 of the export control regulations. This section reads, in part:

> Any person who violates any law or regulation relating to export control may be denied the privilege of exporting, receiving, or otherwise participating in any exportation of any commodity, * * * from the United States to any foreign destination, * * *. Any statute, proclamation, Executive order, regulation, or order applicable to any conduct involved in obtaining or using an export license or other export control document shall be deemed to be a "law or regulation relating to export control."

After receiving the charging letter mentioned above, respondents requested that they be accorded an oral hearing thereon pursuant to the regulations, but thereafter elected to submit to the Office of International Trade a statement dated February 3, 1953, in which they admitted for the purpose of this compliance proceeding only the charges applicable to them in said charging letter, waived all rights to a hearing before the Compliance Commissioner and consented to the entry of an order, the terms of which are set forth below.

The charging letter, evidentiary material relating to the charges set forth therein, and the above-mentioned proposal for a consent order have been submitted to the Compliance Commissioner for review. Upon the basis of such review and upon the presentation of the facts, including extenuating circumstances claimed by respondents at the conference with counsel for the Office of International Trade and with respondents, the Compliance Commissioner has found that the charges applicable to respondents are supported by the evidence and that the acts of respondents constitute violations of a law relating to export controls, as defined in § 382.1 of the export control regulations. The Compliance Commissioner has concluded that the terms and conditions of the proposed order as consented to by respondents are fair and reasonable and should be approved.

The Compliance Commissioner has pointed out that Finkelman's record shows a propensity for engaging in fraudulent export transactions of a nature similar to the fraudulent scheme herein and that in addition to numerous trade complaints by foreign consignees filed against him and several companies in which he is the principal, he and two of his companies have been convicted by a criminal court in New York City for participating in a fraud involving the substitution of one exported commodity for another of considerably less value and the improper diversion of the proceeds of payment therefor.

The findings and recommendations of the Compliance Commissioner have been carefully considered, together with the charging letter, the evidentiary material, and the proposal for a consent order. It appears therefrom that the Compliance Commissioner's findings are in accordance with the evidence and that such recommendations are reasonable and should be adopted.

Now, therefore, it is ordered as follows:

(1) All outstanding validated export licenses held by or issued in the names of respondents Stanley Finkelman and The Hillard Corporation, or either of them, are revoked and shall be forthwith returned to the Office of International Trade for cancellation.

(2) Respondents are hereby denied and declared ineligible to exercise the privileges of participating directly or indirectly in any manner or capacity in the exportation of any commodity from the United States to any foreign destination, including Canada. Such denial of export privileges is deemed to include and prohibit participation, directly or indirectly, in any manner or capacity (a) in the filing of any validated export license application, (b) in the obtaining or using of any validated or general export license or other export control document, (c) in the receiving in any foreign country of any exportation from the United States, and (d) in the financing, forwarding, transporting, or other servicing of exports from the United States.

(3) Such denial of export privileges shall extend not only to the named respondents, and each of them, but also to Broadway Distributing Corporation, Beck-Kassel (U. S. A.), Inc., Capehart Mercantile Agency, Inc., Paulstan Company, Inc., Paulstan American Corporation, and Paulstan International Corporation, (companies owned by Stanley Finkelman), their officers, directors, assigns, and employees, and to any person, firm, corporation, or other business organization with which said respondents, or either of them, may be now or hereafter related by ownership, control, position of responsibility, or other connection in the conduct of trade involving exports under validated or general export licenses from the United States or services connected therewith.

(4) This order shall extend for a period of three (3) years from the date hereof, or until the termination of export controls, whichever occurs earlier: Provided, however, That upon the expiration of two (2) years from the date of this order, the operation of the order shall be suspended for the balance of one (1) year remaining, and the export privileges denied herein shall be restored to said respondents. In the event, however, that said respondents, or either of them, shall at any time during the period covered by this order knowingly violate any of the provisions of the order or any of the Office of International Trade regulations, the Office of International Trade may summarily, at such time as it determines such violation occurred, issue an order which denies to respondents all export privileges for the full one-year period which has been suspended, without limiting thereby the Office of International Trade from instituting any other and further action as it may deem appropriate based on such violation.

(5) No person, firm, corporation, or other business organization, whether situated in the United States or abroad, shall knowingly apply for, obtain, or use any license, shipper's export declaration, bill of lading, or other export control document relating to any exportation from the United States of any commodity to any foreign destination, including Canada, to or for the named respondents, or either of them, or any person, firm, corporation, or other business organization covered and intended to be covered by paragraph (3) hereinabove, without prior disclosure of such facts to, and specific authorization from, the Office of International Trade.

Dated: February 20, 1953.

Assistant Director for Export Supply.

NEW ENGLAND ELECTRIC SYSTEM

ORDER AUTHORIZING ACQUISITION OF PROMISSORY NOTES

FEBRUARY 20, 1953.

New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, having filed with this Commission an application, pursuant to sections 9 and 10 of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and Rule U-23 thereunder, with respect to the following proposed transactions:

NEES presently holds a promissory note of What Cheer Associates, Inc. ("What Cheer") in the reduced principal amount of $3,040,000. This note bears interest on the unpaid balance at 4 percent per annum and is payable in annual installments from December 1, 1951, through December 1, 1957. NEES acquired this note as part of the consideration for the sale in 1951 of its security holdings of United Electric Railways Company ("UER"), the name of which has been changed to United Transit Company ("UTC"). See New England Electric System, Holding Company Act Release No. 10387. This note provided that there might be substituted for the original collateral, consisting of stock and bonds of UER, a mortgage note of that company.

NEES proposes in its application to acquire a new collateral promissory note of What Cheer in a principal amount equal to the then unpaid balance on the note presently held. The new note will bear interest on the unpaid balance at 4 percent per annum and will be payable in the amount of $504,600 on April 1, 1953, $500,000 on July 1, 1953, and December 1, 1953, and $250,000 annually thereafter (the last payment being $285,400 due December 1, 1959). The collateral for the new note will consist of a first mortgage note of UTC on substantially all of its property in a principal amount equal to the principal amount of the new note and 37,500 shares (82 percent) of UTC capital stock.

The application states that incidental services in connection with the proposed note issues will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $1,000. The application further states that no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed acquisitions.

NEES requests that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Due notice having been given of the filing of the application, and a hearing not having been requested of or ordered by the Commission; and the Commission finding that the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said application be permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said application be, and it hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

ATHOL GAS CO. ET AL.

NOTICE REGARDING PROPOSED NOTE ISSUES BY SUBSIDIARIES AND ACQUISITION OF SAID NOTES BY PARENT COMPANY

FEBRUARY 20, 1953.

In the matter of Athol Gas Company, Beverly Gas and Electric Company, Connecticut River Power Company, Northampton Gas Light Company, Norwood Gas Company, Southern Berkshire Power & Electric Company, New England Electric System; File No. 70–2991.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act"), by New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, and declarations have been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the act, by certain of its subsidiaries, namely, Athol Gas Company ("Athol"), Beverly Gas and Electric Company ("Beverly"), Connecticut River Power Company ("Connecticut"), Northampton Gas Light Company ("Northampton"), Norwood Gas Company ("Norwood") and Southern Berkshire Power & Electric Company ("Southern Berkshire"). NEES and its above named subsidiaries have designated sections 6 (a), 7, 9 (a), and 10 and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-23, U-42 (b) (2), U-43, U-45 (b) (1) and U-50 (a) (3) thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

The above named subsidiary companies propose to issue to NEES during the period ending July 1, 1953, unsecured promissory notes in the aggregate principal amount of $5,475,000 and in the following individual amounts: Athol, $95,000; Beverly, $2,660,000; Connecticut, $850,000; Northampton, $400,000; Norwood, $465,000; and Southern Berkshire, $1,005,000. Each of the proposed notes will mature December 1, 1953, and will bear interest at the prime rate of interest at the time of the issuance thereof. It is stated that 3 percent per annum is the present prime interest rate charged by banks on notes similar to the proposed notes. In the event that such prime interest rate is in excess of 3¼ percent per annum at the time any of the proposed notes are to be issued, at least five days prior to the issuance of said note or notes the issuing company or companies and NEES will file an amendment to this filing setting forth the terms of the note or notes and the rate of interest. It is requested that any such amendment become effective at the end of said five day period unless prior thereto the Commission notifies NEES or the issuing company or companies to the contrary.

As at January 1, 1953, Athol, Beverly, Connecticut, Norwood and Southern Berkshire had outstanding notes payable to NEES in the respective principal amounts of $60,000, $2,290,000, $750,000, $355,000 and $905,000. As at the same date, Northampton had outstanding with a bank promissory notes in the principal amount of $305,000. The proceeds to be derived from the proposed notes will be used by the subsidiary companies to pay such note indebtedness, for construction costs and for other corporate purposes.

Each of the subsidiary companies proposes that if any permanent financing is done before the maturity of said note indebtedness, it will apply the proceeds therefrom in reduction of, or in total payment of, notes then outstanding, and the amount of authorized but unissued notes, if any, will be reduced by the amount, if any, by which such permanent financing exceeds the principal amount of the then outstanding notes.

It is stated that incidental services in connection with the proposed note issues will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $200 for NEES and each of the subsidiary companies, or an aggregate of $1,400. It is further stated, that, except for an exemption by the Public Utilities Commission of New Hampshire with respect to the notes proposed to be issued by Connecticut, no State commission or Federal commission, other than this Commission, has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

It is requested that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 10, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reason or reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after said date, the application of NEES and the declarations of the subsidiaries, as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING SALE OF FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS AND PREFERRED STOCK AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING

FEBRUARY 20, 1953.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with this Commission by Georgia Power Company ("Georgia"), a public utility subsidiary of The Southern Company ("Southern"), a registered holding company. The applicant has designated section 6 (b) of the act and Rule U-50, promulgated thereunder, as applicable to the proposed transactions, which are summarized as follows:

Georgia proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, (i) $16,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds __ Percent Series due 1983, to be issued under and secured by Georgia's present Indenture, dated as of March 1, 1941, as last supplemented on July 1, 1952, and to be further supplemented by a Supplemental Indenture to be dated as of April 1, 1953; and (ii) 100,000 shares of its authorized but unissued preferred stock, without par value. The interest rate and dividend rate for the bonds and preferred stock, respectively, and the price to be paid the company for said securities will be determined by the competitive bidding, except that the invitation for bids for the bonds will specify that the price to the company shall be not less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount; and the invitation for bids for the preferred stock will specify that the price to the company shall be not less than $100 per share nor more than $102.75 per share.

Georgia proposes to use the proceeds from the sale of these securities, and $6,000,000 to be received from the sale of additional common stock to Southern (see Holding Company Act Release No. 11705) prior to the issuance and sale of the bonds and preferred stock, to provide a portion of the funds required to finance its current construction program. Georgia estimates that said program will require approximately $28,000,000 of additional financing before the end of 1954.

Georgia also proposes to amend its charter to reclassify 500,000 authorized but unissued shares of $6 Preferred Stock, into a like number of shares of $__ Preferred Stock, and to incorporate in the charter the same limitations on the payment of cash dividends and distributions on its common stock as are contained in a condition in an order of this Commission dated November 14, 1947 (File No. 70–1595). The company requests the Commission to modify its order of November 14, 1947, by declaring said condition to be no longer effective when the charter shall have been amended as proposed.

The filing states that the issuance and sale of the proposed new bonds and the preferred stock will be submitted to the Georgia Public Service Commission for its approval.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 9, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said application which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after March 9, 1953, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter III—Farmers Home Administration, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Farm Ownership Loans

[FHA Instruction 443.3]

PART 333—PROCESSING SUBSEQUENT LOANS

INTEREST RATES, SOURCES OF FUNDS, AND AMORTIZATION SCHEDULES

Section 333.3, Title 6, Code of Federal Regulations (17 F. R. 190), is revised to eliminate refinancing of outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness when subsequent loans are made with respect to certain former Defense Relocation Corportion properties. The section as amended reads as follows:

§ 333.3 Interest rates, sources of funds, and amortization schedules. Various kinds of Farm Ownership financial assistance have been extended at different rates of interest and involving a number of sources of funds. Therefore, the following policy will govern the making of a subsequent Farm Ownership loan so that future servicing will be simplified: (1) The outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness will be refinanced if so provided in this section; (2) the benefit of the lowest practicable rates of interest on outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness will be retained for the borrower; and (3) unpaid balances on outstanding Farm Ownership debts will be reamortized.

(a) When making a subsequent loan to a borrower whose outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness represents: An asset of a State Rural Rehabilitation Corporation; or a credit sale of a farm by a Defense Relocation Corporation the accounts of which are not yet considered Government accounts; or a credit sale of a farm by a land leasing or land purchasing association or similar organization:

(1) Sufficient funds will be included in the subsequent loan to refinance all outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness. Interest on such indebtedness will be computed only through the date of the subsequent loan check.

(i) In accordance with instructions previously approved by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor, the State Director will execute and transmit to that representative the necessary release or satisfaction of the mortgage which secures the indebtedness being refinanced. This document will be forwarded to the County Supervisor when instructions are sent by the representative of the Office of the Solicitor to the County Supervisor concerning disbursement of the proceeds of the loan. The release or satisfaction will be filed for record by the County Supervisor or the attorney who supervises the closing. Funds will be withdrawn from the borrower's supervised bank account to pay the indebtedness being refinanced. Form FHA–37, "Receipt for Payment," will be used to acknowledge the withdrawal of such funds. The appropriate loan code number will be shown in the first column. The payment will be classified as an "extra" payment, and the notation "Payment-in-full by refinancing" will be printed prominently on the face of the receipt. The receipt and the remittance will be scheduled in the usual manner to the Area Finance Office.

(ii) Upon receipt of Form FHA–144, "Summary of Remittance," covering the remittance which paid the outstanding indebtedness in full, the Area Finance Office immediately will forward the original of Form FHA–597, "Notice of Fully Paid Notes," together with the note(s) stamped with a paid-in-full legend, to the appropriate State Office. The stamped note(s) and the State Office copy of the mortgage which has been satisfied will be sent to the County Supervisor for delivery to the borrower.

(2) The interest rate will be 4 percent.

(3) The subsequent loan will be amortized so as to mature within one year of, but not later than, the maturity date of the earliest outstanding Farm Ownership note, unless the loan approval official determines that a longer payment period is necessary, but in no case will it be amortized over a period longer than 40 years from the date of the subsequent loan note.

(b) When making a subsequent loan to a borrower whose outstanding Farm Ownership indebtedness represents one AUTHORITY: §§ 638.401 to 638.415 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended, 15 U. S. C. Sup. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072, sec. 301, 63 Stat 1053; 15 U. S. C. Sup. 714c, 7 U. S. C. Sup. 1447.

§ 638.401 Administration. The Naval Stores Division, Tobacco Branch, PMA, will supervise the administration of the program. CCC will make a loan to the American Turpentine Farmers Association Cooperative, Valdosta, Georgia (referred to in this section as the "Association"), under a Loan Agreement which will enable the Association in turn to make loans to eligible producers on eligible naval stores, to supervise the maintenance of the collateral in storage, to perform related field administration functions, to arrange for redemptions, and to collaborate in the liquidation of unredeemed collateral. The PMA Commodity Office, New Orleans, Louisiana, will perform accounting and auditing functions.

§ 638.402 Eligible producer. A producer will be eligible for loan if he (a) is a member of the Association under membership requirements approved by CCC (no producer who is otherwise eligible may be excluded from membership in the Association), (b) is a cooperator in the 1953 Naval Stores Conservation Program of the United States Department of Agriculture or otherwise follows good conservation practices, as determined by such Department, (c) has made satisfactory arrangements to pay any indebtedness to the United States Department of Agriculture or any agency thereof, as evidenced by the registers of indebtedness maintained by the County Committees of the PMA, United States Department of Agriculture, and (d) has executed, and has not breached his obligations under, the Producer's Marketing Agreement (ATFA Form 1–1953), or any other similar agreement.

§ 638.404 Eligible turpentine. "Eligible turpentine" is gum turpentine which (a) was produced from eligible oleoresin, (b) is free and clear from all liens and encumbrances, (c) has not been theretofore pledged for a loan and in which the beneficial interest is and always has been in the producer, (d) is "waterwhite" in color, (e) is free from excess resin acids, as evidenced by a total acid number of not more than 0.50, and (f) conforms as to specific gravity to Federal Specifications TT–T–801, to wit: A maximum of 0.875 and a minimum of 0.860 taken at 60 degrees over 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

§ 638.405 Eligible rosin. "Eligible rosin" is gum rosin which (a) was produced from eligible oleoresin, (b) grades "I" or better, (c) is free and clear from all liens and encumbrances, (d) has not been theretofore pledged for a loan and in which the beneficial interest is and always has been in the producer, (e) is packed to the net weight approved by CCC, in eligible metal drums, (f) is transparent, (g) is free from visible foreign materials and contains no extraneous matter resulting from chemical or other treatment of the rosin, or of the oleoresin or the trees from which it came, and (h) conforms as to softening point to not less than Federal Specifications LLL–R–626, to wit: 158 degrees Fahrenheit (American Society for Testing Materials Methods No. E 28–51T). Rosin must be Federally inspected and weighed or the weights checked prior to tender for loan.

§ 638.406 Eligible oleoresin. "Eligible oleoresin" is oleoresin (a) which was produced in 1953 in the United States by an eligible producer, (b) which is free and clear from all liens and encumbrances, (c) the turpentine or rosin content in which has not been theretofore pledged for a loan and in which the beneficial interest is and always has been in the producer, and (d) which will yield turpentine of the prescribed quality, and rosin of the prescribed grades and quality. When a producer's eligible oleoresin was commingled with oleoresin produced by other producers in the processing operation, the turpentine and rosin tendered for loan by the producer as representing the processed equivalent of his eligible oleoresin will be deemed to be, if otherwise eligible, eligible turpentine and eligible rosin produced by such producer.

§ 638.408 Availability of loans. (a) Under the Loan Agreement, CCC will make a loan to the Association for the purpose of enabling the Association to make loans available, or to make loans, to eligible producers of eligible naval stores produced in 1953. The loan to the Association will be in an amount equal to (1) the amount of the loans made by the Association to producers, (2) the administrative and operating expenses, approved by CCC, incurred by the Association in connection with making loans available and the making of loans, and the handling and preservation of pledged naval stores, (3) the storage charges after naval stores are pledged, and (4) an indemnification charge to cover the assumption by CCC of the risk of loss on rosin and rosin content in oleoresin (the storage rate for turpentine includes insurance).

(b) Each producer desiring to obtain loans will execute a Producer's Marketing Agreement with the Association. Each loan will be secured by a pledge by the producer to the Association of eligible turpentine, eligible rosin, or unprocessed turpentine or rosin content in eligible oleoresin, and the Association, in turn, will pledge the same to CCC as security for the loan made by CCC to the Association. Loans on rosin will be made only on full drums thereof, and loans on the rosin content in oleoresin, only upon the equivalent of full drums thereof. No loans will be made later than December 31, 1953.

(c) Eligible naval stores will be deemed tendered for loan by the producer to the Association only when such naval stores have been (1) processed (except where unprocessed turpentine or rosin content in oleoresin is offered for loan), (2) placed in storage in the custody of an approved warehouseman who has entered into and is fully complying with a Warehouse Agreement (ATFA Form 2–1953), and (3) offered for loan on a Producer's Offer (ATFA Form 3A–1953) (the date of which, if subsequent to April 1, 1953, shall be not later than thirty (30) days from the date of delivery of eligible oleoresin for processing). If there are any liens or encumbrances on the naval stores offered for loan, proper waivers are required on a Lienholders' Waiver and Agreement (ATFA Form 3–1953).

§ 638.409 Rate of loan to producers. The Association will make loans to producers based on the rate of $129.81 per naval stores production unit, comprised of fifty (50) gallons of turpentine and fourteen hundred (1400) pounds of rosin; this rate will remain fixed throughout the loan period. Initially, the production unit rate of $129.81 will be allocated to the individual commodities to provide a loan rate for turpentine of fifty cents (50¢) per gallon of 7.2 pounds in bulk, and a loan rate of $7.49 for rosin of grades X through WG, and of $7.39 for grades N through I per hundred pounds net packed in eligible metal drums. CCC reserves the right to revise such allocation of loan values between turpentine and rosin during the loan period, within the fixed production unit loan rate. The amount which the Association will lend to any producer will be determined by applying the applicable loan rates in effect for turpentine and rosin on the date of the applicable Producer's Offer to the quantities thereof tendered for loan.

§ 638.410 Storage provisions. The producer will be required to place naval stores offered for loan in storage in the custody of an approved warehouseman who has entered into and is fully complying with a Warehouse Agreement with the Association. This Agreement will be assigned by the Association to CCC. All processing charges, including the cost of eligible metal drums for rosin, and all storage and other warehouse charges to the date of tender for loan will be borne by the producer. Storage charges accruing after the naval stores are pledged are payable by CCC, and comprise part of the loan by CCC to the Association.

§ 638.411 Maturity. The loan made by CCC to the Association and the loans made by the Association to producers will be due and payable upon demand, or on April 1, 1954, whichever is earlier.

§ 638.412 Redemption. (a) Subject to terms and conditions of the Producer's Marketing Agreement, the producer may redeem pledged naval stores, prior to maturity of the loan, upon application to the Association and payment of the redemption price. The producer's right to redeem may be exercised for him and in his behalf by the Association and the producer's exercise of the right of redemption is subject to the prior exercise thereof by the Association. Subject to the terms and conditions of the Loan Agreement, the Association may redeem naval stores pledged by the Association to CCC, upon application to CCC therefor prior to the maturity of the loan and payment of the redemption price.

(b) The redemption price will be the weighted average amount loaned by Commodity to the Association on pledged turpentine or rosin or the content thereof in oleoresin, including applicable expenses and charges, plus interest at the rate of three and one-half percent (3½ percent) per annum.

§ 638.413 Rights of CCC upon maturity. CCC will have the right at any time after maturity of the loan to sell, assign, transfer and deliver the pledged naval stores, or documents evidencing title thereto, at such time, in such manner, and upon such terms and conditions as CCC may determine.

§ 638.414 Disposition of proceeds upon liquidation. CCC will apply the net proceeds from the disposition of pledged naval stores (a) towards satisfaction of accrued interest, (b) towards satisfaction of the principal amount loaned, and (c) towards the satisfaction of any other indebtedness of the Association to CCC. In the event that any sum remains after application of these amounts, such sum will be returned to the Association by CCC for disposition by the Association to its producer-member participants, or for and in behalf of its producer-members, on an equitable basis as determined by the Association with the approval of CCC.

§ 638.415 Personal liability. The loans will be non-recourse, except that any fraudulent representation by the producer or the Association in the loan documents, or in obtaining a loan, will render him or it subject to criminal prosecution under applicable law, and personally liable for the amount by which the proceeds received upon the disposition of the pledged naval stores are less than the amount of indebtedness incurred by the Association with respect thereto.

Executive Vice President, Commodity Credit Corporation.

[Lemon Reg. 474]

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.581 Lemon Regulation 474—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions of this section effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Lemon Administrative Committee on February 25, 1953; such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such lemons; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time of this section.

(b) Order. (1) The quantity of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 1, 1953, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., March 8, 1953, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) District 1: 10 carloads;

(ii) District 2: 290 carloads;

(iii) District 3: Unlimited movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended marketing agreement and order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached to Lemon Regulation 473 (18 F. R. 1027) and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "carloads," "prorate base," "District 1," "District 2," and "District 3," shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended marketing agreement and order.

PART 949—MILK IN SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS, MARKETING AREA

ORDER TERMINATING CERTAIN PROVISIONS

Pursuant to the applicable provisions of Public Act No. 10, 73rd Congress, as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and of the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the San Antonio, Texas, marketing area, hereinafter referred to as the "order" it is hereby found and determined that the following provision in § 949.51 (c) of the order does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act with respect to all milk subject to the provisions of the order on and after March 1, 1953: "Provided, That there shall be added to such price 46 cents from the effective date hereof through February 1953, and 23 cents during March 1953".

It is hereby found and determined that notice of proposed rule making and public procedure thereon in connection with the issuance hereof is impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, in that (1) the information upon which this action is based did not become available in sufficient time for such compliance, and; (2) this action is necessary so that the order will reflect current marketing conditions and facilitate, promote and maintain the orderly marketing of milk produced for the said marketing area. The changes caused by this termination action do not require of persons affected substantial or extensive preparations which cannot be completed prior to March 1, 1953. Accordingly, it is hereby found that good cause exists for making this order effective March 1, 1953.

It is therefore ordered the following provision in § 949.51 (c) of the order be and hereby is terminated effective on and after the 1st day of March 1953: "Provided, That there shall be added to such price 46 cents from the effective date hereof through February 1953, and 23 cents during March 1953".

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1953, to be effective on and after the 1st day of March 1953.

[Docket No. AO-160-A-14-RO 1]

PART 961—MILK IN PHILADELPHIA, PENNSYLVANIA, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 961.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order and each of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, on January 28, 1953, upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is hereby found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is hereby found and determined that good cause exists for making effective not later than March 1, 1953, this order amending the order, as amended. This action is necessary in the public interest to reflect current marketing conditions. Accordingly, any delay in the effective date of this order beyond the aforesaid date, will seriously impair orderly marketing of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania marketing area. The provisions of the said amendatory order are well known to handlers, the public hearing having been held on January 28, 1953, and the decision of the Secretary having been issued February 16, 1953. Reasonable time under the circumstances has been afforded persons affected to prepare for its effective date. Therefore, it would be impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest to delay the effective date of this amendatory order 30 days after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER (See sec. 4 (c) Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.).

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping the milk covered by this order amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means pursuant to the declared policy of the act of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who during the determined representative period (December 1952), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Philadelphia, Pennsylvania marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended; and the aforesaid order, as amended, is hereby further amended as follows:

1. In § 961.40 (b) delete subparagraph (3) and insert subparagraphs (3) and (4) as follows:

(3) During the months of February and March 1953 deduct 10 cents from the price calculated pursuant to subparagraphs (1) (excluding the proviso) and (2) of this paragraph.

(4) The price for any of the months of March through June 1953 for milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk, milk chocolate, cheese other than cottage cheese, and nonfat dry milk shall not exceed the sum of the following: (i) A butterfat value computed as follows: To the average butter price per pound computed pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph add 2 cents, multiply by 1.22 and by 4, and deduct 19 cents, and (ii) a skim milk value computed by multiplying by 7.8 the weighted average (using the weight of 70 for roller process prices and a weight of 30 for spray process prices) of the prices per pound of roller process and spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, in carlots, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published by the United States Department of Agriculture for the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding month through the 25th day of the current month, and subtract 54 cents.

2. In § 961.41 reword paragraph (b) as follows:

(b) The Class II price shall be subject to a butterfat differential for each one-tenth of 1 percent variation above or below 4.0 percent, calculated as follows: Divide the average of the cream quotations used in calculating the Class II price by 334.8 and subtract 0.67 cent; or in the case of butterfat in Class II to which the "butter-value" is applicable, divide the butter value by 40; and in the case of milk used in the manufacture of evaporated milk, milk chocolate, cheese other than cottage cheese, and nonfat dry milk, during March, April, May and June 1953, divide the butterfat value computed pursuant to § 961.40 (b) (4) by 40.

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1953, to be effective on and after March 1, 1953.

Secretary of Agriculture.

PART 976—MILK IN FORT SMITH, ARKANSAS, MARKETING AREA

ORDER AMENDING ORDER, AS AMENDED, REGULATING HANDLING

§ 976.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary and in addition to the findings and determinations previously made in connection with the issuance of the aforesaid order; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon proposed amendments to the tentative marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions of said order as amended and as hereby further amended, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supply of and demand for such milk and the minimum prices specified in the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(3) The said order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as, and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

(b) Additional findings. It is necessary, in the public interest, to make this order, amending the order, as amended, effective not later than March 1, 1953. Any delay beyond that date in the effective date of this order would result in disorder in the marketing of milk. Handlers in the Fort Smith market are refusing to accept milk in excess of that required to carry on their fluid milk operations. Until the price for Class II milk is reduced, this milk will continue to back up on farms as production increases seasonally, or will be diverted by the producers cooperative at a loss. In order to provide an outlet for this milk and stabilize the market, it is necessary to make this amendment effective at once.

The provisions of the said order are known to handlers, having been published in a decision which appeared in the FEDERAL REGISTER February 26, 1953 (18 F. R. 1117). The changes effected by this order will not require extensive preparation or substantial alteration in method of operation for handlers. It is hereby found, therefore, that good cause exists for making this order effective March 1, 1953. (Sec. 4 (c); Administrative Procedure Act, 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.)

(c) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing or shipping milk covered by this order, amending the order, as amended, which is marketed within the Fort Smith, Arkansas, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of the order amending the order, as amended, is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order amending the order, as amended, is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who, during the determined representative period (December 1952), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered, that on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of milk in the Fort Smith, Arkansas, marketing area, shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the terms and conditions of the aforesaid order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, as follows:

1. In § 976.44 (f) change the period at the end thereof to a colon and add the following: "Provided, That if the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of receipts and utilization at any such unapproved plant, butterfat contained in such transfers or diversions may be deemed to have been used in the production of butter, American type cheeses or evaporated milk to the extent butterfat was used at such plant in the production of such products during the month."

2. In § 976.70 change the period at the end thereof to a colon and add the following: "Provided, That from the effective date hereof through June 1953, 7 cents shall be deducted from this sum for each pound of butterfat in producer milk which was allocated to Class II pursuant to § 976.46, and which was used in the production of butter, American type cheeses or evaporated milk, or which was assigned to such products pursuant to § 976.44 (f)."

3. In § 976.72 (d) change the semicolon at the end thereof to a colon, and add the following: "Provided, That from the foregoing sum shall be subtracted an amount equal to the deductions made pursuant to the proviso in § 976.70 or 7 cents times the pounds of butterfat in excess milk, whichever is less;"

(Sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c)

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1953, to be effective on and after March 1, 1953.

Secretary of Agriculture.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 46. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, The Thorkon Company, Atlanta, Ga., Docket 6004, December 2, 1952]

This proceeding was heard by John Lewis, hearing examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission, and a hearing before said examiner, theretofore duly designated by the Commission, at which respondent, having defaulted in filing its answer to the complaint but having entered its appearance, stated that it did not desire to contest the proceeding or to show cause why an order to cease and desist should not be entered against it, and the attorney in support of the complaint moved that the hearing be closed and that an order to cease and desist, in the form set forth in the "Notice" portion of the complaint, be entered against respondent, based on its waiver of a hearing on the merits, and its failure to answer and show cause why said order should not be entered against it.

Thereafter following the granting of said motion and the closing of the hearing, the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by the said examiner upon the complaint, waiver of hearing and failure to answer and show cause by respondent, and the aforesaid motion, and said examiner, having duly considered the record in the matter and having found that the proceeding was in the interest of the public, and pursuant to Rules V and VIII of the rules of practice of the Commission, made his initial decision, comprising certain findings as to the facts,[1] conclusion drawn therefrom,[1] and order to cease and desist.

Thereafter the matter having come on to be heard by the Commission upon its review of said initial decision, the matter was disposed of by the Commission's "Decision of the Commission and order to file report of compliance", dated December 2, 1952, as follows:

This matter coming on to be heard by the Commission upon its review of the hearing examiner's initial decision herein; and

The Commission having duly considered the entire record and being of the opinion that said initial decision is adequate and appropriate to dispose of the proceeding:

It is ordered, That the initial decision of the hearing examiner, a copy of which is attached hereto, shall, on the 2d day of December 1952, become the decision of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the respondent, The Thorkon Company, shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with the order to cease and desist.

The order to cease and desist in said initial decision, thus made the decision of the Commission, is as follows:

It is ordered, That the respondent, The Thorkon Company, a corporation, its officers, agents, representatives and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale or distribution of the preparation known as Thorkon, or any other preparation of substantially similar composition or possessing substantially similar properties, whether sold under the same name or any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated any advertisement by means of the United States mails, or by any means in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, which advertisement represents, directly or by implication:

(a) That Thorkon has any therapeutic value for the impairments of physical stamina or other conditions resulting from age.

(b) That Thorkon, however taken, will enable one to relax or sleep well or cause him to feel stronger or better generally, or will have any effect upon the nerves, disposition, color or complexion, appetite, digestion, vigor, energy, happiness, general health or appearance, unless such representation be expressly limited to symptoms or conditions due to Vitamin B_1, B_2, niacinamide or iron deficiencies, and unless the advertisement clearly and conspicuously reveals that such symptoms or conditions are caused much less frequently by deficiencies of Vitamin B_1, B_2, niacinamide or iron than by other causes.

(c) That respondent's said preparation has any value in treating a blotchy skin or other skin irritations, or a tired, run-down body, restlessness, nervousness, physical exhaustion, shortness of breath, weakness or heaviness in the limbs, stomach distress, backache, listlessness, fatigue, neuritis, tired or sluggish blood, nerves, muscles, stomach, liver, intestines, or glands, or in converting a nagging, irritable, quarrelsome woman into a good wife and mother, unless such representation be expressly limited to symptoms or conditions due to Vitamin B_1, B_2, niacinamide or iron deficiencies, and unless the advertisement clearly and conspicuously reveals that such symptoms or conditions are caused much less frequently by deficiencies of Vitamin B_1, B_2, niacinamide or iron than by other causes.

(d) That said preparation has any value in treating or avoiding dizziness, bloating, heartburn, sour stomach, gas on the stomach, burning in the stomach, muscular aches and pains, or pains wherever located, associated with stomach disorders, unless such representation be expressly limited to symptoms or conditions due to Vitamin B_1, B_2, niacinamide or iron deficiencies, and unless the advertisement clearly and conspicuously reveals that such symptoms or conditions are caused much less frequently by deficiencies of Vitamins B_1, B_2, niacinamide or iron than by other causes.

(e) That said preparation, however taken, will provide Vitamin B_6 or Vitamin B_{12} in therapeutic quantities, or that it has any value in the treatment of any symptom or condition caused by deficiencies of Vitamins B_6 or B_{12}.

(f) That Thorkon is supercharged with vitamins and minerals in general or Vitamin B_{12} in particular.

2. Disseminating or causing to be disseminated by any means for the purpose of inducing or which is likely to induce, directly or indirectly, the purchase of said preparation in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, any advertisement which contains any of the representations prohibited in Paragraph 1 above, or which fails to comply with the affirmative requirements set forth in subparagraphs (b), (c) and (d) of Paragraph 1 hereof.

PAR. 10. Section 130.53, as amended by Treasury Decision 5929, is further amended by adding at the end of subparagraph (1) of paragraph (i) thereof the following: "(For information with respect to the exemption of amounts paid on or after November 1, 1951, for transportation, on or after that date, of persons on boats chartered for fishing purposes, see § 130.60a.)"

PAR. 11. Section 130.54, as amended by Treasury Decision 5929, is further amended by deleting the words "see §§ 130.60 to 130.63" appearing in the first sentence thereof and inserting in lieu thereof the words "see §§ 130.60 to 130.64".

PAR. 12. Immediately preceding § 130.59, there is inserted the following:

SEC. 493. EXEMPTION OF FISHING TRIPS FROM TAX ON TRANSPORTATION (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(a) Exemption. Section 3469 (b) (relating to exemption of certain trips from the tax of transportation of persons) is hereby amended by striking out "or to amounts" and inserting in lieu thereof "to amounts", and by inserting after the words "one month or less" the following ", or to amounts paid for transportation by boat for the purpose of fishing from such boat".

(b) Effective date. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply to amounts paid on or after the first day of the first month which begins more than 10 days after the date of the enactment of this Act for transportation on or after such first day.

PAR. 13. Immediately following § 130.60 there is inserted the following new section:

§ 130.60a Fishing trips. No tax is imposed upon an amount paid on or after November 1, 1951, for transportation by boat, on or after that date, where the transportation is for the purpose of fishing from such boat.

PAR. 14. Immediately preceding § 130.64, there is inserted the following:

SEC. 494. TAX ON TRANSPORTATION OF PERSONS (REVENUE ACT OF 1951, APPROVED OCTOBER 20, 1951).

(a) Exemption of certain foreign travel. Section 3469 (a) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to tax on transportation of persons) is hereby amended by striking out the third sentence and inserting in lieu of such sentence the following: "In the case of transportation by water on a vessel which makes one or more intermediate stops at ports within the United States, Canada, or Mexico on a voyage which begins or ends in the United States and ends or begins outside the northern portion of the Western Hemisphere, no part of such transportation shall be considered for the purposes of the preceding sentence to be from any port within the United States, Canada, or Mexico to any other such port if the vessel in stopping at any such intermediate port is not authorized both to discharge and to take on passengers. A port or station within Newfoundland shall not for the purposes of the preceding two sentences, be considered as a port or station within Canada."

(b) Effective date. The amendment made by subsection (a) shall apply to amounts paid on or after the first day of the first month which begins more than ten days after the date of the enactment of this Act for transportation on or after such first day.

PAR. 15. Section 130.64, as amended by Treasury Decision 5929, is further amended as follows:

(B) By inserting immediately following the first paragraph the following new undesignated paragraphs:

The tax does not attach to any part of a payment made on or after November 1, 1951, for transportation by water, on or after that date, on a vessel which makes one or more intermediate stops at ports within the United States, Canada, or Mexico, on a voyage between the United States and a port outside the northern portion of the Western Hemisphere, provided the vessel in stopping at any such intermediate port is not authorized both to discharge and to take on passengers.

In any case where the vessel in stopping at any such intermediate port is authorized or is permitted both to discharge and to take on passengers, the rules set forth in the first paragraph of this section apply. A vessel is authorized both to discharge and to take on passengers at the intermediate port unless there is a legal or other authoritative prohibition of such traffic. For the purposes of the preceding sentence, an order issued by the owner or operator of a vessel prohibiting such vessel from either discharging or taking on passengers at the intermediate port is not a legal or other authoritative prohibition of such traffic.

A port or station within Newfoundland shall not, for the purposes of the preceding paragraphs, be considered as a port or station within Canada.

(C) By inserting immediately following Example 6 thereof two new examples as follows:

Example 7. H purchases a steamship ticket in New York City for transportation from New York City to Southampton, England. The vessel on which H sails makes an intermediate stop during the course of such voyage at Boston, Massachusetts, to take on passengers. The vessel is not, however, authorized to discharge passengers at such port. No tax applies to the portion of the transportation between New York City and Boston, since H's voyage involved transportation between a port within the United States and a port outside the northern portion of the Western Hemisphere and the vessel on which H traveled was not authorized both to discharge and to take on passengers at the intermediate port at which it stopped.

Example 8. I purchases a steamship ticket in San Francisco for a voyage from San Francisco to Manila. The vessel on which he travels makes a stop at Honolulu to discharge passengers. The vessel is, however, permitted also to take on passengers at Honolulu. The tax applies to that portion of the transportation between San Francisco and Honolulu, since the vessel on which I traveled was permitted to both discharge and to take on passengers at Honolulu, the intermediate port at which it stopped.

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 678—STONE, GLASS, AND RELATED PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE RATES

Pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001), notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on February 3, 1953 (18 F. R. 698-699), of my decision to approve the minimum wage recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 12 for Puerto Rico for the Stone, Glass, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico, and the revised wage order for that industry which I proposed to issue to carry such recommendations into effect was published therewith. Interested parties were given an opportunity to submit exceptions within 15 days from the date of publication of the notice. Exceptions were filed by Ramos Hermanos, Inc., Bayamon, Puerto Rico, and Ceferino Prieto, Catano, Puerto Rico. All the arguments contained in the exceptions were considered by me at the time I made my original decision in this matter. The exceptions raised no new matters which would require change or modification of my previous decision.

Accordingly, pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938 as amended (52 Stat. 1060 as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201) the said decision is affirmed and made final, the recommendations of Special Industry Committee No. 12 for Puerto Rico for the Stone, Glass, and Related Products Industry in Puerto Rico are hereby approved, and the wage order contained in this part is hereby revised to read as set forth in the February 3, 1953 issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER (18 F. R. 698–699), to become effective on the 30th day of March, 1953.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of February 1953.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Overriding Regulation 43]

GOR 43—PASS-THROUGH FOR BERYLLIUM, CHROMIUM, COBALT AND NICKEL

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, Executive Order 10161, and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2, this General Overriding Regulation 43 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This general overriding regulation permits primary producers and further processors and manufacturers to increase their ceiling prices so as to pass on to their customers increases in the cost of beryllium, chromium, cobalt and nickel.

The ceiling price of beryllium copper master alloy (which is the basic beryllium-containing alloy) has already been increased by Supplementary Regulation (SR) 133 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (GCPR), effective February 13, 1953. That ceiling price increase was made because of the increased cost of acquisition of imported beryl ore and copper. That part of the increase granted to producers and resellers of beryllium master alloy which is attributable to the increased cost of beryl ore and which may be passed on by subsequent processors under this regulation is 5.22 cents per pound of beryllium contained.

The ceiling prices of chromium metallurgical products (except stainless steel) have been increased on the producer's level by Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR) 180, effective November 25, 1952. The ceiling price increases effected by that regulation reflect the increased costs of chromium and amount approximately to 3 cents or 4 cents per pound of chromium contained, depending on the type of product. It is that 3 or 4 cents per pound of chromium contained that may be passed on under this regulation by subsequent processors.

The ceiling prices of primary products processed from cobalt-metal (not including cobalt oxide) or primary nickel, including stainless steel, may be adjusted under this regulation. In the case of stainless steel, the adjustments permitted under this regulation reflect average cost increases caused by the increased prices of nickel and chromium. In the case of other products the adjustments reflect the increased costs of cobalt metal and chromium contained in the products. Although some loss in these materials occurs during the manufacturing process, the difficulty of measuring that loss made its consideration impracticable. On the other hand, for the same reason, no reduction in the amount of the permitted increase is required even if a processor avoids part of these cost increases by using scrap instead of virgin metal.

For the convenience of further processors, an appendix (marked Appendix A) is attached to this regulation which lists the primary products whose ceiling prices have been increased by other regulations or may be adjusted under this regulation because of the increased cost of beryllium, chromium, cobalt and nickel. That appendix indicates the amount of the increases that may be passed on by subsequent processors.

The pass-through provisions of this regulation are essentially similar to those of General Overriding Regulation (GOR) 35 which is the pass-through regulation for manufacturers using steel, pig iron, copper or aluminum. As the persons affected by this regulation are familiar with the considerations and provisions of GOR 35, it appears sufficient to explain here the differences between these two regulations.

The pass-through under GOR 35 is the increase in a supplier's selling price above his old (unadjusted) ceiling price. In this regulation the concept of the pass-through refers to the increase in a supplier's selling price above his previous selling price to the extent to which that increase reflects cost increases due to increased costs of the four materials enumerated above. This change of concept has been found advisable and, at least in part, necessary because some materials and products containing the four materials involved are exempt from price control and therefore have no ceiling prices.

However, the metals listed in the appendix are presumed to have been selling and to continue to sell at ceiling. Therefore, producers and manufacturers using these metals may determine the amount of the pass-through to which they are entitled on the basis of Appendix A—irrespective of the price actually paid for these products and without the necessity of obtaining from the supplier any notification of the amount of the increase.

Manufacturers who use commodities made from Appendix A products must be notified by the supplier about the pass-through increase. Whereas under GOR 35 (in accordance with the pass-through concept in that regulation) the supplier need only state in the notification his old ceiling price, this regulation requires that the notification should state the amount of the pass-through and that a new notification be given each time the same commodity is delivered at a different price.

Whereas the resale of the primary products covered by GOR 35 normally takes place through warehouses which are entitled to uniform markups, among the primary products covered by this regulation only a few are usually handled by warehouses at uniform markups. The rest of them are resold by distributors who sell either at the mill price (the distributor buying at a discount) or at individual markups. For this reason, it has not been practicable uniformly to determine and list the cost increases which the further processors of these products incur if buying from resellers as has been done in GOR 35. The problem thus raised is solved in this regulation in the following manner: A manufacturer who purchases more than 25 percent of an Appendix A product from resellers is given a choice of two methods for calculating the amount of the pass-through increase on that product. As a first alternative, he may disregard the fact that some (or all) of his purchases were made from resellers and determine the amount of the pass-through on the basis of the increases listed in Appendix A. A manufacturer electing that method may adjust his ceiling prices immediately after February 27, 1953, and needs no notification from his supplier. As a second alternative, the manufacturer may calculate the amount of his pass-through increase by the method applicable to manufacturers using commodities made of Appendix A products. In that case, he must request his reseller-supplier to notify him of the pass-through increase and may put his adjusted ceiling prices into effect only after he purchases a normal quantity of the product at an increased price and receives a notification of the amount of the pass-through.

In the formulation of this regulation there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, to the extent practicable, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

So far as practicable, the Director of Price Stabilization has given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, and to relevant facts of general applicability. In the judgment of the Director, the provisions of this regulation comply with all the applicable requirements with respect to the establishment of ceiling prices set forth in the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended.

Every effort has been made to conform this regulation to existing business practices, cost practices, or methods, or means or aids to distribution. Insofar as any provisions of this regulation may operate to compel changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution, such provisions are found by the Director of Price Stabilization to be necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this regulation.

I. GENERAL PROVISIONS

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. (a) This is an adjustment regulation. It permits manufacturers to adjust their ceiling prices in order to "pass-through" increases in costs resulting from price increases of beryllium, cobalt, chromium and nickel.

(b) The adjustments authorized for primary producers are set forth in section 5 and are listed in Appendix A. That appendix also lists price increases authorized by other regulations to primary producers which may be passed on under this regulation by subsequent processors.

(c) Subsequent processors calculate their adjustments on the basis of increases made by their suppliers. Where necessary, subsequent processors must be notified of the increases made by their suppliers.

(d) The adjustment provisions of this regulation do not apply to resellers since increases in manufacturers' prices may be passed through under the provisions of the applicable resellers' regulations.

However, at the request of a manufacturer who obtained from a reseller a material covered by this regulation, the reseller must notify the manufacturer of the amount of the increase taken.

SEC. 2. Coverage. (a) This regulation applies in the United States, its territories and possessions, and in the District of Columbia. The adjustment provisions cover producers of products listed in Appendix A to the extent set forth in section 5, and manufacturers who further process any of these products, or any commodity manufactured from them. However, no adjustments may be made by sellers under CPR 156, Fabricated Structural Steel, Miscellaneous and Ornamental Iron, and Vessel Shop Products for Field Assembly or Erection. This regulation provides for the use of current costs in the calculation of ceiling prices. Consequently, no adjustment for increased materials costs is required.

(b) The notification provision covers producers, manufacturers and resellers who sell any of these products or commodities to manufacturers.

SEC. 3. When you may make your adjustments. (a) The ceiling price adjustments authorized by this regulation may be made at any time convenient to you. You may decide for the present to make no adjustments or to take only part of your permitted increase. If so, you may later take whatever part remains, as well as any additional increases to which you may then be entitled.

(b) It may, in some cases, be desirable to make more than one adjustment. For example, a manufacturer who buys both mill products and fabricated parts, will be affected immediately by the increase in the cost of his mill products, while his fabricated-parts costs may not rise for some period of time. In that situation, he may well decide to avail himself promptly of the adjustment to which he is entitled on account of the increase in the cost of his mill products. He may, if he wishes, make later adjustments for the increase in the cost of the fabricated parts.

SEC. 4. General description of how you make your adjustments. (a) If you are the producer of a product listed in Appendix A for which a ceiling price adjustment is authorized by this regulation, section 5 tells you how to calculate your adjustment.

(b) If you are the further processor of a product listed in Appendix A or of a commodity manufactured from any such product, you must take the following steps to make your adjustment:

(1) You first find out what kind of cost increases entitle you to an adjustment. This is dealt with in section 6. You next learn how to determine the exact amount of the cost increase which may be reflected. This is spelled out in sections 7 and 8. Having found how to determine the kind and the amount of the cost increases which you may "pass through", you have a choice of two methods for adjusting the ceilings of the commodities to which the cost increases apply: An individual-commodity method and a group factor method.

(2) Under section 9 you allocate cost increases on an individual-commodity basis. You adjust the old ceiling of a commodity to reflect the particular cost increases which apply to it. Under section 10 cost increases are allocated on a group basis. You calculate a percentage adjustment factor which represents the average increase for a group of commodities. This factor may then be used to adjust the ceilings of each of the commodities in that group.

(c) If you cannot or are unable without undue burden to make your adjustments either by the individual-commodity method or by the group-factor method, you may propose an alternate method under section 11.

II—PRIMARY PRODUCERS

SEC. 5. Adjustments by primary producers—(a) Beryllium, chrome. If you produce products (other than stainless steel) in the production of which beryllium or chrome is used, your ceiling prices established under SR 133 to the GCPR and CPR 180, respectively, already reflect your increased costs for beryllium and chrome and you may not make adjustments under this regulation for the products listed in SR 133 to the GCPR and CPR 180. Appendix A specifies that part of your ceiling price which subsequent processors may pass on under this regulation.

(b) Cobalt. (1) If you produce products in the processing of which cobalt is used in the form of cobalt metal, you may increase your ceiling prices by 30 cents per pound of cobalt contained.

(2) You may round your ceiling prices adjusted under this paragraph to the nearest cent or fraction of a cent you normally employ. If you elect to round any ceiling price covered by this paragraph, you must round all such ceiling prices so as to reflect decreases as well as increases. (This rounding provision applies to you only. Subsequent processors may round their adjusted ceiling prices in accordance with section 17.)

(c) Nickel. (1) If you produce products in the processing of which primary nickel is used (other than stainless steel), you may increase your ceiling prices by 3½ cents per pound of nickel contained.

(2) You may round your ceiling prices adjusted under this paragraph to the nearest cent or fraction of a cent you normally employ. If you elect to round any ceiling price covered by this paragraph, you must round all such ceiling prices so as to reflect decreases as well as increases. (This rounding provision applies to you only. Subsequent processors may round their adjusted ceiling prices in accordance with section 17.)

(d) Stainless steel. (1) If you produce stainless steel you may increase your ceiling prices as follows:

(ii) On stainless steel type "400" and "500" by 2 percent of the mill base ceiling price.

(2) You may round your ceiling prices adjusted under this paragraph to the nearest cent or fraction of a cent you normally employ. If you elect to round any ceiling price covered by this paragraph, you must round all such ceiling prices so as to reflect decreases as well as increases. (This rounding provision applies to you only. Subsequent processors may round their adjusted ceiling prices in accordance with section 17.)

III—FURTHER PROCESSORS

SEC. 6. Cost increases which entitle further processors to make an adjustment. (a) This section relates only to the kind of cost increases which entitle you to make an adjustment if you are a further processor of products listed in Appendix A or of a commodity manufactured from any such product. It does not cover either the amount of the cost increase or the method for making the adjustment.

(b) You may adjust your ceiling prices for cost increases incurred by you because of price increases taken by your suppliers under this regulation on any of the products listed in Appendix A or on any commodity made from them, provided you use such product or commodity as a "manufacturing material." The term "manufacturing material" includes only materials that enter directly into the commodities whose ceiling prices are being adjusted, and packaging materials and containers other than returnable containers. It does not include, for example, expendable tools or any materials used in replacing, maintaining, or expanding your plant and equipment.

(c) You need not, of course, make an adjustment for all eligible cost increases. For example, a manufacturer may be buying many different manufacturing materials from a large number of suppliers. However, only two of the increases entitling him to an adjustment are of real significance in his cost of production. He may, therefore, decide to limit his adjustment to the two important increases and ignore the rest.

SEC. 7. How to determine the amount of your cost increase on products listed in Appendix A—(a) Purchases from the producer. If you purchase any of the products listed in Appendix A directly from the producer, you may reflect in your adjustment the amount of the listed increases immediately after the effective date of this regulation. If you are unable to determine the amount of the applicable increase on the basis of Appendix A, you should request your supplier to notify you of that amount.

(b) Purchases from resellers. (1) If during your last complete fiscal year ending not later than December 31, 1952, you bought more than 25 percent (by weight) of a product listed in Appendix A from resellers, you have a choice of two methods for determining your cost increase on that product.

(2) The first method is that described in paragraph (a) of this section. If you elect to use that method you treat all your purchases of the Appendix A products involved as if they were purchases from the producer.

(3) The second method is that described in section 8. If you elect to use that method you treat all your purchases of the Appendix A products involved as if they were purchases of manufacturing materials made from Appendix A products.

SEC. 8. How to determine the amount of your cost increase on manufacturing materials made from products listed in Appendix A—(a) Where 75 percent or more of the particular manufacturing material was bought from one class of supplier during your last complete fiscal year ending not later than December 31, 1952. (1) You may reflect in your adjustment for a particular manufacturing material the selling price increase which your largest regular supplier has taken under this regulation. You may not make an adjustment until (i) you have received a shipment from your largest regular supplier, in an amount equal to a normal order, at a price increased under this regulation; and (ii) he has given you appropriate notification of his increase, as required by section 18. However, if you are unable to obtain delivery of that particular material from your largest regular supplier, and you have obtained a shipment in an amount equal to a normal order from another supplier of the same class, you may make your adjustment on the basis of the selling price increase taken by that supplier for sales to the class of purchaser to which you belong.

(2) If you are unable to obtain notification from your supplier of the increase taken by him under this regulation, you may apply in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for an adjustment of your ceiling prices. Your application must be identified as an "Application under section 8 (a) (2) of GOR 43" and must contain the following:

(i) A statement that you were unable to obtain an appropriate notification from your supplier.

(ii) A statement of the steps taken by you in order to obtain such a notification, or the reason why such efforts would have been futile.

(iii) The proposed amount of the adjustment of your ceiling prices.

(iv) Data showing how you calculated the proposed adjustment.

The Director of Price Stabilization may approve your proposal in whole or in part, modify or reject it. Unless and until you have received written approval from him you may not use your proposal.

(b) Where less than 75 percent of the particular manufacturing material was bought from one class of supplier during your last complete fiscal year ending not later than December 31, 1952. You have a choice of two methods:

(1) Under the first method you may reflect in your adjustment the selling price increase taken by the manufacturing supplier from whom you bought the largest amount of the particular material during your last fiscal year ending not later than December 31, 1952. You may not make an adjustment until (i) you have received a shipment from your largest manufacturing supplier in an amount equal to a normal order, at a price increased under this regulation; and (ii) he has given you appropriate notification of his increase as required by section 18. However, if you are unable to obtain delivery of the particular material from your largest manufacturing supplier, and you have obtained shipment in an amount equal to a normal order from another manufacturing supplier, you may make an adjustment on the basis of the selling price increase taken by that supplier under this regulation for sales to the class of purchaser to which you belong.

(2) Under the second method you may reflect in your adjustment an average selling price increase weighted on the basis of the amount of the material bought from each class of supplier during your last complete fiscal year, ending not later than December 31, 1952, calculated as follows:

(i) Multiply the physical amount bought from all manufacturing suppliers, by the increase taken by your largest manufacturing supplier.

(ii) Multiply the physical amount bought from all resellers by the increase taken by your largest reseller.

(iii) Add the results of subdivisions (i) and (ii). Divide this sum by the total quantity of the manufacturing material bought from all sources. This gives you the average increase you are permitted to pass through in making your adjustment.

(3) You may not make an adjustment under this second method until first, you have received a shipment from your largest manufacturing supplier and from your largest reseller, each in an amount equal to a normal order, and at a price increased under this regulation; and, second, you have received appropriate notification of increases as required by section 18. However, if you are unable to obtain delivery of the particular material from either supplier, and you have obtained shipment in an amount equal to a normal order from another supplier of the same class, you may make an adjustment on the basis of the selling price increase taken by that supplier for sales to the class of purchaser to which you belong.

(4) If you are unable to obtain notification from your supplier of the increase taken by him under this regulation, you may apply in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for an adjustment of your ceiling prices. Your application must be identified as an "Application under section 8 (b) (4) of GOR 43" and must contain the following:

(i) A statement that you were unable to obtain an appropriate notification from your supplier.

(ii) A statement of the steps taken by you in order to obtain such a notification or the reason why such efforts would have been futile.

(iii) The proposed amount of the adjustment of your ceiling prices.

(iv) Data showing how you calculated the proposed adjustment.

The Director of Price Stablization may approve your proposal in whole or in part, modify or reject it. Unless and until you have received written approval from him you may not use your proposal.

SEC. 9. How to calculate an adjusted ceiling price for an individual commodity. To calculate an adjusted ceiling price for an individual commodity you must do the following:

(a) List the physical amount, used in the production of one unit of the commodity, of each "manufacturing material" for which you are entitled to make an adjustment, and for which you have decided to make one. The "unit" of the commodity is the one in which you customarily quote your price, for example, each, dozen, gross, thousand, pound, ton.

(b) List the dollar-and-cent amount of the cost increase which you are permitted to reflect for each of the materials listed in paragraph (a) of this section. The increase should be shown on the basis of the unit in which you normally buy the materials, for example, each, dozen, gross, thousand, pound, ton.

(c) Multiply the physical amount of each material listed in paragraph (a) by its cost increase listed in paragraph (b) of this section. This gives you the adjustment to which you are entitled for each manufacturing material.

(d) Add up the individual increases found in paragraph (c) of this section. This gives you the dollar-and-cent figure representing your total adjustment. You add this to the ceiling price of the commodity, to its largest buying class of purchaser, in order to obtain your adjusted ceiling price. For sales to other classes of purchasers you apply your customary differentials, between classes of purchasers. You must continue to use the same terms and conditions of sale.

NOTE: You may not calculate an adjusted ceiling price for any individual commodity which belongs to a group of commodities for which you have determined an adjustment factor under section 10.

SEC. 10. How to calculate a group factor. (a) You may calculate a group factor for any unit of your business not larger than a plant. You may use a unit smaller than a plant if you keep accounting records adequate to permit you to make the necessary calculations. You may calculate a group factor for your entire business if you operate in a single plant. If you choose this method, you must use it for all commodities made in the unit of your business which you have used. You cannot make a section 9 adjustment for any commodity produced in that unit of your business.

(b) List the physical amount used by the unit of your business during your last complete fiscal year ending not later than December 31, 1952, of each manufacturing material for which you are entitled to make an adjustment, and for which you have decided to make one.

(c) List the dollar-and-cent amount of the cost increase which you are permitted to reflect for each of the materials listed in paragraph (b) of this section. The increase should be shown on the basis of the unit or quantity in which you normally buy the material, for example, each, dozen, gross, thousand, pound, ton.

(d) Multiply the physical amount of each material listed in paragraph (b) by its price increase found in paragraph (c) of this section.

(e) Add up the individual increases. This gives you the total materials cost increase which you are permitted to take.

(f) Divide the result under paragraph (e) of this section by the net sales of all commodities produced in that unit of your business during your last complete fiscal year ending not later than December 31, 1952, adjusted (as indicated below) for changes in your finished-goods inventory and for transfers to other units of your business. (You must use the same fiscal year used in paragraph (b) of this section.) The resulting percentage is your group factor.

(1) The inventory adjustment is made as follows:

(i) Find the values at the beginning and at the end of your last complete fiscal year of your finished-goods inventory for the unit of your business. You must use the value as shown on the records which you keep for tax purposes.

(ii) Add the value of your end-of-the-year inventory to your net sales.

(iii) From the total under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph subtract the value of your beginning-of-the-year inventory. This gives you the figure by which you divide the result under paragraph (e) of this section.

(2) You must include in net sales the value of any commodity or material transferred from that unit to another unit of your business. The value shall be that shown on your records. If your records do not show a value, for the material or commodity transferred from a unit of your business, you may not use that unit for making your calculations.

(3) To obtain an adjusted ceiling price for a commodity included in the unit of your business you multiply the ceiling price of the commodity, to its largest buying class of purchaser, by the group factor. This gives you a dollar-and-cents figure which you add to the ceiling price of the commodity, to its largest buying class of purchaser, to obtain your adjusted ceiling price. For sales to other classes of purchasers you apply your customary differentials between classes of purchasers. You must continue to use the same terms and conditions of sale.

NOTE: You may not apply the group factor to any commodity which does not contain at least one of the materials listed in paragraph (b) even though that commodity is made by the unit of your business for which the factor was determined.

SEC. 11. Option to propose an alternate method for calculating adjusted ceiling prices. If you find that you cannot or are unable without undue burden to calculate adjusted ceiling prices under either section 9 or section 10, you may propose an alternate method. An alternate method will be approved only where the use of section 9 or section 10 would be impossible or unduly burdensome. You should submit your proposed method in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Your proposal should be identified as an "Application under section 11 of GOR 43" and must include the following:

(a) A statement of the reasons why the use of sections 9 and 10 would be impossible or unduly burdensome.

(c) A statement based on examples using a few representatives commodities which would indicate that your proposed method produces substantially the same results as would be obtained by the use of sections 9 and 10.

The Director of Price Stabilization may approve your proposal in whole or in part, modify or reject it. Unless and until you have received written approval from him you may not use your proposal.

SEC. 12. Subsequent adjustments. (a) You may wish to make more than one adjustment in order to reflect cost increases, not reflected in your previous adjustment, to which you are entitled under this regulation. If you have calculated an individual-commodity adjustment under section 9, you may simply add the additional increases, calculated under section 9, to your previously adjusted ceiling price.

(b) If you have calculated a group adjustment factor under section 10, there are two ways of obtaining a new group factor. First, you may make the calculations prescribed by section 10, using both the old increases, reflected in your first group factor, and the additional increases which you now wish to reflect. Second, you may calculate a separate factor under section 10, representing only the additional increases not reflected in your first adjustment. This separate factor must then be added to your original group factor to give you your new group factor. Whether you use the first or the second method, the new group factor must be applied to the unadjusted ceiling prices of the commodities included in the group.

(c) You may not change the unit of your business to which the group factor applies. The new group factor must apply to the same unit to which the old factor applies. However, group factors may be applied to new commodities brought out in the unit of your business to which the factor applies. This is spelled out in section 13.

SEC. 13. Adjustment of ceiling prices for new, modified, and minor-change commodities. You may adjust under this regulation ceiling prices established under the new commodity provisions of the basic regulation covering your commodities. The way you make your adjustment will depend on how the ceiling price of the new commodity is established.

(a) Ceiling prices established by a comparison technique. The ceiling price of any "modified" commodity, any "minor-change" commodity, or any other new commodity which is established by reference to the unadjusted ceiling price of a comparison commodity may be adjusted in one of two ways.

(1) If the new commodity is made in a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor under section 10, you may apply that factor to the ceiling price of the new commodity.

(2) If the new commodity is not made in a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor, you may make an individual commodity adjustment under section 9.

(b) Ceiling prices established by reference to competitors' prices—(1) Where established before February 27, 1953. (i) If the commodity is made by a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor under section 10, you may apply that factor to the ceiling price of the new commodity.

(ii) If the new commodity is not made by a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor, you may make an individual commodity adjustment under section 9.

(2) Where established after February 26, 1953. There are two alternatives:

(i) If your competitor adjusts under this regulation the ceiling price which you "borrowed," you may make a comparable adjustment of your ceiling price.

(ii) Whether or not your competitor adjusts the ceiling price which you borrowed, you may apply in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for an adjustment of your ceiling price. Your application must be identified as an "Application under section 13 (b) (2) of GOR 43" and must include a statement of the amount of the increase in the cost of your manufacturing materials resulting from increases in the cost of products listed in Appendix A, or of selling price increases taken by your suppliers under this regulation of commodities made from such products. You can combine this application with the initial report that may be required in order to establish the ceiling price under your basic regulation. In other words, you may request that increased beryllium, chromium, cobalt and nickel costs be reflected immediately.

(c) Ceiling prices established by letter order—(1) Where established before October 1, 1951. (i) If the commodity is made by a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor under section 10, you may apply that factor to the ceiling price of the new commodity.

(ii) If the new commodity is not made by a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor, you may make an individual commodity adjustment under section 9.

(2) Where established between October 1, 1951, and February 26, 1953, inclusive. (i) If, in your opinion, the ceiling prices established by letter order do not reflect cost increases which you may pass through under this regulation, you may apply in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for an adjustment of your ceiling prices. Your application must be identified as an "Application under section 13 (c) (2) of GOR 43" and must include the letter order number and a statement of the amount of the increase in the cost of your manufacturing materials resulting from increases in the cost of products listed in Appendix A, or of price increases taken under this regulation of commodities made from such products and a proposal for the amount of the adjustment.

(ii) The Director of Price Stabilization may approve your proposal in whole or in part, modify or reject it. Unless and until you have received written approval from him you may not use your proposal.

(3) Where established after February 26, 1953. The letter order establishing your ceiling price will indicate whether and how you may make an adjustment. The order will also indicate how you must determine the "pass through" increase of which you must notify your purchaser in compliance with section 18.

(d) Ceiling prices established by a manufacturer's individual formula. You may adjust a ceiling price calculated by an individual formula established under the basic regulation covering your commodities. There are two ways in which such a ceiling price can be adjusted.

(1) If the commodity is made by a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor under section 10, you may apply that factor to the ceiling price of the new commodity.

(2) If the new commodity is not made by a unit of your business for which you have calculated a group factor, you may make an individual-commodity adjustment under section 9.

SEC. 14. Integrated manufacturers and transferred materials. (a) This section deals with a manufacturing material which you produce in one unit of your business and transfer to another unit of your business where it is used in producing a commodity whose ceiling price you wish to adjust. Such a manufacturing material (which is referred to as a "transferred material") may also be sold to another person.

(b) You may make an adjustment for the cost increase to which you are entitled, at any stage of processing where it is convenient for you to do so. However, regardless of the stage at which you decide to make your adjustment, you may not make an additional adjustment at a subsequent stage, for the same material, but must simply pass through the adjustment made at the earlier stage. Therefore, the adjustment permitted on a commodity can in no event exceed the increases on the materials going into it. Records must be kept, indicating how adjustments for transferred materials were made between different units of your business.

SEC. 15 Optional method for determining a uniform adjusted ceiling price for a commodity manufactured in two or more plants. If the commodity whose ceiling prices you are adjusting is manufactured in more than one of your plants, and is customarily sold at a uniform price, but in adjusting the ceiling price for each plant different ceiling prices result, you may compute a uniform ceiling price. To do this, you first determine the adjusted ceiling price for each plant and multiply it by the number of units of the commodity sold from that plant during your last complete fiscal year. You then divide the total dollar amount of such sales from all plants by the total number of units sold from all plants. The resulting figure is your uniform ceiling price for the commodity.

SEC. 16. Excise, sales or similar taxes—(a) Where the tax is included in your selling price. (1) If your unadjusted ceiling price for a commodity includes any excise, sales or similar tax which is not separately stated, you must first ascertain the amount of such tax and exclude it from your unadjusted ceiling price. Your unadjusted ceiling price, with such tax so excluded, may then be used in making any appropriate computations for determining your adjusted ceiling price. After completing the computations, you may then add on the appropriate amount of such tax for inclusion as part of your adjusted ceiling price.

(2) If subsequent to the establishment of an adjusted ceiling price which includes any excise, sales or similar tax, the amount of such tax is reduced or eliminated, you must recompute and reduce your ceiling price to reflect the appropriate amount of the reduction in or elimination of such tax.

(3) If, subsequent to the establishment of any adjusted ceiling price, any excise, sales or similar tax is first imposed or any such tax which had been included in your ceiling price is increased, you may recompute and increase your ceiling price to reflect the appropriate amount of such new tax or the increase in such tax.

(b) Where the tax is separately stated and collected. If your unadjusted ceiling price for a commodity did not include any excise, sales or similar tax you may in addition to your adjusted ceiling price, determined under this regulation, collect the amount of any such tax paid as such by you. In the case of an increase in any excise, sales or similar tax or any new such tax which is not effective until after you make your adjustment, you may, in addition to your ceiling price, if not prohibited by the tax law, state separately and collect the amount of such increase or new tax actually paid as such by you. A tax once stated separately from your ceiling price may not thereafter be included in your ceiling price under this regulation.

SEC. 17. Rounding. Cost increases on particular manufacturing materials, and group factors calculated under section 10 may only be rounded downwards. Adjusted ceiling prices may be rounded in the manner prescribed in the basic regulation applicable to the particular commodity.

IV—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 18. Notification of pass through increases. (a) You must notify your purchaser of your price increase taken under this regulation if (1) you are the producer of a commodity made from any product listed in Appendix A or from any commodity made from such products; and (2) your purchaser buys your product or commodity for use as a further manufacturer or reseller. Your notification must be delivered together with your first invoice covering a sale at the increased price and with every further invoice covering the first sale of the same product or commodity at a price which includes an additional increase taken under this regulation.

(b) At the request of your purchaser, you must notify him of your price increase taken under this regulation if you are the producer of any product listed in Appendix A. You must mail your notification within 14 days after the receipt of the request.

(c) At the request of your purchaser, you must notify him of your price increase made in consequence of your supplier's price increases taken under this regulation if you are a reseller of any of the products or commodities covered by paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. Normally that price increase will be equal to the price increases taken by your suppliers under this regulation plus your markup on those increases. You must mail your notification within 14 days after the receipt of the request.

SEC. 19. Applicability of other OPS regulations to you. All the provisions of the regulations under which your ceiling prices are presently established continue to be applicable to you except to the extent that they are expressly inconsistent with this regulation. Wherever such provisions refer to ceiling prices "established under this regulation," or use equivalent language, your ceiling prices as adjusted under this general overriding regulation are included. This means that you will continue to look to these regulations to find, for example, what records and reports you are required to keep, in addition to those required by this regulation, or what acts are prohibited.

SEC. 20. Records and reports—(a) Record-keeping requirements. In addition to the records and reports required by other OPS regulations applicable to you, you must prepare and preserve for the life of the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended, and for two years thereafter, all records necessary to determine whether you have correctly computed your ceiling price adjustment under this regulation. You must preserve your suppliers' notifications to you of their "pass through" price increases, and copies of invoices, paid bills or similar data to show the materials costs you used in computing a ceiling price adjustment under this regulation. The records to be preserved under this paragraph include appropriate work sheets.

(b) Reports. The Director of Price Stabilization may from time to time require information or reports subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

SEC. 21. Definitions. The definitions in the basic regulation covering your commodities shall apply to all terms in this regulation, except where one of the following definitions applies, or where the context requires otherwise.

Class of supplier. There are two classes of suppliers: manufacturers and resellers.

Largest regular supplier. This means a regular supplier of yours from whom in the most recent representative period you have purchased the largest quantity of a particular material. If you are purchasing a material for the first time your first supplier may be regarded as your "largest regular supplier."

Selling price increase taken under this regulation. This means the lower of the following two figures: (1) The amount of the ceiling price adjustment granted by this regulation; or (2) the price increase actually taken after February 26, 1953. If the product was not sold or offered for sale in the period June 25, 1950 to February 26, 1953, inclusive, and, therefore, the notion of a "price increase actually taken after February 26, 1953" is not applicable, the "selling price increase taken under this regulation" is equal to the amount of the ceiling price adjustment granted by this regulation unless the contrary is established by a letter order or can be established on the ground of a comparison with price increases taken under this regulation on similar products. "Price increase taken under this regulation" and "Price increased under this regulation" have corresponding meanings.

Effective date. This General Overriding Regulation 43 is effective February 27, 1953.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

JOSEPH H. FREEHILL,
Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter VI—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

M-41—METALWORKING MACHINES—DELIVERY

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended. In the formulation of NPA Order M-41 as originally issued, and as heretofore from time to time amended, there was consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration was given to their recommendations. However, in the formulation of the amendments in this amended order, consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, has been rendered impracticable because of the need for immediate action.

EXPLANATORY

This amended order revises NPA Order M-41, as amended November 17, 1952, by making certain changes, among which are the following:

1. To effectuate a policy of permitting the acceptance of unrated orders for metalworking machines of the classifications listed in Exhibit D,

(a) Section 3 has been deleted;

(b) In section 4, paragraph (b) has been deleted; the second sentence of paragraph (c) has been redesignated paragraph (b); provisions for scheduling orders for machine tools on Exhibit D have been inserted in the rest of paragraph (c); and section 4, as rewritten, has been redesignated section 3; and

(c) The last sentence of section 13 has been deleted.

2. Sections 5 through 18 have been redesignated sections 4 through 17.

O. 10281, Aug. 28, 1951, 16 F. R. 8789; 3 CFR, 1951 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order regulates the delivery of metalworking machines. It requires all producers to schedule their deliveries in accordance with the provisions of this order.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Metalworking machine" means any new, nonportable, power-driven item of plant equipment which is listed on Exhibit A, appearing at the end of this order, and has a producer's list price for the basic machine itself of $1,000 or more. The producer's list price for the basic machine itself means the sale price at which the producer's catalog or other price publication lists the basic machine, exclusive of the motor, motor drive, or any attachments therefor, unless the motor, motor drive, or attachments are initially built into the basic machine itself, as an integral part thereof, in which case the producer's list price for the basic machine shall be the sale price at which the producer lists the machine as an assembled unit. The term "metalworking machine" includes all fixtures, equipment, and tooling covered by the original purchase order which are required to be delivered with the basic machine to make it usable in production for the purposes intended. It does not include replacements, spare parts or equipment, or extra tooling.

(b) "Producer" means any person engaged in the manufacture and production of metalworking machines.

(c) "Service group" means a subdivision of the Department of Defense. For the purposes of this order, there are deemed to be seven such subdivisions, consisting of the following: Ordnance, Army less Ordnance, Bureau of Ordnance (Navy), Bureau of Ships (Navy), Miscellaneous Bureaus and Offices (Navy), Bureau of Aeronautics (Navy), and Air Force.

(d) "Service purchasers" means those persons whose purchase orders for metalworking machines call for delivery to a service group, or to one of such group's prime contractors, or to a subcontractor of such a prime contractor. However, no such purchaser shall be considered a service purchaser unless his order is accompanied by a DO rating in accordance with existing regulations.

(e) "Other purchasers" means all purchasers other than service purchasers, whether or not a DO rating has been assigned to their purchase orders.

(f) "Size" includes all of those dimensions or variations of a particular type of metalworking machine which can be used interchangeably for production purposes. Size classification shall be that used by each producer on the effective date of this order, unless he is hereinafter authorized to use a different classification. Producers may apply for such permission by letter to the National Production Authority (hereinafter called "NPA").

(g) "Firm order" means an order which is accompanied by specification or other description of a metalworking machine in sufficient detail to enable a producer to place such machine in his production schedule.

(h) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States Government or of any other government.

(i) "GSA" means the United States Government agency known as the General Services Administration, created under the Federal Property and Administrative Services Act of 1949 (63 Stat. 377); or such other Federal agency to which the Defense Materials Procurement Agency may hereafter redelegate the functions specified or described in section 12 of this order under E. O. 10281 (16 F. R. 8789), and the Defense Production Act of 1950, as amended (64 Stat. 798, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 2061–2166); or the Defense Materials Procurement Agency if said agency does not redelegate such functions.

SEC. 3. Allocations of deliveries to service and other purchasers. (a) Starting March 1, 1953, and on the first of each succeeding month, each producer shall schedule his deliveries of each size of metalworking machines in accordance with the provisions of this section for the fourth ensuing month, for example, deliveries for the month of June would be scheduled on March 1st.

(b) If a producer can fill from his production all orders requiring deliveries in the month being scheduled, whether such orders are rated or unrated, then he shall arrange his schedule so as to fill all such orders.

(c) If a producer cannot fill from his production all orders requiring delivery in the month being scheduled, whether such orders are rated or unrated, then he shall arrange his schedule of deliveries as follows:

(1) To the extent that a producer has rated orders on hand from service purchasers requiring delivery in the month being scheduled, he shall arrange his schedule so as to deliver to service purchasers (i) all such orders up to 70 percent of his production of each size of the classifications listed in Exhibit D of this order, and (ii) all such orders up to 60 percent of each size of any classification not listed in Exhibit D.

(2) To the extent that a producer has rated orders on hand from service purchasers requiring delivery in the month being scheduled of more than 70 percent of his production in that month of any size of the classifications listed in Exhibit D, he shall not be required in any such case to schedule for delivery more than 70 percent to service purchasers, even though there be fewer rated orders from other purchasers than the equivalent of 30 percent of his production of such size. To the extent that a producer has rated orders on hand from service purchasers requiring delivery in the month being scheduled of more than 60 percent of his production in that month of any size of any classification not listed in Exhibit D, he shall not be required in any such case to schedule for delivery more than 60 percent to service purchasers, even though there be fewer rated orders from other purchasers than the equivalent of 40 percent of his production of such size.

(3) To the extent that there remains any balance of his production unscheduled for that month, after scheduling his deliveries to service purchasers in accordance with subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, a producer shall schedule such balance for such month so as to fill all rated orders from other purchasers to the extent possible, and if any balance still remains, he may thereafter fill unrated orders.

SEC. 4. Distribution of production among service groups. In connection with scheduling deliveries for each month pursuant to section 3 of this order, each producer shall schedule deliveries among the several service groups as follows:

(a) Subject to the provisions of this paragraph, each producer shall determine the number of orders on his books for each size of metalworking machine for each of the seven service groups as of 90 days prior to the first day of the month being scheduled, or, at the producer's option, the nearest date within 10 days thereof on which he may have compiled his records of orders. Only those orders which by their terms require delivery in the month being scheduled or in a month previous thereto shall be counted. The number of orders so determined for each such size and service group shall be termed the "net backlog" of each service group for that size of metalworking machine.

(b) Each producer shall then determine the "total net backlog" of all service groups by adding together the orders for each particular size of metalworking machine as determined for each service group in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Each producer shall then determine, in accordance with the provisions of section 3, the total number of metalworking machines of a particular size being scheduled for all service groups for that month and such total shall be termed the "total service group quota." The quota of each size of metalworking machine for any particular service group shall be that proportion of the total service group quota which the net backlog of such particular service group bears to the total net backlog. Each producer shall then schedule deliveries for the month being scheduled so that each service group shall be scheduled for its service quota for that month, determined as provided in this section.

(d) During each month each producer shall deliver for each service group the number of metalworking machines of each size equal to its quota of that size for that month. However, no producer shall schedule delivery of any metalworking machine for any service group earlier than the date on which the purchaser requires delivery unless all required delivery dates on other orders for the same size of metalworking machine are being met.

SEC. 5. Treatment of fractions. Where the number of metalworking machines which results from any computation required by this order contains a fraction of more than one-half, the fraction shall be counted as a whole metalworking machine. A fraction under one-half shall be disregarded, except that where the computation results in a fraction only (less than one whole metalworking machine) for any one month and such fraction is less than one-half, it shall be counted in computing the next month's service quota. Where each of the computations of two or more different service quotas for the same month shows a fraction of one-half, and there is only one remaining metalworking machine to which such fraction can apply, such metalworking machine shall be allotted to the service group having the largest service quota, and the other fractions of one-half shall be disregarded for that month, but shall be counted in computing the other service quota or quotas for the next month.

SEC. 6. Operation of Numerical Preference List. A Numerical Preference List will be supplied to producers. This list will be designated "Restricted." In connection with scheduling deliveries for each month pursuant to sections 3 and 4 of this order, this list shall determine the sequence of scheduling of purchase orders for delivery as between service purchasers within each service group as follows:

(a) In scheduling purchase orders for delivery, service purchasers who are on the list shall take precedence over service purchasers who are not on the list.

(b) As between purchase orders having conflicting required delivery dates, delivery of which is to be made to service purchasers on the list within the particular service group, the purchase order of the service purchaser with the higher urgency standing shall be scheduled for delivery ahead of the service purchaser with the lower urgency standing. The highest urgency standing is No. 1.

(c) Scheduling for delivery to a subcontractor or a subcontractor of a subcontractor shall be made in accordance with the urgency standing of his prime contractor and the prime contract number. However, no such subcontractor may use the urgency standing of the prime contractor unless such use is approved by the prime contractor and endorsed by the service department, supply arm, or bureau concerned.

(d) If the urgency standing certified by the purchaser differs from the urgency standing shown for the particular contractor for the particular contract in question on the Numerical Preference List, the latter shall govern.

(e) If the urgency standing of a prime contract is changed by virtue of a revision of the Numerical Preference List, a producer shall not require the purchaser to furnish the new urgency standing, provided such purchaser has furnished to the producer all of the information required under section 7 of this order.

(f) Regardless of the urgency standing certified with the purchase order, no delivery of metalworking machines shall be made prior to the required delivery dates, unless all required delivery dates on other orders for the same size of metalworking machines are being met.

(g) Changes may be made in the Numerical Preference List from time to time by NPA. Such changes will be effective when scheduling for the next "delivery month." If an interim change is made, the new urgency standing will consist of a number including a decimal. Such an urgency standing will take the position in the sequence of deliveries as indicated by the following example: Urgency standing 92.1 will be delivered after 92 and before 93. Complete revisions of the Numerical Preference List may be made from time to time and at such times the interim changes will be integrated in the revised Numerical Preference List. Such revised Numerical Preference List will use whole numbers and will be dated. Scheduling under this order will be controlled by the Numerical Preference List in force on the date of scheduling, irrespective of the urgency standing furnished by the purchaser at the time of the placing of the order. If a producer is unable to identify what urgency standing is the correct one for a particular purchase order, he must request from the purchaser the information necessary to establish the urgency standing and may delay scheduling such purchase order for production until he has received such information.

(h) The sequence of conflicting deliveries to service purchasers who are not listed on the Numerical Preference List within each service group shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of NPA Reg. 2.

SEC. 7. Information to be furnished with new purchase orders. (a) All purchasers must indicate specifications or other descriptions of the metalworking machines being ordered in sufficient detail to enable the producer to place the same on his production schedule and the required delivery date thereof.

(b) All service purchasers must indicate the service group which placed or sponsored the prime contract or subcontract for which the metalworking machine being purchased is to be used, and the specific prime contract number and the urgency standing, if any. If such service purchaser is a subcontractor or a subcontractor of a subcontractor, he must also state the name of the prime contractor.

(c) Any other purchaser must indicate the claimant agency, if any, which placed or sponsored the prime contract or subcontract for which the metalworking machine being purchased is to be used.

SEC. 8. Changes and amendments. Notwithstanding any other provision of this order, NPA may amend this order and any of its exhibits, may direct or change any schedule of production or delivery of metalworking machines, allocate any order for metalworking machines from one producer to another producer, and divert or otherwise direct the delivery of any metalworking machine from one person to another person.

SEC. 9. Rejection of rated orders. A producer need not accept a rated order which he receives less than 3 months prior to the first day of the month in which delivery is requested.

SEC. 10. Effect of this order on NPA Reg. 2. To the extent that this order is in conflict with NPA Reg. 2, the provisions of this order shall control. In all other respects, NPA Reg. 2 shall continue in full force and effect.

SEC. 11. Replacement parts. CMP Regulation No. 5 as now effective or as hereafter amended, or any other NPA order or regulation concerning maintenance, repair, and replacement items, shall control with respect to the delivery by a producer of repair and replacement parts, irrespective of any provisions contained in this order.

SEC. 12. Pool orders. NPA will from time to time furnish GSA with recommendations for ordering metalworking machines. Under a working arrangement between GSA and NPA, GSA will place firm orders (herein sometimes called "pool orders") with producers of metalworking machines in accordance with such recommendations. The pool orders so placed by GSA will contain, among other provisions, a provision requiring any producer, on or after the date therein specified, to eliminate items from any such order to the extent that equivalent items manufactured by such producer are invoiced or shipped (whichever is earlier) by such producer to others pursuant to purchase orders from others or to orders and directions of NPA.

SEC. 13. Applications for ratings for metalworking machines. A person other than a service purchaser who desires a rating for a metalworking machine and who believes he is eligible for such a rating, may apply for such rating on Form NPAF–138 (Revised) to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit or supersede any existing NPA delegation, regulation, or order, or to affect the assigning or applying of a rating pursuant thereto, or to affect the making of applications for a rating by any person eligible therefor to a delegate agency or pursuant to another NPA regulation or order.

SEC. 14. Request for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, that any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment or exception claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, by letter in triplicate, and shall set forth all pertinent facts, the nature of the relief sought, and the justification therefor.

SEC. 15. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall make and preserve, for at least 3 years thereafter, accurate and complete records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, production, and use, in sufficient detail to permit the determination, after audit, whether each transaction complies with the provisions of this order. This order does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily used, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals by persons who, at the time such microfilm or other photographic records are made, maintain such copies of records in the regular and usual course of business.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority, at the usual place of business where maintained.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 16. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: NPA Order M–41.

SEC. 17. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or any other order or regulation of NPA, or who wilfully furnishes false information or conceals any material fact in the course of operation under this order, is guilty of a crime and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect March 1, 1953.

Issued February 27, 1953.

FEDERAL RESERVE SYSTEM

[12 CFR Part 221]

[Reg. U]

LOANS BY BANKS FOR PURPOSE OF PURCHASING OR CARRYING REGISTERED STOCKS

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

Part 221 (Reg. U), relating to loans by banks for the purpose of purchasing or carrying registered stocks, issued by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to the authority cited at 12 CFR 221, prescribes the maximum loan value of the collateral in the case of any loan by a bank which is secured by any stock and for the purpose of purchasing or carrying any stock registered on a national securities exchange.

In view of the nature of "redeemable securities" of open-end investment companies, it seems that in certain circumstances loans for the purpose of purchasing or carrying such "redeemable securities" should be considered to be loans for the purpose of purchasing or carrying stocks registered on a national securities exchange which are in the portfolio of the open-end investment company. The Board is considering whether it would be desirable or appropriate to clarify the application of Part 221 in this respect by amendments thereto along the following lines:

1. By amending paragraph (b) of § 221.3 to read as follows:

§ 221.3 Miscellaneous provisions. * * *

(b) Except as provided in the next succeeding sentence, no loan, however it may be secured, need be treated as a loan for the purpose of "carrying" a stock registered on a national securities exchange unless the purpose of the loan is to enable the borrower to reduce or retire indebtedness which was originally incurred to purchase such a stock, or, if he be a broker or a dealer, to carry such stocks for customers. A loan which is for the purpose of purchasing or carrying a stock which is a "redeemable security" the issuer of which is an "open-end company" as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940 shall be deemed to be a loan for the purpose of purchasing or carrying a stock registered on a national securities exchange if the assets of such company customarily include stocks so registered.

2. By amending paragraph (c) of § 221.3 to read as follows:

(c) In determining whether or not a security is a "stock registered on a national securities exchange" or a stock described in paragraph (b) of this section as a "redeemable security", a bank may rely upon any reasonably current record of such stocks that is published or specified in a publication of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

This notice is published pursuant to section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act and section 2 of the rules of procedure of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (12 CFR 262.2). The proposed changes are authorized under the authority cited at 12 CFR 221.

To aid in the consideration of the foregoing matters, the Board will be glad to receive from interested persons any relevant data, views, or arguments. [Ceiling Price Regulation 166, Special Order No. 1]

WEMBLEY, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. This order establishes uniform retail ceiling prices for the sale of neckwear manufactured by Wembley, Inc., under the trade name "Wembley" and "Wembley Nor-East" in Puerto Rico on the basis of an application filed by Wembley, Inc., under section 13 (b) of Ceiling Price Regulation 166. This regulation gives a manufacturer the right to apply for uniform retail ceiling prices for the sale in Puerto Rico of an article or articles manufactured by him whenever it appears that the article or articles were sold at retail in Puerto Rico at a substantially uniform price for the period immediately prior to January 26, 1951, and the Director of Price Stabilization has established a uniform retail ceiling price for sales of the article in the continental United States, and the ceiling prices proposed are no higher than the level of ceiling prices otherwise established under Ceiling Price Regulation 166.

By Delegation of Authority 7, Revised, the authority to establish uniform ceiling prices under this regulation has been vested in the Director of Region XIV.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the Statement of Considerations and pursuant to section 13 (b) of Ceiling Price Regulation 166, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for the sale by any retailer in Puerto Rico of neckwear manufactured by Wembley, Inc., New Orleans 5, Louisiana, bearing the brand name "Wembley" and "Wembley Nor-East" are the retail prices listed in the application of Wembley, Inc. dated December 10, 1952, filed with Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization. A list of such ceiling prices will be filed by the Region XIV office of the Office of Price Stabilization with the Federal Register as an appendix to this special order as soon as practicable. Sales may, of course, be made at less than ceiling prices.

A copy of this special order and the attached list shall be sent to all other purchasers for sale at retail on or before the first delivery date after the effective date of this special order of any article covered by this regulation. In addition, the applicant must furnish the Director of Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., two copies of this notice and the attached list within fifteen days of the effective date of this order and a list of all retailers to whom this order and price list are sent within five days of mailing the orders. The list attached to this order, which must be furnished to sellers of the articles covered by this order, must be in substantially the following form:

4. No retailer may sell or offer to sell any article covered by this order until a ticket as provided in section 3 has been attached to the article either by him, by the wholesaler, or by the manufacturer.

5. The applicant must file within 45 days of the expiration of the first six-month period following the effective date of this order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive six-month period with the Director of Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this regulation which he has delivered in that six-month period.

6. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended or amended by the Director of Region XIV of the Office of Price Stabilization at any time.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-3004]

CENTRAL AND SOUTH WEST CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING REGARDING ISSUANCE AND SALE OF ADDITIONAL COMMON STOCK BY A RIGHTS OFFERING

FEBRUARY 24, 1953.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by Central and South West Corporation ("Central"), a registered holding company. Declarant has designated sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rule U-50 of the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than March 18, 1953, at 5:30 p. m., e. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after March 18, 1953, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration, which is on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Central proposes to issue and sell 606,084 additional shares of its $5 par value common stock. The shares of common stock are to be offered first to the holders of the presently outstanding common stock for subscription in the ratio of one share of additional common stock for each fourteen shares now held. The rights to subscribe will be evidenced by transferable subscription warrants. No fractional shares will be issued.

The above described offering is to be underwritten and Central proposes to select the purchasers of any unsubscribed stock at competitive bidding pursuant to Rule U-50. The price per share at which said shares will be offered to stockholders will be fixed by Central not later than 3:30 o'clock p. m., c. s. t., on the second full business day next preceding the day on which bids for the purchase of any shares, not subscribed for and purchased pursuant to said subscription offer, are to be presented to Central pursuant to its invitation for such bids; and prospective bidders will be advised promptly of the subscription price, which will also be the price per share at which unsubscribed shares will be sold to the successful bidder. Prospective bidders are to be required to specify the aggregate amount to be paid by Central as compensation for their commitments.

Central also proposes, if considered necessary or desirable, to stabilize the price of the common stock of the company for the purpose of facilitating the offering and distribution of the shares of additional common stock proposed to be issued. In connection therewith, the company may, prior to the opening of the bids, purchase shares of its common stock, but not in excess of 60,608 shares, on the New York Stock Exchange or the Midwest Stock Exchange, or otherwise. Such purchases are to be made through brokers with the payment of regular stock exchange commissions. The prospective bidders will be asked to bid not only for the purchase of the unsubscribed stock but also for the purchase of any shares, within the above limitation, acquired by the company through such stabilizing transactions.

The company proposes to use the proceeds from the sale of the additional shares of common stock, together with funds in its treasury, to purchase additional shares of common stock of its four principal subsidiaries (approximately $5,000,000 in 1953 and approximately $7,000,000 in 1954). The subsidiaries, in turn, will utilize the funds to finance in part their construction programs.

Central requests that the ten-day publication period required by Rule U-50 for inviting bids for the unsubscribed shares of common stock be shortened to a period of not less than six days.

The filing indicates that no regulatory agency or authority other than this Commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

It is requested that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS,
Secretary.
